

The Daily Bee.

OMAHA. Tuesday Morning, Aug. 22.

Weather Report. (The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations named.)

WAR DEPARTMENT, U. S. SIGNAL SERVICE, VICTOR, OMAHA, AUG. 21, 1888. (11:55 p. m.)

Table with columns: STATIONS, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, Direction, Force, State of Sky, State of Weather.

River 7 to 8 inches above low water mark at Omaha, 4 feet at Yankton, Mississippi, 3 feet 2 inches at La Crosse, and 6 feet 3 inches at Ft. Duquesne.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—More wind and dust. —This is good corn weather. —The neighborhood of 13th and Chicago streets was edified yesterday by the sight of a man expelling his wife from his house.

—The Scandinavian branch of the O. P. L. U. will hold a special meeting at Knook's hall, today evening at 8 o'clock sharp. By order of the President.

—Mrs. Vernon Willard will give lessons in Elocution, Literature, Theories, French and Conversation. Apply at cor. 17th and Douglas streets.

—The County Commissioners met yesterday to receive bids and award the contract for the construction of three new county bridges. Ten bids were in up to noon.

—If the party who purchased a willow rocking chair about three weeks ago of Abraham & Lewis, next door to Huberman's, on Douglas street, will call at this Bee office they will learn of something to their advantage.

—Secretary Conroy, of the Board of Education, received a telegram yesterday from Prof. Henry M. James, of Cleveland, announcing his acceptance of the position of Superintendent of Public Schools in Omaha.

—Judge Benck's list yesterday included six plain drinks, and one disturber of the peace. Of the former, one paid, one was discharged and four were "sent up." The man charged with disturbing the peace explained matters satisfactorily and was also released.

—Some rascal tore down the sign of James Wright, M. D. V. S., whose office is located on 13th street, at someone's stables. The sign had just been completed a few days ago and the doctor expressed himself very strongly about the rascal and would gladly give $10 to anybody that would bring the culprit to justice.

—The annual institute of the Douglas County Teachers' Association will open at 9 o'clock this morning in the high school building, and will continue in session two weeks. Competent instructors have been engaged and a good attendance is expected. State Superintendent Jones will be present on the 29th inst. and will lecture in the evening.

—Harry McCormick, the bright little son of Mr. S. McCormick, met with a serious accident yesterday. He, in company with two companions (about his own age), was out hunting out for town and while lying on the ground and putting a cap on his gun which was braced against his left foot, one barrel was discharged and two of the toes of his foot so badly injured that amputation was necessary. Harry is a healthy as well as a plucky boy and he will soon be out again and all right.

—The Omaha Maennerchor goes to Plattsmouth next Sunday to participate in the anniversary celebration of the Maennerchor of that city.

—Martin Kearney, who tried to cut his wife's throat Saturday night with a pen knife, is held to await the result of the injuries before he is given a hearing.

—There was a dangerous runaway at Hanson Park Sunday. The carriage, which was whirled away so rapidly that the result of the escapade could not be learned, contained a lady and two children and a driver. It is presumed it ended all right as no casualty is reported.

—Peter Hawkins, an employe at The Herald office, did a plucky and brave deed Sunday evening. A horse attached to a buggy containing only a little girl about three years of age, ran away on Harvey street and when between 15th and 16th Mr. Hawkins ran out into the street and at the risk of his life caught the runaway by the bit and held him until he had been dragged quite a distance, when the dead weight brought the animal to a stand still. The little girl clung on so tightly that she escaped without injury but Mr. H. had his knees hurt somewhat by the horse. The owner of the outfit soon arrived and took care of the same.

—A laborer engaged in excavating for the gas main on 16th street yesterday accidentally struck a fellow laborer on the arm with the point of a pick, seriously disabling him.

—A man named Worstad, doing some scraper work on Dodge street, had his leg broken below the knee, about noon yesterday. He was holding the scraper when the chain broke on one side and the handle flew around and struck him. He was carried into W. G. McLeod & Co.'s place, where the bone was set by Dr. Van Camp, after which he was taken to his home near the nail works.

—The little Italian violinist and singer who fell in front of Rango's store some time ago with what was pronounced a stroke of paralysis, had a similar attack in front of Dohle's shoe store yesterday. He was carried to Saxe's opera house pharmacy and cared for by physicians.

