The Officers and Platform Reported to the Convention. The meetine Thursday was called to or-der by President Correll and prayer offer-ed by Mrs. Dr. Thomas, of Indiana. The audience was not so large as on the previous night, yet it was all the church would comfortably accommodate. Miss Clay, daughter of Hon. Cassius M. Clay, of Kentucky, was the first speak-er of the evening, and quoted and read ex tracts from the leading law journals of the day and other standard authorities, show-ing the gradual growth of a higher ciziliza-tion and the liberal construction of statu-tory and constitutional law relative to wo-man and very briefly traced the progressive spirit that characterizes the 19th century. At the close of this address Mrs. Mary

For men to imprison the mind of women is worse than putting shackles on their hands; that both having souls, the development of each should be encouraged. Closing the avenues to mental develop-ment is more destructive to the race than ment is more destructive to the race than closing the Suez canal would be to a peace-ful solution of the eastern question. The speaker warmed up with the subject and grew sublime in referring to those inevitable laws of human progress and human jus-tice. She rose gradually to the series heights of noetic fancy and gave expression to thoughts that would have done credit to the most distinguished orators of the day. As she assended in her thoughts she stood all the while at the solemn bar of the serene equity within her, and by the force of her eloquence, carried conviction to her hearers. She is a young woman, not over thirty-five, and has a strong voice, which can be easily heard in any public hall. Speaking as she does without manuscript, and relying m.inly upon the inspiration of the theme, predicts for her a brilliant future.

During his speech a large number of questions were propounded him by the audience, which had no more effect upon his nerves than water on a duck's back. He took the fire like an old soldier, and held his ground like a Roman senator. He said that in order for citizens to respect themselves they must have power to exer-cise their faculties; said that there was visible improvement in the men of Wyom-ing since the right of suffrage had been extended to woman; that women voted for men whom they knew to be sober, honest and incorruptible regardless of political preferences, the result of which was that in Wyoming the best men on both sides were electd. A wild goose flying southward told : BEE reporter to-day that of all the hunters none had brought down the same kind of game that Dr. Peabody did.

The doctor went up to Bancroft recently with Hon. Ezra Millard, both being ac-companied by their families. On arriving at the station, they hired a man to haul them out into the country, telling him to take them to the vicinity of some respecta-ble farm house where in some of down take them to the vicinity of some respecta-ble farm house, where, in case of storm, they could find better shelter than that afforded by their tents. The man com-plied with the request, and at night they pitched their tents in the vicinity of a comfortable farm house. A brief stroll through the fields resulted in brieging in a fine lot of chickens, and at 11 o'clock they retired to dream of the happy hunting grounds of the great fa-ther. About 2 o'clock there was a great outry. The farmer appeared at the camp and called in Stentorian tones for the doc-tor, and after some little delay he made his apperance on the scene. Before morning the census of Nebraska had been increased by a nine pound boy baby. It is a fitting disease, more particularly those com-plaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial always proves our as-sertion. They are pleasant to the taste, and only cost offic sents a bottle. Sold to

by a nine pound boy haby. It is a fitting sequel to this story to say that on the fol-lowing day about 70 fine chickens were bagged, and it was hard to tell whether the farmer or the phisician was best pleased.

I know Hop Bitters will bear rec-ommendation honestly. All who ase them confer upon them the highest encomiums, and give them credit for making cures-all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the pub-lic. They took high rank from the first, and maintained it, and are more called for than all others combined. So ong as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness, I shall continue to recommend them— something I have never before done with any other patent medicine. J. J. BABCOCK, M.D.
