OMAHA.

Friday Morning, Aug. 18.

Weather Report. (The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations named.)

WAR DEPARTMENT, U. S. SIGNAL SERVICE, OMAHA, Aug. 17, 1888. (1-45 p. m.)

Table with columns: STATIONS, Barometer, Thermometer, Direction of Wind, Force of Wind, State of Sky.

River 7 feet 5 inches above low water mark at Omaha, 4 feet 8 inches at Yankton; Mississippi, 4 feet 11 inches at La Crosse, and 7 feet 3 inches at Dubuque.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There are quite a number of cases of typhoid fever in Omaha.

The river has fallen to seven feet six inches above low water mark.

The G. A. R. picnic at Hanson park, August 29th, will be an interesting event.

Henry Stret had his place on upper Farnam street photographed yesterday by a traveling artist.

Wyman commercial college opens September 4th; evening session begins September 5th. Send for circular.

Among cases in police court yesterday was that of Wright vs. Hartigan, the latter being accused of striking a little boy.

Three men, arrested Wednesday on a charge of vagrancy, were discharged yesterday, having given a satisfactory account of themselves.

The many friends of Miss Jennie Akin gave her a surprise party on Monday the celebration of her birthday. The evening was enjoyably spent by those present.

It is rumored that a well known business man of this city has disposed of his property and departed for parts unknown, accompanied by a fair but fragile female.

Miss Hardenbergh will teach elocution throughout the winter at the room in Max Meyer's building, commencing September 1st. All interested in the art will be welcomed.

From the present outlook quite a large number of our citizens will witness the ball game next Saturday between the St. Louis Reds and the B. & M. club of Omaha.—State Journal.

The secretary of the Missouri Valley Medical association has written to Mr. Shears to know if the Millard hotel can furnish accommodations if their convention should be held during the state fair.

The Union Pacific railway company Wednesday made connection between the city water main on Seventeenth street and their tank in the depot yard. The water from the extension well proved too soft, making lots of foam when used.

The funeral yesterday afternoon of the late H. M. Smith was largely attended and the ceremonies most imposing. The floral contributions were remarkable for their number and beauty, including a mass display of cross, pillow, and extensive display of ovals, ribbons, etc.

In the police court this morning, Patrick Delany, an old offender, was sent up in default of the $25 fine for intoxication. Mr. Tracey paid $5 and costs for disturbing the peace. Frank Nicholas was arrested on the complaint of Tom Connelly, for being an inmate of a house of ill-fame. This will be a novel case.

Miss M. A. Smith, chief clerk of the ticket department of the Union Pacific railroad, and niece of Thomas I. Kimball, while visiting a friend on the grounds of L. A. Gr. Jr.'s residence, became entangled in the guide rope, and, as the swing went up, was thrown over and considerably bruised, though not seriously injured.

J. C. McBride has resigned from the board of managers of the state fair and his resignation has been accepted. The board of managers meets next week and it is probable that the vacancy will be then filled, as it is necessary to have a complete board for the work about to be gone through with.

The case of Mary Duncan vs. Hilda Paine, was the spiciest one in police court yesterday. The latter was charged with using a brick with which to drive the former from her premises and the language used on the occasion would not grace a drawing room. The attendance in court was fair.

The Leadville Blues will play the Hastings kids on Aug. 22nd and 23rd, at Hastings. The Reds are the champions of Western Nebraska, and the Blues the champions of Colorado. This will be a good game. Arrangements have been made with the U. P. and B. & M. for special rates from all points along both roads for those wishing to see the game, one and one-fourth rates having been secured.

John Brennan, of Sioux City, arrived in Omaha last evening. He proposes to make a flying trip in the service of the Sioux City Times over the line of the Sioux City & Pacific railroad in Nebraska to the end of the road and beyond it to Fort Niobrara. The Sioux City & Pacific company have opened up to settlement a magnificent region in Northern Nebraska and Mr. Brennan, who is an old newspaper correspondent, has been specially engaged for the work. When the task of "writing up" that favored region is accomplished an edition of 50,000 copies of The Times, containing it, will be circulated in the east, as an invitation and guide to settlers.

Burns Club Banquet Picnic. The Burns club of this city holds their annual banquet picnic at Hanson park, Saturday, August 19th, and a most enjoyable time is anticipated. Among other amusements for everybody will be the following races and games, open to members only: A 100-yard race, 300-yard race, 100-yard sack race, 100 yard three-legged race, 25 yard basket and stone race, 100 yard race for boys under fourteen, 100 yard race for girls under fourteen, and a quilting match. In the afternoon and evening dancing will be indulged in, and Irvine's band of six pieces has been engaged for the occasion. A cordial special invitation is hereby extended to the St. George's society of this city to participate in the amusements of the day. Conveyance to the park by street cars, leaving the corner of Fifteenth and Farnam. By order of the committee.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

The McCoy-Cassey Nuptials at St. Philomena Wednesday Night.

