

The Daily Bee. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, Aug. 22. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By carrier, 10 cents per week. By mail, $1.00 per year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

-J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. -Sherraden makes photographs. -Bliss will have new goods Wednesday.

-Robert McWade is to appear as Rip Van Winkle at Dehany's on the 24th. -This a term on the St. Louis Reds and the Council Bluffs met on the diamond. The game is to be called at 3 o'clock.

-Bliss will open a new line of notions Wednesday. -At Shull's butcher shop, south Main street, you can always get the best meats at reasonable prices.

-The poll tax collector has begun another batch of suits against delinquents, and as soon as they are ground through all the batch will be thrown into the hopper.

-Judge Harris thinks he won't take the democratic nominations for congressional honors in the district, and has so expressed himself without waiting for any tender of it to be made him.

-An accident insurance policy in favor of R. A. Barrett has been found and left at the B. R. office for the owner.

-There will be a business meeting of the Young Men's Christian association this evening, at the room in Everett's block.

-Deval's brick block is about completed. The Shugart is climbing into the second story, and the McMahon block adjoining it is having its foundations put in rapidly.

-A horse belonging to Dr. Cady took a little whiff by himself from Sixth street up Broadway yesterday, but turned into the blue barn in safety.

-The Bee contained yesterday twelve columns of telegraphic news, three of which were European cablegrams. No wonder THE BEE is the most popular paper published in the northwest.

-The circulation of THE DAILY BEE in Council Bluffs rapidly increases. The number sold yesterday was higher than any one day since established here.

-Information wanted of Gary Garnett, who is listed in Council Bluffs last July, by his brother, William Garnett, late from Wisconsin. Any information leading to his whereabouts will be gratefully received. Address Bee office, Council Bluffs.

-John H. Clark, the court reporter, has purchased a house and lot on Fifth avenue, and is making sundry improvements, so that it will make for him and his a very attractive and convenient home.

-The interior of the postoffice is undergoing some marked changes, so as to make more room inside and less outside. There will not be so much room for lounging about, but more room for the clerks to work. Under the old arrangements the postoffice was crowded, especially Sunday mornings, now it will be jammed.

-Warren C. Ladusaw and Melissa Fichtent, of Glenwood, applied yesterday to Justice Abbott to be married. The license which they had taken out at Glenwood would not answer here, however, and they were obliged to get out a second one. Their vexations were then ended, however, and although they have a second handed license still on hand they are still happy.

-Marshal Jackson was proceeding yesterday to open up Washington avenue through George Dresser's property. George threatened all sorts of things, and Jackson and officer Edgar proceeded to the scene of war armed with a shovel, a revolver, and a pickax, resolved to conquer or to run. A treaty was perfected, however, by which George agrees to move his house to-day, and to make no more trouble about it.

-Yesterday afternoon Officer Sterling arrested at the transfer a man giving his name as W. Wallace for carrying concealed weapons. He claimed to be a policeman in East St. Louis, but the deputy sheriff from there who happened to be in the city, failed to identify him. He was put under $150 bail, and not being able to give bail was locked up in jail. It is said he is wanted in Omaha, too, for a little shooting scrape there.

-The "dog-out" row between Madama Le Flur and Irish Molly is traveling. It was brought up for adjustment before Judge Ayresworth yesterday morning, and sent over to Justice Frayne, who in turn sent it to Justice Abbott, who will consider it Thursday. Now if he sends it to Baird, and Baird kicks it out into the Missouri, the trouble will sit down and rest.

-One of the smallest bits of humanity which ever came into a household is gadded it, is a child born to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Weston, on Sunday, the little one weighing only twenty ounces. The little one seems to be healthy, and gives promise of long life, its lungs being strong, its appetite good, and the little one in all ways bidding fair to be as many years upon this earth as are allotted to man. Dr. Miller, who attended the case, pronounces it one of the lightest weights on record anywhere.

-An extra street car has been placed on the track to run to the transfer, so that cars will now run every half hour instead of every hour as heretofore. A. W. Nook has been chosen as the new conductor, and will doubtless prove so efficient and courteous as to satisfy both his employers and the public. He is a native of this city, his father was book-keeper and cashier for Stewart Bros., for years, and thus well known here, and respected, it is evident that the company is wise in its selection of him as the new conductor.

