lesterday was dustier than ever, and the sad lack of street sprinkling either from heaven or carts became more and more apparent.

The attendance was large, numberng fully 10,000 people. The facilities for reaching the grounds seemed ample, but from a very natural cause everybody seems to want to go home about the same time, and hence the ing to a screen d or on South Main street jam at the close was terrible. Many were obliged to walk and there were strings of men, women and children along with an empty hay rack was spied and in less time then it takes to tell it his wagon and rack were covered bound to ride. The man tried to ron the horses and avoid the swarm, but
