COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morning, Aug. 24.

Subscription Rates: By Carrier, 20 cents per week; By Mail, $10.00 per year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

- J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. -Sherraden makes photographs. -Bliss will have new goods Wednesday.

-Harrison street is being graded up in good shape.

-Bliss will open a new line of notions Wednesday.

-To-night Robert McWade appears at Dohamy's in Rip Van Winkle.

-Yesterday permit to work was given to Lewis Mank and Ross Lurber, of Silver Creek.

-One drunk was disposed of yesterday, it being Jerry Cochran, who was given the usual fine.

-At Snell's butcher shop, south Main street, you can always get the best meats at reasonable prices.

-An accident insurance policy in favor of R. A. Barrett has been found and left at The B. Bee office for the owner.

-Invitations have been extended by the Misses Walker to a large number of friends for a social gathering this evening.

-The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Tohmy, mother of Mrs. Peter Weir, was held yesterday morning, and was largely attended.

-A committee of three has been appointed to examine the qualifications of D. E. Guiler, of Sioux City, who has applied for admission.

-The Methodists are to have a lawn social at the residence of Mr. L. W. Tullys this evening, to which the public are invited.

-The case of Sarah Allen vs. the Singer sewing machine company, broke out again yesterday, this time before Justice Frayne.

-Complaint was yesterday made that parties were having dirt hauled off from a street near the driving park to fill up a private lot.

-Divorces yesterday granted in cases of Carrie McCullum vs. John McCullum; and Ella Lyons vs. John W. Lyons.

-Texas, the rollicking darkey, was yesterday afternoon picked up on Bryant street in a beastly state of intoxication, and placed behind the bars by Officer Tyson.

-A bunch of keys picked up on Madison street in Chief Field's hands, and he is now pondering as to whether he had better offer a reward for the return of the owner.

-Two car loads more of Budweiser Beer were received by B. Hag & Co. Persons desiring the same can be supplied and have their orders promptly filled by sending in their orders to the above mentioned firm.

-Justice Frayne yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Harry Burton, who is charged with having threatened to kill some of the Kelley family, all parties living in the country.

-The recent furore over the establishing of an electric light system here seems to have died out as suddenly as it came into birth. The whole matter seems to have dropped at once into oblivion.

-Information wanted of Ory Garnett, who resided in Council Bluffs last July, by his brother, William Garnett, late from Wisconsin. Any information leading to his whereabouts will be gratefully received. Address B. Bee office, Council Bluffs.

-Last Saturday night there was a shooting affair in a saloon on Broadway near the Revere house. There have been no arrests since, and the chief participant is reported as having skipped. He certainly had plenty of opportunity of doing so.

-The Leadville Browns and the Council Bluffs nine are to have a game here Saturday afternoon. Games are getting rather frequent, but judging from the crowds that attend the public is not weary yet.

-In the circuit court yesterday the first jury case of the term was tried it being Everett vs. Bigelow. The plaintiff claimed two months' rent for a building occupied by the defendant, who set up a counter-claim damaged caused by delay in moving the building, and negligence in leaving it up above the sidewalk, with no means of ingress or egress.

-There are no signs yet indicating that Chapman & Co.'s new street car line will ever be beyond a thing of paper. The old line is running cars every half hour the same as the new line proposed doing, but still the organ which thought it would be such a grand thing for the new company to do, has not a word to say in connection with the old company makes the change. How so?

-The city calaboose is being scrubbed and whitened, so as to keep prisoners in by the attractiveness of the place, seeing that they can't be kept there any other way. In order to give a chance for the renovating to be done without interruptions the police were careful not to arrest anybody until the work could be completed.

-The contract for building a new sidewalk at the Bloomer school building has been let to John Hammer, but a delay is being caused by there not being any lumber in the city suitable for curbing purposes. It is to be hoped that the delay will not be much longer, as the present condition of the walk is such as to greatly inconvenience the foot-traveling public.

-The locks on the new fire alarm boxes are too cheap and do not work satisfactorily, hence they are to be replaced by better ones. The system of electric alarms will soon be perfected so as to be in working order. Arrangements are being made to utilize the telephone wires also. Any one having a telephone can send in an alarm to the central telephone office, and the operator there will strike the number of the nearest box by wire.

