MINOR MENTIONS.

-J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. -Sheridan makes photographs. -New line of cabinet frames just received at Seaman's. -The United States court will get set to work here today. -The city council held their regular meeting last Monday evening. -Fred Bokemper, of Bokemper Bros., has bought out the Pacific Junction saloon. -The chief of police is himself the latest victim, some sneaks having stolen his grapes. -They say that Pusey has a barrel of money. Anderson has several barrels, but they do not all contain solids. -Some sneak-thief has managed to get away with a canvas bar cover, which lay out in front of Russell & Co.'s office. -Seaman's lead pencils are the favorite with the newspaper men, and they are pretty fair sort of judges, or ought to be. -S. M. Lavenberg yesterday pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace, and dropped $50.00 into the till of the superior court. -The Council Bluffs nine start to-night for Kansas City where they will play two games during the fair, with the privilege of three if they so choose. -Joseph Ross, the upper Broadway cooper, desires to purchase 50,000 hoop poles. He also wants to employ ten extra coopers. Write to or inquire at his cooper shop. -One of the prisoners in the city calaboose, having read accounts of how easy it was to get out, kicked a hole through the partition, but not quite large enough for him to crawl through. -The Spentmen's club have David Mottaz stationed at Martin's take all of the time, he having charge of the club house there, with all the modern facilities for affording shelter and food to these sportsmen when they visit there. -The man Dolson, who tried to end his career lately by taking poison, is now some better, and will probably pull through. His wife is now very sick and is not expected to live. -Joseph Reiter makes the Finest Suits in the latest styles, at the lowest possible prices. His merchant tailoring establishment is at 310 Upper Broadway, Council Bluffs. -The democratic county convention is to be held at the court house next Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock to nominate candidates for the office of clerk of courts, recorder and two county supervisors. -The case of William Bregman charged with adultery was brought up yesterday afternoon in the superior court, and disposed of by dismissal, the affair having been apparently settled between William and his frau. -The alleged pick-pocket now copped in the jail, had another fit yesterday and a bad one, frothing, snapping and writhing, to the terror of his fellow prisoners. -There were a number of Saturday night drunks disposed of in the police court yesterday. They were: M. Ryan, Kiley Shaw, Thomas Hecker, "Shorty" and Chris. Beesley. Each was fined the regular amount, $7.50. -The B. & M.'s play the Council Bluffs "Champions" this afternoon at 8 o'clock on the C. B. grounds. This will be the last game the B. & M.'s will play in this vicinity for some time, as they start for Leadville and the west Thursday morning. -The Methodist people of the city will give a reception this (Tuesday) evening at the residence of L. W. Tulleys for their pastors, Rev. Armstrong, of the Broadway church, and Rev. Breese who continues with us in relation to the new church enterprise. Friends are invited to attend. -It has been well suggested that as there is to be a street parade of the veterans on Friday, that the business men decorate their buildings in an appropriate manner and thus give these old heroes a patriotic salute. The red, white and blue should be on every building, and one or two triumphal arches across the principal streets would not be far out of the way. -James Fitzgerald had a bad fall yesterday from a staging at Weiss' new building, on Main street. He was coming down from the top, and made the last eight feet of the trip in too much of a hurry. He struck on his feet, but with such force as to turn one ankle, fracturing it very badly and slightly fracturing one of the bones. The hurt will cripple him for some time. -With all the "burrah boys," which The Nonpareil tries to stir up in Anderson's favor, that organ has never yet had the hardihood to declare that Anderson is a man of good moral habits or integrity. It has never had the hardihood to say that Anderson ever did a thing to check any tyranny on the part of railroads or monopolies, though he has had many chances. It never denied that he gave that $1,000 bond. It simply says that Anderson is a child of "impulse," and as such wants the voters to forgive the past. -The old soap game is being successful on the street corners and well played. An old man tried it just before the fair opened, but the city marshal fired him off, but the new corner seems not to be molested. The old man yesterday stood on the corner and watched the younger one, and tried to give him away by the game, but the crowd kept biting just the same. The number of fellows who were willing to lose a dollar on another man's game were surprisingly numerous. The police might just as well let a three card monte game be played on the street corners as this soap game. -Mistake and Art School. -It is not generally known by our readers throughout western Iowa that at No. 107 South Eighth street, Council Bluffs, is located an institution in which is taught, by first-class instructors, instrumental and vocal music.

