

CHAOS OF CRIME.

A Verdant Virginian Victimized by "a Madison Merchant."

Judge Beneke's Record of Criminals for September.

Kansas City Kid Hunting the Sioux City Journalists.

Another slick confidence game was played at noon Saturday on the U. P. train No. 3, the victim being a well-to-do-looking man, who gave his name as J. B. Caldwell, and said he came from Carroll county, Virginia. Caldwell was en route to Madison, Nebraska, to look at the lands in that vicinity, with a view to purchasing.

While the U. P. train was lying at the Council Bluffs transfer a man came in and engaged in conversation with him, saying that his name was Morgan, and that he was one of a firm composed of three brothers, who were engaged in the dry goods business at Madison. He said he was just returning from the east, where he had bought about $5,000 worth of goods. These goods were now at the transfer and he had just learned that they could not be shipped on to their destination in the same car but must be transferred, which fact he considered considerably, as he expected the car to go right through.

A few moments later another fellow entered and was introduced to Mr. Caldwell as "Mr. Adams, the transfer agent." Adams said that on examining the load it was found that several of the boxes must be re-packed before the Union Pacific would receive them. There were also some other charges to pay, and Morgan confessed that he was about out of ready cash, although he had a check for $1,000, which he would get cashed on his arrival in Omaha. This, however, did not suit the shrewd agent, and Morgan applied to his fellow travelers for a loan of the amount needed, $110, which he would repay in just fifteen minutes. The verdant Virginian immediately pulled out the cash and gave it to the Madison merchant, who said he would go with Adams to the baggage car and return at once. At this juncture the train pulled out, and the two men went into the first car and were lost sight of. It was not until the train had reached this side that the truth dawned on the victim, who related his loss to the officials and others. He said it took about all he had.

The fellow who represented himself as Morgan, is described as a light complexioned man, with a sandy mustache. He was of medium height and wore a black hat and light business suit.

Adams was dark complexioned, with a week's growth of beard, and was of about the same build and height.

It would seem that a detective might be put on the trains between Omaha and Council Bluffs for a while and the dangerous game be broken up.

SEPTEMBER CRIME.

The report of the police judge for the month of September shows the following figures on the month's business.

Intoxication, 88; disturbance of the peace, 62; assault and battery, 20; assault with intent to commit murder, 1; larceny, 33; vagrancy and suspicious characters, 10; malicious destruction of property, 3; keeping vicious dog, 2; receiving stolen property, 2; conversion of property as bailee, 1; discharging firearms, 4; cruelty to animals, 1; forgery, 2; keeping open saloon on Sunday, 2; violating lock ordinance, 1; committing nuisance, 4; laying sewer pipe without license, 2; making threats, 2; expressing without license, 2; prostitution, 71; gambling, 4.

TRANSFERRED TO DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Beneke Saturday transmitted the transcripts to the district court in the cases of the following offenders, who will be daily investigated by the grand jury next week:

Thomas Magee, larceny. Hollander is the man accused of firing Brandt's Turner Hall some months ago.

Anthony Kotri, larceny. Kotri is the man whose little girl found Mr. H. W. Yates' watch, containing his wife's diamonds and jewelry, and who retained the property for a long time.

Frank Hughes, assault with intent to commit murder. Hughes is the man who cut Jens Jensen, the boatman, with an axe. Hughes is pronounced to be insane, and may be sent to the asylum at Lincoln instead of the penitentiary.

Jacob Thon, forgery and obtaining goods and money under false pretenses. This is the Jonsson diamond case.

James Brown and C. H. Allen, picking pockets. Allen is the colored man who stole a gold watch from one of the guests at the Millard.

W. A. Shephardson, the Wynmore newspaper man who was arrested a few days ago for robbing a friend in this city of about $700 in jewelry and cash.

John McMahon, alias "Kansas City Kid," charged with picking the pocket of a Burlington farmer of money and notes amounting to $1,000. This fellow was bailed out and left, and the Sioux City Journal thus conjectures as to his doings since.

