

The Daily Bee. COUNCIL BLUFFS. Monday Morning, Sept. 11. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier, 30 cents per week. By Mail, $1.00 per year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. Sherraden makes photographs. Call and see the new fall goods at Bliss.

In the circuit court Saturday the case of Bryington vs. Cassidy occupied the day. The largest line of ladies' stylish neck-wear in the city is at Bliss.

Edwin S. Harris and Anna Smith, both of this city, were made husband and wife by Justice Abbott Friday night. The trustees of the public library will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the library hall rooms.

Order your fair hats at Bliss! They have all the latest styles in. Strangers in our city are loud in their praise of the music at St. Francis (Catholic) church. The singing during yesterday's services was very fine.

The Round Table, the young folks literary society, expects to begin its third season with a gathering next Thursday evening. Seaman has just received about two thousand volumes of miscellaneous books, some of which he is offering at one-half and one-third of publishers' prices.

Chief Field says in regard to the police preventing, or rather not preventing, confidence games, that the officers cannot furnish brains to all the fellows who happen to have a little money. H. Leland's meat market was beautifully adorned by flowers on Saturday, and each customer was remembered by a button-hole bouquet. The Bee was not forgotten, either.

Col. Sapp has sold his elegant residence on Oakland avenue, Mr. Thomas Evans being the purchaser. The consideration is said to have been $10,000. Arrangements have been made so that the several railroads centering here will, during fair weather, run excursion trains, by which visitors may return home in the evening, thus giving them a chance to see all the events set for each day.

The quadrille party by the C. K. of A. was splendidly managed, and a success in every way. The young men who had it in charge deserve much credit. St. Joseph's Academy hall is fast becoming popular.

to the undertakers establishment. Young Black was 22 years of age, and was a member of the firm of Black Bros., pawnbrokers on Broadway, he was an unmarried man and besides his brother has a sister and other relatives, Mr. Goldstein being an uncle of his.

A meeting of the fire department was called for Saturday night to consider the advisability of sending a delegation to Omaha next Wednesday to join in the annual parade there. No quorum was had but it is expected that the plan will be carried out, and if so the boys' band will probably accompany the Council Bluffs boys.

Wyman's Commercial College, on Farnam street, Omaha, is getting a number of students from this city. But a short time ago Joe Boucher entered upon course there, and a few days ago Miss Carrie Miller, of this city, a niece of Judge McGreary, left for the same institution. The college is evidently giving great satisfaction to its patrons, for the attendance, even at this season of the year, numbers thirty in the night school and twenty in the day school, and is increasing rapidly. The thorough business training given there seems to be appreciated.

Jack Percogy, of Perego & Moore, had his coat off Saturday doing a little freewill work for the Harrison county fair, to be held at Missouri Valley October 3, 4 and 5. He was hanging in prominent places large and attractive posters calling attention to the fair, which promises to be one of the best in the state, as liberal premiums and fat purses are offered for exhibitions of all kinds of products and for trials of speed on the track. The posters catch the eye and excite the admiration of many, and Council Bluffs will doubtless be well represented at the fair.

The Macedonia folk have had a slight surprise. They had been led to believe that they could build a brick school house, in accordance with plans which had been drawn, for $3,500. When the bids of contractors were opened the lowest was $5,200 and the highest $6,000. The school board cut off some gingerbread work, reducing the cost to $4,700, and then started a paper to see if a majority of the votes would authorize the increased expenditure. They succeeded in getting the needed support of the voters and the contract has been let to Miller & Oels, who agree to begin work this week.

Buses for the Ladies. One may as well be out of the world as out of fashion. So they say, but there is no need of being out of either, if one visits and patronizes Bliss' millinery establishment, at No. 328 Broadway, for its items now more than ever to be a complete emporium of fashion. A large and varied fall stock has been received, and other new goods are arriving daily, making the display the best ever seen in the city. The millinery parlor has also been refitted in an attractive manner, and contains a unusually beautiful showing of stylish bonnets and jaunty hats. Among the fancy goods to be seen are many novel and beautiful articles of lace, ribbons and trims of all kinds. There are also many new styles of art, and skillful needle work for the boudoir, trims of new designs, in fact articles of every description worthy of note. The department also contains several new styles not before introduced here. The ladies who fail to see the present display certainly miss much.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE.

A Young Man Drops His Roll at the Transfer—The Soap Man's Game. Saturday evening a young man on his way back from Dakota to his home in Mills county, was confided out of $55 at the transfer. On the Sioux City train he met and got acquainted with the man who turned the trick, and finding him an agreeable companion, kept with him after arriving in this city. The sharper induced the young man to go with him to look after some cars of stock standing on the track, and which he claimed were his. He then wanted the young man to change a $100 bill for him, so that he could pay some charges on the stock, and the young fellow not being able to do that, lent him $55 for a few minutes, payment being promised as soon as he could break the $100 bill. The $55 and the stock man, of course, disappeared, and together.

