Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

Woman sells slate sponges. —J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. —Sheridan makes photographs. —Exercise books at Seaman's. —Justice Abbott has tied as one John Westrip and Anna Hall. —Get your slates at Seaman's. —James Morecroft, found guilty of stealing a coat and vest from a railroader named Paul, has been sentenced by Judge Aylesworth to thirty days in jail. —Call on Seaman for school books. —School books of all descriptions at Bushnell Brackett's. —A. B. Howe & Son find their business growing so as to need more room, and are now building an addition to the rear of their store, 22 by 30 feet, and one story in height. —Go to Seaman's for lead and slate pencils, pens, penholders and erasers. —Visit Seaman's new store, where you will find all kinds of school supplies at reasonable prices. —The glad news was received yesterday afternoon here by telegram that the Council Bluffs boys had defeated the Dunlap nine 14 to 0. It surprised no one. Just like them. —At Shull's butcher shop, south Main street, you can always get the best meats at reasonable prices. —G. W. Byrum & Co., Eagle Meat Market, opposite Methodist church. All kinds of meats constantly on hand, at lowest market prices. W. H. Laventang, shop tender. —Permit me to well yesterday given George F. Bosworth and Adella Ailey, both of Pacific Junction; also to Walter Beebe and Miss C. E. Davis, both of this city. —One or two pleasant rooms are wanted by a husband and wife, in a desirable location. Address Bee office. Also a house of four rooms in a convenient location. Rent office is desired by a small family without children. Enquire at Bee office, No. 7 Pearl street. —In the police court yesterday a number of minor cases were disposed of. J. P. Stewart, Eugene Ross, James Thompson, of Red Oak, and Michael Hanagan, of Weston, were charged the usual amount for being drunk. John Conkling, arrested for making a mistake in entering a respectable house, supping it was otherwise, was discharged. —Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hales celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Monday evening by inviting in a goodly company of their friends, upon whom they bestowed the most generous hospitality. The gathering was a large and happy one, and despite the injunction upon the invitations, "no presents," the friends showed their appreciation and esteem by bestowing upon Mr. and Mrs. Hales some elegant gifts of silverware. —Thomas J. McCue, one of the efficient clerks in the post office, placed on our table yesterday two ears of corn, almost ripe, and therefore out of danger from frost. They were raised on his father's farm about six miles from Council Bluffs. They look very rich, and measure over fifteen inches long. Never in the history of the Missouri Valley did corn promise more favorable returns at this time of the year. The farmers are consequently in high glee. —In mentioning the quadrille party to be given by the C. K. of A. in yesterday's Bee, the type setter made us say "C. K. of P." The Catholic Knights of America is an insurance organization, over two thousand members, although in existence only two years. The branch in Council Bluffs is young, but full of life. The death benefit is two thousand dollars. The managers promise a well conducted quadrille party next Friday night. Tickets are put at seventy-five cents. —There was a joyous joining of hands and hearts yesterday afternoon, Rev. Father McMenomy officiating. The contracting parties were Mr. Peter Beck and Mrs. Amelia Weber. Both are well known in this city, having lived here since childhood and both have a large circle of friends, and if a title of the blessings which they are secured, they will be the happiest and most blessed of mortals. The newly wedded ones proceed very sensibly to occupy a home of their own, and to enter at once upon life in earnest. —Notwithstanding that Council Bluffs has skillful and experienced architects, the city council has authorized a committee to visit St. Louis to hunt up plans for the new jail which it is proposed to build here, or rather, the new lock up, as the county itself has a jail proper, of its own. It is to be hoped that the council will not do in jail matters as they have in city ordinances, and borrow from big cities plans which are several sizes too big for Council Bluffs. —An interesting circumstance is related connected with the system under which County Clerk Street has his court papers arranged. Upon the death of the late D. W. Crawford, of this city, a certain note of hand not yet paid was wanted to assist in the settlement of Mr. Crawford's estate. The note was supposed to be deposited with the estate papers of the late J. B. Eers, and to find this note, which called for about ten hundred dollars, Postmaster Armstrong and Clerk Street made diligent search, but could not find it. While the indexing of the papers was going on Mr. Elias Sears, who was doing the work, found this note among some miscellaneous papers that had the remotest connection with the Eers papers. The note was then deposited with the proper papers and when a further hunt for it was made there it was in its place. There was a saving to one individual of many hundreds of dollars the saving does not stop there; it goes for years, and Mr. Street is entitled to credit for his success in introducing complete a system of keeping the court

FLASHED OUT.