—Last night Officers Bark and O'Boyle, who were standing on Twelfth and Douglas, heard a shot fired in the vicinity of Eleventh, between Douglas and Farnam. One ran down Douglas and the other down

ROYAL QUARTERS.

The Magnificent New Quarters of the Missouri Pacific

Equipped and Furnished Entirely by Home Talent

The Missouri Pacific folks are determined to leave nothing undone that will make a good impression on Omaha people and the traveling public in general. Their trains, one of which may always be seen lying on the side track south of the U. P. depot, are the finest that run into Omaha, and the new office, opened out some time ago in the Paxton, has just been completed in a scale of magnificence that eclipses anything of the kind ever seen out this way. It is positively asserted that there is not so fine an office in all St. Louis, and not only that, but that it is the finest office west of the Mississippi river to the Pacific Coast and Omaha may well boast of it. The room is spacious and finely lighted, being finished in the elegant style adopted for the rest of this palatial hotel. It is divided lengthwise by a counter and railing extending the entire length of the room. This furniture was designed by the well-known architect, Mr. Fowler, and manufactured by Rosenberry Bros., being finished up by Henry Lehman. The counter is massive and substantial, of black walnut, with elegantly veneered panels and rails, all after the popular Queen Anne style. The top case or crib, for stumps, punches, tariffs, etc., is equally handsome and its panels are of glass, decorated with cardinal, green and gold, one reading in handsome gold letters, "Ticket office." The black walnut railing extends from the case nearly to the south wall, leaving a passage way to the office of the Paxton, which is entered by a door lettered in gold, "Missouri Pacific Railway Ticket Office," which sign will be conspicuous from all parts of the hotel office.

These handsome quarters will be occupied jointly by Mr. C. B. Maxwell, contracting freight agent for the Missouri Pacific, and as a ticket office, Mr. G. H. Foote, ticket agent and F. W. Crowe, Eq., passenger agent being in charge of the latter department. There will also be a telephone operator added to the force, to increase the facilities of the office, and a telephone, electric call and no one will come in at all corners. The floor of the office is laid with a pretty pattern of tile, while inside a handsome piece of body Brussels increases the rich appearance of the place. These articles were all purchased of, and laid by Mr. J. B. Dotwiler. The beautiful chandeliers and gas fixtures were purchased of an Omaha firm, and it must be said to the credit of the new road that they patronized our home merchants and workmen exclusively in fitting up their office, and it is a good specimen of what Omaha can do in that way. The window curtains, lambrequins, wall papering and signs, are all gotten up in the same elaborate style as the rest of the office, but have already been described. The furniture inside the office includes a splendid cylinder desk, an immense ticket case, a beautiful Hall safe, ebony and gold chairs, nickel plated cuspidors and everything to match. It is a big card for the Missouri Pacific, and it is worthy of the Paxton, and an evidence of the enterprise that has given us a new railroad and a magnificent new hotel.

A MIXED CROWD.

A Happy Family Party at the Tivoli. In making his diurnal perambulations yesterday a Bee reporter looked in the Tivoli gardens, where he found seated at a table a thoroughly cosmopolitan crowd. He was at once recognized by one of the party and invited to join them in the consumption of some soda water and a few fish. Among those present were Buffalo Bill's general factotum, Mr. Harry Melmer, familiarly known as "Uncle Bill," "Blue Hawk," a stalwart Pawnee chief; Jake A. Alstadt, a member of Buffalo Bill's scout troop and several others. It was perhaps one of the most mixed little parties that had ever gathered together in such a promiscuous way. There were in the party two Germans, one African, two Englishmen, one Indian, one southerner, one northerner and an Irishman. The Indian chief, "Blue Hawk," was decidedly the center of attraction. He could speak but little English, but the reporter was able to converse a little with him through Mr. Melmer. Blue Hawk enjoyed his soda water and cigars famously, but when it came to the crawfish he was non-plussed and refused to have anything to do with them, regarding them with great suspicion. Mr. Tivoli, the jovial host, tried to persuade him to eat one, but he only replied by shaking his head and saying, "No good," in his vernacular. It was highly amusing to see the jolly German trying to talk Indian.

AN ARTIST'S AMBITION.

