COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morning, Sept. 28.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier, 10 cents per week; By Mail, $3.00 per Year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. M. G. GRIFFIN, Manager. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

J. Mueller's Palace Music Hall. Sherridan makes photographs. New line of cabinet frames just received at Seaman's.

Yesterday due permit to marry was given Louis Linn and Lizzie Cowitz, of James, Iowa.

There are a good many dogs at large, but few give outward indication of having paid their license.

All kinds of boots and shoes, sufficient to supply the demand of everybody, at Geo. Blaxin's new store.

New goods, new store, new and reasonable prices, at the old Boot and Shoe house of George Blaxin, Lower Main street.

George Washington, for nipping some surgical instruments from a doctor's office, was yesterday sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Alex Smith yesterday paid $7.00 for the privilege of getting a throbbing head-ache. He won the distinction, however, of being the only plain drunk in court.

Officer Barhyte is now stationed at the Transfer, with instructions to keep an especial eye out for all confidence men.

The widow of Louis Henn has received $3,000 cash, the amount of her husband's insurance in the endowment rank of the Knights of Pythias. The amount was paid over promptly as soon as the will was probated.

Joseph Ross, the upper Broadway cooper, desires to purchase 50,000 hoop poles. He also wants to employ ten extra coopers. Write to or inquire at his cooper shop.

Joseph Reiter makes the Finest Suits in the latest styles, at the lowest possible prices. His merchant tailoring establishment is at 210 Upper Broadway, Council Bluffs.

Bell & Hall, of this city, are shipping on an average a ton to a ton and a half of grapes daily, the product of vineyards in and about Council Bluffs, and this is but one of several.

The new buildings put up this year on Main street are both substantial and elegant. Among the finest may be mentioned that of Geo. Blaxin. He has fitted it up in fine style, and lately moved it with a new stock of Boots and Shoes, etc. If you desire good goods at low figures, call on him.

At an early hour yesterday morning there was a slight fire in one of the sheds connected with Mayne's broom factory. The department turned out promptly and succeeded in quenching the blaze before any very serious damage was done. It is supposed that some wandering tramp crawled into the shed for a rest, and that the fire was started by his smoking, or some other carelessness on his part.

The probability is that in building the new city jail the upper floor will be used for a superior court room, as well as a council chamber, until the new city hall is built. To keep the court where it is located at present, would be quite inconvenient in the handling of criminal cases and police affairs.

One of the newest, brightest, and most wide awake papers of the day is THE DAILY BEE. It is full of a life, path, news, sparkling editorials and general miscellany, and is in all respects quite equal to the best metropolitan dailies. Long life, health, prosperity and progress to THE BEE. -Glenwood Daily Journal.

The democratic county convention meets this afternoon to go through the motions of setting up candidates for the county offices. They need not bother themselves, for the republicans have already placed before the people good men for those positions and men who will be elected. Had the republicans done as well in congressional matters as in county matters, they would have had a clean sweep.

It is had enough to thrust men into so filthy a jail as that which the city now sits, but there is no excuse in forgetting to feed the prisoners. Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the hungry inmates were howling for something to fill up with, they having had nothing since the day before. Marshal Jackson evidently don't believe in letting the boys get too fat.

There is no oil being inspected now, and the elaborate blank book, prepared as a record, lies useless. The inspection business was overdone in several respects on the start, and no one seemed inclined to actively engage in it again. A good, fair, sensible system of inspection would be appreciated by the public, who have had their nerves shaken up by the way the dealers howled "dangerous oil" at each other.

A twelve-year old son of D. W. Bennett, of Pacific City, met with rather a serious accident yesterday forenoon. He was on a load of potatoes going down Bancroft street, when a wheel of the wagon run into a hole, and the boy was thrown off. The horses started on a run, the wagon passing over the lad. He was picked up, carried into Mrs. Larson's boarding house, and Dr. Green was called. The boy's injuries proved to be internal mainly, and their final result could not be fully determined, but it is thought he will never recover. He was able to be taken to his home in Pacific City by last night's train.

Hazen, alias Curtis, the Omaha detective who was arrested here Tuesday, has successfully skipped and it is said he is now a hundred miles from here. The officers gobbled up his solid woman on the charge of lewdness, and attached some property consisting of one horse, a rifle, two or three revolvers, a carbine, in fact a regular arsenal. The woman was brought before Justice Abbott, but discharged, there being little evidence to hold her, and she having a young babe, which would render imprisonment an unusual hardship. She would give little satisfaction as to where Hazen had gone, but seemed confident that he was safely out of the reach of the law.

A special telegram to THE BEE received from Kansas City, last evening, gives the result of yesterday's game as follows: Kansas City, 6; Council Bluffs, 6.

