OMAHA.

Thursday Morning Oct. 12.

Weather Report.

The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations in Nebraska.

WAR DEPARTMENT, U. S. SIGNAL SERVICE, OMAHA, Oct. 11, 1882. (1:45 p. m.)

Table with columns: STATIONS, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, Clouds, State of Sky, and Remarks.

Five feet or more above low water mark at Omaha, 2 feet 1/2 inches at Yankton, Missoula 2 feet 4 inches at La Crosse, and 4 feet 6 inches at Dubuque.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

-Fall seems to have come in earnest, unless this is the equinoctial storm.

-There were three unadvised drunks before Judge Benke this morning, and all were discharged.

-These are the times that good street crossings would be appreciated. They are too horrible now for any use.

-A postal card received from Missouri Valley says that L. Stone, a photographer, is under arrest for larceny, and that he is from Omaha. His trial is pending.

-The Nevada quartette visited Council Bluffs Tuesday, returning yesterday, and will remain in this city over Sunday, singing for Mr. Julius Thiele, at the Thiel garden, on Saturday and Sunday nights.

-Pioneer Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 give their fifth annual ball on Thanksgiving eve, November 29, 1882, with the following committee of arrangements: Ed. Wittig, Chas. Fleher, L. Krotzsch, Julius Rotholz and Frank H. Koster.

-The Democratic judicial convention for the Third district, comprising the counties of Butte, Washington, Sarpy and Douglas, met yesterday at 11 o'clock a. m. at the City hall, and nominated Clark M. Atwin, a rising young attorney of Omaha, as their candidate for district attorney. His Republican competitor is Mr. N. J. Burnham, the present incumbent.

-It is rumored, but without confirmation, that the Union Pacific has purchased one or more blocks on Ninth street for their own use. One report says the Cozzen house is included in the purchase, and that it will be used as a hospital by the road, and another is to the effect that the property will be held as a site for a Union depot, to be built some time in the near future.

-Mr. John M. Heller, residing on Marcy street, yesterday received a dispatch conveying the sad news of the death of his son, John Heller, a brakeman on the U. P. The young man was killed in a wreck about just east of Aspen station, Wyoming, on the morning of October 10th, 1882. The particulars have not yet been received.

-Max Meyer & Co. have just completed a J. W. Reedy elevator in their new building. It is for use in transferring freight from one story to another, will carry 2,000 pounds and works like a charm. The same firm is also fitting up their basement store so as to have plenty of light and will occupy it as soon as completed.

-The noon train west yesterday carried a number of distinguished passengers, none of whom, however, occupied special cars. Among the party were Sir Richard Temple, ex-governor-general of Bombay; Vice-Consul Davis, who goes to represent H. B. M. at Honolulu; and Messrs. A. McLeod and B. Layton, prominent merchants of Shanghai, China.

-In a few days Mr. Carlisle Terry, Jr., of the United States coast and geodetic survey, who is now in Kansas City, will come to Omaha for the purpose of re-establishing an astronomical station here. For the purpose of making their triangulation determinations in this city entirely successful, Mr. Geo. W. Dean of the survey has written Supt. Dickey, asking that they may have his co-operation. The station will be established near the High school.

-The management of the Union Catholic Library association are making considerable advances, with a view to rendering their society more than ordinarily interesting the coming winter. They have added to their monthly collection about six hundred pieces, recently donated by the firm of J. G. & Healy, Chicago, together with a number of biographies of musical composers, as also a number of works of fiction on biography, travel and history, kindly donated by W. J. Omsaha, city collector, Chicago. The decoration of the rooms is now finished, the last unoccupied space on the walls being filled by a picture donated by Major J. M. McMahon. Recent donations have been received by Mrs. J. I. Bedick and Mrs. Swartzlander, while constant accessions are being made to membership. A class in elocution, at reasonable terms, is now being formed and almost ready.

-Frank Kauper, so long a member of the police force, has resigned Swain's hall and opened it out in fine style Tuesday.

-The contract for building the Lutheran church will be let October 18. See their advertisement in our special column.

-Three men were arrested about noon yesterday for disturbing the peace in the vicinity of Twelfth and Dou la street.

JUDICIAL JOTTINGS.

Judge Neville Hears His First Case.

Indictments Against a Number of Liquor Sellers Show Up.

A Curious Dispute Interesting to Those Leasing Land.

Reappointment of John Bell as Official Stenographer.