For two or three days a soap man has been doing a thriving business on the street corners, pretending to sell little bits of soap to take out tar, grease, etc., from clothing. He pretends to wrap $5 bills and $2 bills around the soap, and then sells these in package form. It is an old, old game, and is about on a par with three card monte. The fellow has obtained a license for a street stand, but the city has no more business to license such a business than any other swindle. The attention of the city marshal was called to the matter and he made him move on.

A YOUTHFUL VETERAN.

Enlisted at the Age of Thirteen, and Promises to Attend the Reunion Here. There was a jolly quartet from Missouri Valley who paid their respects to THE BEE office. They included Mr. O. L. French, the well-known furniture man of that place, Mr. D. Burgess, W. A. Evans, the livery man, and A. H. Livingston. In course of talk, attention was called to the fact that at the Grand Island reunion it was claimed that the youngest veteran in the west was present, he being a member of Balcon Post No. 59, G. A. R., who had enlisted at the tender age of fifteen. Mr. Evans smiled a smile, and quietly remarked that at the coming veteran's reunion here there would be present a fellow who could discount that, and on being pressed for details it was learned that he was the fellow. Mr. Evans en-listed as a bugler in the First Nebraska, when he was only thirteen years old, this being the only time around the soap, and doubtless taking rank as the youngest in this part of the country. If there are any who enlisted at a younger age THE BEE would be glad to hear from them, and the veterans would be glad to welcome them to the reunion.

HOME AGAIN.

Rev. Cyrus Hamlin Gives Some Thoughts on His Vacation Trip.

At the Congregational church yesterday morning there was a large audience gathered to welcome back from his vacation the pastor, Rev. Cyrus Hamlin. He gave a very interesting and thoughtful talk on suggestions which came to him from various circumstances of his trip into the Lake Superior country. Much of the discourse was of a decidedly practical turn, and coupled with helpful teachings appropriate to time and place. He spoke of the feeling of unrest which seems to be pervading society everywhere; the desire to go west; the feeling of discontent in living in any place which had reached its growth; the measuring of enterprise by the signs of outward boom. All could not go west and all could not go to the great cities and the growing points. In view of this it was a question whether such a feeling of restlessness had more advantages than disadvantages, and the speaker considered several of each. He also spoke of the spirit of exploration which was pushing out into the undeveloped regions, and drew a striking comparison between the wilderness of nature and that of the human heart. He drew some thoughts, also, from frontier life, where there is no enemy who were little under the influence of organized church societies, and the necessity of believers carrying their religion into every day life, and making their individual influence felt for the right at all times, this being the only way in which many could be reached at all.

JUDGED AND JUDGING.

Those who Commanded the Attention of the Courts and Police.

James Crowley, who so successfully "chawed off" an old man's lip, was before the Superior court Saturday, but took a change of venue to Justice Abbott, and the case continued until some day this week. Adolph E. Bill, who drove into the buggy containing Mrs. Phillips and daughter, appeared before Judge Ayres Saturday morning, and pleaded guilty to being drunk, as a settlement of the scrape, though he claimed he was not even that much to blame in the affair. His fine was made $5 and costs.

Barney Dailey for disturbing the peace was fined $11.70. Paid. His steel knuckles were confiscated, and the charge of carrying concealed weapons was dropped. A large number of roughs and crooked men came from Des Moines Friday night, intending to work at Omaha during the fair this week, and then to work the crowds at the Council Bluffs fair the following week. The officers were patrolled as to them, and kept close watch on most of them. Two suspicious fellows were run in on the charge of stealing a hat from the washrooms of one of the smaller hotels, but there being no evidence to convict they were let go with the advice to skip the town.

There has been some dissatisfaction among the express men because the street railway company do not have to take out a license to carry mail. It has been thought by good attorneys that there was no show to make the street railway company take such a license, but Britton, an expressman, has signed a complaint and there is some prospect of the question being tested, though the case has not been set as yet for hearing. Pat McCann's drunk cost him $7.00. A comical little darkey boy was arrested on Saturday charged with stealing some cigars from Lutz & Lange's cigar store. He owned up with a sob and also acknowledged having stolen some money on two different occasions from the till of Denny's front stand near the Northwestern depot, for one of which thefts an Omaha woman was arrested some time ago but acquitted. The little fellow is a son of Wash Holmes and will probably have to take a course in the reform school.

Two of Uncle Sam's prisoners were landed in jail here Saturday night. One was from Shenandoah, the other from Ringgold county. Both are charged with violating the revenue law, and will be kept here for the action of the United States grand jury. "Texas," the colored rollicker, was arrested for disorderly conduct Saturday night, and kept it up after being locked up. He had a lively fight with another prisoner in which chairs were broken and windows smashed in the calaboose. "Texas" has been petted by the authorities and his conduct excused easily until he has an idea he can do as he pleases. Mark Walters has been arrested on the serious charge of attempted rape. The young lady who made the complaint, says that while buggy riding with him he attempted to rape her but failed. He gave bail for his appearance in the superior court to day. Among those arrested Saturday night, and who will have their cases adjusted to-day, were Josiah Roberts, arrested by Officer Morse, for being drunk; Dick Allen, arrested by Officer Edgar, for being drunk and carrying concealed weapons; Frank Stevens arrested by Chief Field for being drunk and fighting near the C. B. & Q. depot; Wilson arrested by Officer Cusick, for being drunk. Officer Morse also arrested Charles White for disturbing the peace. White managed to escape, but was recaptured and locked up.