German and stenion, drawing, painting from the flat, from the round and from life. Lessons are taught in charcoal and ink, perspective, linear and aerial. The recommendation is sufficient when we state that Mrs. E. W. Merrill, Miss M. W. Merrill, Mrs. H. H. Leavitt, Mrs. J. E. Harberberg and Mr. Charles Tommelle are the efficient instructors.

-Russell & Co., the well-known agricultural machine men, who have a branch house here, last week gave a second annual picnic to their employees and families, at Madison, where their chief works are. There were 1,776 persons who joined in this picnic, and all was free. Some idea of the extent of the company's factory there may be had from learning that the average number of employees is 150, and the average monthly earnings $25,000. The quantity of steel and iron consumed was 3,000 tons, and the total value of all productions this season $1,500,000. Such generosity on the part of the company toward its employees serves to hold their esteem and to entwine stronger attachments between employer and employes than the mere matter of dollars and cents.

-Some of the knowing politicians claim that even John Chapman does not want to have Anderson elected to congress, and that while he will continue to support him in form, yet at heart he hopes to see Pusey get there. The reason given for this is that if Pusey gets there he will not be elected to a second term, and then John himself hopes to be chosen as the Manx to lead the republican party out into the clover fields again, while, if Anderson is elected, he will probably hold a second term, and by that time the people will have seen so much of Colonel John that he would stand no show. The only indication that the colonel wants Anderson defeated is that he is supporting him by The Nonpareil, a pretty sure way of killing him off, as the colonel must have learned from former experiences. The fact that the story, with all its improbabilities, receives some credence, implies how little faith the people have in the pretensions of The Nonpareil, and how well they have learned that there is some secret and sinister motive to be found behind every move that it makes.

Embroideries. A very large invoice of beautiful embroideries just received at Harkness, Orcutt & Co.'s. sep 25 41.

VISITING VETERANS. They are to Rally Here on Thursday and Live Over Some of the Past.

The preparations are going on for the soldier's reunion to meet here next Thursday. That day will be largely given over to the gathering of the old veterans, pitching tents, shaking hands, lighting camp-fires, swapping stories, and indulging in a dress-parade. Friday there will be a grand street parade, and in the afternoon there will be a sham battle. Saturday will be the breaking up day. The details of the programme have not been arranged but will be given in due time. It is expected that there will be at least 3,000 veterans here and as many more visitors, so that the city will swarm with strangers.

Everything indicates that there will be no lack of hospitality, and there surely ought not to be. Every one who can in any way help, by cash or provision, should do so early and promptly. These veterans are certainly entitled to every possible attention and courtesy, not only because they come here as invited guests, but because they have a record which entitles them to the life-long gratitude of every citizen. A number of citizens have already come forward with generous contributions, and others will not be found wanting. It is to be expected and hoped that the reunion at Council Bluffs will be so joyous, so successful in every respect, that it will outrank all other reunions in the west.

Carpets. Buy carpets at Harkness, Orcutt & Co.'s. sep 25-41

Attention, Druids. Every Druid in Council Bluffs is requested to be present at Pottawattamie grove No. 23 Wednesday evening promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Business of importance. By order of Noble Arch.

Not a drink, not sold in bar rooms, but a reliable non-alcoholic tonic medicine, useful at all times, and in all seasons, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

FOR SALE. My residence, No. 715 Fourth street. L. E. MURPHY.

For Sale. An 8-year-old horse. Enquire at 615 Sixth street.

Democratic Delegates. The following delegates are chosen by the democratic caucuses of the several wards of the city, to attend the county convention Thursday:

First Ward.—G. A. Holmes, R. E. Rain, Col. Swan, J. M. Palmer, C. E. Dawson and F. H. Guanello. Member of township committee, G. A. Holmes.

Second Ward.—John H. Keatley, Peter Hechtel, J. C. DeHaven, C. E. Stone, Jas. Mithen, John Ables, Thos. Bowman, Robt. Huntington. Member of township committee, J. C. DeHaven.

