STATE JOTTINGS.

Ittle boy had a narrow escape from death.
The little fellow got hold of a bottle of carbolic acid, and before he was noticed had awallowed a part of the contents.

A pleasant company assembled at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Hunt, Monday evening, to view the specimens she and her late husband brought with them from China and Japan. Their three years residences as missionaries to those countries gave them good opportunities for collecting the curious in nature and art. Among a great variety of specimens in Mrs. Hunt's cabinet are images, bottles, cups, etc., carved from minerals known as jade and agalun-tolite.—Falls City Observer.

A couple of men were in town Tuesday working off some shoddy goods by the carpet scheme, which is becoming quite popular with traveling swindlers. They open up their samples of carpets, representing that they were taken from an immense stock dams red by fire, and selling them at very low figures—three ply incrains at twenty-five cents a yard, Brussels at 60, and veivet Brussels at 90. This soon becomes noised abroad, and crowds flock in and order carpets, which is to be delivered in a week or so. They carry with them also a stock of silks, satine, etc., which they sell and deliver on the spot. These are inferior goods, of course, and they make a big profit on them. Their carpet scheme is simply to draw, and they will deliver the carpet sold when the pigs begin to fly. They take no money, however, and can not be punished. We are sorry for the large number of our prominent citizens who had planned to carpet their esidences with Brussels, and will be doomed to disappointment,—Central City Courier. Eah ayler had a red hot time during its fair, part of which the Sun thus describes "On the next afternoon, occurred one of those street riots which have disgracefully characterized Schuyler at times in the past, alohn and Al. Jenkins got into a dispute when Al., as usual, soon became belligerent. Deputy Sheriff Degman escorted Al. to Judge Zentneyer's office. escorted Al. to Judge Zentaseyer's office. Here Maurice Williams appeared on the scene and induced Al. to leave the court and officers without paying any fine. Getting a lively rig they started to drive away but were infercepted by Degman, who attempted to arrest both meo. Williams resisted by lashing Degman over the head with the whip. Degman drew his revolver on Williams and called on the gathering crowd for assis ance. After a terrible scene of loud excitement and surging humanity Al. was secured, but Williams escape arrest. A few hours afterward Degman, accompanied by several citizenwent to Williams' boarding place and advised him to surrender himself up. Hesitating for a time he finally consented, and tating for a time he finally consented, and a little later marched to jail and was a little later marched to jail and was locked up. About 9 o'clock Al paid a fine and was relessed from imprisonment. During the evening John McConnell was arrested for aiding the men in the r resistance, and was bound over for hearing until Monday. Sheriff Smith having gone to North Bend on that day to make an arrest was absent during the trouble. At a hearing Monday morning Williams plead gullty and was fined $50 and costs and consigned to five days' imprisonment. In berry, Suffield, elect town officers.

McConnell's case a jury was called, who held him guilty as charged, the judge imposing a fine of $10 and costs and three days' imprisonment. On Monday night Al. Jenkins got into another row with Jim Reha and Stewart Edgar, in which Al. fired his pistol at Edgar, missing him only begause Edgar diverted the direction of the weapon with his hand. Al. left town that night and has since been missing.

Sallivan Speaks.

CHICAGO, October 3 .-- A. M. Sullivan, ex-member of parliament for Meath, spoke to a packed house in Central Music hall last night. Mayor Harrison and a large representation of the Catholic clergy had seats on the platform. Sullivan reviewed the situ-ation in Ireland, moderate utterances being coldiy received, but radical touches here and there were loudly applauded. He spoke of Gladstone's high personal character, but reminded his hearers he was the administrator of a despotic government as such of tyranny. The British government never conceded a point till it was dan-gerous to refuse it. He declared the Irish would not disband political organizations, America exercising an influence on Europe which no European could gauge. The meeting closed with a series of resolutions for the political separation of Ireland, read by Jno. F. Finerty.
