AN IMPORTANT CORRECTION.

NEBRASKA STATE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.
PRESIDENT'S OFFICE.
TUESDAY, Sept. 4, 1892.

To the Editor of THE BEE.

SIR:—An impression seems to prevail that the approaching Anti-Monopoly State Convention at Hastings is to be composed of delegates from Alliances and Leagues, and the call of the president of the State League seems to carry that idea. This is not the case. The convention will be composed of delegates selected through the agency of county conventions, in which all Anti-Monopoly lists are invited to participate. No delegates from societies, either alliances or leagues, can be admitted under the call. E. P. INGERSOLL, J. BURGESS.

CHURCH HOWE does not bank as much on the grangers as he used to.

COLONEL STURGES just at present seems to be a bigger man than old Drum.

WITH Union Pacific republicans primary reform is a secondary consideration.

It now looks as if "Our Val" would have to nurse his billiard balls at the Fremont tournament.

By the way has the $6 clerk of Val's agricultural bureau heard anything drop in the Third district?

MR. HALL CAN now ease his mind from politics and devote himself to his poetical. It has needed attention for a year past.

VALENTINE'S stock has taken a heavy drop since the returns have come in from Dixon, Pierce, Crounse and Washington counties.

SEVERAL candidates who thought that the state was in need of their services in high places have drawn in their horns since Tuesday's convention.

"It's a Webster delegation is it?" said Church Howe yesterday. A Webster delegation can be counted on to throw for me and don't you forget it.

TEN millions of dollars for pensions became payable on last Monday. This large sum will rapidly pass in general circulation, and assist in easing the money market.

LIVINGSTONE, the colored cadet who applied for admission at West Point, has been rejected. Livingstone's ears can now be considered safe from the fate of Whitaker's.

"Too" WILSON has gone to England. During his absence Herbert Spencer will do what he can to fill the gap in the line of distinguished Britons left by Mr. Wilson's departure.

ACCORDING to the Republican, Valentine is "the people's candidate." The people haven't yet heard from him but when they speak on the subject of his candidacy Val is likely to remember what they say.

SENATOR FLYE predicts 5,000 republican majority in Maine this year.
With four tickets in the field, and the most unstable voting constituency in the Union, Maine is an uncertain state to wager large sums of money on.

THE brass collar brigade was out in full force at the Fourth ward primaries. When intelligent young men allow themselves to be voted in droves they degrade their manhood beneath the level of a common pimp.

YELLOW fever is spreading with alarming rapidity in Texas, but there is little reason to fear any general epidemic. For the next thirty days the climatic conditions will be turning steadily against it, and the danger will be over after the first heavy frost.

A GENERAL impression prevails that a number of cabinet changes will take place before the present year. Judge Folger is now an open candidate for governor of New York, and is likely to secure the nomination when the stalwarts have finished pouncing Governor Cornell with the Wadsworth club

It is remembered that Judge Folger ran 13,000 votes ahead of the Garfield ticket at the election in 1880, and this fact is taken into consideration as indicating his great popularity with the people of his state. Secretary Teller is said to be working hard to secure his old seat in the senate. He has discovered that there is less glory and gain in a cabinet portfolio than in the senate and will very willingly surrender his present position for a taste of his old senatorial honors.

Postmaster general Howe is also dissatisfied and wishes to retire, which desire of the postmaster general is cordially seconded by Frank Hatton, who thinks he is large enough to fill Howe's shoes and assist at the same time in the conduct of administration politics.

It is understood that some of the most intimate friends of the president approve the contemplated change and assign as their reason that more political vitality and efficiency can be secured by bringing younger and stronger men into the cabinet. It is a question, however, whether there is any prevailing complaint against the present administration on the ground that it fails to enter heartily enough into politics.

There has been some dissatisfaction with Secretary Frelinghuysen's conduct of the state department as feeble and irresolute. Rumors that the postmaster general was incompetent by reason of age have occasionally appeared, but so far as we have been able to learn, no one has charged that the administration, either individually or collectively, did not take an active enough interest in politics. Still, what the people of the country ask is not a violently aggressive political administration. What they do look for is a strong executive and a harmonious and efficient cabinet which can carry out the policy outlined by the majority through congress.

