

The Daily Bee. COUNCIL BLUFFS. Saturday Morning, Sept. 16. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier, 25 cents per week. By Mail, $1.00 per Year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

The outgoing train east this afternoon is the Chicago & Northwestern. J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. Sherraden makes photographs.

Yesterday a permit to wall was given Detlef Kay and Bertha A. Dittmer, both of York. Joseph Ross, the upper Broadway cooper, desires to purchase fifty thousand hoop-poles.

A young man named Car, a railroad, hailing from Brooklyn, was on a little "hurrah" here, which cost him $7.60. Chief Templeton, of the fire department, has moved his residence, being now only two doors from the hook and ladder house.

Joseph Reiter makes the finest suits in the latest styles, at the lowest possible prices. His merchant tailoring establishment is at 310 Upper Broadway, Council Bluffs.

Ed. Cook, of Hlatn street, has secured control of the privileges of the c. m. g. fair here, and also of the pool-selling. Rev. Hurlbut of Fremont, Neb., will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church to-morrow morning and evening.

Budweiser beer is on the boom. Still another carload was received to-day by Hagg & Co. Orders from the country are rapidly increasing. Last evening Rev. Mr. Webb, rector of St. Paul's, performed the marriage ceremony by which Louis Jones and Miss Lizzie Harter, both of this city, were united.

Mrs. Kate Nichols and Mrs. Archie Powell, of Omaha, together with Mr. and Mrs. McKinney, of Niles, Mich., who have been visiting them in Omaha, came over to this side yesterday to see friends and relatives here. Justice Abbott is getting to be much of a monopolist in the marrying line.

Thursday last he married three couples, the last one being of about equal age, and aggregating 127 years. Their names were Levi Devere, of Keg Creek, and Sarah Dallardie, of Council Bluffs. Mr. Bokemper has renamed Youngerman's garden, and it will hereafter be known by its old name, "Rock's Garden."

Next Sunday evening will be the initial one of a series of summer night festivals. The large iron water pipes still lie above ground along Broadway, and are getting to be a good deal of a nuisance to the business men, as carriages and wagons cannot drive up to the sidewalk. Patience is needed. They will soon be buried—that is the pipe, not the business men.

Among the places of interest that should be visited by strangers arriving in our city during fair week is the Palace Music Hall of J. Mueller. His extensive trade extends throughout the northwest. At the present time he is receiving a very fine and select stock of goods for the fall and winter trade.

St. Jacob, the compiler of an ancient history now being published here as a daily serial, undertakes to find fault with The Bee because it gives the news, and charges this paper with bad faith in not keeping "mum" about a bit of news which St. Jacob claims all the reporters swore to keep a sacred secret. St. Jacob knows that no such pool of secrecy was formed, and knows to his own sorrow The Bee never enters any such alliance. It does its own news-getting and its own news-giving, without regard to what other papers may do. St. Jacob must find some better excuse for not having the news himself, and must trump up some other charge than that The Bee gives news not to be found elsewhere.

If giving the news be a fault then there is one fault of which St. Jacob will never be guilty. His claim that he kept the item referred to secret, in order to keep faith with the police, is the veriest bomb, as the event did not happen before he went to press, and even then the first he knew of it was what he read in The Bee the next morning.

Yesterday afternoon there was a lively rattle at "the blue barn," on Upper Broadway. A clock peddler, named Bailey, who had rather a heavy load of whisky on board, sold one of his tickers for $12 to one of a crowd at the barn, and he claimed that Ben Riddle interfered in the matter by claiming that the price was too high. This started a fuss, in which Riddle threw the clock peddler down and choked him. That settled the first round, and soon after the clock peddler returned and, with hardly a word of warning, struck Riddle in the face, drawing blood. Riddle then "downed" the clock peddler and punished him severely. Special Policeman Anderson appeared, and attempted to separate the combatants, but Tom Skinner, the expressman, not knowing he was an officer, interfered. As an outcome the clock peddler was locked up, and Skinner will be called on at the same time to answer the charge of resisting an officer.