-The educational column of the evening glimmer, which requires two editors, is growing daily more interesting. The last effort contained a notice for correspondents to write on one side of the sheet, two sections from the statute book concerning shade trees, a sure cure for cracked hoofs, a special editorial on whose bitters were the best for strengthening the kidneys, and an account of a row in the dog-outs. Such a table of contents indicates that the educational fraternity, who, with the exception of the two who edit the column, fall to read it, should avail themselves of such standard educational literature.

-Will the Union Pacific's dare to tackle the Council Bluffs nine in its revised and corrected edition? To be the query.

-The latest permits to wed issued were to Christian Peterson and Amy Christianson; to Peter Jensen and Christina Jensen, all of Council Bluffs.

-A young man named McMahon was yesterday brought from Neola and lodged in jail here on a charge of adultery. It is claimed that on Sunday night he was caught in the wrong house and in the room of the wrong person, and not being able to give the $100 bail required he will now wait behind the bars.

-The base ball mania has spread so that many of the clerks practice in the business streets throwing and catching. One lady was yesterday hit by a passing ball and quite badly hurt. It is a wonder that more cases are not reported. Marshal Jackson yesterday started on the rounds to stop the boys, and has issued his verbal proclamation against the practice.

-The Driving Park association is scattering throughout the business portion of the city its highly illuminated posters calling attention to the coming meeting and fair, September 18th to 23rd inclusive. The posters are attractive, and the fair itself will be more so. It is well to state that the rumor that the cut of the horseman coming down the track is a representation of Dr. Cady trying to capture the banner again, is without any foundation; in fact, at least the officers of the association deny it, and they ought to know.

-Three plain drunks without frills or finesses were disposed of yesterday by Judge Ayresworth, who resumed his seat in the superior court after a week's absence in Dakota. Their names were Jim Crowley, Ed. Halloran and Peter Johnson. Each was fined $7.00 including costs. Justice Frayne, who served in Judge Ayresworth's absence last week, raised the price of plain drunks to $9.00 including costs, but the judge seems to think the old fine preferable. With the reduction of $2 there ought to be an increase in business, following the laws of the commercial world.

-For some time past there have been numerous instances of pilfering from cars of the Wabash road standing in the yard here, and a watch being kept it has been discovered that the work is being done by mere boys. In some instances cars have been broken open, and goods stolen, making the offense burglary with the liability of a penitentiary penalty. Yesterday a warrant was issued by Justice Frayne for the arrest of a number of these youthful offenders. Four were brought into court, but the evidence was lacking, and they were discharged. Others are to be arrested, and the evidence against all of them will probably be forthcoming then.

-Yesterday "Humpty" had an interview with his wife, who is now in jail. Soon after the left the woman, who is engaged in doing chores about the jail, asked permission to go to the rear of the yard on necessary business. The jailer kept a sharp eye on her and soon spied "Humpty" crawling through the rear fence to meet her on the sly. The little interview on the quiet was sadly broken up by the lynx-eyed jailer and "Humpty" hurriedly skipped out. It is evident that the couple have patched up what differences existed between them and are now bent on planning and working together.

A Bad Fall. Mrs. Bassett, a worthy washerwoman, met with a serious accident yesterday. She had been suffering of late with rheumatism, and while carrying a pail of water down some steps slipped and fell heavily. The distance was not great, but she fell in such a manner as to cause a bad fracture of the leg, which will necessitate her confinement to the house for some time.

At the Stock Yards. The following were the receipts at the stock yards yesterday: Standard Cattle company, 9 cars; J. M. Cary & Co., 28; Converse Cattle company, 18; National Cattle company, 10; Swan & Frank, Live Stock company, 17. Total 82.