BRAINSTRUT publishes a detailed summary of the wheat harvest compiled from the reports of its special correspondents throughout the country. The statement gives a total of 526,400,000 bushels, which varies little from the estimate made a few days ago by THE BEE. The crop in Nebraska is estimated at 18,000,000 against 13,847,000 as reported by the census in 1879. Most of the wheat in our state which has reached the elevators is graded at No. 2. Last year it ran No. 3 and rejected. This year it is believed that it will run over No. 3 and portions will grade up to No. 1. Appended is the table giving the estimated entire yield of the United States:

WHEAT YIELD OF THE UNITED STATES, 1882
Ohio	40,500,000
Michigan	29,000,000
Indiana	40,000,000
Kentucky	10,000,000
Illinois	51,500,000
Wisconsin	23,800,000
Minnesota	41,500,000
Dakota	12,000,000
Nebraska	18,000,000
Kansas	33,000,000
Missouri	32,000,000
California	49,000,000
Oregon and Washington Ter.	10,000,000
Southern States	48,500,000
Middle States	39,000,000
New England States	1,100,000
Colorado and Territories	5,000,000

Total yield of wheat, 526,400,000 Foreign reports during the past week have been less favorable as indicating an unusual market demand for our surplus, which will amount to over 200,000,000 bushels. The French crops, which last month were reported as a failure, are now rated as nearly an average. The English harvest falls somewhat below the standard. Other continental crops are better than at first anticipated. It is reasonably certain that the exportable surplus will be greater and the foreign demand less than was estimated a few weeks ago, which indicate the probability of lower prices for breadstuffs and a decrease in the money value of our exports of grain.

AN important communication from the president and secretary of the Nebraska State Farmers' Alliance is published in another column. In it Mr.
Ingersoll corrects an impression which seems to prevail that the coming antimonopoly state convention is called solely in the interest of the alliance and the Anti-Monopoly league, and that only delegates from these organizations will be admitted. All anti-monopolists are invited to participate in calling anti-monopoly county conventions to elect delegates to the Hastings convention. The alliance and league have taken the initiative in calling the convention with the view of obtaining a general expression of anti-monopoly sentiment throughout the state whether in the ranks or out of the ranks of the two organizations. This plan will meet with general approval as better fitted to secure the end sought for than a method which would exclude any voter who desires to voice the views of the producers of Nebraska in favor of restricting the aggressions of corporate monopolies.

THE solicitor of the treasury has issued a decision classing as counterfeit the advertising handbills in the shape of national or greenback currency.
Government interference ought not to be necessary to teach merchants what wiser business men have long ago found out—that the best way to reach the people is through the columns of a widely circulated paper.

Such catch penny contrivances are glanced at for a moment and then thrown away, while influential journals which enter the household are read by day, and aside from their news departments act as a continual mirror of the state of trade in the community which they represent.

GENERAL OLIVER O. HOWARD arrived in Omaha yesterday, and at once assumed command of the department of the Platte. General Howard is well known by reputation to many of our citizens, and will doubtless find his new station in Omaha a pleasant one.
THE BEE has no better wish to express than the relations between our people and the military headquarters may be as pleasant under the new commandant as they were during General Crook's incumbency of the office.

AN effort is about to be made in New York to suppress the lottery business in that city. It is to be hoped that the authorities will succeed in their attempt. The lottery trade eats like a cancer into the industry of the country by preventing sound habits of saving, and by demoralizing the very poor who need all the props and stays which can be given them.

THE game of brag which Valentine and his strikers have been playing during the past six weeks will soon be at an end. Deception, boasting and intimidation have doubtless had some effect with timid time servers and trimmers, but these boneless sardines will presently see how they have been duped and humbugged.

MITCHELL, of Ohio, who was the useful chairman of the house railroad committee four years ago, when Church Howe reported back that there was no need of railroad legislation in Nebraska, is to be the dark horse which Thurston holds in reserve.

OF course Valentine has secured delegations from every county in the Third District, and that convention at Fremont is to be a walk-a-way of the first water for a Peter Schwenks patron saint. Votes and not wind will tell the story.

PRESIDENT GOWEN, of the Reading railroad has executed a $160,000,000 blanket mortgage on the property of the company. It is called a blanket mortgage because it is likely to warm the stockholders.

CHURCH HOWE may manage to get seven out of the eighteen delegates from Douglas county, but not a man of them will dare to own up that they voted for him when they return from Nebraska City.

VAL is willing to accept a third term upon almost any platform, but it would go hard with him if he was made to swallow those Platte county resolutions.

He Buys Where He Can.
Chicago Times.

Jay Gould says he is independent of either party in politics. Mr. Gould, it would appear, draws no party line when purchasing useful political material. By buying a republican here and a democrat there, he, perhaps, divides his influence pretty evenly between the two dominant parties, and is thus able to make this statement truthfully.

Scrub Oak vs. Tall Sycamore.
Boston Post.

The Dan Voorhees order of statesmanship is about played out as a saving force in the democratic party, or in any other party. The figurative name of that versatile Indiana patriot should be changed. He is not, and probably never was, "the tall sycamore," rooted to the soil of principle, and defying the blast, but the shivering sapling, trembling before every puff of fresh political doctrine.

The Barbarities of England's War in Egypt.
New York Sun.

