FATAL ACCIDENT. Gottlieb Platz Killed by the Cars at the U. P. Transfer. A very sad accident occurred yesterday forenoon at the Union Pacific Transfer, which resulted later in the death of the victim.

Gottlieb Platz, a man about fifty years of age, who lives at Sterling, Ill., and was en route to Hastings, Neb., to see his sister, Mrs. Roelke, had reached the transfer, where he expected to take the train for this side. He had gone down to the emigrant house and when the train he was to take pulled out for this side, he tried to catch on and fell between the cars. He was struck over and his right leg crushed from the foot up to the hip. He also received severe spinal injuries.

The unfortunate man was picked up and brought to this side of the river, where he was taken to the Union Pacific hospital for medical treatment. He survived about three hours and then expired, previous to his death giving his name and residence, and stating that he left a wife and eight children at Sterling.

The deceased had about three hundred dollars in his possession, and is probably in convenient circumstances. He had only been in this country about four months. A dispatch was sent to Mr. Roelke to come to Omaha at once, via Grand Island, and the remains will be held to await orders for their disposal.
