

The Daily Bee.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, Sept. 12.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier, 20 cents per week. By Mail, $10.00 per Year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

-J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. -Sherraden makes photographs. -Call and see the new fall goods at Bliss.

-The republican county convention is to meet to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, at the court house.

-The largest line of ladies' stylish neck-wear in the city is at Bliss.

-Permits to wed were yesterday given to Elisha Moyer and Ann Chick, also to Andrew Carter and Ella Broderick, all of this city.

-The ladies all go to Bliss when they want stylish millinery.

-The Young Men's Christian Association met this evening in their new rooms on North Main street, for business and prayer.

-Order your fair hats at Bliss. They have all the latest styles in.

-The trustees of the public library held no meeting yesterday afternoon, on account of a lack of quorum. They will try again at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

-The Bee acknowledges the receipt of an invitation, with the usual compliments, to the Shelby county fair, to be held September 21st and 22d.

-Col. Sapp's buggy, in which himself and wife were seated, was run into by another buggy Sunday evening, on Broadway, and was somewhat smashed, but fortunately no one hurt.

-Seaman has just received about two thousand volumes of miscellaneous books, some of which he is offering at one-half and one-third of publishers' prices.

-An attempt is being made again to have the alleys cleaned. A number of business men have been complained of for throwing out rubbish instead of carting it off.

-Yesterday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Daniel Dougherty took place, the services being held at the Catholic church. Mrs. Dougherty has long lived here, her husband having been for years in Mr. Wickham's employ.

-Council Bluffs is furnishing Omaha its grapes. We noticed yesterday Alderman Wood seated on a wagon load, bound for across the river, the grapes being only part of one order for 14,000 pounds. That is but one of many.

-The base ball boys are fitting up their grounds in fine shape for the coming games. It is now planned to have a game next Friday afternoon on the grounds here, between the Council Bluffs nine and St. Louis Browns.

-It will well repay the gentlemen of Council Bluffs and Western Iowa to call at the Merchant Tailoring Establishment of Joseph Reiter, 310 Upper Broadway, and examine his latest styles of Fall Goods, particularly his nobby French Nigger Heads. His prices, as is well known, cannot be beat, and he guarantees, as usual, a perfect and stylish fit.

-Tickets are out for a grand annual ball by St. Patrick Benevolent society at their fine hall, on Wednesday evening, the 20th of this month. The parties given by this old and popular society are always carefully managed and largely attended.

-Few of our citizens know that Geo. F. Crawford & Co., the largest buyer and shipper of eggs in the west, is located in Council Bluffs. They simply do an immense business. They are thoroughly responsible and prompt in their payments. They pay the highest cash prices, remit promptly. No commissions. See their advertisement.

-One letter makes quite a little difference sometimes. Seaman, the book and stationery man for instance, announced in this Bee that he would sell books at one-third "off" publishers' prices, by the dropping of an "f" the types made him promise to sell at one-third "of" publishers' prices, which is a little too low. The class in arithmetic may amuse themselves by figuring out the difference between the two offers.

-In the circuit court yesterday the time was occupied in the trial of the case of J. S. Williams vs. James Coyle, it being a suit to recover damages for false imprisonment. Coyle and Williams had some business transactions and Coyle charged the latter with stealing some wood, and had him locked up. Dalley & Burke appeared for the plaintiff, and John N. Baldwin, for the defendant.

-Mr. Miller, of Chillicothe, Mo., vice-president of the Missouri Horticultural Society, and one of the largest fruit raisers in that state, favors the Bee with frequent liberal samples of the kind of apples and pears which he is shipping here. About the most toothsome, finely flavored fruit yet sampled is the pear known as the Duchess d'Anglaise. They are large sized and luscious. There is a history connected with the naming of the pear. A peasant presenting a plate of the pears to a German princess, asked for a name of them, and they were thus christened.

-City Marshal Jackson was yesterday stirred up some over one of his mail wagons. He found that the wagon had gone out of the barn and left a nut behind. As it was drawn by a pretty lively horse, Jackson feared the wheel would come off, and a runaway would result. He started in hot haste for the postoffice, and found the wagon had gone from there. Then he sent a boy on horseback in hot haste after it, but it was too late, the wheel had come off just as the wagon reached the North-western depot, but fortunately no damage was done. The wheel had gone the entire distance without any nut.