Deals in Stock. The following were the shipments and receipts at the Union Stock yards yesterday: RECEIPTS: 37 cars Evans & Haas; 1 car O. S. Newkirk; 14 cars Haas Bros. & Co.; 2 cars E. S. Vantassel; 25 cars Bowler Bros.; 11 cars Haas Bros. & Co. The only shipments were 21 cars, Evans & Haas to Chicago, via the C. M. & St. P. railway.

Wanted. A young German, a situation as a baker. Can give satisfactory reference. Inquire at The Bee office.

FOR SALE. My residence, No. 715 Fourth street. Dan Croft. L. F. McPhay.

TRYING TO FUSE

The Inside History of a Strange Political Gathering of Democrats and Greenbackers.

There was the other day a gathering of politicians and wire workers at Des Moines for the purpose of considering the possibility of a fusion of greenbackers and democrats.

There was Chairman Kinne of Toledo, Candidate Hagerman of the First district, Candidate Gilpin of the Seventh district, Candidate Cliggert of the Tenth district, Col. Bollingall of Ottumwa, I. H. Cole of Keokuk, B. Yevers of Oskaloosa, S. A. Palmer of Fairfield, J. C. Morgan of Council Bluffs, Alabama Walker of Bloomfield, and several others of lesser note in the bourbon councils.

They were traced to a room in the Aborn house, where it was learned they were holding a meeting and deliberating upon the nominations, questions of the day generally, and the particular interests of the democratic party of Iowa. By one of those peculiar coincidences that only happen in politics, a number of greenbackers occupied another room in the same hotel.

These included Gen. Weaver, Candidate Gillette of the Seventh district, Candidate Clark of the Eighth district, and Candidate Hatton of the Ninth district, and others. By accident it was discovered that the greenbackers would like to hear from the democrats. But some of the latter stood on their dignity and thought it best to hear from the greenbackers. They were accordingly heard from.

Weaver came into the democratic council and delivered an ultimatum. It was to the effect that he (Weaver) should be endorsed by the democrats of the Sixth district, Gillette in the Seventh, and Clark in the Eighth; that both Hatton and Pusef should withdraw from the Ninth and the democrats put up another man; that Hagerman should stand in the First, the democrats should have the Second, Third, Fourth and all the rest of the state if they wanted it. Mr. Weaver then withdrew and the atmosphere of the room grew pale with bourbon expletives. The democrats of the sixth said nothing could induce them to support Weaver. The democrats of the seventh responded in the same strain toward Gillette, while the ninth district representatives declared they could take care of themselves and would elect Pusef over both Hatton and Anderson. The sentiment of the conference was to reject Weaver's proposition point-blank, but it was finally decided to let him down easy, so a resolution was passed declaring that the meeting had no power to enter into any such compact, and that the matter rested entirely with the separate congressional districts. So ended this chapter on fusion.

THE TIES THAT BIND. The Milwaukee & St. Paul at Last Tumble into the Iowa Pool. Another meeting of the railway magnates was held in Chicago, at which the question of organizing a northwestern pool was discussed. The plan was abandoned, and an agreement made to resume rates on all business to Des Moines, Minneapolis and St. Paul, this agreement to last for twelve months, and a commissioner to be appointed with headquarters in Chicago to see that the contract is carried out.

At the same meeting another important agreement was reached, it being that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road shall be allowed to enter the pool, on equal terms with the other four roads. It is stated that the representative of the St. Paul road has agreed to this, but that the formal contract is yet to be signed.

It will cause much indignation if this statement is verified, and the St. Paul really enters the pool. Many had hoped that the road would stand out independent and become known as the people's road. If so, it would have been the favorite one, but it becomes apparent that the managers of the St. Paul are human, and care only for the people so far as they can make it pay, and when there is greater promise of reward, the people's interests are dropped as of no account. The time will come, however, when the pool will be broken, and while the action of the St. Paul may put off that day still further, it cannot prevent its coming in time—for fate has so written on the wall.

Wm. McCartney, 88 Lloyd Street, Buffalo, N. Y., fell and sprained his ankle. His employer, H. Anderson, 94 Main Street, procured some THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL, and the same day a few applications enabled him to go to work as usual.