The Prosecution Against the Fank Line Fails to Appear.

Those Who Squealed the Loudest On the Start Seem Mute Now.

Yesterday morning was the time set for the case brought against the Consolidated Tank Line company. The charge was made that the company was selling oil here which fell below the 150° test required by law. The late inspector, Mr. Batchelor, had filed the information, on the strength of the tests which he had made. The company got its evidence together and stood prepared to show up some very interesting facts in regard to the inspection of oils. Their attorney, Mr. Brewer, was present with an armful of authorities to hurl against the validity of the law. Major Newell and Mr. Wagner were also on hand to show up facts concerning the oil, and there were also present Mr. T. McGowan, of Cleveland, the analytical chemist of the Standard Oil company. He was prepared to make tests in the presence of judge or jury, and show them with their own eyes whether the condemned oil was up to the test or not. With this array, and with the possibility of calling in other inspectors if necessary, the company with this ammunition of the law and facts of the case, waited patiently for some one to appear to back up the charge made so boldly and so publicly a short time ago. No one appeared, however, and after an hour of waiting, Judge Aylesworth dismissed the case for lack of prosecution.

The charge was brought on the matter of three barrels shipped to M. G. Edwards, Glenwood, Inspector Batchelor tested this oil and pronounced it only 130 degrees and consequently condemned it, and then filed information against the company for selling it. The company, not satisfied with having the case dropped, proceeded yesterday afternoon to test this same oil. A sample of it was brought to the Bee and there tested by Mr. T. McGowan, in the presence of ex-inspector Batchelor, Mr. Templeton, the chief of the fire department and newly elected oil inspector, Alderman Newell, chairman of the council committee on fines and police, and several others. This details of the test were closely watched by all, and the result was that instead of being 130° only and unfit for illuminating purposes, it showed 160°, ten more than the law requires.

Mr. McGowan took pains also to explain to those present how differences might arise from lack of experience in making tests, and easily a wrong result could be obtained. Those present had an excellent opportunity of seeing and learning, and all seemed perfectly satisfied with the fairness of the test, and it became apparent that Mr. Batchelor's lack of experience could easily account for the difference in the tests.

The coal oil war will now either take a rest, or will take some new shoot. The council at its meeting Monday night, accepted Mr. Batchelor's resignation and appointed Mr. Templeton in his place. They also changed the ordinance somewhat. Mr. Templeton is in doubt about accepting the office at all. If he does not, the inspecting business here will probably drop into nothing. If he does, he will probably run it as a side issue with his other business, and in a quiet, sensible manner. It is safe to say he will not get into any such foolish scrape as did Mr. Batchelor.

The European restaurant opens Friday, Sept. 1st. Meals served up in first class style and at reasonable prices. SMITH & McCUE, Proprietors, No. 404 Broadway.

CRUMBS FROM THE COUNCIL.

The Details of the Doings of the City Fathers in Regular Session Assembled.

At the regular meeting of the city council last Monday night all the aldermen were present and the mayor presided. A petition of property owners was presented asking that the extension of Washington avenue from First street be graded up and sidewalk laid. Referred to committee on streets and alleys with power to plow and scrape so as to make the street passable.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance fixing the grade of Washington avenue. A petition was presented, signed by numerous taxpayers, asking the council to take some action in regard to building the Union avenue bridge, for which the county stands ready to pay $2,500 as its share, and also to grade up Union avenue as far as to make it of use to the public. This caused some talk. Aid. Shugart thought the bridge proposed by the county was too wide and too expensive, and that $2,500 would build a good enough bridge, without the city paying anything beyond that amount. Some of the other aldermen believed in building a wide, strong bridge there, in accordance with the plans and specifications. One of the aldermen thought that $2,500, not because the bridge needed to be so expensive, but to satisfy the demands of the city for a share of the bridge fund, and if the city took this amount, it would give the county about a rest for a while. It was finally decided that the committee appointed some time ago should meet the county board in conference on Wednesday evening.

