MINOR MENTIONS.

Seaman sells slate sponges. J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. More improvements are being added to Gies's brewery. Quadrille party at St. Joseph's Academy last night. Sherraden makes photographs. Exercise books at Seaman's. The new brick sidewalk about the Bloomer school building is at last nearing completion. The attendance at the public schools is reported as being much larger than in any previous year. Get your slates at Seaman's. Call on Seaman for school books. Go to Seaman's for lead and slate pencils, pens, penholders and erasers. The Citizens' bank finds its business larger than its most sanguine stockholders expected on the start. Those who have not paid their dog tax now find a penalty of fifty per cent. additional to the original cost. Visit Seaman's new store, where you will find all kinds of school supplies at reasonable prices. At Shull's butcher shop, south Main street, you can always get the best meats at reasonable prices. If Pussey is a bloated bondholder, and Anderson a bloated bond-giver, what are the honest, true voters going to do? The saloon men are dropping into the treasury their monthly $23 tax, for being permitted to break the prohibitory ordinance. They have until the 10th to pay up. One or two pleasant rooms are wanted by a husband and wife, in a desirable location. Address Ike office, No. 7 Pearl street. The Ogden house boys played a game of base ball, yesterday afternoon, against the Six Nines, and were defeated by a score of 30 to 15—in favor of the Six Nines. It will well repay the gentlemen of Council Bluffs and Western Iowa to call at the Merchant Tailoring Establishment of Joseph Reiter, 319 Upper Broadway, and examine his latest styles of Fall Goods, particularly his noble French Nigger Heads. His prices, as is well known, cannot be beat, and he guarantees, as usual, a perfect and stylish fit. In the superior court yesterday the difference between Mrs. Allen and the Singer manufacturing company, concerning a sewing machine, occupied nearly all the time. If one-half the reports about are true about his uncontrollable, impulsive fondness for the fair sex, "the gallant major" should be known everywhere as the "gallant" major. One of the prisoners from Harrison county, being kept here to answer to a charge of attempted train-robbing and robbery, was taken back to that county yesterday for trial. One of the Nonpareil's prominent was loudly offering to bet yesterday that Anderson would have over 2,000 majority over Pussey. A taker stepped to the front and buttoned up the fellow's mouth in a hurry by pulling out a roll, and offering to take $200 worth. It was a complete back-down. A canvass was started yesterday to determine some that as to the number of subscribers to be obtained if a new evening paper is started here. As this city has no paper of that description, the enterprise is much of an experiment, the success of which time only can determine. Justice Abbott has been having weddings at the rate of one every eight hours for the past twenty-four hours. The pairs were J. P. Stewart and Laura N. Stevens; George W. West and Lizzie McCune; Julius Fostelich and Anna Mott. It isn't very good marrying weather either. Messrs. Kimball & Champ, who have recently purchased the abstract books of J. P. & J. A. Casady, intend making a specialty of their abstract work. They occupy a large business, as they are active, industrious like business men. Business entrusted to them will receive prompt and careful attention. It was yesterday stated that O'Day was engaged to play with the Union Pacific. He denies the statement and says that he shall keep his contract with the Bluffs to play with them the rest of the season. He started with the club for Kansas City yesterday morning which does not look very much as if he was going to desert and join the U. P.'s. The greenback organ of Dr. Hatton throws down the gauntlet in his behalf to "the gallant major." Circulate the news that the greenback candidate for congress is coming to Fremont county next week to discuss the issues that interest the people and if the gallant major has any desire to annihilate the fatist and anti-money-poll he will be cheerfully given the opportunity at any or all of the meetings. Here is a chance for the major to do a little practicing. Council Bluffs should wake up concerning the coming veterans' reunion. From all directions are heard reports as to what preparations are being made on the part of those who intend to visit this city at that time. It is estimated that fully 2,500 veterans will be encamped here and the number of visitors will be fully twice that number. The residents should be fully aroused to the importance of this coming event, and make such arrangements and give such aid as will make the occasion a grand success. It helps a city to encourage such enterprises, and to allow an occasion to go by with no effort to make it enjoyable, is equally sure to hurt the fame of a city. Let there be a showing of life and hospitality, of good cheer and cordiality of enterprise and stir. The citizens should with cheerfulness and alacrity take hold of all necessary preliminary arrangements, so that Council Bluffs may take rank as having the best and happiest reunion of the season, and in fact, on record, in this section of the country. Week after next it is to be devoted to fair purposes. From every indication it is now apparent that Council Bluffs is to have the greatest sort of a success. The premiums are so numerous and so liberal that there will be a large and varied exhibition of the products of all departments of industry. The prizes, too, are far out and the races will be exciting ones. From all points of the compass are being received letters showing that the country is as wide awake as the city, and is bound to make the fair and meeting a big one. The Nonpareil has shrieked itself hoarse shouting about Mr. Pussey's "bar!" If there is anything in this world that will excite "the colonel" it is a "bar!" whether it contains solids or liquids. It has not become apparent yet how freely Mr. Pussey will scatter the contents of his "bar!" but it is probable that whatever money he may spend will be his own, and will not be money paid for carrying the title of railway commissioner and rendering no services except to the railways. It will not be for a railway "bar!" nor will it be for the estate of some widow woman. The Nonpareil evidently objects to a man using his own money in his own campaign, but heartily endorsing the giving of a bond and promising postoffices in order to buy a nomination. It howls about a "bar!" which contains a man's own money, but heartily indorses a "bar!" which contains other folks' money, railway money, army pay drawn twice, warrants for arrest for disorderly conduct, widows' notes, judgments in favor of Old Sam, corruption bonds, postoffices, brass collars, etc., etc. If the "bar!" have got to be used in the campaign, the Nonpareil had not better write any comparisons.