PERSONAL. M. E. Erwin, of Dubuque, was at the Ogden yesterday. C. C. Henshaw, of Green county, was in the city yesterday. J. Hayden Burns, of Des Moines, visited Council Bluffs yesterday. Sam Dowling, of Missouri Valley, was shaking hands with Council Bluffs friends yesterday. S. Gould, son of General Manager Gould of the Wabash railroad, at St. Louis, is in the city. Edward D. Kohn, of Rock Island, was in the city yesterday interviewing the business men in his line. Capt. E. Howard George, of the Chicago Herald, was among the callers at The Bee office yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fryor, of Stanton, Neb., have been visiting his brother, P. M. Fryor, and family for a day or so. Daniel W. Strickland, of Wellington, Iowa, is in the city on his way home from Alaska, and is a guest of Ruelien Bryant, Esq.

A merry quartet from Harlan were in the city yesterday, they being E. S. Swain, J. N. Parker, T. D. Pratt and J. W. Newby. M. R. Beard, brother of George R. Beard, of this city, has been nominated by the democrats at Sacramento, Cal., for the position of county clerk. Even such a stalwart republican paper as The Sacramento Leader gives him a very favorable notice, and pronounces him clean in character and strong in politics. There are good chances for his election and in any event his many friends here and in Omaha, where he formerly lived, will be gratified to learn that he has gained both prominence and confidence among the people of his far west.

W. H. H. Dabney, who has an extensive farm near Oakland, and who is largely interested in stock, was among the Ogden house guests yesterday. G. Kiel, of the firm Linder, Kiel & Jensen, Sioux Falls, Dakota, and of Linder & Keil, of this city, is back on a visit handshaking with his many friends. He looks well.

Samuel Haas and his son Harry, arrived home from the west yesterday. Harry leaves for Chicago this morning in charge of a train of cattle from their ranch in Wyoming. John A. Uthank and wife, of Belle Creek, Neb., are in the city visiting their nephew, Ex-Alderman W. C. Uthank. They have been taking a view of the fair at Omaha, and then came over here to see their friends.

Crumbs from Court. The circuit court will probably close its business to-day, as the supreme court is to open Monday. The case of Patrick Fealy vs. the City of Council Bluffs, was on trial yesterday, it being a case of damage for an overflowed lot. In the case of Driscoll vs. the Board of Education, the judge directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. This was a claim for $500 damages on the claim that the board appropriated Driscoll's plans for the new school building in Hall's addition.

"It is a great art to do the right thing at the right time." The person subject to derangement of the kidneys or liver has a protective duty to perform in purchasing a package of Kidney-Wort. It invigorates these organs and by its cathartic and diuretic effect, cleanses the whole system of all bad humors.

MACEDONIA. New Business Blocks and Their Builders—The New School House. Correspondence of The Bee.

MAEDONIA, Iowa, September 11.—Thirteen miles from Hastings on the Carson branch of the "Q" and by rail fifty-six miles from Council Bluffs, is the town of Macedonia, in the southeast corner of Pottawatomie county, and containing upwards of half a thousand souls.

THE LOCATION. on a hill, or on a point of an elevated table land, overlooking the beautiful valley of the west, is at once beautiful and commanding to the resident, while the approaching visitor as he nears its busy streets, is reminded by its imposing position, its healthfulness and rural richness that nature as well as art and the pluck of the western farmer has already made this a city. The railroad runs through the town in a cut, so that wagons cross the track on a high bridge, a great convenience to the towns people.

THE OLD TOWN. a mile west, is one of the earliest landmarks of the county, and still retains many of the Mormon traces, with the mill, and the two good stone quarries. The two good new quarries, a half mile north of the new town, by the track, are of importance to the town, although some experienced men and men of capital could do well to take hold of this stone work, and handle it as it should be, for the trouble is the stone is not to be had when the public want it.

THE FIRE. last winter was a severe blow to the town, as it swept away some of the best houses in the town, but new ones are coming up in the vacancy. THE DYE BLOCK is one of the new creatures, that like Phoenix has grown up in its own ashes. W. Dye & Co., the proprietors of this new block, are the great merchants of the town. The new building is in the upper part of town, is constructed of brick, and is of beautiful design, 44 feet front and 90 feet long, and two stories high. The lower part will be used as a twin store, with opening in the partition, or diaphragm, and will be stocked immediately with a general stock of goods, making this a universal store of the largest class on the slope. In the rear of the store a good vault and desks have been prepared, and for the present the bank will be quartered here, with J. M. Kelly as cashier and G. and R. Mickelwait and B. F. Clayton as backers, and Mickelwait and Young will probably control the elevator from here as easily as Gould & Co., of New York, can handle the politics of Nebraska.