At the democratic county convention today the names of P. J. Gallagher, of Garner township, and Ed. Troutman, of this city will be presented as candidates for clerk.

Squire E. J. Abbott was presented last evening by a number of his friends with a beautiful inkstand and waste basket. Mr. Mayor Vaughn made the presentation speech in his usual happy style.

POINTS FROM THE POST.

How The Editor of The Nonpareil Reputedly Anderson and Pronounced Him Unfit for Office.

Keith, of the Dennison Bulletin has been peering over the files of the Dennison Review, and has revived some interesting articles from the pen of J. Fred Myers, its editor, who is now known as the editor of the Nonpareil.

The comparison of Mr. Myers opinion in 1874 compared with 1882 is interesting, but places him in rather a inconsistent light. At that time he withdrew from the convention because of the nomination of Anderson for district attorney, justifying his action, not only because, as he said "a corrupt bargain and sale job was put up," but also because he deemed Anderson an unfit man, saying "there would be danger indeed that honest men will be put in jail, while the rogues will flourish. Mr. Anderson has had large experience in clearing criminals already, and we do not desire to have this community placed at his mercy. We still hope that the good sense of the republicans everywhere will save us from the great calamity of Mr. Anderson's election."

The Review at that time, with Mr. J. Fred Myers as editor, gave a review of the charges made against Mayor Anderson, that he was indicted for adultery, that he had abused his wife, that he had drawn double pay in the army, that he was dissipated, and summed up the whole by saying, "We have stated no more but what is verily believe the legal record will bear out. We have never seen a specific denial or refutation of these charges, and therefore believe them to be true."

Now J. Fred Myers is vigorously pushing his pen in paid writings, showing this same Anderson, who was unfit to be district attorney, worthy of going to congress. Myers must either have a low idea of congress or a high idea of the office of district attorney, or what is far more probable, he wrote his honest convictions in 1874, and is now writing on the Nonpareil for pay, and under the dictation of the organ.

The Crawford County Bulletin says: "Mr. Anderson's record, made public in 1876, has not been purified by time. He stands before the public to-day just as he stood then. Even if he seeks to reform (which remains to be proven), it is no reason why he should be put into the front rank, when there are hundreds of pure, upright men in the district, far more capable of filling the position. We are throwing no mud at Anderson, but we call the reader's attention to the attitude in which he figured in 1874, as defined by the Dennison Review, edited by J. Fred Myers, present editor of the Nonpareil. In 1876 Myers spoke from his personal convictions; in 1882 he speaks from a salary, and his praise of Anderson is in a matter of dollars and cents. The representative republicans of Greene and Carroll counties also repudiated Anderson in the strongest terms, and for reasons just as binding to-day."

FOR SALE.

My residence, No. 716 Fourth street Bancroft. L. F. MURPHY.

Uncle Sam's Court.

In the United States court yesterday there was little done of public interest. The jury was impaneled, several motions disposed of, and the case of J. C. MacGinnitie, of St. Louis, vs. B. S. Pendleton & Co., of Essex, Iowa, was put on trial, and will be concluded to-day probably. It is a case growing out of a grain contract.

The following are the jury impaneled:

PETIT JURORS. George Sully, Geo. F. Dasher, James Lefflor, P. McKinley, Luther C. Newcomb, O. K. Pratt, Hugh Layton, George H. Nash, Walter Scholtes, Wm. M. McCarty, F. F. Hesse, Elias Stars, John W. Baird, Thomas Jeffries, William Oliver, L. Sovereign, A. J. Kridabough, Samuel Decon.

GRAND JURORS. G. W. Perkins, Samuel Moore, H. C. Harshbarger, H. F. Miller, W. W. Bemis, S. Bruyn, O. A. Kautser, J. L. Fetter, James S. Barnett, W. E. Dicks, W. A. Wood, S. S. Boner.

John Jepson, H. C. Harshbarger, A. J. Fair, F. L. Blakemore, Thomas Wilson, O. A. Kautser, E. L. Prior, Elijah Peake, John Dickey, W. B. Blanchard, D. E. Spooner.

Nearly a Miracle.

E. Asenith Hall, Binghamton, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for several months with a dull pain through left lung and shoulder. I lost my spirits, appetite and color, and could with difficulty keep up all day. My mother procured some BROWN'S IRON BITTERS; I took them as directed, and have felt no pain since first week after using them, and am now quite well."

The School Question.

The Nonpareil says Mr. Pussey is opposed to public schools. When he was in town last week we asked for an explanation of this charge, and he

VALENT VETERANS.

They Begin Gathering and the Tents Are Already Pitched.

