We were attracted by the neat appearance, as well as the patriotic disolay of "Stars and stripes," gracefully il sating over the two tents occupied by the committee of the Episcopal ladier. As we entered the next tent, in which are sold lemonade and cigars, we saw at a glance that success was assured from the fact that two ladies as courteous, amiable and active as Mrs. Geo. Merrill and Mrs. O. M. Brown were in charge. We knowingly certify that the lemonade was delicious, and a friend tells us the cigars are excellent. In the "restaurant" tent, of the members of the committee we notice Mrs. J. B. Atkins, Mrs. Alex. Webb, Mrs. Deming, Mrs. G. L. Brown, Mrs. D. C. Bloomer and Mrs Jno. Dohany. We noticed these excellent ladies very busy attending to the hungry wants of their many friends. They desire to express their especial thanks to John A. Miller, Esq., of Neward, N. J., for the generous gift of a new range stove, and to Mr. Wheeler for a steam heating apparatus. The ladies are thus enabled to notify their numerous friends visiting the fair that they can serve them with hot meals, and at most reasonable prices. By all means before leaving the fair grounds, visit the headquarters of the Episcopal ladies.