-A dilapidated show appeared on the streets here bright and early yesterday morning. The parade consisted of two negroes, one containing a motley showing of tent poles, ragged bundles of canvas, a bird cage or six, and other traps, while upon the sides appeared a horrible bit of lettering announcing "The greatest show on earth," with alleged pictures of the fat man and the lean girl, which were supposed to be among the curiosities to be seen.

The second wagon was a covered one driven by a starveling-looking old, while the fat man was ensconced in the rear, taking life easy. They leaned the teams against the telegraph poles to rest awhile and then started on for Omaha to show up at the fair, promising to return to start the people here the following week.

-Miss Jessie Wilson, of Leadville, Colorado, is in the city, the guest of Miss Hattie Morand. Miss Wilson is an old resident of Council Bluffs, and is shaking hands with her many friends.

PEACE MAKERS AND PEACE BREAKERS.

what They Have Been Doing to Make News for the Public.

There were a number of petty cases to dispose of in the superior court yesterday. D. Allen was one of the quiet drunks who was disposed of for $7.00. John Wilson and William McCarthy were also adjusted at a like amount.

Frank Stevens, arrested for fighting at the C. & B. Q. depot, gave another side to the story told about him. He said that a fellow at the depot, a stranger, tried to rob him of $1.75, and he had to resist of course. He kept the fellow off from him until the officers came, and then the would-be robber ran away, and he was the unlucky one to be arrested. He was discharged, and allowed to go on his way to Pacific Junction, to which place he had bought a ticket when the row was started.

The case against young Walters, charged with attempted rape, was continued until this morning.

Two young fellows from Des Moines, named Benjamin Edgerton and Charles Haley, were picked up by the police. They were thought to be of the gang which, after the state fair, pushed westward to take in the fairs here and at Omaha. Edgerton, who is known as "Fatty," and who is 18, though looking much younger, was charged with stealing 45 cents from a candy stand kept by a colored man named Burke. There being not enough evidence to convict, he was turned loose and cautioned about trying to do any crooked work here. His companion, Haley, was charged with vagrancy. He claimed Edgerton as his home, and when asked if he had run away, said, "Well, about half run away, and the other half left." The judge hummed a strain of "There's no place like home," and after listening to the boy's story of going off with a side-show, and getting left, he continued the boy's case until to-day, and let the boy out, the inward hope evidently being that the young fellow would hurry beyond the limits. These two seem to be few samples of a gang of young rascals, who are gathering here, and who ought to be broken up.

Richard Baker, better known as "Texas," was before the court on trip-lets—two charge being assault and battery, he being thumped in the calabose by another prisoner named White, another charge for being drunk, and another for using profane language. He managed to slip out of the assault charge, by the absence of White, as a witness, and got off of the other by pleading guilty to being drunk, the usual fine being imposed, and he going off on the promise to pay—his employers being security. "Texas" gets off easy, somehow.

A trio of noisy ones, one named Roberts and two named White, were arrested for raising a disturbance at Mrs. Butterfield's. One smashed a lighted lamp and a fire started but was speedily suppressed. Roberts put up an old horse for security and appeared himself in court yesterday morning, but his comrades were not forthcoming and the horse was held. City Clerk Savasool has already an offer of fifty cents for the steed.

The expressmen still insist on standing on forbidden ground, the ordinance notwithstanding. Chief Field started in yesterday to remind them of the law, and entered complaint against James Jacoby for loitering on Bancroft street. He gave $25 bonds and the case was continued until to-day.

Dan Burns and Henry Grece were yesterday afternoon booked for being drunk.

An uproarious cowboy yesterday afternoon raised a row in a Broadway saloon and refused to go out. Officer Brooks took him by the collar and led him in.

Two men entered Wagner's saloon yesterday and asked change for a $5 bill. While Mr. Wagner stepped up stairs after some change, the till was tapped, and on his return the strangers were gone. One of them was soon after arrested, and gave his name as Murphy. He had only $4 on his person, while the amount taken from the till amounted to about $8.

E. R. Decker, a plain drunk, was assessed the usual amount yesterday.

Harsford's Acid Phosphate. FOR OVERWORKED PROFESSIONAL MEN. DR. CHAS. T. MITCHELL, CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., says: "I think it a grand restorer of brain force or nervous energy."