To be Always Ahead of the Times—Heyn's Success. George Heyn, the enterprising Sixteenth street photographer, has returned from Indianapolis, where he was attending the United States photographers' convention, he being the only photographer from Nebraska that attended. Whenever Mr. Heyn goes east he always returns with some novelties, and is always introducing the very latest inventions in photography. His late process of instantaneous photography has brought to him such a rush of business that he hops at an early date to see him in more commodious and elegant quarters. A reporter called upon him yesterday to whom Mr. Heyn stated that during his stay in the east he visited Chicago and Detroit, where he purchased several thousand dollars' worth of stock for this coming season. He has also purchased a lot of fine chromo cards, the most elegant we ever saw in the west, which he intends to distribute to the ladies of Nebraska during the coming fair, for which Mr. Heyn is making grand preparations.

THE GERMAN THEATER.

Successful Dual Representation Sunday evening in the Summer Garden. Sunday evening the German summer garden was filled to overflowing to witness a very fine representation of "The Love Drink" and "The Goring of Bachman." In the first named piece Mrs. Pals-Ahl sustained the role of Widow Roeschen with her accustomed vivacity, and she gained several well-merited encores. Miss Buschmann made a very charming Gretchen, and Miss Thiesens's Brigitte, was everything that could be desired. Mr. Lindemann as Peter,

BOOMERANG'S BRAYING.

Which Will be Found of Some Personal Interest to Omaha B.ys.

D. O. Clark, of the coal department, passed out this morning. General Passenger Agent Morse was an east bound passenger this morning. The Union Pacific is driving an arduous well at Thayer, a small station between Rawlins and Green river. Dr. Graff, of Omaha, passed west last evening en route for Rawlins and the northern oil basins. George Dickinson and Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel returned last evening from their visit to Salt Lake. Mrs. House, rib of the chief engineer of the Missouri Pacific, passed through the city to-day, en route home. Three blooded race horses owned by Colonel Shaughnessy, of Salt Lake, occupied a special car attached to last night's express, en route for the east. They were in charge of M. A. Lewis. Among the west bound passengers on last night's express were Dr. Graff, and Messrs. Rogers and Lovett, all of Omaha, who were en route for the northern oil basins, to take formal possession of them in the name of the company they represent.

Last night's express from the west brought in among other distinguished passengers, Judge William H. Davenport, of Eureka, Nevada. He is en route to the east, where he goes as the supreme representative of the state of Nevada to the supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias at Detroit, Michigan, on the 22d inst., after which he will attend the sovereign grand lodge I. O. O. F., as grand representative, which meets on September 8th at Baltimore, Maryland.

* * * A coward can be a hero at a distance; presence of danger tests presence of mind. Presence of danger tests the value of a curative. Kidney ailments challenge this test all ways and everywhere, so far as all complaints of the bowels, liver and kidneys are concerned. It cures all, nor asks any odds.

PERSONAL.

G. C. Minn, U. S. A., is at the Millard. A. Hetzler, of Lyons, is at the Metropolitan. M. B. Chamberlain, of Ashland, is at the Metropolitan. W. D. Hill, of Beatrice, is a guest of the Metropolitan. H. Chas. H. Van Wyck, was at the Millard last night. George Crandall, of Camp Canfield, is at the Canfield house. R. L. Stewart, wife and daughter, of Riverton, registered at the Canfield last night. Mr. E. J. Holt, of Seward, and Mr. Jake Ogil, of Ulysses, two of Nebraska's representative merchants, are in the city purchasing their fall stock. E. L. Boss, of the firm of C. B. Richards & Co., bankers and general passenger agents of the Hamburg steamship company, is a guest of the Millard. B. F. Diefenbacher, of South Bend, Ind. H. West, of Grand Island; S. W. Bilyon and L. L. Doan, of Sooty; R. K. Kelly, of Norfolk; Geo. S. Congdon, of Lincoln; Jas. D. Ward, of Gilmore; A. C. Barker, of Tecumseh and H. B. Hanen, of Lincoln, were at the Canfield last night. R. E. Windheim and Isaac Nebe, of Plattsmouth; G. Miller and E. F. Holt, of Seward; Jeff. G. of Ulysses; S. E. Om, of Blair; Wm. H. Alexander and J. W. Barnhart, of Lincoln; F. A. Sears, of Grand Island; Geo. Collins and S. W. Powers, of Kearney; Chas. West and wife and John S. West, of Lincoln, are prominent Nebraskans at the Millard. Hon. Lorenzo Crouse was a west bound passenger yesterday. Geo. D. Davis, with Ascher, Barnard & Co., of Chicago, is at the Millard. Mr. A. C. Troup left yesterday to visit friends in Kansas to be absent about two weeks. Prof. Martin Cahn went on the noon train yesterday to Grand Island, on business connected with their branch house good musicians and good business men at the same time, but Martin is one of them. Dr. J. C. Whinnery, brother-in-law of N. A. Kahn, Esq., of the Fifth street drug store, has entered yesterday in partnership with Dr. Whinnery, the reliable doctor of the city. Whinnery is a graduate of the Boston college and came from San Francisco with the highest recommendations. Jud. Thos. Howland and Mr. Chas. McCarthy, both of St. Paul, Minn., are in town, expecting to remain till to-day. Both gentlemen are well known in their respective professions in their city, the former in the legal and the latter in the mercantile line. Omaha would seem to have impressed both gentlemen as favorably, as have Omahans been pleased to meet with these genial gentlemen from the north.