Third Ward.—F. W. Spetmen, Fred Lamb, sr., A. C. Graham, Max Mohr, Fred Martin, J. K. Cooper and M. Keating. Member of township committee, M. Keating.

Fourth Ward.—O. P. Wickham, Wells Cook, E. E. Aylesworth, C. R. Mitchell, Jas. Franey, Jas. Porterfield, Henry Paschal, J. H. Rogers and Dr. D. McCrae. Member of township committee, E. A. Troutman.

Do Not Be Deceived. In these times of quack medicine advertisements everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters can be used for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by C. F. Goodman.

THE NEW JAIL. How the Plans Look and What Its Conveniences Are to be.

The plans and specifications of the new jail are now on exhibition at Bowman, Bohrer & Co.'s, and bids are being called for. This looks as if business was really meant. The present city calaboose, as The Bee has often shown up is hardly fit for a hour, on account of its filthiness, and is not safe enough to keep a child from running away. A new jail is badly needed and it is a creditable showing of enterprise on the part of the present city government, and one which will meet the approval of all, if the plans are nearly carried out. The building is to be located on the property lately sold by Mr. Peter Dechto on Bryant street, about opposite Dohany's hall. The jail building is to be located on the extreme north part of the property, and thirty feet back from Bryant street, so as to leave room for the erection of a market hall, which in due time will be built there and which is another improvement needed.

The plans show a very neat brick building, having a frontage of about thirty feet and a depth of forty-two feet. It is to be two stories in height, with a corner tower three stories high. As one enters the front door there is a vestibule 10 feet by 12 feet, and from there one enters a public room of about the same size, where the gang of lookers-on who usually cluster around a station when anything is going on, can be accommodated with standing room. A neat rail separates them from the office, which is about 10 feet square, and which will serve as police headquarters, clerk's desk, etc. Back of these and running the entire width of the building is to be a corridor, with wash sink and bath room. At the rear of the building, with doors opening into this corridor, are three cells and one steel cell for desperate characters. These cells are six by eight feet and between them and the outward wall is a space of two feet, so that prisoners cannot very well work their way out through the iron to the brick walls, making jail breaks almost impossible. These cells are arranged with water closets, and the whole building is to be completely drained into a sewer emptying itself into Indian creek.

The plans for the second floor provide for several cells there, but it seems to be the general opinion of the officials and aldermen that it would be better for the present not to divide it into cells but leave it as one large room, to be used by the council and by the supreme court until such time as the proposed city building and market hall can be built, which it is to be hoped will not be far in the future. Thus the building will be made to serve the purpose of a city hall as well as police headquarters and jail, for the present.

The plans for the jail is to be made of Portland cement, and arranged so that it can readily be cleaned out by being washed with a hose, and it is thought that with the drainage arranged for, and the water supply the whole can be kept cleanly and healthy.

The plans are drawn by P. J. Pauly & Bro., of St. Louis, the same who built the Omaha jail. What will be done with the present police headquarters and city building? If the proposed plan of leaving the second floor as a council chamber is decided upon, the present building will probably be torn down, and the street opened up to the building now standing upon Glen avenue. There is little of the old building which is good for anything, not even the vault door being fit to use elsewhere.

PERSONAL.

R. A. Moore, of Corning, Iowa, is in the city.

W. H. Hyde, of Des Moines, is in the city.

James D. Rice, of Burlington, is at the Pacific house.

J. D. Smith, of Washington, D. C., is visiting Council Bluffs.

J. W. Blythe, of Burlington, is among the arrivals at the Ogden.

Robert Hale, of Glenwood, was in the city yesterday, and was among the callers welcomed at The Bee office.

D. W. Olds looks several years younger and several inches taller, and explains with a smile that it is a girl and weighs about ten pounds.

Deputy Sheriff J. White is able to be out and around again, though he still carries his arm in a sling, as the result of being thrown from his horse.

D. S. Fendleton and G. Jennings, of Essex, are in the city, the latter attending the United States court.

Miss Annie Emery, of Salt Lake, niece of United States Commissioner Shaugnessy, of Utah, is in the city visiting her former school friends, Misses Kniepper Dohany.

"It is a great art to do the right thing at the right time." The person subject to derangement of the kidneys or liver has a protective duty to perform in purchasing a package of Kidney Wort. It investigates these organs and by its cathartic and diuretic effect, cleanses the whole system of all bad humors.