Among the old reliable employees of the Union Pacific road is Mr. Thomas Cassey, who resides on lower 10th street, and whom no one would suspect from his looks of having a daughter old enough to be married. Mr. Cassey, however, was married at a very early age and has several charming daughters, the eldest of whom, Miss Mary Cassey, was given in marriage Wednesday to Mr. James McCoy, a fine young gentleman who has been in Omaha about three years, at first employed at the U. P. car shops and subsequently at the transfer, in the freight department.

The wedding ceremony took place at 7:30 Wednesday at St. Philomena's cathedral, Rev. Father Colonnati officiating. The cathedral was thronged with friends of the youthful bride and groom and the deepest interest manifested in the solemn ceremonies, which were very impressive throughout.

The bride was elegantly dressed in blue silk out train, a delicate cream white silk bonnet, veil and wreath of orange blossoms, with waving plumes and all the trappings of toilet that modern military can devise. The bridesmaid was Miss Katie Cassey, the bride's sister, who looked superb in her dress of wine colored poplin, white silk bonnet, etc.

The groom and his attendant, Mr. James Crook, wore handsome dress suits, white kids, and looked as manly as the ladies did lovely.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the entire party retired to the residence of the bride's parents, which was soon thronged to its utmost capacity. At 9 o'clock the magnificent band of the Ancient Order of Hibernians appeared and remained at guests until midnight, discoursing some of the finest music of their extensive repertoire.

There was a delicious supper, with refreshments both liquid and solid and then the "light fantastic" was tripped until a late hour to music furnished by the violinists of the Messars. John Price and James Bolan.

The bride's father, with commendable foresight, had rented the cosy little house next door to his own, which was ready furnished for occupancy by the bridal couple and hither they removed at once to begin wedded life with a home of their own. The B. & M. reporter called upon them yesterday and met with that hospitable treatment which Erin's sons and daughters alone can give.

The display of wedding presents was extensive and beautiful, and among the last the following were noted: Bride's father a splendid cook stove; bride's mother a silver cator and set of dishes; Miss Katie Cassey, silver fruit dish; Miss Hannah Cassey, silver cake basket; Miss Maggie Cassey, canary bird and cage; Miss Anna Holand, set of China plates; Miss Anna Holand, table cover; Rubin Bros., handsome toilet set; Mr. Fair, a handsome bed room set; Mrs. R. O'Keefe, silver cator; Mrs. Walter Powers, silver pickle cator; Miss Carrol, a lamp; Mr. P. Carrol, a box of cigars; Miss Mamie Dimond, a large lamp; Miss Mary Delore, a lovely fan; Mr. Henry Delore, a large chromo; Miss Nellie Conley, a glass butter dish; Miss Mary Welsh, a glass pitcher; Mr. John Price, a silver cator and sugar bowl; Mr. John O'Byrne, a pair of silver napkin rings; Miss Rosa Donohue, a handsome pair of vases; Miss Mary Donohue, a handsome bread plate; Mrs. Barry, a handsome table spread; Miss Katie Clifton, a set of towels; Mrs. Clifton, a set of dishes, a set of glass, a handsome clock; Mr. Holan, a handsome cator table; Mr. Hendrickson, cator, set of dishes, set of teaspoons, table spoons, knives and forks, salt cellar, handsome lamp; Miss Maggie Corbin, a bed spread; Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Byrne, a half dozen v. linen napkins and linen table cloth; Mrs. Rosanna Ford, cup and saucer; Mr. James Doyle, center table; Michael Hogan, handsome clock shelf; Lewis Hornam, table cover and napkins; Mr. and Mrs. M. Robling, handsome camp chair; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford, black walnut clothes rack; Miss Sarah Finnelly, handsome pair of vases; Miss Robinson, a fruit dish; Miss E. Robinson, bread plate; Miss Ella Hubbard, large lamp. There were many other presents equally useful and valuable.

Kidney Disease. Pain, irritation, retention, Incontinence, Deposits, Gravel, etc., cured by "Buchupaiba."

SLAVEN'S YOSEMITE COLOGNE. Made from the wild flowers of the FAIR FAMED YOSEMITE VALLEY. It is the most fragrant of perfumes. Manufactured by H. B. Slaven, San Francisco. For sale in Omaha by W. J. Whitehouse and Kennate Bros. & Co.