OMAHA VS. CHICAGO.

A Wyoming Merchant Practices what He Preaches. Mr. Robert Foote, of Buffalo, Johnson county, Wyoming, was in the city last week, and while here purchased his entire stock, consisting of groceries, dry goods, boots and shoes, from Omaha merchants. Mr. Foote made a trip to Omaha and Chicago last spring and purchased a portion of his stock in each place. On his return he asserted his belief that the western merchants could buy to better advantage in Omaha than in Chicago, and now he is simply practicing what he preaches. Mr. Foote brought goods amounting in all to over $20,000, buying from Paxton & Gallagher, alone, seven car loads of groceries, 140,000 pounds, making the largest shipment ever made at one time to any one individual from this city. An example like this cannot but have its effect on the western merchant, by inducing him to inquire and satisfy himself of the relative advantages of the two cities named. It is proper to say that this condition of affairs has been brought about largely by the efforts and enterprise of Messrs. Paxton & Gallagher, who have revolutionized the trade in this part of the country to a great extent.

For Bronchial, Asthmatic, and Pulmonary Complaints "Brown's" Curative Troches manifest remarkable curative properties. Like all our meritorious articles, they are frequently imitated, and those purchasing should be sure to obtain the genuine. d&wt

HELP WANTED.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY—A first-class cook. Must be a good hand—understand baking bread. Apply at Cor. M. T. Farnam street, near Grace. 109-21

WANTED—Two good waiters; also lady help. Apply at 421 South 10th St. 111-22

WANTED—A good and experienced head and cake baker. Sober habits. Apply to B. L. Wallace, City Gas Co., Kearney St. For refer see to B. Bingham Co. Omaha. 108-17

WANTED—A young man to take measure for custom suits, on the road. Omaha. 111-23

WANTED—A girl to do general housework in a family. 104 South 10th street, corner Douglas. 120-21

SPECIAL NOTICES.

MONEY TO LOAN—On chattel mortgage real estate. A. B. Tuttle, office of Grace & Montgomery, over Omaha National Bank. 23-17

MONEY TO LOAN—Call at Law Office of D. L. Thomas, Room 3, Creighton Block. 23-17

$250,000 TO LOAN—At 5 per cent interest, for 5 to 10 years, on real-estate city and farm property. See Real Estate and Loan Agency, 15th and Douglas Sts. 23-17

WANTED—A first-class cook. Must be a good hand—understand baking bread. Apply at Cor. M. T. Farnam street, near Grace. 109-21

WANTED—Two good waiters; also lady help. Apply at 421 South 10th St. 111-22

WANTED—A good and experienced head and cake baker. Sober habits. Apply to B. L. Wallace, City Gas Co., Kearney St. For refer see to B. Bingham Co. Omaha. 108-17

WANTED—A young man to take measure for custom suits, on the road. Omaha. 111-23

WANTED—A girl to do general housework in a family. 104 South 10th street, corner Douglas. 120-21

ROYAL QUARTERS.