MESEES OF THE LAW. Those Around Whom the Net Has Been Thrown—A Rumored Murderer. Yesterday afternoon there was an apparently truthful report that a murder had been committed at the notorious house known as the "Three Nines," it being No. 999, Broadway. According to the report the one who did the supposed bloody act, was a barber known as "Big John" who works in a shop near the Bryant house. It was learned by the police that the barber had hurriedly come into the shop, taken some money, and started for the Northwestern depot to take the train. Marshal Jackson jumped into his buggy with Officer Brooks, and fairly ran his nag to the depot, while Officer Sterling dashed thither in another buggy, and other officers also rallied to the front. The train was just starting out, but was stopped, and the officers jumping aboard secured their man. He turned as white as though he would faint when informed of the charge against him, but speedily explained that he had been on a little hurrah during the day with a friend, who was visiting him here, and feeling their oats pretty well, he had foolishly told one or two, as a stiff, that he had killed a man. That was all there was to it. In the meantime inquiry was made at No. 999, and it was there learned that the murder most foul was committed at Nicholson's saloon, but nothing was known of the affair there. John's explanation being the only plausible one as to how the rumormongering was started, it was accepted, and he was allowed to go. It seems that in police as well as in fire circles there is occasionally a false alarm, but this one created an unusual amount of excitement, considering the vacuum as its foundation. The man Hagan, arrested for insulting a colored woman named Mrs. Johnson, was before Judge Ayres, worth yesterday. The judge decided the fine to be $100, but considering the prisoner's taste he would throw off $75 and make it even $25. He couldn't pay even this, however, and was put behind the bars. There have been lively times in the vicinity of the new school building in Hull's addition, and as a result L. Verley appeared before Justice Frayne yesterday and made a bundle of complaints, charging Mrs. Walker with assault and Charles Walker, Wm. Walker and Wm. Mack with riot. It seems to have been a neighborhood trouble in which it is said Verley's children were whipped, bricksbats were thrown, clothes lines cast and offenses and retaliations of various kinds committed. Old Billy Person says that some young fellows have been so tight, life is no longer endurable. They throw stones at his house, and otherwise excite his ire. He is preparing to prosecute some of the offenders before Justice Frayne. Yesterday a man succeeded in getting a $12.50 draft cashed at one of the banks, on the representation that he had money in an Omaha bank to meet it, which proved to be a mistake. The police were called upon, but the affair was settled in some manner and hushed up.

DOINGS OF THE BOARD.

Dr. F. P. Bellinger is Chosen County Physician for the Coming Year—The Union Avenue Bridge. Yesterday the county board of supervisors continued its session, and spent most of the day in the monotonous work of examining and allowing bills and accounts, in which there was very little to interest the public. The board succeeded in finishing its business, and adjourned until the next regular meeting. The session of four days is an unusually short one. The most important act of the board yesterday was the selection of a county physician for the ensuing year. There were six or seven bids, in the average being $62 a month. The successful one was Dr. F. P. Bellinger, whose bid was $40 a month, exclusive of any small pox cases, for which extra charges are to be made. The matter of the bridge across the creek at Union avenue was talked over somewhat. The supervisors seem firm in their original proposition and not inclined to change. This proposal was to give the city $2,500 for that purpose, provided the city bear the balance of the expense of building a bridge 120 feet wide, in accordance with the plans and specifications on file. Some of the city fathers have thought that a narrower bridge would answer the purpose, and that it could be built inside of the $2,500 appropriated by the county, so that the city would not have to pay the $800 to $1,000 necessary in addition to what the county pays. The board thus sticking to their original plan, it remains now, as it has for some time past, for the council to either pay the balance or go without the bridge. The council ought to take some positive action either one way or the other, and not let the matter hang along for eighteen more months.

