A POINT WELL TAKEN.

The Jail Bird Who Fiew Away Captured and Put Back in the Cage.

Deputy Sheriff Clatterbuck has put a feather in his hat. He has succeeded in capturing Ed Points, the young fellow who escaped from the jail last Monday night. Points was the only one who succeeded in breaking out when the great rush was made for the daily at door at that time. Clatterbuck has been after him since that time, putting in his nights as well asdays hunting for him. Sunday night he in close upon his trail in the vicinity Loveland, where Clatterbuck is well acquainted that he had to disguise himself, lest some one might give Points a pointer that he was after him. In the role of fisherman

Clatterbuck and a friend passed his old friends even without being recognized, and tracked Points to a tent in first class style and at reasonable ing party. It was about 9 o'clock at night when Chatterbuck reached this tent, and pulling a gun he told Points to throw up his hands, which he did promptly. He was then taken in charge and brought to this city, reaching here about 3 o'clock yester-

in getting up more of a wardrobe, but still lacked shoes, and it was the track of the bare feet which helped the officer find him. Points said he would have come back of his own accord if he could have secured any bondsmen so that he would no longer have to be him of burglary, he says he is willing to meet that. #### TARDY JUSTICE

Why Should Snodderly be Favored Above Others of His Sort.

Jim Snodderly, who has had notorious career here, was indicted by the last grand jury for assault with great amount even now to save and intent to do bodily injury. The victim was a mere boy, and the evidence showed that the assault was of knowing to the facts, and they have some sort of justice meted out.