The Magnificent New Quarters of the Missouri Pacific

Equipped and Furnished Entirely by Home Talent

The Missouri Pacific folks are determined to leave nothing undone that will make a good impression on Omaha people and the traveling public in general. Their trains, one of which may always be seen lying on the side track south of the U. P. depot, are the finest that run into Omaha, and the new office, opened out some time ago in the Paxton, has just been completed in a scale of magnificence that eclipses anything of the kind ever seen out this way. It is positively asserted that there is not so fine an office in all St. Louis, and not only that, but that it is the finest office west of the Mississippi river to the Pacific Coast and Omaha may well boast of it. The room is spacious and finely lighted, being finished in the elegant style adopted for the rest of this palatial hotel. It is divided lengthwise by a counter and railing extending the entire length of the room. This furniture was designed by the well-known architect, Mr. Fowler, and manufactured by Rosenberry Bros., being finished up by Henry Lehman. The counter is massive and substantial, of black walnut, with elegantly veneered panels and rails, all after the popular Queen Anne style. The top case or crib, for stumps, punches, tariffs, etc., is equally handsome and its panels are of glass, decorated with cardinal, green and gold, one reading in handsome gold letters, "Ticket office." The black walnut railing extends from the case nearly to the south wall, leaving a passage way to the office of the Paxton, which is entered by a door lettered in gold, "Missouri Pacific Railway Ticket Office," which sign will be conspicuous from all parts of the hotel office.

These handsome quarters will be occupied jointly by Mr. C. B. Maxwell, contracting freight agent for the Missouri Pacific, and as a ticket office, Mr. G. H. Foote, ticket agent and F. W. Crowe, Eq., passenger agent being in charge of the latter department. There will also be a telephone operator added to the force, to increase the facilities of the office, and a telephone, electric call and no one will come in at all corners. The floor of the office is laid with a pretty pattern of tile, while inside a handsome piece of body Brussels increases the rich appearance of the place. These articles were all purchased of, and laid by Mr. J. B. Dotwiler. The beautiful chandeliers and gas fixtures were purchased of an Omaha firm, and it must be said to the credit of the new road that they patronized our home merchants and workmen exclusively in fitting up their office, and it is a good specimen of what Omaha can do in that way. The window curtains, lambrequins, wall papering and signs, are all gotten up in the same elaborate style as the rest of the office, but have already been described. The furniture inside the office includes a splendid cylinder desk, an immense ticket case, a beautiful Hall safe, ebony and gold chairs, nickel plated cuspidors and everything to match. It is a big card for the Missouri Pacific, and it is worthy of the Paxton, and an evidence of the enterprise that has given us a new railroad and a magnificent new hotel.

A MIXED CROWD.

A Happy Family Party at the Tivoli. In making his diurnal perambulations yesterday a Bee reporter looked in the Tivoli gardens, where he found seated at a table a thoroughly cosmopolitan crowd. He was at once recognized by one of the party and invited to join them in the consumption of some soda water and a few fish. Among those present were Buffalo Bill's general factotum, Mr. Harry Melmer, familiarly known as "Uncle Bill," "Blue Hawk," a stalwart Pawnee chief; Jake A. Alstadt, a member of Buffalo Bill's scout troop and several others. It was perhaps one of the most mixed little parties that had ever gathered together in such a promiscuous way. There were in the party two Germans, one African, two Englishmen, one Indian, one southerner, one northerner and an Irishman. The Indian chief, "Blue Hawk," was decidedly the center of attraction. He could speak but little English, but the reporter was able to converse a little with him through Mr. Melmer. Blue Hawk enjoyed his soda water and cigars famously, but when it came to the crawfish he was non-plussed and refused to have anything to do with them, regarding them with great suspicion. Mr. Tivoli, the jovial host, tried to persuade him to eat one, but he only replied by shaking his head and saying, "No good," in his vernacular. It was highly amusing to see the jolly German trying to talk Indian.

AN ARTIST'S AMBITION.

To be Always Ahead of the Times—Heyn's Success. George Heyn, the enterprising Sixteenth street photographer, has returned from Indianapolis, where he was attending the United States photographers' convention, he being the only photographer from Nebraska that attended. Whenever Mr. Heyn goes east he always returns with some novelties, and is always introducing the very latest inventions in photography. His late process of instantaneous photography has brought to him such a rush of business that he hops at an early date to see him in more commodious and elegant quarters. A reporter called upon him yesterday to whom Mr. Heyn stated that during his stay in the east he visited Chicago and Detroit, where he purchased several thousand dollars' worth of stock for this coming season. He has also purchased a lot of fine chromo cards, the most elegant we ever saw in the west, which he intends to distribute to the ladies of Nebraska during the coming fair, for which Mr. Heyn is making grand preparations.