A New Undertaking Establishment in Our City. As will be seen by a card in this issue of THE DAILY BEE another new enterprise has been added to the business establishments of our city. Mr. D. M. Connell, who comes highly recommended from his late home in New Hampshire, has opened out with a large and well selected stock in the undertaking business, on North Main street (the old Rescue engine house.) Mr. Connell is a thoroughly competent undertaker, having had a long and successful experience at the business. We bespeak for him a very liberal patronage.

In connection with his establishment he can also accommodate the public with a beautiful new hearse and landau carriages.

Wm. McCartney, 88 Lloyd Street, Enfield, N. Y., fell and sprained his ankle. His employer, H. Anderson, 94 Main Street, procured some THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL, and he says that a few applications enabled him to go to work as usual.

HOT BLOOD.

A Printer Raises a Lively Little Disturbance in a Dry Goods Store.

Yesterday morning a young man named N. G. Brown, one of the employees of The Nonpareil, struck up a lively sensation by stepping into Laing's dry goods store and attempting to scold the proprietor.

The squabble was quickly over, and was more ludicrous than serious. Brown had not yet fairly got at work before the dry goods man had slapped him in the face, leaving a slight mark, and had got the whip away from him.

Officer Brooks appeared upon the scene and took the irate Brown to the police station, where a charge of assault and battery was entered. Brown explained that the reason why he attacked Mr. Laing was that he had been informed that the latter had not only insulted his wife, but had also made slighting remarks about her, and he took this means of getting satisfaction.

Mr. Laing's side of the story is that there was nothing of truth in the charge. The whole difficulty arose from Mr. Brown being misinformed, and without properly investigating the matter, in hot blood he rushed for the store. He wanted for no explanation and commenced war at once, but after the affair was over, explanations had been made and the matter satisfactorily adjusted, the case against Brown was dismissed, and the sensation is supposed to have ended. The whole affair seems to have grown out of gossip, and the outcome of the use of that unruly member the tongue, getting both Mr. Brown and Mr. Laing into a foolish frolic.

Notice to Shoe Dealers Only. We inform shoe dealers of Omaha, Council Bluffs and other towns, that we propose to show samples of the kinds of goods we have for sale, and constantly on hand or made to measure, at the Council Bluffs fair, September 18th to 22d, and invite competition.

Z. T. LINDBEY & Co.

PERSONAL. A. Jacobson, of Milwaukee, was at the Ogden yesterday.

Dr. T. B. Lacy left last evening for a brief trip to Cedar Rapids.

Geo. H. Stillman has started for Davenport to attend college there.

G. E. Barclay and wife, of Lennox, Dakota, were at the Ogden.

Mr. Erb, of Erb & Duquette, is reported as improving rapidly in health.

J. W. Himebaugh, of Oskosh, was among yesterday's arrivals at the Ogden.

Miss Mason, of La Salle, Ill., is in the city, the guest of Miss Lizzie McMahon.

A. M. Jackson has returned from Chicago, where he disposed of a large number of cattle.

J. W. Wiley, one of the prominent farmers of Oakland, was in the city yesterday.

Louis and Marion, late of Jefferson, Green county, are in the city looking up a location for an agricultural warehouse.

Frank Mason, of the Wabash railway, returned from Dakota this morning, where he has been on a business and pleasure trip.

C. S. Hene, representing the Burlington vinegar and pickle works, was in the city yesterday, looking after business with usual activity.

Mrs. Arnold, of Chicago, is in the city visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Clark, wife of the general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern.

F. Muehlberger, one of the well known business men of Red Oak, and who is a constant reader of THE BEE, was in the city yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Leeman, of the Baptist church, has returned from his trip to Colorado Springs and other western points. He looks brown and hearty, as though the trip had done him much good.

P. W. Cain, of Cook Creek, who graduated from the Keokuk Commercial college, and who is very skillful in the use of the pen, was in the city yesterday, with specimens of his handwriting. He is making arrangements to exhibit specimens of plain ornamental penmanship and card writing at the fair here.

