

The Daily Bee COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morning, Sept. 21.

Subscription Rates: By Carrier, 20 cents per week, $1.00 per year. By Mail, 25 cents per week, $1.25 per year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. DILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS

Bliss' for French millinery. J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. Sherraden makes photographs. Terra Cotta Kid Gloves $1.75 at Bliss'. Judge Day, of the supreme court, arrived yesterday morning and took his seat. There is now a full bench. Bliss' has a full line of kid gloves and silk mitts. More than 2,000 school children attended the great exposition on Tuesday. The association admitted them free. Bliss has an elegant lot of Terra Cotta Kid Gloves at $1.75 per pair. Bliss, 228 Broadway, has just received from New York a full line of stylish shoes and collars. The banks will all close today at noon in order that their employees may attend the fair. Today is citizens' day at the fair. Most of the business houses will be closed and the citizens will turn out in full force. Smoke the Uttery Uter, and the Key West Perfection cigars, sold at wholesale only by Lutz & Lange. John Dunn is running Ex-Mayor Vaughn's celebrated heroic coaches to and from the fair grounds. Of course, they are crowded. Joseph Ross, the upper Broadway cooper, desires to purchase fifty thousand hoop-poles. Write to or enquire at his cooper shop. Joseph Reiter makes the finest suits in the latest styles, at the lowest possible prices. His merchant tailoring establishment is at 310 Upper Broadway, Council Bluffs. Forty of the Sisters' children rode in one Herdic yesterday. The Herdics are easy vehicles to ride in, and carry passengers cheaper than any other conveyance. Try them. Fidelity Council No. 156, Royal Arcanum, is to meet this evening in their hall in Burnham & Tulley's block, and all visiting members are especially invited to be present, as a right royal time has been arranged for. The ball given by the St. Patrick's Benevolent society at their hall in St. Joseph's Academy, last night, was a grand affair and was largely attended. Everybody present seemed to enjoy themselves, and the anticipated good time was fully realized. Wm. Newman, who was fined $50 for assaulting an old man named Hoffman, yesterday paid his fine and was released from jail. He was immediately rearrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and was fined $5 and costs and his revolver confiscated. The fine was paid. The negro who went through some trunks in a hotel in Omaha and escaped to this side in a boat, was arrested after a long chase by Special Officer Ed. Bates, and placed in jail here for safe keeping. A reputation has been applied for, and as soon as it can be procured he will be taken back to Omaha. The Furst & Bradley Manufacturing company of Chicago, have concluded to locate their western headquarters in Council Bluffs, and will immediately commence the erection of a building on south Main street, 75x150 feet, four stories high exclusive of basement. This adds another great industry to our city. There will be a match game of base ball this morning between the Alerts of Council Bluffs and the Neola Stars, on the association grounds. This will be a return game of the one played last week in Neola. It will be a good game and the boys would like to see a large attendance. A man named Holden went up to a jewelry merchant in this city and on the representation that his co-employees desired to make a present to their employer he procured two fine gold watches to see which they wanted. After waiting a reasonable time for their return search was made. It was found that he had pawned one watch for $33. It is said he was drunk at the time. The Herdics John Dunn has arranged to run the Herdics during the fair, and all "Herdic tickets" outstanding will be taken by Dunn at five cents each. Look out for the Herdics and "all take a ride."

NEW AND HANDSOME

The Dress Goods, Silks, Velvets, Satins, Rhodaras, Plush Cloaks, Dolmans, Carpets, Raw Silks, Curtains and a thousand other things which you will find at HARKNESS, ORCUTT & Co's.

FOR SALE

My residence, No. 715 Fourth street (Bancroft). L. F. MURPHY.

Good Goods at Good's.

At Mrs. J. J. Good's, Main street hair store, can be seen the largest stock of hair goods west of Chicago, and at prices within the reach of all.

Pools, Pools, Pools.

Pat. Lucy has secured the services of Col. G. W. Dickey, the celebrated pool seller, to sell pools morning and evening, at his old stand, kept by Ed. Shirlock, on all races during the fair week, commencing Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and will be responsible for all pools sold at his place.

Don't Miss It.

It will pay the strangers visiting the city to call at some of our leading business houses and see for themselves what claims Council Bluffs has for their patronage, and we would especially invite you to call at the Palace Music Hall on Main street, which no lover of music can afford to miss seeing. This is the finest establishment of its kind in the west, and you will be made heartily welcome.

THE BIG SHOW. It Still Draws Crowds and Excites Much Interest.

Some Fine Sport on the Track, and Good Speed.

A Glimpse at Some of the Displays in and Out of the Buildings.

The Details of the Third Day of the Fair.