THE GERMAN THEATER.

Successful Dual Representation Sunday evening in the Summer Garden. Sunday evening the German summer garden was filled to overflowing to witness a very fine representation of "The Love Drink" and "The Goring of Bachman." In the first named piece Mrs. Pals-Ahl sustained the role of Widow Roeschen with her accustomed vivacity, and she gained several well-merited encores. Miss Buschmann made a very charming Gretchen, and Miss Thiesens's Brigitte, was everything that could be desired. Mr. Lindemann as Peter,

BOOMERANG'S BRAYING.

Which Will be Found of Some Personal Interest to Omaha B.ys. D. O. Clark, of the coal department, passed out this morning. General Passenger Agent Morse was an east bound passenger this morning. The Union Pacific is driving an arduous well at Thayer, a small station between Rawlins and Green river. Dr. Graff, of Omaha, passed west last evening en route for Rawlins and the northern oil basins. George Dickinson and Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel returned last evening from their visit to Salt Lake. Mrs. House, rib of the chief engineer of the Missouri Pacific, passed through the city to-day, en route home. Three blooded race horses owned by Colonel Shaughnessy, of Salt Lake, occupied a special car attached to last night's express, en route for the east. They were in charge of M. A. Lewis. Among the west bound passengers on last night's express were Dr. Graff, and Messrs. Rogers and Lovett, all of Omaha, who were en route for the northern oil basins, to take formal possession of them in the name of the company they represent.

Last night's express from the west brought in among other distinguished passengers, Judge William H. Davenport, of Eureka, Nevada. He is en route to the east, where he goes as the supreme representative of the state of Nevada to the supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias at Detroit, Michigan, on the 22d inst., after which he will attend the sovereign grand lodge I. O. O. F., as grand representative, which meets on September 8th at Baltimore, Maryland.

PERSONAL.

G. C. Minn, U. S. A., is at the Millard. A. Hetzler, of Lyons, is at the Metropolitan. M. B. Chamberlain, of Ashland, is at the Metropolitan. W. D. Hill, of Beatrice, is a guest of the Metropolitan. H. Chas. H. Van Wyck, was at the Millard last night. George Crandall, of Camp Canfield, is at the Canfield house. R. L. Stewart, wife and daughter, of Riverton, registered at the Canfield last night. Mr. E. J. Holt, of Seward, and Mr. Jake Ogil, of Ulysses, two of Nebraska's representative merchants, are in the city purchasing their fall stock. E. L. Boss, of the firm of C. B. Richards & Co., bankers and general passenger agents of the Hamburg steamship company, is a guest of the Millard. B. F. Diefenbacher, of South Bend, Ind. H. West, of Grand Island; S. W. Bilyon and L. L. Doan, of Sooty; R. K. Kelly, of Norfolk; Geo. S. Congdon, of Lincoln; Jas. D. Ward, of Gilmore; A. C. Barker, of Tecumseh and H. B. Hanen, of Lincoln, were at the Canfield last night. R. E. Windheim and Isaac Nebe, of Plattsmouth; G. Miller and E. F. Holt, of Seward; Jeff. G. of Ulysses; S. E. Om, of Blair; Wm. H. Alexander and J. W. Barnhart, of Lincoln; F. A. Sears, of Grand Island; Geo. Collins and S. W. Powers, of Kearney; Chas. West and wife and John S. West, of Lincoln, are prominent Nebraskans at the Millard. Hon. Lorenzo Crouse was a west bound passenger yesterday. Geo. D. Davis, with Ascher, Barnard & Co., of Chicago, is at the Millard. Mr. A. C. Troup left yesterday to visit friends in Kansas to be absent about two weeks. Prof. Martin Cahn went on the noon train yesterday to Grand Island, on business connected with their branch house good musicians and good business men at the same time, but Martin is one of them. Dr. J. C. Whinnery, brother-in-law of N. A. Kahn, Esq., of the Fifth street drug store, has entered yesterday in partnership with Dr. Whinnery, the reliable doctor of the city. Whinnery is a graduate of the Boston college and came from San Francisco with the highest recommendations. Jud. Thos. Howland and Mr. Chas. McCarthy, both of St. Paul, Minn., are in town, expecting to remain till to-day. Both gentlemen are well known in their respective professions in their city, the former in the legal and the latter in the mercantile line. Omaha would seem to have impressed both gentlemen as favorably, as have Omahans been pleased to meet with these genial gentlemen from the north.