Notice. The "Hawthorn Centennial Excelsior Roof Paint," was patented May 24th, 1881, and letters patent number 241, 883. Any person found or known to tamper with the manufacture of said paint will be punished to the full extent of law. No person has any authority whatever to sell receipts. WAR'S RONT

Which Wrinkles at the Prospect of a Sioux Rising.

Red Cloud Sassy and Wants Blood if Agent McGillicuddy Doesn't Step Out.

Notes and News from Military Headquarters.

News was received yesterday at the military headquarters that trouble is brewing at the Pine Ridge agency, which, unless promptly suppressed, may result in another uprising of the Sioux. A dispatch from Col. E. V. Sumner, commanding at Fort Robinson, reports that he is in receipt of a letter from Red Cloud, chief of the Sioux at Pine Ridge agency, announcing that unless Agent McGillicuddy is removed by the 1st of October he will break out and start on the war path with his entire party of braves. Agent McGillicuddy also writes to the same effect, and the news is considered of very grave importance by the staff of the commanding general.

Signs of Red Cloud's insubordination have been accumulating since 1876, when the chief was subdued by General Crook and deposed from his office of head chief of the Sioux nation and Spotted Tail appointed in his place. Upon Dr. McGillicuddy's appointment, his sullenness and morose, impelled the agent to take away from Red Cloud his tribal honors and reduce him to the ranks. This has rankled in the chief's mind and is undoubtedly the cause of his hatred of the agent and his demand for his removal. By general consent Dr. McGillicuddy is one of the ablest, most upright and efficient agents in the service. He was connected for a number of years with the army as surgeon and surgeon in chief and has only been the possession of great executive ability which has given him the control of the Sioux nation under his charge. The task has been especially difficult since Spotted Tail's death, Red Cloud feeling that his position as head chief of the Sioux ought to be restored to him, and in the place of any formal restoration of the chief's position, Spotted Tail's legitimate successor. Now that General Crook, who has won at once the fear and respect of the Sioux, is to leave the department, the situation assumes a gravity which both the agent and the military cannot conceal. The nearest post to the Pine Ridge agency is Fort Robinson, 65 miles distant, and garrisoned by two troops of the Fifth cavalry, and one company of the Ninth infantry. This force might be sufficient to keep the peace were it not for the fact that the Sioux at the Rosebud agency numbering an additional 7,000 men, women and children, would undoubtedly join in any outbreak which might occur. The combined force could muster some 3,000 or 4,000 effective warriors. Add to this the fact that the Crows, who are now camped on the Powder river, would assuredly prove a disturbing element in any trouble which might occur, and the seriousness of the situation can be readily grasped. The chief of the Pine Ridge reservation is Red Cloud, who has been in his determination.

The following dispatch was received at a late hour yesterday at the military headquarters in this city: FORT ROBINSON, Neb., August 17. Assistant Adjutant General, Headquarters Department of the Platte: A letter received by me yesterday, signed by fifty-two chiefs and head men, indicates the widest spread of dissatisfaction at the Pine Ridge reservation. The Indians look to Gen. Crook for relief, and ask me to inform him that they have given the interior department sixty days, in which time they expect some action will be taken or trouble will ensue. (Signed) Major Fitch Cavalry, Commanding.

This news was at once telegraphed to the department, and it is believed that the outlook is even more serious than appears from the dispatch.

DEPARTMENT NOTES. The military is constructing a telegraph line from Fort Bridger to Fort Thornburg. The poles are already flying along the entire route, and material has been sent to Fort Bridger to string the wires. The line is a very important one from a military standpoint, connecting the Ute country with the department of the Platte. Telephone communication will also be established.

Col. Stanton, the popular and polemical chief paymaster of the department has received a very handsome present from a friend in the east, consisting of a unique and ser. The sheep pen manufactured out of sheep case, and is so constructed as to retain all that is placed in it, and will prove of great service to the colonel on his pay trips. Little incidents like these show the esteem in which our department officers are held by absent their friends.

The roster of troops in the department for August has not been issued, and owing to the great changes which are to take place now will probably be published only after Gen. Howard's arrival. The Third cavalry have received notice that owing to the disturbed condition of affairs on the border they have been permanently transferred to the department of Arizona.

Col. John J. Upham, major of the Fifth cavalry and assistant instructor in tactics at the school of application at Leavenworth, is in the city on leave of absence on his way to the Yellowstone park.

SPECIAL ORDERS. 1. Private John Smith, company C, Ninth infantry, is detailed as messenger at these headquarters, to date from the 6th instant, under the provisions of paragraph 3, general orders No. 54, series of 1881, adjutant's general's office.