Everybody was given a cool reception at the fair yesterday.

The dust was out on the fly again.

The attendance was light in the forenoon, but thickened up well after dinner.

The street cars, Herdies' express wagons, hacks, etc., were kept on the go, and facilities for getting to and from the grounds seem ample.

The machinery hall draws its full share of the crowds, and there is hardly any one thing there exhibited which is watched with more interest and by larger numbers than the mill grinding out corn, it being one of the many premiums given away yearly to subscribers of The Bee.

In one corner of machinery hall is a mowing machine in a glass case. It is a beauty, and glitters with silver and gold plate. The cost of this sample mower is said to be $4,000.

At one end of machinery hall the telephone exchange, with J. W. Rodger as high priest has pitched its tent.

THE HOGS.

The pens of pork are worth visiting; S. M. Shurzbridge, of Pleasant Grove, has some fine porcines. Hayzett & Brown, of Bolchov, Mo., have some Poland Chinas, on which ribbons are flying. J. B. Roe, of this city has some fine Berkshires. H. C. Stroll, of Beatrice, Neb., has a very large and fine showing of Yorkshires, Poland Chinas, and some of the Jersey Reds, of which so much has been said of late. Among his is one Poland China weighing 900 pounds.

POOLS AND THEIR MONEY.

There is every possible chance given on the ground for those who want to drop their money into holes without any bottom. A few lucky ones win occasionally, but they are not over numerous. There is the wheel of fortune, a brilliant one, too, and it is said its managers pay $1,000 for the permit to run it there. It is to be expected, of course, that they will not only get the $1,000 back from the "chumps" who drop their money into the scheme, but enough to pay them well for their time. The generous-hearted fellow who puts greenbacks into little pasteboard board boxes and then gives the dear public a chance to draw a big money prize, is also on hand, and working on the sly. There are the rag babies and a score of other chances to invest spare change. The sidehows seem to thrive, though yesterday was rather a chilly one for the female Sampson, and she had to trim her tights with fur. The "Chicago Comedy company," with its bright galaxy of stars, also present an excellent chance for the dramatic critic of the Nonpariel to expound some of the gush which has made him famous.

HAULED FROM THE HALL.

There are always interesting items to be gleaned in the main exposition building, and there are many attractions there which merit special attention.

Strang, of Omaha, has some miniature engines running with full head of steam, miniature wind-mill tender, and other mechanical curiosities.

BLISS' DISPLAY.

One of the most attractive displays in the main exposition building is that of J. J. Bliss, whose name appears in floral letters above a brilliant display of the latest and most artistically arranged millinery goods.

A floral belt, composed of about 5,000 flowers, is one of the unique and beautiful features of Bliss' display. One showcase is filled with beautiful hand painted cushion tidies, toilet sets, etc., and a variety of fancy articles. One can find much to interest, both in the millinery and fancy goods displayed by Bliss.

HARKNESS' PHOTOGRAPHS

make a very attractive showing, there being about 250 specimens of the work of the Excelsior gallery. All of these are taken by the instantaneous gelatin bromide process, which Mr. Barke was the first to introduce here, and by which he produces some work as fine as can be found anywhere in the country. There is a marked difference to be noticed between the new and the old style photographs. Mr. Barke has some unique photo plaques, also displayed another novelty just introduced here by him. His display shows that he is up with the latest and best and in the photographic art there is seldom seen as good a showing as his. He intends before the fair is over to take interior views of the building. He has special instruments for taking such interior views and is gaining quite a reputation for his skill in that line also.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS.

Mrs. O. M. Brown has on exhibition some fine paintings, one of them, that representing a ruined abbey, being especially fine.

Mrs. E. W. Merrill exhibits some fine silk work on satin.

A charmingly decorated tea set bears the name of Mrs. F. T. Webb.

Miss Lucy Leutziger, who is only about fourteen years of age, has some specimens of handwork in art and the old style, also present an aptness and natural talent. She has a very handsome ottoman worked in chenille, and a charcoal sketch made by her is worthy of an older and more widely known artist.

Some bits of embroidery by Miss Gueneer also merit attention.

A crayon portrait by Miss M. W. Merrill shows much merit.

Mrs. D. A. Benedict has a fine display of hair goods, and some fine specimens of hand painting. A unique and very nicely decorated umbrella holder, proves on investigation to be nothing but a piece of large iron pipe, thus beautified.

Miss Della Dohany has on exhibit a very beautiful chenille embroidered table scarf. There is a fine collection of old coins exhibited by Wm. Stenderop. The collection numbers 739, some very rare and old.

THE ADDRESS.