-The great distinguishing feature of Keddin's Russia Salve is its power to induce inflammation.

THE INSPECTOR'S INDUSTRY.

The Second Day's Work Amounts to a Slight Improvement Over the First.

The newly elected oil inspector put in his first day's work in inspecting one barrel of oil for Groneweg & Schoenigen, and a tank of the Consolidated Tank line, and then publishing a card, advertising the superiority of the former, and the inferiority of the latter. His fees for that day amounted to 10 cents.

The second day's work was a little more satisfactory to the public, though the fees amounted to only 20 cents, four packages having been inspected. The following is the record.

Table with 3 columns: No. of Fire Test, Remarks, and Date.

It is to be hoped that the young man will not fall into the foolish mistake already made by him, and rush into print with an official advertisement urging the public to buy of Kirscht and of Beck Bros. The record is a public one, and needs no supplementary advertising cards at his hands. If he keeps on his way inspecting all oils, and attending strictly to his business as proscribed by law, he may redeem himself, and make the public believe that it was only a mistake where he took sides in a coal oil fight between two companies, and that he did not intend to do wrong.

The public has the right to be protected from dangerous oil, and that is simply what the public demands at his hands, and not that he should become a tool in a mercantile war between two houses. If he wants to equanimity he should let his record speak for itself, and not rush into print with a public as the law provides.

As to the Consolidated Tank Line company, it is stated that prosecution will soon commence against them for violating the law. The company's officials deny the charge and assert that the oil is duly inspected elsewhere and is fully up to the grade, as represented. If they are selling oil which is pronounced dangerous by law they should be prosecuted and punished severely. A trial will bring out the fact and should not be delayed.

A typographical error in yesterday's B. Bee gave the impression that the Consolidated company was "whipped," whereas it should have read "miffed." The company avow their intention of remaining here now instead of going to Omaha, and propose standing up to the rack.

It is to be hoped that out of this struggle will result better oil and more protection to the people. All will approve heartily anything or anybody who will help to this end, but the public wants no side shows, or shrinking or fawning on the part of the inspector.

FOR SALE. My residence, No. 715 Fourth street Bancroft.

THE CITY'S NEED. More Brick Buildings and Fewer Wooden Ones—A Chance For a New Ordinance.

There are scattered here and there throughout the most valuable business portion of the city numerous wooden buildings, sheds and rookeries, which are constantly liable to fire, and which under favorable circumstances lead to extensive and disastrous conflagrations. That the city has so long escaped such a big fire is the result of good fortune rather than precaution and good judgment. If this state of facts cannot be changed now, there certainly can be steps taken to bring about a change in the future, and to prevent the increase of risks.

There is an ordinance now upon the books fixing the fire limits as follows: From Madison street along the north side of Broadway street to Center street, and from Center street along the south side of Broadway street to a point fifty feet east of the Ogden house, and from Broadway street south both sides of Pearl street to Canal street, and from Court street south along the east line of Pearl street to Dodge street, and from thence east along the north line of Dodge street to the east line of Main street, and from thence including both sides of Broadway.

The growth of the city demands that the fire limits should be extended beyond the territory thus described. Under the present ordinance any person can erect wooden buildings, stables or outhouses in the rear of any lot within said limits, if said wooden building is fifty feet distant from the buildings fronting on the fire limits. This will bear some changes for the better. It seems hardly just for one to have valuable buildings jeopardized and his rates of insurance increased by the nearness of fire traps erected in the rear. Such steps should be taken as will forbid the putting up of any more of these within the fire limits, and have these limits so enlarged as to take in all the valuable business portion of the city.

Another chance for the council to show its wisdom is in the framing of a building ordinance. The city should do all in its power to encourage building improvements, but at the same time the city is of such size now that certain regulations and restrictions should be made, so that while builders are encouraged, the public shall not be ignored. When any one builds now there is no limit apparently to the amount of sidewalk and street room he can take, or how he can scatter his building material, piling it up here and there, and arranging no way for the public to get around it or over it. As in other cities of its size, there should be some provisions so that the public would not be any more inconvenienced than possible, and so that the public safety may be looked after to some extent.