PERSONAL.

Miss Alley Chapman, of Atlantic, is in the city. J. G. Tipton starts this morning for Union county to attend court. C. F. Brown, representing the Grace Cortland company, spent Sunday in this city. Fritz Myer has started out on the Wash road in the interests of Cielie's brewery. H. G. Prgrave, of the Iowa Trunk line association, was among the welcome callers at THE BEE office Saturday. F. G. Stevens, who has a large cigar box factory at Janesville, Wis., is in the city, interviewing customers.

Mr. Eugene Wetervelt has returned from New York, where he has been under the care of an oculist. He has returned in perfect health now, and his friends will rejoice with him. Chas. J. Hagemann, a wide-awake representative of the hardware house of Sieg & Williams, Davenport, Iowa, was in the city Saturday, and on his rounds dropped a word of cheer for THE BEE office.

Another Victory.

The Council Bluffs champions won another victory at Kansas City yesterday, and won it fairly and squarely. The umpire was Mr. Kennedy, of Kansas City, who acted very impartially. The boys returned last night, and they report that they received very gentlemanly treatment from the Kansas City club and citizens of the place. The following is the score by innings:

Table with 2 rows of scores: C.B. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9, K.C. 0 1 2 0 0 0 0 5-8.

PRACTICAL PIETY.

A Charity Which Not Only Supports, but Teaches Self-Support.

A most practical charitable movement has been started here, beginning as most good things do begin, in a modest, quiet, yet earnest manner, and is developing rapidly. Some time ago a few ladies, impressed with the fact that there are in the city many children whose homes are desolate, and whose surroundings are pitiable, joined in a plan for relief, not merely by giving the unfortunate help, but by a higher charity to teach them to help themselves. The plan was simply to get destitute children to come together one afternoon each week and there meet the kind-hearted ladies and get help in making their own clothing. At the first gathering of this sort there were four girls only who came to the appointed place. They came with dirty faces, unkempt hair, and in poor dresses as poor manners. The first lesson taught them was that cleanliness is next door to godliness, and since then, at every weekly gathering, there have been indications that they have been trying to learn this lesson, though in some cases only in a partial manner, but even streaks are encouraging. The ladies had material on hand, thread, needles, buttons, and all for making clothes for these unfortunates, but instead of the ladies doing all the work they set the girls at it, showing them how to make their own dresses and do their own sewing. Many of them in this way sandwich in instruction in a manner, and in fact try to throw about them the helpful influences and inspirations of the pure, healthy home life which they lack so much. The theory is that in helping those who need help lessons in self-helpfulness should be given. The number of children thus being looked after is growing. There are now eighteen or twenty who thus gather each week. The ladies divide up so that only two or three are at each gathering as instructors, thus dividing the work. As fast as they get themselves clothed properly they are taught to make quilts and other needfuls for home, and to their own sewing. Many of these girls are suffering for it, and in their humbler lives are being educated into ways of idleness and crime, and any practical means of counteracting these influences, and helping to a better way of living certainly merits encouragement.

Priming the Primaries.

The primaries were held Saturday evening for the purpose of choosing delegates to the republican county convention, to be held next Wednesday. All day Saturday the several candidates for county office were as busy as though on the eve of an election, rather than of caucus, and a warmer and closer time of patching up tickets was never seen here. The following were the delegates chosen:

FIRST WARD. In the First ward Jacob Sims was elected chairman, and E. J. Abbot secretary. The following were the list of delegates chosen: F. Davis, W. McFadden, W. Seldentopf, A. J. Bump, R. T. Bryant and D. B. Clark.

SECOND WARD. In the Second ward Dr. John Green was elected chairman, and C. M. Harle and George Burke secretaries. The following is the list of delegates chosen: C. S. Hubbard, H. L. Henry, L. S. Russell, A. F. Clatter-buck, Geo. Drake, Chester Tibbitts, J. H. Arthur.

THIRD WARD. In the Third ward Col. Sapp was chosen chairman. H. O. Dill and L. Kirsch secretaries. The following is the list of delegates chosen: D. Maitby, W. F. Sapp, Thomas Tosterson, S. T. Walker, R. P. Sealey, Geo. Albee, John Lindt.

FOURTH WARD. Col. Dailey was called to the chair and A. J. Hart, secretary. The following were the delegates chosen: Phil Armour, G. S. Lawler, W. H. Kiddler, J. N. Baldwin, J. P. Gouldson, Scott Rice, Dr. H. Hart, L. P. Judson, and J. T. Stuart. The contest was largely over the office of clerk of the court. The majority of the delegates are said to be in favor of the present incumbent, Mr. Street. Mr. Rykman having captured the Fourth ward.