Prof. S. A. Knapp, of the Iowa agricultural college, delivered his address yesterday in the exposition building. The audience was not so large as the address merited, and the arrangements were very poor, the time being that when the crowd was gathering in the amphitheatres to see the races, and other attractions drawing away also. Mr. Knapp is a man of practical thought and pleasing address, and his effort was worthy of a better time and place and larger hearing.

HATTENHAUER'S EXHIBIT of carriages and buggies surprises some of the strangers visiting the grounds, but is no surprise to those who know him and his work. He has erected a temporary building just opposite the main exposition, where he has as fine a display in his line as one can expect to find at any exhibition in the land. His carriages are finished very nicely, and they will stand the closest of inspections, for they are made on honor, as all know Mr. Hattenbauer has been long established in the business here, and has established his enviable reputation by making just such durable and well furnished carriages and buggies as are here exhibited. The eastern make have gained quite a name, but east or west there can be found none of better material, of more thorough workmanship, or of finer finish than those of Hattenbauer. The display is certainly a credit to Council Bluffs as well as to the manufacturer himself.

GEORGE W. McCOY, of this city, has a display which attracts the attention of many farmers and others. He has the Halladay standard windmill running so that all may see its workings, and has also a showing of both wood and iron force pumps. He also has the I. X. L. feed grinder in practical operation, and it works admirably. Also the Triumph steam generator. He has a variety of hydraulic rams also. His space fairly hums with industry, and a crowd stands about from morning till night watching the workings of various machines, and discussing their merits. It seems as if he were bound to get hold of the best of everything in his line, and he certainly has succeeded in doing so in a number of cases. Every farmer, and many who are not farmers, will find much to interest as well as to profit them by interviewing McCoy and his machinery.

A BEAUTY.

One of the finest finished agricultural machines on the grounds is a silver-plated sulky plow in Deere & Co's display.

SNYDER'S SHOW.

William Snyder, of Omaha, has a stand near the main exposition building, where he exhibits a very fine showing of carriages, buggies, and wood wagons. His display is a duplicate made by him at the state fair in Omaha, and on that he received first premium. His work certainly shows up well, and the reputation he has is assurance that his work stands the test of time and use. His work is very finely finished, and it seems impossible to pick a flaw, an oversight, or weakness. The display is one which always has an admiring crowd standing about it, and it certainly merits the attention of all. Mr. Snyder's work has to stand the test of comparison with some excellent specimens, but it is fully able to do so, and such a manufacturer has no need to fear competition or comparison. Some of his suggestions are particularly neat and trim, and if one wants to see models after which any manufacturer might well copy, he should call at Snyder's headquarters and look at those of his display.

THE RACES.

There was a very good sized crowd who gathered to witness the races in the afternoon, despite the chilliness rendering it rather uncomfortable to sit in the open air unless well wrapped.

The 2:40 race was the first. It was for a purse of $600, the starters being Flora P., owned by R. Porter of Davenport; Milo G., owned by J. W. Page, of Cheyenne, and Western, owned by J. R. King, of Des Moines.

The first heat was won by Western, who was the favorite in the pools. Time, 2:36. The heat was a pretty one, the start being a good one. Western leading off, with Milo G., keeping close after him, and Flora a little behind. They kept pretty well bunched, but on the home stretch Milo G. broke and dropped back to third place, giving Flora second.

The second heat was an exciting one. On the start Western took the lead, Flora P. and Milo G. dropping a little behind. On the first quarter Milo G. made some more of her bad breaks, and dropped far behind, but getting down to business again, speeded along swiftly, closing up the gap gradually, until on the home stretch she crowded into second place, and the three came down the track in a bunch, Western winning and the heat time being 2:32. There were some lively kicking out the part of Milo G.'s driver because he was not given second place, while the driver of Western kicked about the time announced as 2:32, he claiming it was 2:33. These kicks served to warm up the chilly ones, and several got quite comfortably hot over it.

THE 2:23 RACE.

The best of the afternoon's sport was the 2:23 trot. Purses $600, the starters being Clara Cleveland owned by Wm. DeLaney, of Quincy, Ill., Eureka, owned by A. J. Alderman, of Freeport, and Little Sioux, owned by C. B. Wilson, of Missouri Valley. On the start off from the first heat Eureka got a slight lead, but was quickly passed by Little Sioux, followed by Clara, who kept close upon him, while Eureka breaking badly lost ground, but at last settled down and made a fine showing of speed closing up much of the gap, Little Sioux won easily in 2:32. Clara Cleveland second, and Eureka third.

In the second heat Little Sioux took and kept the lead, doing some very speedy work, and winning the heat easily in 2:29. Clara Cleveland lost by a break on the first quarter, but soon speeded along and came in second, with Eureka third.