Alderman Shugart wanted the matter investigated as to whether the city had a right of way for Union avenue over the Union Pacific grounds. He did not believe in spending much money on the avenue until it was shown whether it ended in a common, or ran clear down to the depot. A petition was presented asking for some improvement on the road leading out to Mynster Springs and the lake. It was decided to expend $100 on that road, it being expected the county would also appropriate a like amount. The city engineer was instructed to ascertain the cost of filling in avenue F leading from Oakland avenue by Mr. Tipton's new residence.

A. W. Maxwell appeared before the council in regard to the sidewalk ordered by the old council on Twenty-third street but not yet built. The engineer was instructed to advertise for bids for building the walk. The petition of Emma Nitz concerning the condemnation of her property on Washington avenue was rejected. She had been awarded $15 but wanted $100.

Mr. Crittenden, of No. 732 Broadway, appeared to complain of the standing water on the vacant lot east of him undermining his walls. The city marshal was instructed to notify the owner to fill in the lot within ten days or else the city would do it.

The resignation of W. R. Batchelor as oil inspector, was received and accepted without a word. The city engineer reported that he had staked out Washington avenue as far as Lange's property, but trouble was threatened him. The city engineer was instructed to superintend the driving of piles along the creek in the rear of Dohany's new opera house, the expense to the city not to exceed $250. Mr. Dohany agreeing to be responsible for all damages to the property on the other side of the creek, if any were caused by a change of the current.

The city engineer reported that Raymond & Campbell offered to take out the First street bridge and put it in the engine house for $40. This offer was accepted. Resolutions were adopted ordering the repairing of sidewalks of lots fronting on the west side of Sixth street, between Willow avenue and Fifth avenue.

Alderman Shugart presented a resolution, which was adopted, to the effect that all purchases for the city are to be made by the proper committees, or by the mayor, and that no bill shall hereafter be allowed, except the committee certify that the price charged is the same as that agreed upon.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare specifications for paving the alley between Main and Fourth streets, from Willow avenue to the alley in the rear of J. M. Phillips' store.

Resolutions were passed ordering brick sidewalks on the west side of Pearl street, between Fifth and Sixth avenue also on the west side of Main street between Sixth and Seventh avenue. The resolution directing the city auditor to draw warrants on the fund for right of way, and deposit the money in the sheriff's hands, also for the engineer to advertise for bids for the work to be completed by November 1, was reported favorably upon by the committee and adopted.

The city treasurer's report for August was presented and placed on file. It showed the following balance of cash in the several funds: Library fund, $30.20; Live fuel, 2,532.13; Park fund, 684.18; Bond fund, 4,820.68; Judgment fund, 17.00; Police fund, 6,322.19; General fund, 632.76.

The auditor was instructed to draw a warrant for $300, payable to John Dohany, John T. Oliver and D. F. Eichler, in payment of lot 167, original plat, for park purposes.

Ald. Eichler asked for more time in regard to Ogden house sewer. Granted.

Mr. H. F. Hattenbauer's proposal to fit up the ladder truck with shafts, seats, etc., and to paint it, all for $75, was accepted.

The city engineer reported for August 410 tons weighed, the fees being $41.00, of which the city's per cent, was $8.20.

On motion of Ald. Goulden, Mr. Templeton, the chief of the fire department, was also made coal oil inspector. An ordinance was passed to amend the present ordinance in regard to the coal oil inspection as to reduce the bond required of the inspector from $2,000 to $1,000, also to make the inspector's fees five cents a package, no matter how many packages there might be in a lot.

The mayor and one of the committee on jail were instructed to visit St. Louis to get plans and specifications for the new jail to be built here. Adjournment was then taken.

Corals.