Miss Jessie Walker stars this evening for O. O. to resume her school life. Miss Fannie Walker accompanies her, and Miss Edith H., who has been visiting friends here, goes with them as far as her home in Iowa City.

Barney Fatherson, late of Chicago, the new change catcher of the Council Bluffs champion base ball nine, reached here yesterday morning. He is a good one. The lit. Rev. may well feel proud of his boys.

Prof. Farnham has gone to Des Moines, called here by news that his brother-in-law, Mr. Scribner, had been knocked down, badly injured and robbed. Yesterday Prof. Farnham telegraphed back here that Mr. Scribner was dead, and hence he will not be able to return to-morrow.

G. H. Mast, who was formerly in the employ of G. H. & J. S. Collins, of Omaha, has now started out on the road in the interests of Mr. Steinhilber, whose furniture manufactory here is so extensive and the business so increasing as to warrant him in pushing out still further.

Reward Offered. Twenty-five dollars reward will be given to any one affording information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who, on the night of the 10th, sent in a false alarm and broke box No. 3.

FOR SALE. My residence, No. 715 Fourth street Bancroft. L. F. MURPHY.

A Single Victory. The value of electricity as a remedial agent has gained a signal victory over prejudice. THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL stands foremost in this class of compounds. Testimonials from all parts tell of the wondrous cures of rheumatism, neuralgia, harts, and sores, etc., effected by its agency.

Chinese Emigration. San Francisco Examiner. "There is a man who is liable to become famous," said a custom house official to an Examiner reporter yesterday, as both stood on the deck of the British steamer Sardonax. The reporter looked and beheld a diminutive Chinaman about 5 feet 3 inches in height, of a light brown complexion, wearing perhaps 128 pounds, and looking though thirty-eight years of age, and wearing an apparently permanent grin on his weathered countenance, besides apparel consisting of a hickory shirt and dirty canvas trousers.

"Why famous?" asked the wondering water front reporter, as he looked in vain at the physique and mental equipment of the Mongolian for the signs of abnormal expansion which usually characterize the great men of the earth.

"Why, this is Ung Dai, the first Chinaman that has returned under the new law with a passport. He left here on the 5th of the present month, and went to Victoria. I'll examine his passport and see if he's all right."

Ung Dai produced his passport, and answered all the questions put to him as glibly as a hand-organ, as follows: "You catch me on left fore arm?"

"Yeah, me catch me in fish-alle same burn," said Ung Dai, rolling up his sleeve.

"You have a star in India ink on right forearm, Ung!"

"Yeah, Melican sailor man he all same put him on long time," said Ung joyfully showing his other arm.

"You all right, Ung; you can go ashore whenever you like," said the official as he left the vessel and the famous Chinaman at the same time.

The steamer Olympia which left yesterday morning for Panama, carried forty-four Chinese, all but three of whom belonged to the crew. All were provided with passports. The steamer Rio de Janeiro, which arrived from Panama four days since was allowed to dock yesterday. She had nine Chinese passengers on board, none of whom were allowed to land. They were transferred on board the hulk China. The steamer Idaho, which sailed yesterday for Victoria, had six Chinese in her crew, all of whom were provided with passports.

The steamer Mississippi took twenty Chinese to Seattle, but they were not provided with passports. So far no attempt has been made to bring the question of the detention of the Chinese to a legal issue. All the fight so far has been between the steamship company and the Chinese consul. The United States government has not yet been made a party to any action, but probably will be compelled to intervene, as it did in the case of the landing of the Angler Head women. In that case both the Chinese plaintiff and the English defendant were anxious to have the Chinese land. In the present case the steamship company are anxious to get rid of the Chinese in their charge, and the Chinese consul is anxious to have them land. It is doubtful if for this purpose both parties would be working for a common end, and hence the United States government will have to step in and maintain the majesty of the law. The transportation of Chinese from the company's steamers to the hulk China is entirely voluntary to act on the part of the steamship company, as the collector of the port does not compel it. As long as the Mongolians do not land he does not care what disposition the company may make of them.

*"Figures are not always facts," but the incontrovertible facts concerning Kidney-Wort are better than most figures. For instance: "It is string every body" writes a druggist. "Kidney-Wort is the most popular medicine we sell." It is said for this purpose for no other medicine has such specific action on the liver, bowels and kidneys. Do not fail to try it.