Frightful Misery.

Mr. Wm. Pomeroy, Banov, Mo., writes: "I have for a long time suffered from continual constipation, making my life misery, and causing headache and frightful cramps. Mr. Thomson (who has been lately visiting in Buffalo), induced me to try the Spring Bitters. It has perfectly cured me." Price 50 cents; trial bottles 10 cents.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Bartlett, of Kansas City, are in the city. Hon. James G. Day, of Sidney, was at the Ogden yesterday. J. H. Reynolds, of Wymore, Neb., was in the city yesterday. D. G. M. Shillets, of Allegheny City, Penn., is at the Ogden. Mr. Vincent, of the Nonconformist, the greenback paper published at Tabor, was in the city yesterday. C. D. Kason, the well-known attorney of Corning, was in the city yesterday and paid his compliments to The Bee. It is announced that William Garner, of the township bearing his name, and who is so well known throughout the county, is not improving in health, but on the contrary, is rapidly failing. A Marvellous Cure. For all bodily ailments, arising from impurity of blood, a torpid liver, irregularity of the bowels, indigestion, constipation, or disordered kidneys, is warranted in a free use of BUNDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Price $1.00.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

The Story of the Planter Who Built a New Lonely Mansion in Connecticut. New York Sun. GROTON, August 30.—Before the war Robert Stafford, a millionaire planter, owned two islands off the coast of Georgia which were noted for the superior cotton they produced—the famous Sea Island variety. On the larger of the two islands Mr. Stafford lived. He fell in love with a creole girl who was one of his slaves, and married her. She was educated and refined in manners. Six children were the fruit of the marriage. Two boys died in their youth. Just before the breaking out of the civil war, Stafford, who noted the gathering clouds, came north and built a magnificent dwelling among the pastures a few miles north of this village, on the swelling bank of the Thames river. Then he returned to the south, and thence sent his wife and daughters to the northern home. Here they were surrounded by every luxury. The interior of the house was very fine and the grounds were a triumph of the gardener's skill. Beautiful and rare plants and shrubbery diversified the rolling green of the lawn, fountain plays, across the Thames river, and through the grounds broad gravel walks wound up to the spacious veranda. The advent of the beautiful girls in New London and Groton was an event that is still fresh in the memory of Connecticut society. The girls received a fashionable northern education. Private tutors taught them French, Italian, music, painting, and the arts of the ballroom. They were treated in the most pretentious society, and suitors were not a few. One sister married Fred Palmer, of New London. The union was not a happy one, and a separation soon followed. Another sister was wedded to Commodore Brady, of New York. The honeymoon was passed in Paris, where the bride shone as a society star for a few months. Soon after the couple were divorced. The youngest sister was married to a New York gentleman, and is living happily with her husband. Adelaide, another sister, has lived during the past eight years at Paris. A few months ago she met Count Oybalski, who is connected with the diplomatic service of Russia, and about a month ago she became his wife, the nuptials being celebrated in the church of Notre Dame. She sent wedding cards to her friends in Groton and New London, dainty pieces of pasteboard, perfumed, adorned with the royal coronet, and bearing the words in Italian: "Countess Oybalski, Paris." The young wife is described as tall, lithe, graceful, with olive-tinted skin and lustrous eyes. The count is little, old, withered and bent, with a whisk of yellow beard. He has taken his wife to live in the most elegant quarter of Paris. Robert Stafford was loyal to the union. At one time the troops of General Joe Hawley, the Seventh Connecticut regiment, were quartered on his plantation. He passed his summer in the north from 1867 to the year of his death, 1878. He bought property in New London and Norwich, which the de- heirs still hold. He left a will by which $400,000 was divided equally among the daughters, while the bulk of the property, several million dollars, was divided among distant relatives. The great mansion, that he built in Groton remains in treacherous and isolated grandeur among the bleak pasture lands, and every tourist that journeys up the Thames valley inquires: "Who is the owner of that splendid place? It is many years since a daughter of the creole slave of the Georgian Islands has revisited the mansion. Attention Bricklayers. All members of the Council Bluffs bricklayers' union are hereby requested to meet in their hall on Monday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Business of importance. By order of the president.