There is a chance in this direction for the council to take action, which, while its effects may make little difference will in the course of years result most favorably for the city.

Wilson's rotary power wind engine is on exhibition at the Ogden house. It governs itself in any sort of wind or storm. See it.

RAILROAD RATES.

How the Board of Trade Feels About the Matter.

The recent raise of freight rates to this city so as to make them equal to Omaha, has called for the many expressions of indignation at the unfairness of the discrimination, and the board of trade of this city took action by which committees were appointed to get the state conventions of each party to put necessary planks in their respective platforms. The conventions having been held, and the planks introduced, the public may be interested in reading the resolutions in full, expressive of the feelings of the board. The resolutions were unanimously adopted and are as follows:

WHEREAS: Mr. George Daniels, the railway commissioner at Chicago, who represents the Iowa pool lines, has made a new tariff rate on all freights to Omaha, Kansas City and St. Joseph, and intermediate points in Iowa, which is so unjust that its tendency is to injure the trade and paralyze the commercial interests of the state, and especially destroy the mercantile interests of western Iowa by giving through rate to Omaha, Kansas City and St. Joseph as low as that given to Council Bluffs, and in many instances below the tariff rate to intermediate points in Iowa, many of these being localities whose traffic is important because of its immensity and volume, and located on said pool lines at points in some instances not half so remote from Chicago as the terminal points above referred to, the rate to be charged under the proposed new tariff schedule being as high, and in some instances higher than the through rates, thus striking a blow at the commercial interests of our prosperous commonwealth. The said commissioner, Mr. Geo. H. Daniels, having admitted recently to a committee of Council Bluffs merchants and shippers that the said pool lines in making out schedules of rates for foreign points had agreed to pay the additional rates for transfer, such as bridge tolls, ferrage, etc., thus directly taxing the commerce and citizens of Iowa for the portion of legitimate freights on merchandise to these foreign points which are competitors with the wholesale dealers and jobbers of goods within the state, therefore be it

Resolved: That the Council Bluffs board of trade appeal to all citizens within its commonwealth, and all political organizations within the commonwealth of Iowa to unite making in common cause against such unjust and cruelly by the adoption of such resolutions, in framing their respective platforms, as will effectually pledge all parties to themselves and to each other to unite in breaching the power thus sought to be asserted in this most unjust and arbitrary manner by the Iowa pool lines.

That we will appoint a committee to wait upon both republican and democratic conventions when they shall hereafter assemble respectively, and make earnest appeal for such expression as will in fitting terms and manner condemn to infamy the injustice and great wrong thus sought to be inflicted upon the state of Iowa, whose citizens have always been noted for their patient forbearance toward those evils, which in consequence thereof have grown into proportions which if tolerated longer would destroy the peace, disturb the commerce and paralyze the property of the people and state.

In compliance with the foregoing resolution the following committee was appointed to be reported to the next republican and democratic state conventions: John W. Chapman, E. L. Shugart, W. C. James, John Schoentgen, Geo. F. Wright, John T. Baldwin, Lucius Wells, John T. Stewart, D. B. Daily, Thomas Bowman.

In this connection it will prove interesting to read anew the planks inserted by the republican and democratic parties respectively at their recent conventions.

The republican plank is as follows: We favor national legislation regulating inter-state commerce to the end that the system of pooling by parallel and competing lines at railway and unjust discrimination against non-competing points may be so controlled as to afford healthy competition in all sections of the country in the carrying trade.

The democratic convention adopted the following: Resolved: That the right of state to regulate the railways by their charges for the transportation of freights and passengers having been fully established and declared, we demand the exercise of this right by our state legislators, and we arraign the republican party of this state for failure to give the people the relief the establishment of that principle entitles them to. The large amount of public lands and the subsidies these corporations have received from the government and people, demand that they should be regulated by law; that the constitution confers on our congress complete power to give the people redress on contracts for carrying from one state to another. Possessing such power, it is the duty of congress to compel these corporations to perform their duty to the people as common carriers for a reasonable compensation.

NEW FALL STYLES IN MILLINERY.

