PEPPERMINT DROPS.

There are no pumps where the cocoanut grows, which, perhaps, accounts for the milk in it.The application of the Ready Relief to the parts where the difficulty or pain exists will afford ease and comfort.Thirty to sixty drops in half a tumbler of water will in a few moments cure Croup, Spasms, Stomach, Heartburn, Sick Headache, etc.Sleep walking used to be considered a strange thing, but since policemen do it and draw pay at the same time the novelty has worn off.They have now brought out a horse colar with buttons behind, and if you see an old equine prancing around you may know he feels a bit stuck up.Americans who know what a "beautiful Christian girl" looks like, say that not one of them could hold a candle for looks to the majority of girls to be found eating gum drops at American fairs.A Jersey man has invented a cigar-holder by means of which a man can smoke three cigars at one time; but, alas! no man can invent a three-barreled horse.The latest label about the new comet is that it is one of the half-headed kind and is hurrying up toward the sun to get a front view of it. It has a good look at it in transit of Venus.A Detroit married couple gave a "watermelon festival" to thirty-eight deaf mutes, and although only seven melons were eaten the party is said to have departed "too full for utterance."A Louisville man under close cross-examination stated that in his judgment the most unimpeachable thing in the world is not a woman or her photograph, but how those four legs got up his sleeve.The United States army has become suddenly depleted, thirty of its members having deserted "in all directions." If thirty more should get away the army will have to adjourn for want of a quorum.A desperado who stopped a Nevada coach the other day and made the passengers shake out their valuables at the muzzle of a revolver affably explained that he was taking up voluntary contributions for campaign purposes.In New York, recently, twenty-five young men were given instructions on practical and scientific plumbing. The practical part, it is presumed, consisted in tearing up $50 worth of flooring to repair a 40-cent leak which was located in another place, while the scientific portion comprised the art of making out a bill.An exchange says that Prof. Schiff, the Florentine vivisector, has used up more than 14,000 dogs in his experiments. If Prof. Schiff will just bring his tools and dissecting-room to America he will receive a welcome warmer and more cordial thousand fold than has been extended to Oscar Wilson, or Tug Wilde, or Jumbo, or all three combined.A traveler was leaning at night against a railing at the Harper's Ferry railroad station. A locomotive came along, and he sprang lightly over the rail to escape possible danger. He thought it was a meadow on the other side, but knew his mistake when he landed on the street forty feet below. On being rescued he told his name. "I wouldn't tell you for a thousand dollars," he replied; "describe me plainly as a fool."Dr. Doosan, an Austin physician, was on attempts to attend Uncle Mose, who drives a dray. "You have been gorging yourself with green watermelons for dinner," said the physician, feeling the patient's pulse.
"How do you feel?" "No, but by seeing the watermelon rinds under the bed."Said the old man to the knave who was lying on the bed: "You are the knave!" Heal, old man take that old hardness from under the bed, or do you mean medical common sense and you will be killed. A nurse for dessert to settle his stomach. I ain't touched a watermelon in four weeks."I am no hand to complain," he was saying to a friend in the office of the postoffice, "but it makes me feel bad to have a man doubt my financial standing."
"Has any one doubted it?" "Well, not in so many words, perhaps, but I can see a great change in human nature. Three or four years ago I could buy a trunk for a dollar, arrive at a hotel in a $500 hack, and be the only man in the room. Now I arrive in a $500 hack, and I am the only man in the room. Nothing less than a $5 trunk will secure a room, and you can never tell when the clerk will ask you to break a $50 bill in order to size your pile.
It makes me feel degraded to have a man doubt me, and I sometimes think I might just as well say my bill with a bogus check as to slip out the back way and leave my empty trunk to square the account."—M. Quad.

EDUCATIONAL.

Brown university has a freshman class of about 100 men here.The mildest hazing in the Wisconsin university is promptly followed by expulsion.The number of children studying German in the St. Louis public schools is increasing.There are now in South Carolina 3,657 free schools, instructing 61,359 white and 72,115 colored children.There is a movement in Cleveland for the establishment of an institution to be called the "Western Reserve College of Design for Women."There are about 2,000 students in the special art classes of the evening schools of Paris; and there are a larger attendance than in the commercial classes. The cooking classes in the schools of domestic economy for girls consist of only 50 pupils.John Hopkins university has opened with a larger attendance than usual. The library has received many additions, and it is expected that the new laboratory building will be ready for occupation at the beginning of the second term.The attendance of colored children in the public schools of Columbus, Ohio, hasbeen largely increased this term—a fact which is said to be due to the abolition of separate schools. In that city as elsewhere there is a demand for a more practical and less crowded, and artificial system.
"The public," says The Ohio State Journal, "is rapidly reaching the conclusion that the common school should be so conducted as to teach such elementary studies as are absolutely necessary to everybody in the practical everyday affairs of life, and to teach them thoroughly and well, and that they will constitute the basis for any education that may be needed or required in after life."The country schools of Maine are not, as a rule, open more than three or four months in the year. Some of the districts are deficient in pupils. In one county there are districts where the average attendance at school was only five scholars. There is a district near Augusta where forty years ago the average attendance was 50; now it is but 10.Mr. Colt-Williams, an English inspector of schools, in a report to the council of education, says: "When one thinks of children of tender years coming in all weathers one or two miles and a half to school to be there by 8 o'clock in the morning; and the 12, play and dinner; school again till 4 or 4:30 p. m., and then the walk home, in winter often in dark, home lessons to prepare for next morning, and this for five or six years more than nine months in the year—can more be added? And yet this is the daily routine of schools in my district, though we have no singing by note, very little poetry, and no science."On the question of the proper education of women, the Rev. Henry N. Hudson, in his "English in Schools," says: "As for the women let it suffice that their rights and interests in this matter are co-ordinate with those of the men; that no more.
Their main business also is to get an education, and the education that will prepare them for their lives. They are unprepared for the life of the family and wrong.
The greatest institution in the world is the family. The greatest knowledge among men is housekeeping, which is the life of the family. I reckon housekeeping to be just the last thing that a lady can learn, and the most important of all."