The most abominable barbarities of uncivilized war are perpetrated in these days by order of the khedive of Egypt, who is acting under the authority and protection of the British military authorities at Alexandria. Take these two recent dispatches from Alexandria as examples of the kind of work that is being done there:

ALEXANDRIA, August 27.—We captured a spy and handed him over to the native authorities, who tortured him with thumb screws, and ordered him to be shot.

LONDON Daily News.

ALEXANDRIA, August 29.—Those at all in the harbor to-day witnessed an unusual sight, the keel hauling of three Arab sailors on board the Egyptian frigate Souda for mutiny. They were first flogged and then tied to a rope and hauled up to the port side yard arm. They were then dropped into the sea, dragged under the keel and hauled up to the starboard yard arm. They were soon dead.

How can the Christian authorities of England uphold this torturing, thumb screwing, keel hauling khedive in carrying on such operations under the protection of their flag and their guns?
Such savagery is not tolerated in modern warfare.

fiercely contested canvass Washington county has endorsed Crounse for congress by a very decided majority. All but two precincts were carried for him, and the delegation is instructed to support him. The contest in Blair was very desperate. Over $5,000 was paid out by Valentine's strikers in Blair precinct alone. The result has surprised Crounse's friends as much as his enemies.

How Adams County Was Sold Out.
Correspondence of THE BEE.

HASTINGS, Neb., September 4.—Saturday was our primary in this city, and I was in hopes of reporting to you that the Hon. (1) Jim got "wocfully scooped," but alas, all our hopes are blasted, simply by the selling out of our candidate for secretary of state to Jim. At the last day he compromised with him by agreeing not to make a fight on him if he would give him the state delegation, to which Jim agreed too quick, but he wanted to name the delegation that he could trade on, which was consented to. So you may look for a "trading delegation" from Adams at the state convention.

I think our "Jeems" will have a "rough row to hoe" to get to be congressman from the Second district, if he has got the B. & M. railroad to back him.

The mistake the opposition made was using up a man in whom they could not trust and being sold out "body and breeches."

You may hear from me again, after the county convention.

ALLIANCE.
Adams County.

HASTINGS, Sept. 5, 1892.
To the Editor of THE BEE.

POLITICALLY,
matters hereaway are much mixed.

There is little for which to contend, locally speaking—only one county officer (commissioner) to be elected this fall. But then, we are to have two representatives and one senator, instead of one-fourth of the latter, as heretofore. For these positions candidates are not wanting. Hitherto—at least until last fall—the county has been accounted strongly republican, and our republican friends are not without hopes of gobbling the per-simmous now. But the Alliance has become a power that will not down at any man's bidding, and it is morally certain that the legislative ticket, by whomsoever nominated, must not be obnoxious to the suspicion of monopolistic predilections, or it will be buried out of sight by and avalanche of indignant votes.

FOR CONGRESS

the most determined fight is being made. Mr. Laird has the lead, and will hold it, so far as Adams is concerned in the nomination, and if nominated on the 27th there are chances for his election, for Jim is a most indefatigable worker, and works to win. But then the opposition to him is of a most determined character, and will not cease even though he should prove the congressional nominee; and much of this opposition is found in the ranks of his own party.

The Gazette-Journal has been fighting him bitterly for months, and at present shows no signs of letting up. On the contrary the G.-J. has lately been adding money and brains to its exchequer, and will soon commence issuing a daily, in which Mr.
Alexander, our late postmaster, will have a business and, and in which Mr. Fred Brown, of Juniata, a journalist of some experience and ability, will wield the scalpel. Here, then, is a force not to be ignored, and Mr.
Laird may find his contest there has been no better wish to express
Crook's incumbency of the office.

THE COUNTY FAIR
begins to-morrow and present appearances indicate that it will prove the most satisfactory ever held in this part of the state. The district fair having gone where the woodbine twined, the hitherto divided interests will now concentrate in our home institution, and make it, what it long since should have been, a good success. With a magnificent crop yield and excellent weather for harvesting and threshing, our farmers are joyous, and will probably take great pride in exhibiting the products of their farms and gardens, as well as improvements in stock.
JOURNALIST.

I have already referred to the new departure by The Gazette-Journal establishment so long conducted by the Wigton Bros., with the accession of new members and large capital to the firm heretofore to be known as The Gazette-Journal Company, the purpose is to organize and carry on a business rivaling in variety and prices that done in Omaha and Lincoln.
Prof. Williams, as you are aware some time since turned the business of The Nebraska office over to his son and daughter, who have entitled it Nebraska Printing Company. I also learn that Mr. Liveringhouse, of the Juniata Herald, contemplates selling that office and migrating to Phelps Center, there to resume a similar calling.

HASTINGS is not building as extensively as in some former years; but the class of improvements being pushed forward is of a much higher order. With the new Presbyterian college building and the new high school building erected, we shall present a growth and improvement of which any locality might well be proud. Yours, On Dr.