Bliss, the leading house for Millinery, will open new fall styles Wednesday.

The "dog out" continue furnishing cases for the courts. The latest is that by which Thomas Johnson and Cora Holmes are accused of lewdness, in living together as husband and wife. The complaint is made by the Le Fleur family, and in the outgrowth of some petty neighborhood quarrel rather than any keen desire to see society kept pure. The fifth of the affair is to be aired up in Justice Abbott's court to-day.

STRONG CHARGES.

Two Brothers by that Name Accused of Breaking Up Another Man's House and Home.

Two brothers, James and Samuel Strong, have two grievous charges laid against them, one being that of rape, and the other the larceny of a house and contents. J. S. Bigley, who formerly lived here, and now lives at Glenwood, is the complaining witness. It appears that Bigley owned a little house, located on the bottom, and that he left the family and the furniture here when he went away. It is claimed that during his absence an attempt was made to outrage his wife. The other is that the Strong brothers moved the house away and appropriated its contents, the value of the same being placed at $140. One of the Strong was arrested here, and the other one being in Omaha, was sent here to appear here as a witness in the case. Not mistrusting anything, he came over to this side of the river, and when once here was arrested also. Yesterday afternoon the parties came to a mutual understanding, by which both charges were dropped and the cases dismissed.

A Progressive Institution. In to-day's issue of The B. Bee appears the advertisement of the extensive and rapidly growing furniture manufactory of E. R. Steinhilber, situated on the corner of Seventh avenue and Twelfth street. Mr. Steinhilber, duly appreciating Council Bluffs as the manufacturing centre in the Missouri valley, after carefully looking up the advantages of other points, stuck his stakes here, put up his large building and is now manufacturing and shipping to all points in the northwest. The success of his enterprise is assured. He is a thoroughly competent business man, and a most courteous and gentlemanly salesman.

The B. Bee on one of its buzzing trips through the city yesterday stopped at this busy enterprise, and was surprised to see so many mechanics employed therein. The machinery is all new and is worked by a seventy-five horse power engine. It has a capacity of cutting up for manufacturing purposes from 15,000 to 20,000 feet of lumber per week. A great advantage in favor of this factory is that the proprietor has completed arrangements whereby he can lay down lumber here at St. Louis prices, that is as cheap as any city in Iowa, east or west, and much cheaper than any point west of here. He employs none but the best skilled and competent workmen. Therefore it will be seen at a glance that it is but a question of time before this will be one of the largest, if not the largest enterprise of its kind in the northwest. This firm has ample capital to meet all demands on its rapidly increasing patronage, to put in additional machinery and other required improvements. Mr. Steinhilber is himself a thoroughly practical mechanic, and uses a constant supervision over his workmen, thereby insuring perfect and solid work. We bespeak for this house a bright and prosperous future. It will well repay dealers in furniture to call on or correspond with Mr. Steinhilber before making their purchases elsewhere.

PERSONAL. T. S. Maxwell, of Des Moines, are stopping at the Pacific. A. W. Coffman, of Avoca, is in the city on business in the court. Will J. Trotter, of Avoca, is among those attending court here. Henry Christianson, the jolly landlord at Walnut, was in the city yesterday. Frank Shinn, a prominent attorney of Emerson, is in the city on legal business. J. W. Craft, wife and daughter, of Pekin, Ill., are among the guests at the Ogden house. A. Alexander, the giant, lightning-speeded clothing man from Chicago, was interviewing the trade here yesterday. Mrs. Johnson, of Woodstock, Ill., is in the city visiting her old friends, and is the guest of Mrs. Houghton, on Sixth avenue. George Crocker, a prominent citizen of Peru, arrived in the city yesterday from the northern part of the state in company with one of the Burlington Hawkeye men, with whom he has been on a fishing and hunting excursion. Dick Ricketts went to Neola yesterday to hunt for tame chickens, taking his ammunition in his pocket-book. He is bound to keep the patrons of his lunch counter well filled up. Jacob Koch, the hobby tailor of Avoca, was here yesterday, and rented a residence into which he and his family will move at once, it being his intention to engage in the tailoring business here. He is pronounced an excellent workman.