THE CHECK GAME. "The time-honored check game was played on a traveler named David Aronour at the passenger depot yesterday morning. One of the two sharps who worked David is described as a short fellow with a brown overcoat, and the other as taller and wearing a black overcoat. These men were shipping cattle, they told David. After he was duly impressed with their wealth and importance they mentioned that a little ready money was needed to pay a freight bill. Could he loan them $500—a $500 check until banking hours? Certainly David would. He accommodated the stock buyers with the sum named. He was asked as a favor to watch their horse and buggy until they came back, which would be in a few minutes. They did not come back, and on David's inquiring about the ownership of the rig he was left to watch he found that it belonged to C. F. Hoyt. He applied to the police and Marshal Thompson and Deputy Marshal Petty went out to look for the two stock dealers. They were traced out on the road to the Big Sioux beyond the first up, and there the track was lost. The officers kept up the unavailing search until supper time. The check purports to be issued by Caldwell, Hamilton & Co., of Omaha, in favor of Charles D. Morgan. As these sharps, who are doubtless the two that have been working along the Sioux & Pacific and the St. Paul for some time, play their snafu game only on travelers, if they can keep out of sight for a day or two after each raid they are able to brave arrest. When the victim goes on his way he takes all the evidences, and that ends any chance of conviction as far as that particular deal is concerned.

About 9 o'clock last evening it was learned from a brakeman who is employed on the transfer train of the St. Paul railroad on the Nebraska side that about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon two men answering the description of the parties who are supposed to have passed the fraudulent check crossed the river on the ferryboat and walked toward Dakota City. Investigation into the whereabouts of certain parties who are known to be "fifty men" and who have been in town recently, revealed that two of them have not been seen in the city since the Circus Royal was here, and the third left on yesterday morning's train for Council Bluffs. A recent operation which was conducted near Council Bluffs, in which a granger was taken in for $55, is thought to have been "turned" by one of the parties above mentioned, and the modus operandi was the same as in this instance. The check being on Caldwell & Hamilton's bank in Omaha, was probably obtained in the bank in that city. It bore the date of September 17th, and was considerably soiled, but still may have been missed purposely by the men passing it.

An Omaha paper of yesterday states that "Kansas City Kid," who was in jail in the Nebraska metropolis for pocket-picking during the state fair, was released on Saturday on $500 bail, his bondsmen being Joe Redmond of that city. Redmond is a man who would naturally have no acquaintance with the "Kid," and the amount of the bail was doubtless put up with Redmond by some of the prisoner's pals in order to allow the "Kid" to escape. The fact that the man victimized thinks that one or both of the men who victimized him came up on the night train from Council Bluffs; that the black check could only have naturally been obtained in Omaha; that the "Kid" was loose in time to get here, and that the operation is a well known favorite one of his, establish a hypothesis in which there may be something, or nothing.

POLICE COURT. In Judge Beneke's court Saturday morning business was not over active.

There was one case of disturbance of the peace, the offender paying $3 and costs.

True to her Trust. Too much cannot be said of the ever faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. They are the best and purest medicine in the world and only cost fifty cents. Sold by C. F. Goodman.

A Small-Sized Congress. Special Dispatch to THE BEE. St. Louis, September 29.—The second annual meeting of the farmers' congress began here to-day, about thirty members being present. T. J. Hudson, of Lamar, Mississippi, president of the society, delivered the annual address, in which he took the ground that agriculture should have a representative in the president's cabinet, and that they should have some one at Washington whose special training and knowledge would enable him to point out the evil effects of state and federal legislation on agriculture as well as the result of commercial treaties. He also recommended the organization of a larger number of state and county associations for the exhibition of products of the country. A resolution was offered for the appointment of a committee to address the tariff commission in behalf of the producing classes, detailing the ruinous effects of the protective tariff on the agricultural interests of the country. After discussion the resolution was laid over till tomorrow. The session will continue two or three days, and the members will stop over to attend the fair next week.

STATE JOINTINGS.

No. 349, a monster mogul engine, was brought over Saturday from the C. & N. W. road for the purpose of running freight trains over the line between this city and Pacific Junction. Yesterday it was coupled on to forty-four cars loaded with grain and without the least difficulty or hindrance it started up the heavy grade to the bridge and soon landed the forty-four loads on the other side. Half that number is a big load for the ordinary B. & O. engine. The mogul has eight drive wheels and is capable of hauling almost anything that is movable, and it will be retained for the bridge run freight engine. It is handled by Engineer 135—Plattsmouth Journal.

Burnell, the well known evangelist of Chicago, met with the ministers of this place yesterday, to make arrangements for a series of meetings to be held here some time during the winter. Rev.