The Preparations Made for a Most Joyous and Successful Reunion.

To-day is the opening one of the soldiers' reunion. Yesterday there were a few arrivals, but to-day will be the one on which most will come in. All hands are busy completing the necessary preparations and doing the preliminary work. Yesterday the work of pitching the tents on the fair grounds was accomplished. A better site for the encampment could hardly have been secured, there are convenient facilities for reaching it, street cars running from the Ogden house to the very gate. There is water on the grounds, and the buildings, sheds, etc., can all be utilized. There is an excellent parade ground, and the grand stand will afford an excellent chance for outsiders to witness the movement of troops, the sham battle, and other doings.

It is expected that all good citizens will decorate their business buildings at least in a patriotic manner, and will in all ways help to make the occasion a success in all respects.

Chris. Vogt, one of Council Bluffs worthy veterans, has two flags of historic interest, which he offers for sale in decorating the headquarters. One of them is a United States flag which was carried through the Mexican war, in which Mr. Vogt served. He at that time was in the Fifteenth U. S. infantry, and this flag was of that regiment. The color bearer was killed, and Mr. Vogt jumped into his place and saved the flag from the dust. After that he carried it, and retained it in his possession since the war. The other flag is one captured from the Mexicans in the same war.

All members of the Grand Army of the Republic are requested to meet at the hall of Abe Lincoln post this morning at 9 o'clock, by order of John Lindt, commander.

Commandant J. H. Keadley has issued orders assigning Col. D. B. Dailey to duty as chief of staff.

All information in regard to quarters will be given by Col. W. F. Sapp, chief quartermaster, and all matters relating to subsistence are entrusted to Quartermaster E. L. Holmes, and reports to Adjutant E. J. Abbott, and all unattached veterans are requested to report at headquarters to Capt. O. L. French, chief mustering officer.

The following are announced as aides: Maj. J. Lyman, Capt. D. Matby, Capt. Seth Perkins, Dr. John Green, Dr. P. Pinney, Dr. A. B. McKune, Dr. H. W. Hart, Dr. S. Hillman, Dr. White, Capt. T. J. Clarke, E. R. Scott, Capt. D. J. O'Neil, Capt. H. H. Metcalf, Capt. J. P. Williams, Col. L. W. Tulleys, Capt. S. Swobe, Capt. Geo. Metcalf, Capt. D. W. Bushnell, Geo. Phelps.

The following are also announced as a special escort mounted in order to conduct such receptions as may occur during the reunion:

J. P. McMahon, Chas. Officer, W. F. Sapp, J. Frank Pussey, Bar. C. Clinton, William Hardin, Horace Evans, Ernest Hart, Dr. George Brown, C. D. Eix, Leonard Everett, William Siedentop, A. Bereshheim, J. E. Evans, F. T. Webb, Max Mohr, J. C. Hoffman, Fred Kelley, Doug. Patton, G. A. Holmes, S. S. Keller, George W. Ferguson, Jr., F. C. Newell, C. F. Jacquemin, Charles Stewart, Fred Davis, George A. Keeline, Charles C. Cook, Henry Cook, C. R. Scott, William Treynor, Spencer Smith, Wm. Wirt Chapman, J. S. Lange, John Bennett, Royal Amy, Judge E. E. Aylesworth, P. C. DeVol, J. N. Cassidy, Fred Orcutt, Mahlon Brown, M. B. Brown, E. A. Troutman, James McMahon, Henry Eisman, Louis Broadbeck, Henry Atkins, Dr. T. B. Lacey, J. T. Broadbeck, Chas. Bunn, Mr. Jennings, Jr., Clay Platner.

This forenoon will be spent in assigning the detachments to quarters, and arranging for subsistence. At 5 o'clock this afternoon there will be a general dress parade in camp, under the direction of Commandant Keadley.

The schools of the city are to be closed on Friday, so that all may have a chance to see the grand parade in the morning, and the sham battle in the afternoon.

Creston's representatives arrived last night, the veterans from there numbering fifty.

Telegrams received state that Leo will have a big company here; that there will arrive from Carroll this morning over the C. & N. W. the veteran infantry and band, in all numbering 24. County telegraphs that it will send 40, Dennison 30 and Red Oak 45. These in addition to the places reported in yesterday's Bee.

PERSONAL.

S. H. Farrell, of Iowa City, is at the Ogden.

R. B. Johnston, of Creston, is in the city.

John Bene, Esp., is on a pilgrimage to St. Joseph.

P. J. Gallagher, of Weston, was in the city yesterday.

H. E. Griswold, of Atlantic, was in the city yesterday.

Horace Dunton and C. E. Townsend, of Anita, were here yesterday.