The third heat was won so easily by Little Sioux that he just jogged under the wire. Time, 2:30. Clara Cleveland being second, and Eureka again third.

The novelty race proved very interesting, but the start was so delayed that many of the audience left, having tired of jockeying and shivering while tedious jockeying was going on. The race was an exciting one when it did come. It was for a purse of $500, $100 for the one first reaching the half-mile, $150 for the one making the mile, and $250 for the finish of a mile and a half. There were five starters, Brown D.ck, owned by S. C. Ross, of Eubank; Mr. Eli, owned by H. J. Carpenter, of Hastings, Neb.; Loved One, owned by S. E. Batchelor of Camasche, Ia.; Mary P., owned by Devenas & Co., Charles City, Ia.; Wild Moore, owned by Dan L. Mansey. Wild Moore won the race easily.

There was a side race yesterday morning between Little Jim and May Flower, it being a half-mile dash for $50. Little Jim won.

Reliable Dealers.

Parties visiting the city for the first time should not fail to call at the extensive jewelry store of C. B. Jacquemin & Co., on Main street, nearly opposite the postoffice. They have recently refitted their establishment and now have one of the finest stores in the west. They are courteous gentlemen and will be pleased to have you call and inspect their stock, and you will be well paid by doing so. The firm is one of the oldest and most favorably known in the city and by giving them your patronage you are sure of being fairly dealt with. It gives us great pleasure to commend them to the public generally as reliable business men, carrying the heaviest and finest stock of goods in the west.

The Day.

The day has arrived when good boots and shoes are considered the cheapest. Call and see our new fall stock. Z. T. LINSEY & Co. 412 Broadway, Council Bluffs.

Palace Music Hall.

Mueller's extensive musical instrument establishment, on Main street, is known far and near by the above name, and justly so. It is certainly an interesting place to visit, being one of the largest establishments in the west. He carries a complete and varied musical stock, and handles it by the best of everything in his line. His stock of Iowa also is one of the largest west of Chicago and is full of novelties, and all the goods are new.

A Dazzling Display.

One of the most brilliant showings in any line is that at C. B. Jacquemin & Co.'s, on Main street about opposite the postoffice. It is a sight worth seeing. On every side sparkle gems, bits of artistic work in gold and silver, novel and unique designs, and many articles to please the eye, and all are welcome to inspect the stock. These gentlemen are practical men, and it is about the only place in the west where chains and other articles of jewelry are manufactured as well as sold, so that a customer can get any desired article made to order.

Sheriff Dan Farrell, of Glenwood, was in the city yesterday.

Colonel Bacon, of Magnolia, was in attendance upon the fair yesterday.

Hon. John A. Churchill and wife returned after an extended trip east.

Charles Cassaday, the hotel man at Dunsmuir, was in the city yesterday.

W. A. Spencer, of The Macedonia Tribune, called at The Bee office yesterday.

Frank Burroughs, of Atlantic, a well-known business man of that city, is in the city.

George Wetwood, an attorney of Atlantic, is in the city, and pronounces the fair a good one.

Judge Harris, president of the late democratic congressional convention, was in the city yesterday.

Ev-Sheffit Chris. Waddell, of Sac City, is in the city, and taking a peep at the fair, of course.

A. Poland, of The Mills County Journal, Glenwood, was a welcome caller at The Bee office yesterday.

J. C. Adams, of the Avoca Delta, was among those who shivered in the reporters' stand at the races yesterday.

Judge Harris, of Missouri Valley, took a squit at the races yesterday, but got freeze out, and left for home.

State Senator A. W. Ford, of the banking firm of Harvey & Ford, of Logan, and Mr. Ernsdorf, also of Logan, were taking in the fair yesterday.

C. M. Mills, who has been the efficient foreman of the fire department for several years, and F. L. Davis, the wide awake general insurance agent of Missouri Valley, were among the many callers at The Bee office.

Mrs. John S. Briggs, of Omaha, is attending the fair, and called at The Bee office. Mr. Briggs is an old newspaper man and is widely known throughout the west.

Police Pickings.

Five plain drunks, John Brown, Perry Stout, D. J. Murphy, H. Joseph, and C. Henderson, were arraigned before Judge Aylesworth yesterday and assessed the usual fine.

Geo. W. Evans, E. L. Simpson, Geo. Douglas, John Rogers, and J. D. White were brought before his honor for gambling and were promptly fined.

Pat Riley was required to cash up for using profane and obscene language.

John Raney was required to answer for running an express wagon without license and settled up the costs. David Smith was brought up for indecent exposure of person and was fined $5.00 and costs.