OMAHA VS. CHICAGO.

A Wyoming Merchant Practices what He Preaches. Mr. Robert Foote, of Buffalo, Johnson county, Wyoming, was in the city last week, and while here purchased his entire stock, consisting of groceries, dry goods, boots and shoes, from Omaha merchants. Mr. Foote made a trip to Omaha and Chicago last spring and purchased a portion of his stock in each place. On his return he asserted his belief that the western merchants could buy to better advantage in Omaha than in Chicago, and now he is simply practicing what he preaches. Mr. Foote brought goods amounting in all to over $20,000, buying from Paxton & Gallagher, alone, seven car loads of groceries, 140,000 pounds, making the largest shipment ever made at one time to any one individual from this city. An example like this cannot but have its effect on the western merchant, by inducing him to inquire and satisfy himself of the relative advantages of the two cities named. It is proper to say that this condition of affairs has been brought about largely by the efforts and enterprise of Messrs. Paxton & Gallagher, who have revolutionized the trade in this part of the country to a great extent.

HELP WANTED.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY—A first-class cook. Must be a good hand—understand baking bread. Apply at Cor. M. T. Farnam street, near Grace. 109-21

WANTED—Two good waiters; also lady help. Apply at 421 South 10th St. 111-22

WANTED—A good and experienced head and cake baker. Sober habits. Apply to B. L. Wallace, City Gas Co., Kearney St. For refer see to B. Bingham Co. Omaha. 108-17

WANTED—A young man to take measure for custom suits, on the road. Omaha. 111-23

WANTED—A girl to do general housework in a family. 104 South 10th street, corner Douglas. 120-21

ROYAL QUARTERS.

The Magnificent New Quarters of the Missouri Pacific

Equipped and Furnished Entirely by Home Talent

The Missouri Pacific folks are determined to leave nothing undone that will make a good impression on Omaha people and the traveling public in general. Their trains, one of which may always be seen lying on the side track south of the U. P. depot, are the finest that run into Omaha, and the new office, opened out some time ago in the Paxton, has just been completed in a scale of magnificence that eclipses anything of the kind ever seen out this way. It is positively asserted that there is not so fine an office in all St. Louis, and not only that, but that it is the finest office west of the Mississippi river to the Pacific Coast and Omaha may well boast of it. The room is spacious and finely lighted, being finished in the elegant style adopted for the rest of this palatial hotel. It is divided lengthwise by a counter and railing extending the entire length of the room. This furniture was designed by the well-known architect, Mr. Fowler, and manufactured by Rosenberry Bros., being finished up by Henry Lehman. The counter is massive and substantial, of black walnut, with elegantly veneered panels and rails, all after the popular Queen Anne style. The top case or crib, for stumps, punches, tariffs, etc., is equally handsome and its panels are of glass, decorated with cardinal, green and gold, one reading in handsome gold letters, "Ticket office." The black walnut railing extends from the case nearly to the south wall, leaving a passage way to the office of the Paxton, which is entered by a door lettered in gold, "Missouri Pacific Railway Ticket Office," which sign will be conspicuous from all parts of the hotel office.

These handsome quarters will be occupied jointly by Mr. C. B. Maxwell, contracting freight agent for the Missouri Pacific, and as a ticket office, Mr. G. H. Foote, ticket agent and F. W. Crowe, Eq., passenger agent being in charge of the latter department. There will also be a telephone operator added to the force, to increase the facilities of the office, and a telephone, electric call and no one will come in at all corners. The floor of the office is laid with a pretty pattern of tile, while inside a handsome piece of body Brussels increases the rich appearance of the place. These articles were all purchased of, and laid by Mr. J. B. Dotwiler. The beautiful chandeliers and gas fixtures were purchased of an Omaha firm, and it must be said to the credit of the new road that they patronized our home merchants and workmen exclusively in fitting up their office, and it is a good specimen of what Omaha can do in that way. The window curtains, lambrequins, wall papering and signs, are all gotten up in the same elaborate style as the rest of the office, but have already been described. The furniture inside the office includes a splendid cylinder desk, an immense ticket case, a beautiful Hall safe, ebony and gold chairs, nickel plated cuspidors and everything to match. It is a big card for the Missouri Pacific, and it is worthy of the Paxton, and an evidence of the enterprise that has given us a new railroad and a magnificent new hotel.