Judge N. M. Hubbard, attorney for the Northwestern road, is attending the U. S. court.

E. A. Rogers, J. T. Porter, W. F. Thummel, and C. Linderman, of Clarinda, were at the Ogden yesterday.

Judge O. P. Shiras, of Dubuque, the new judge of the northern district, occupies a seat beside Judge Love in the United States court now in session here.

Sheriff Guitler, who went to St. Louis about a week ago with his family, for a short visit has returned. His family will remain there with friends for a month longer.

The School Question. Unless Arree (Rep.) Tabor loses.

The Nonpareil says Mr. Pussey is opposed to public schools. When he was in town last week we asked for an explanation of this charge, and he said that there was at one time a movement in Council Bluffs to have German, French, and other higher branches taught in the public schools; at this time those were other schools needed in the city to do justice to all in the common branches; that he favored the diverting of this fund that was to be used for teaching the higher branches to the establishment of other schools for the benefit of the masses, and that this resolution was carried by a large majority. Mr. Pussey is an educated man who appreciates the higher accomplishments, but in this he represented the American idea, yes, more, the Republican idea, that the first duty of a republic is to give all the people a common education. The Nonpareil at the time lauded him for the stand he took in the matter, and now, true to its established custom of eternal vacillation, slips over on the other side.

A Puzzling Question.

Under the caption of "What Shall I Do with My Vote?" the Union-Arrow, a republican paper of Tabor, Ia., says:

There are many republicans in this district who have decided not to vote for the regular congressional nominee of their party. The question comes to each of them, what shall I do with my vote? We take it for granted their desire to vote for a republican congressman. They will not vote for Anderson. No independent republican will be brought out. They are tempted to scratch, and not vote at all. Is this good policy? Is it right? We are men not only enjoying the advantages of liberty, but we are the custodians of that liberty. Our forefathers have made us responsible for the public weal. Shall we shirk the responsibility? If we had no vote we would organize a revolution that would overthrow our institutions. Having a vote, will we not use it? Are Americans so foolish as to lay down their lives for a principle they will afterwards ignore? The republican that scratches Anderson and the republican that votes for his opponent belong to different species of the same genus. One is passive, the other active. Their actions differ only in degree.

Whom shall I vote for? The principle objection to a democrat in the mind of a republican is his past associations. There are two candidates besides Anderson in the field. Both have been life long democrats. They are for this reason naturally distrusted by republicans. But somebody will represent this district in congress. Who shall it be?

Were we to publish the unvarnished and admitted facts of Mr. Anderson's private life, our paper would not be forwarded through the mails. In the army he drew double pay, as a railroad commissioner he sneers at the wishes of the people, giving money freely where they will do him the most good, and as a congressional aspirant he places himself under bonds to secure political favors. A chronic case seeker, he is the candidate of the railroads and nominee of the machine. Through ignorance and apathy on the part of the people, through bargains, sales, and political promises, through unscrupulous scheming, through untiring effort and well studied plans on his part, with strong personal magnetism, using corruption as a lever, a single individual has succeeded in moving the republican machine of the district and placing himself before the public as the regular nominee of that party. Greenbackers have an excuse for voting for Heaton; republicans have none. But the latter must vote for some one. They cannot afford to summer over their vote. The object of every true republican is not to destroy, but to make better, his own party. This can be done by following that republican resolution of our own state convention in 1873: "We declare it to be the duty of every republican to oppose by a motion of a bad or incompetent candidate upon our own or upon any other ticket." The leaders of the party must be taught that if they wish a full vote they must nominate good men. De-feat is the only salutary lesson. Especially is this true in our own state, where republican majorities are so large that the leaders are practically independent of the people. To "oppose a bad or incompetent candidate" does not mean merely to scratch him. That is neutrality, not opposition, but it means to vote against him, and vote where it will do the most good. Therefore, in conformity with this memorable resolution of our own party while in full possession of its mental powers, ninety-nine counties being represented, we ask every republican who has the good of his party at heart, not only to scratch Mr. Anderson, but to vote for that war democrat, that supporter of Lincoln and Kirkwood, that educated gentleman, that successful business man, that able financier, that anti-monopolist, that advocate of education for all, that law-abiding citizen, that believer in the purity of society and sacredness of the marriage relation, who acknowledges a God in Israel and a judgment day, W. H. M. Pussey of Council Bluffs.

Honorable Mention.

Of all the remedies on earth that we may claim attention, Dr. THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL commands especial attention. For wondrous power to cure disease, its fame there's none can throttle. Its merits are not in the puff, but are inside the bottle. Rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, diphtheria, etc., are all cured by Thomas' Electric Oil.