Sufficient cause having been shown for his inability to pay his own expenses, under provisions of army regulations, paragraph 205, the quartermaster's department will furnish

HEADLIGHT GLEAMS.

The New Milwaukee Line Still a Subject of Speculation.

Probabilities of Its Alliance with the Union Pacific.

Miscellaneous Track Topics from Various Quarters.

The new line between Milwaukee and the Omaha transfer is attracting a good deal of attention at present and the position which it will demand among the rival roads is a matter of much conjecture. The Chicago Times of Wednesday says: "The managers of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway have requested of the Chicago and Omaha lines copies of all existing tariffs and traffic agreements. This is understood as signifying a preparation on the part of the St. Paul company for an amicable transfer to the Iowa pool. A good many people think, however, that the St. Paul will put in such an extravagant claim that the allotment of traffic will be grudgingly granted, if indeed, it is granted at all. It is said by some that St. Paul's indifference to the pooling arrangement is accounted for by the fact that it has just concluded a traffic agreement of a most favorable kind with the Union Pacific company. This is nonsense. The Union Pacific could not and would not antagonize the other Chicago roads—tried and true connections for years past—by contracting exclusively with a new line eastward. Another current yarn is to the effect that the immense cattle business of the Union Pacific will be given to the St. Paul, almost to the exclusion of other roads, and doubtless there are thousands of people who never question such reports. In support of that rumor it is stated that Mr. Clark was transferred from the Union Pacific to the St. Paul, in order that the latter company might avail of his large experience in directing the diversion of the cattle traffic from the older routes to the new. These statements are, of course, simply nonsense.

THE NOT OBLIVIOUS. The Times while it appears so confident in its statements as to the action of the C. M. and St. P. road, really knows nothing about it. The rumor that the U. P. would enter into a treaty offensive and defensive with a new line is confirmed by many circumstances that are known only to those who are posted on the daily occurrences at this junction of the two lines. It is undoubtedly true that it was the intention of the two roads to make the alliance public at present, but it is safe to say that no officer of these roads will deny that such a union of interests is in contemplation. As a matter of fact, the Union Pacific does not care a cent for the Iowa pool, none of the roads over there benefiting it particularly. On the other hand it does want a line of its own to Chicago to meet the C. B. & Q. evenly in the contest for Colorado business. The new Milwaukee road is now independent and can choose between going into the pool or going in on its own. It is likely that the latter will be tried first, and if successful, it will be time enough to go into a pooling arrangement. General Superintendent Clark arrived in Omaha last night in his special car, No. 130, and is still in the city, and it is not unlikely that his business is connected in some degree with the question of a consolidation of the Union Pacific and C. M. & St. P. roads.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC. It is reported at Atchison that the Missouri Pacific company has made arrangements to lease the St. Joe & Western from the Union Pacific. This will give the Missouri Pacific a junction with the Union Pacific at Grand Junction, and will enable them to carry out the long cherished idea of running cars between St. Louis, Chicago, and the west. If the arrangement is perfected the road will probably be operated from Atchison, as the object is to run the business of that country into the larger eastern cities, and this can be done cheaper from Atchison than from St. Joe, which is twenty-three miles further, with Missouri river bridges to cross.

THE GUNNISON EXTENSION. The Union Pacific opens up its Gunnison line to Parlin on the 10th. It will be into Gunnison itself within a month. The track of the Oregon short line is now seventeen miles west of Moutpellier and will reach Soda Springs by the first of September.

U. O. L. A. Big Business at the Quarterly Meeting. The call for the quarterly meeting of the Union Catholic Library Association at the rooms in Creighton block Tuesday, brought out an attendance of about fifty ladies and gentlemen. A number of new members were added to the roll, and prominent among the strangers present were Father Glanbee, of the German church in this city, and Dr. Borglum, recently of Fremont, of this state. Reports were made by the several officers and committees of the association, showing the society in a most healthy condition, and after having made a number of purchases and paid a number of outstanding bills to have in its treasury about $120. A number of articles of decoration, consisting of picture brackets, plaques, etc., have recently been donated to the association, and for the purpose of taking charge of the same and disposing them upon the walls of the rooms, as also of adding to them, a committee was appointed. The committee will meet at the library rooms on next Sunday at three o'clock. Mr. McCarthy offered as premiums to the lady or gentleman bringing in the greatest number of members during the next four weeks, an annual subscription to a New York publication. This will engender a competition between ladies and gentlemen, and the result will be a large accession to the membership. A plan was pre-