The only shipment were 30 cars for O'Crish & Co. last night over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

Pulled by Ponies. The Harlan Herald has the following concerning a trio, whose sudden expedition westward has been taken up by the hand of the law: August 3rd, I. W. Beems sold his ponies to Dr. A. E. Gregg, of Irwin, August 10th, at midnight, Gregg, Will Lucas, and one Holiday, drove to Shelby, claiming to be going to Irwin. From 7 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Saturday they drove from Shelby to Omaha. Nob. Geo. Bennett, Billy Nead and I. W. Beems, followed them on Monday and from Omaha telegraphed in every direction. Yesterday Beems received the following dispatch from the Sheriff at Wahoo, Neb.: "I have your men; what shall I do with them." Beems replied: "Hold them; I will be there on first train." He sent Bennett and Nead to Wahoo and himself returned to Harlan. On the trip, Dr. Gregg is said to represent himself as Holiday, a brother of the companion, Holiday. The cause of this is, as stated elsewhere, that Beems sold his team to Gregg, taking a mortgage, and Dr. E. B. Moore, as personal security. It is reported that when they left Omaha the buggy contained seven pints of whisky, a doctor's diploma, and the three lads. That was upon its face evidence of an intent to have a good time among the chickens of Nebraska. It would seem, however, that it was not hot driving, and then, what the particular necessity of saying they were going to Irwin, when in fact, they were bound for the Pacific coast with two days' rations (of whisky) and a diploma. All in all it looks mixed.

NEW FALL STYLES IN MILLINERY. Bliss, the leading house for Millinery, will open new fall styles Wednesday.

INSPECTING OIL. Not a Very Bright Outlook for the Opening Day.

Inspector Bachelor, the newly elected whose duty it is to see that the oil sold here is up to the 150 degrees test required by law, began his labors yesterday. The consolidated tank line kindly showed him their tank, and allowed him to inspect it, which under the compensation of five cents a package makes a big package for very little money. They also gave him the leave to gage a few empty barrels, but did not seem inclined to have the barrels as filled inspected or gaged, so that five cents was the extent of the profits of the trip. It is claimed that he pronounced the oil in the big tank as only 130 degrees, twenty less than standard, and that he proposes filing information against the company.

There are so many loop-holes in the law, or at least so many chances for litigation, that if the company desires to fight it, there will probably be much vexation of soul. The inspector gets no reward for prosecuting cases, and at five cents a package, when the package consists of such a big tank as the company has, there will be little profit. It is to be hoped that some means can be taken to protect the public effectually against dangerous oils sold for illuminating purposes, but the outlook is not very favorable. If it is to be a constant fight and no special profit for the inspector, he will probably soon tire of the position.

The Highest Anticipations. MADISON, Ind., June 15, 1881. H. H. WARREN & Co.: Sirs: Your safe Kidney and Liver Cure realized my highest anticipations, and I cordially recommend it to all who suffer with kidney or liver diseases. J. W. LITTLEJOHN.

COMMENCING COURT. The Term Opens With a Smaller Number of Cases Than Usual.

The August term of the circuit court for this county opened yesterday, a week later than the time fixed upon, Judge Loofbourow being absent in the west. The docket shows 225 cases, a smaller number than usual, and there promises to be less of interest and importance than usual. Most of yesterday was taken up in making assignments. The cases from the east end of the county were clubbed together as nearly as possible in making the assignments, so as to conveniences attorneys and witnesses from that vicinity. A few wills were probated yesterday.

Among those of the bar in attendance from the county are: E. A. Babcock, Avoca; H. J. Chambers, Avoca; E. M. Love, Carson; H. L. McWilliams, Avoca; J. P. Benjamin, Avoca; J. P. Organ, Neola; M. B. Darnell, Walnut.

FOR SALE. My residence, No. 715 Fourth street (Bankcroft) L. F. MURPHY.

ough on St. Louis. A convention of grain buyers, representing all the territory lying west of Creston, Iowa, extending to Council Bluffs, and south of Creston and west of Mayville, Mo.; to the river—in all over seventy firms—was held at Shenandoah, Iowa, on August 1. One object of the meeting was to express their indignation at the treatment shippers resorted to at the hands of unscrupulous parties in St. Louis. The shortage in weights and classification of grade by the inspectors has been equal to daylight robbery. It was resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting that we no longer submit to the indignities heaped upon us by the sharks in St. Louis, and from this day henceforth, we ignore the St. Louis market and ship all our grain to Chicago, where we are sure of proper weight and grade.