THE NEW SCHOOL HOUSE is to be another achievement for the place. The contract is let to Miller & Otis, of Glenwood for $5,000, and the ground just west of town is being cleared for the new building, and the work will begin at once. The site is a beautiful one, just outside the city limits, on the first hill, with gradual and easy slopes, and seems to be all that could be asked by the public, who in deciding to put up a good brick and have it properly finished have placed themselves in the front ranks of the true American. The new brick store with Masonic hall and opera house on the second floor, the hotel, brick yards, two general stores, two groceries and restaurant, hardware, livery, implement house, drug store, newspaper, lumber yard, bank, large steam elevator, four stone quarries, harness shop, meat markets, etc., make up the centre of this active young city, that is bound to be one of the first towns along the Niasha valley.

The Cumberland Presbyterians built the first church at a cost of over $2,000, and the Methodist people have just finished a $3,000 house, which is clear of debt, and a credit to the place. The Tribune has taken possession of the old saloon, and its wide-awake editor, W. A. Spencer, is worthy of credit for his untiring efforts to build up good morals, good society and a good town, with his witty, clean-faced Tribune. Notwithstanding the place needs another elevator, a furniture store, milliner, dentist and photographer, it has no saloons, and is alive to the great questions of the day.

A Single Victory. The value of electricity as a remedial agent has gained a signal victory over prejudice. THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL stands foremost in this class of compounds. Testimonials from all parts tell of the wondrous cures of rheumatism, neuralgia, harts, and sprains, etc., effected by its agency.

FACTS ABOUT THE TELEPHONE. Over 200,000 telephones are in use in the United States, and 5,000 are added to the number every month. The fundamental features are the same as established by Gray, Bell and Edison. Lines are constantly lengthening. Most new England towns are now connected with one another, and the time is thought to be not very distant when New York will be able to talk directly to Chicago. The capital stock of the various telephone companies aggregates $30,000,000. Every telephone, it is thought, gives employment to one person. The first telephone company, known as the Gray and Barton company, began operations in 1869. It had a capital of 2,000. From this sprang the Western Electric company, with a capital of 150,000, which has since been increased to $1,000,000. It has manufacturing plants at Boston, New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Detroit and Antwerp in Belgium.

The American speaking company, which was organized under Gray's patents, was consolidated with the Bell company after long litigation, the latter buying all the lines, instruments and property of the other, and agreeing to pay a royalty on each instrument manufactured without regard to the patents. The Gray company at present has an income of 20 per cent. as the result of this arrangement, which amounts to $300,000. The entire income of the company, therefore, is $1,500,000. From Gray's patents $5,500,000 has already been realized. Nearly all of these great results have been accomplished within the last six years. No longer ago than 1876 persons were selling in the streets the toy called the "lover's telegraph," which consisted of two tin cans connected by a string, by means of which conversation might be heard two or three hundred feet. Now the human voice can be heard a hundred miles, and conversations will doubtless soon be carried on over lines five or six hundred miles in length. The Americans have generally adopted the telephone. England, however, has been slow to adopt the instrument. It is little used outside the large cities, and there are said to be more telephones in some of the minor American towns than in all of England.

Thanks. Thos. Howard, Bradford, P., writes: "I enclose money for Stinking Blossom, as I said I would if it cured me; my dyspepsia has vanished with all its symptoms. Many thanks; I shall never be without it in the house." Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents.

Musical Culture in the West. Laramie Boomerang. At a concert recently given at Laramie City, while one of the ladies was playing Chopin's Polonaise in D minor, the following conversation occurred between a young couple in the audience:

He (a musical student)—"Don't you think that Polonaise is beautiful?" She (who runs to dress)—"Yes, it's just too lovely!" He—"Do you appreciate that exquisite shading?" She—"O, certainly. It's grand, magnificent!" He—"Do you appreciate the harmony of the delicate coloring?" She—"Yes, indeed; and don't you think the lace on the back of the polonaise is beautiful?" He subsided.