A MIXED CROWD.

A Happy Family Party at the Tivoli. In making his diurnal perambulations yesterday a Bee reporter looked in the Tivoli gardens, where he found seated at a table a thoroughly cosmopolitan crowd. He was at once recognized by one of the party and invited to join them in the consumption of some soda water and a few fish. Among those present were Buffalo Bill's general factotum, Mr. Harry Melmer, familiarly known as "Uncle Bill," "Blue Hawk," a stalwart Pawnee chief; Jake A. Alstadt, a member of Buffalo Bill's scout troop and several others. It was perhaps one of the most mixed little parties that had ever gathered together in such a promiscuous way. There were in the party two Germans, one African, two Englishmen, one Indian, one southerner, one northerner and an Irishman. The Indian chief, "Blue Hawk," was decidedly the center of attraction. He could speak but little English, but the reporter was able to converse a little with him through Mr. Melmer. Blue Hawk enjoyed his soda water and cigars famously, but when it came to the crawfish he was non-plussed and refused to have anything to do with them, regarding them with great suspicion. Mr. Tivoli, the jovial host, tried to persuade him to eat one, but he only replied by shaking his head and saying, "No good," in his vernacular. It was highly amusing to see the jolly German trying to talk Indian.

AN ARTIST'S AMBITION.

To be Always Ahead of the Times—Heyn's Success. George Heyn, the enterprising Sixteenth street photographer, has returned from Indianapolis, where he was attending the United States photographers' convention, he being the only photographer from Nebraska that attended. Whenever Mr. Heyn goes east he always returns with some novelties, and is always introducing the very latest inventions in photography. His late process of instantaneous photography has brought to him such a rush of business that he hops at an early date to see him in more commodious and elegant quarters. A reporter called upon him yesterday to whom Mr. Heyn stated that during his stay in the east he visited Chicago and Detroit, where he purchased several thousand dollars' worth of stock for this coming season. He has also purchased a lot of fine chromo cards, the most elegant we ever saw in the west, which he intends to distribute to the ladies of Nebraska during the coming fair, for which Mr. Heyn is making grand preparations.

THE GERMAN THEATER.

Successful Dual Representation Sunday evening in the Summer Garden. Sunday evening the German summer garden was filled to overflowing to witness a very fine representation of "The Love Drink" and "The Goring of Bachman." In the first named piece Mrs. Pals-Ahl sustained the role of Widow Roeschen with her accustomed vivacity, and she gained several well-merited encores. Miss Buschmann made a very charming Gretchen, and Miss Thiesens's Brigitte, was everything that could be desired. Mr. Lindemann as Peter,

BOOMERANG'S BRAYING.

Which Will be Found of Some Personal Interest to Omaha B.ys. D. O. Clark, of the coal department, passed out this morning. General Passenger Agent Morse was an east bound passenger this morning. The Union Pacific is driving an arduous well at Thayer, a small station between Rawlins and Green river. Dr. Graff, of Omaha, passed west last evening en route for Rawlins and the northern oil basins. George Dickinson and Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel returned last evening from their visit to Salt Lake. Mrs. House, rib of the chief engineer of the Missouri Pacific, passed through the city to-day, en route home. Three blooded race horses owned by Colonel Shaughnessy, of Salt Lake, occupied a special car attached to last night's express, en route for the east. They were in charge of M. A. Lewis. Among the west bound passengers on last night's express were Dr. Graff, and Messrs. Rogers and Lovett, all of Omaha, who were en route for the northern oil basins, to take formal possession of them in the name of the company they represent.

Last night's express from the west brought in among other distinguished passengers, Judge William H. Davenport, of Eureka, Nevada. He is en route to the east, where he goes as the supreme representative of the state of Nevada to the supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias at Detroit, Michigan, on the 22d inst., after which he will attend the sovereign grand lodge I. O. O. F., as grand representative, which meets on September 8th at Baltimore, Maryland.

PERSONAL.

G. C