The resolution was signed by seventy-two grain buyers. Include St. Joseph and Kansas City, and count me as another signer. N. J. BOND.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate in Dyspepsia. DR. A. JENKINS, Great Falls, N. H., says: "I have prescribed it, and can testify to its seemingly almost specific virtues in cases of dyspepsia, nervousness and morbid vigilance or wakefulness."

PERSONAL. Justice Abbott was able to get down to his office yesterday.

Charles T. Stewart leaves this evening for a brief visit to Chicago.

Col. Dickey, of Denver, was among the guests at the Oden yesterday.

John H. De Wolfe and wife, of Vail, Iowa, were in the city yesterday.

Prof. Farnham has returned from his old home in Birmingham, N. Y.

Judge Loofbourow arrived yesterday morning to attend to court duties.

Chauncey Wilts, the proprietor of the Grand Island eating house, dined at the Oden yesterday.

Miss Mattie Baldwin, who has been attending Yassar college, and spending part of her vacation in the east, is at home again.

Miss Fannie Clark, who has been visiting friends here for three or four weeks, now returns to Missouri Valley to spend a short time with friends there before proceeding to her home in the east.

The fishing and hunting party consisting of Messrs. Moltz, Green, McWorkman, Newell, Ferguson, Eicher and Oliver have all returned. They report a grand time, and that chicken and fish abounded. They lived high and returned happy.

HELP WANTED. A good first-class meat cook, and two dining-room girls, at the Metropolitan Hotel, Omaha, Neb. $15-21.

UNACCOUNTABLE DEVILITY. Correspondence of The Bee. GRAVITY, Iowa, August 17.—The new village of Gravity, Taylor county, Iowa, can boast of having in its vicinity one of the most abnormally developed cases of diabolism on record. About a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Ingraham, it would seem, came to the interesting conclusion to compass the death of their only son, a bright-looking boy of 10 years, by a protracted system of starving and poisoning. To reduce him from a normal state of health and activity to the last degree of emaciation required the period of about twelve months. For many months the neighbors had observed the little boy was subject to severe whippings, after hearing him cry out to his father not to kill him, and that the child complained bitterly of hunger and began to show signs of emaciation.

Last winter he was sent to school with but a small crust of bread for his dinner, the teacher observing which often divided her own dinner with Tommy. The boy had been often observed to sit at the table and beg earnestly for something to eat, only to be refused or driven from the table. Last spring a man observed that some corn the boy was replanting was nearly black and asked the reason. The father said the boy had been in the habit of eating the corn given him to plant and he had soaked this in lye to prevent it.

A few weeks ago the father came running into the village of Gravity for a physician and restoratives, saying his boy had fainted. Dr. McColm and others hastened to the scene and found the boy dead. The father did not wish his body observed by the doctor and other, but upon that they insisted and found bruises and fearful contusions on the breast and other portions of the body, as well as on the head.

Mr. Ingraham said the boy had eaten a hearty breakfast, but he died at about noon, and a post mortem examination of the stomach showed he had not eaten anything for twenty-four hours. There was also evidence adduced that death was the immediate result of a blow or blows at the hour of his death.

What conceivable object the father and step mother could have had in this depraved method of murder no one can divine, for the boy was old enough to earn his own living, and was always kept at work. Even mercenary motives could not, therefore, have been sufficient, and as to any general disobedience, the father himself testified that Tommy was a good boy.

The wife was arrested for murder and the father for complicity. After a preliminary trial they were both committed to the Bedford jail. The crowd that followed them approximated to a mob, and the virtual murderer on the opening of the jail door made a hasty spring for the inside, lest Lynch should be his judge and executioner.

Mr. Ingraham was an industrious and good farmer, though a renter, and Mrs. L. a frugal and orderly housekeeper.

Nothing less than a term in state prison will be the fate of both the culprits, and as much as ordinary murderers they both deserve the gallows. J. P. P.

Explicit directions for every use are given with the Diamond Dye. For dyeing Mosses, Grasses, Eggs, Ivory, Hair, &c.

THE BAD AND WORTHLESS. Are never imitated or counterfeited. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce instead of invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the cheap and good name of H. B. Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. Touch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.