Total shipments. 83 cars.

FAVORITISM IN THE ARMY. A Decision Which Gives Great Dis-satisfaction to the Army Surgeons.

A Washington dispatch to The Chicago Herald says: Quite a commotion has been created in the medical corps of the army by the designation of Surgeon David L. Huntington to be acting surgeon general during the absence of Surgeon General Crane, and by the statement that the latter officer has been indistinctly at work to induce the secretary of war to recommend the president to keep the clause in the army regulations which prescribes that promotions in establishing corps, up to the rank of colonel shall be made by seniority, and appoint Surgeon Huntington to the vacant assistant surgeon generalship. If the army regulations are complied with and the senior officer promoted, the position falls to Lieutenant Colonel and Surgeon John F. Hammond. Surgeon Huntington stands at the bottom of the list of surgeons ranking as major, there being forty-two on the list ahead of him as well as twelve lieutenant colonels and four colonels. If he is therefore made assistant surgeon general, as General Crane is so desirous shall be done, it can only be accomplished by ignoring the army regulations and jumping him over the heads of fifty-eight other surgeons who are above him in rank. The proposed action has stirred up the surgeons who would thus be set back, and they are manifesting much indignation about the matter. Secretary Lincoln has not yet indicated what recommendation he will make, but as he has made Surgeon Huntington acting surgeon general over the heads of the older and ranking officers, it is the general opinion he will carry out the wishes of General Crane and advise the president to appoint Huntington assistant surgeon general. He may, however, take wisdom from the blunder he fell into by removing General Slinger from the command of the Soldiers' Home at the instance of General Crane and his two associates on the board of commissioners, and not do another act which will be certain to get him into trouble when the senate comes together in December. Army officers say, despite the professions made to the contrary, there has never been a time when more favoritism was displayed in giving officers soft places than under the present secretary of war.

Nearly a Miracle. E. Asenith Hall, Binghamton, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for several months with a dull pain through left lung and shoulders. I tried all sorts of medicine, and color, and could with difficulty keep up all day. My mother procured some BARKER'S EMULSION; took them as directed, and in a few days I can now sleep week after week, and an new weight well."

The Wonders of Modern Chemistry are apparent in the beautiful Diamond Dyes. All kinds and colors of ink can be made from them.

He Solved the Dilemma.

A well known tailor of this city had occasion to order some tools that are used in his calling, and he occupied the greater portion of the week in figuring out the correct language to be used. He began:

"Dear Sir: Please send me two tailor's gooses."

He says that his English was not unimpaired, but very correct, and he changed it to: "Please send me two tailor's geese."

This was not the pink of speech that he wanted, so he changed it to read: "Send me a couple of tailoring fowls."

He felt that this was a little shaky in the upper register, and in disgust he gave up the order. Presently an idea struck him about the same way the Chicago white-hoisiery boys pound a tossed ball, and he took his pen in hand, and wrote: "You will please send me a tailor's P. and especially S." You may send me two of them.

"Yours, SPECIAL CUTTER." N. B.—With a big B.—he got them.

Honorable Mention. Of all the remedies on earth that we may claim attention, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil commands special attention. For wondrous power to cure disease, its power is none but a trifle. Its merits are not in the puff, but are inside the bottle. Rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, diphtheria, etc., are all cured by Thomas' Electric Oil.

The Harvest Moon. The September moon fills on the 27th at 12:20 a. m. It is the beautiful harvest moon, and possesses special claim to distinction. For, owing to the position of the ecliptic in regard to the equator at this season, the moon rises for several consecutive nights with only a comparatively small interval between the successive risings. The short autumnal days seem thus to be prolonged by the floods of silvery moonlight that make the night beautiful as day. The phenomenon is as easily explained as the axial rotation of the earth. But in the older times, when man was nearer to nature, the harvest moon was considered a direct interposition of providence to assist the husbandman in gathering in the harvest. The waning moon is in conjunction with Neptune on the 24, with Saturn on 31, with Jupiter on the 5th, and with Uranus on the 12th. The new moon of the 12th is in conjunction with Mars and Mars on the 14th and with Venus on the 16th, passing a degree and a half north of her.