Harkness, Orcutt & Co. have a full line of Warner's Coraline Corsets. These are the corsets in which the bones cannot be broken. Call and see them.

The Man of Impulse. It would seem that the older Judas W. Chapman grows, and the more political fodder he fishes from the people by his arrogant domineering bossism, the more he presumes upon the ignorance and servility of that people, and the more his already unmounted impudence and grinding arrogance and political avarice preys upon submissive, peace loving human nature. There is absolutely nothing that will satisfy his insatiable craving and craving political mad, but unconditional alvish surrender of the political, moral and religious sentiments of the people. The mother must cast their babes into his political ganges, the fathers must prostrate their bodies under his political juggernaut, and the young men must learn wisdom, or not learn it all from his political koran. By his tricks and trades, he foists upon the people a senseless, however, it proceeds to abuse Mr. Pusey, and yesterday follows him up by pronouncing him "an old money bag." Now if Mr. Pusey's friends turn around and call Anderson a young wind bag, honors will be about even, and the campaign can be declared fairly opened. If personal records are to be compared Mr. Pusey need not stay awake nights.

the self-constituted boss, the attempt to force Anderson down the throats of the people with such a record and such a character, by such barefaced, unblushing impudence and false statement that the whole thing is all right, because Anderson is impetuous and open-hearted, is an insult upon the intelligence of the decency loving people of this district. Then Chapman says Anderson "is a man largely of impulse." That is, Anderson's whole record, black though it be, is chargeable to "impulse." If "impulse" has driven him into these dark mysterious ways, it would seem that it was about time the people sent a man to congress who did not have quite so much "impulse."

We had hoped that the "alum and filth of Chapman's candidate for congress would not again be stirred up, but that the people would be allowed, at least, the privilege of bowing their heads in silent shame, but no, they must be taunted and insulted by him who forced this shame upon the people. Chapman says: "The republican nominee is a man bounding in generous feeling and has a formation of tears that can be touched by the griefs and infirmities of humanity any time." The absurdity, if not the sarcasm contained in the above quotation is simply astounding. The man who by overpersuasion induced old Mrs. Miller, of Mills county, to will all her property to him, thus disinheriting three fatherless children, and then invoking the aid of courts to have such a fraudulent orphan robbing scheme probed, having a "fountain of tears that can be touched by the griefs and infirmities of others," is just a little too absurd for anything.

Are the people such fools as to be thus deceived and conjoled by one, who in the dark days of the republican party, offered his services to the democratic party of this county at ten dollars a speech. REPUBLICAN.

SPLINTERS FROM THE BOARD.

The Doings of the County Board of Supervisors.

The board of supervisors continued their session yesterday. The resignation of A. K. Morse as justice of the peace in Silver Creek, and Wm. Steel as constable in Lewis, were accepted.

Mr. Phillips reported that the bridge across Pigeon creek, asked for by Smith and others in Boomer township, had been built. The bridge at Loveland was in very bad condition. The bridge asked for across Potato creek, in Boomer township, was needed, as there was no bridge for seven miles. He recommended the building of a 60 foot truss bridge; also recommended the postponement of the building of the bridge asked for by H. Giltern and others, as there was not enough travel to warrant it. He recommended that the county shall drive piles for a bridge in Boomer township across North Pigeon. He has ordered a fifty foot combination bridge across Honey creek to take the place of the one broken down. He recommended the establishment of the road asked for by Sweeney and others in Rockford township, and reported adversely to the road asked for in Norwalk township, as it is on low ground and required two bridges, hence the expense would be too great. The report was accepted and approved.

There were a number of roads which were considered by the board, the day being mostly spent with this class of matter.

The Nonpareil comes out one day with an editorial declaring that the congressional campaign should consist of a discussion of principles, not of personalities. In the same issue, however, it proceeds to abuse Mr. Pusey, and yesterday follows him up by pronouncing him "an old money bag."

Now if Mr. Pusey's friends turn around and call Anderson a young wind bag, honors will be about even, and the campaign can be declared fairly opened. If personal records are to be compared Mr. Pusey need not stay awake nights.