THE FIRST CASE

The district court convened at 9:30 a. m. yesterday, after interim of three days, with Judge Neville on the bench. The morning hour was occupied in hearing motions and arguments on demurrers.

The public generally will be glad to know that the new judge will retain Mr. John Bell as official stenographer of the district, having notified him of his re-appointment just before court was called. Mr. Bell is an efficient and very popular officer and his friends will all congratulate him on his retention.

THE FIRST CASE

which was heard by Judge Neville was that of C. H. B. Rouse v. Luther R. Wright, J. P., in which the former claims that the latter exceeded his authority in issuing an attachment on the property of a non-resident defendant. Moderate damages are claimed, and the case will be tried before the petit jury, which, as yet, has done nothing more than to report from day to day. It is rather curious that the first case under the new administration should be one in which one judge tries another.

LIQUOR SELLERS INDICTED.

A number of bills were returned by the last grand jury, before its final adjournment, which as yet have not been published. Among these it is understood are several against parties charged with selling liquor without a license and among the names thus mentioned as on indictments are: Henry Ruser, proprietor of the Halfway House, southwest of the city; Henry Bochtel, at the barracks; John Bankhardt, at the same place; Jensen, on the military road; Maxida Murray, Fort Omaha; Alvina Partell, Fort Omaha; John T. Croft, John Garber and Morris Ottman, all proprietors of road houses between the city and the fort and Gottlieb Stotta, proprietor of the Saratoga brewery, near the fair grounds.

Most if not all the parties have been served and a lively contest may be expected next week, when the cases will probably come up. As near as can be ascertained, the offense, if there is one proven, is due to that clause in the Slocumb bill which prevents the issuance of a license to persons not within the city limits and yet within a radius of two miles of the outskirts. It is probable that there are others in the same box, and it is reported that one or two Omaha liquor men have been indicted, but this is not yet made public.

AN INTERESTING CASE

was heard by Judge Savage just before he left the office of judge to the successor. In this it appears that in nearly every year ago built a house on leased ground, in or near the city, and his lease terminating he desired to vacate the premises and move his house to another locality. In the meantime some silver maple trees, in the midst of which his house stood, had grown to such proportions that the building could not be removed until they are cut down. The owner of the property would not allow the trees felled and hence the matter came before the judge for a decision as to whether the trees should stand and imprison the house, or whether they should be made with the ax. The petition claimed that as a matter fact the trees figured the landscape and were neither usual nor ornamental, but the judge, coinciding with the view that silver maple trees were unsightly and a nuisance, said that the owner might hold that the trees must be left. The house will therefore have to be torn down before it can be got away unless a compromise can be effected. Personal building on leased ground will do well to cut this out and paste it in their hats.

DIED.

REZAC-In this city, October 11th, Eddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rezac, aged 1 year and 6 months.

The New Vault.

The 17-ton vault for the Omaha National Bank, mention of which was made a few days ago, was placed in position in the new building on Thirteenth street Tuesday forenoon. The job of raising the vault from the level of the street to that of the first floor of the bank, some six feet higher, was a particularly and dangerous one; but Fred Behm, who has for a long time been connected with Baldwin in the moving business, aided by his old hands, made a success of it in every particular. Mr. Behm may be called the veteran safe mover of this city, as it was under his supervision that the 12-ton safe in the First National was placed in position some fifteen years ago.

Army Orders.

Leave of absence for fifteen days is granted First Lieutenant William F. Hall, R. Q. M., Fifth cavalry, to take effect on the present month.

Sufficient cause having been shown for his inability to pay his own expenses, under provisions of army regulations paragraph 205, the quartermaster's department will furnish transportation from Omaha, Neb., to Fort Niobrara, Neb., to Private William Berry, troop B, Fifth cavalry, a furloughed soldier without means to reach his station.

Corporal Jasper H. Virgin, company D, 6th infantry, and Private Charles Kimpel, company F, 6th infantry, having complied with paragraph 5, orders No. 145, current regulations, from Fort Thornburgh, Utah, will proceed to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and report to the assistant adjutant general, department of the Missouri.

Satisfactory evidence having been presented to the department commander, that the offense of which Charles Lennon, late private company K, Sixth infantry, was convicted, whilst technically a desertion, was in reality "absence without leave," so much of the sentence, promulgated in general court martial orders, No. 14, current series, from those headquarters, as provides for confinement for two (2) years, at the military prison, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, is remitted, and he will be released from confinement.

THE GARFIELD FUND.

Notes for the Nebraskans Who Desire to Contribute.

The National Bazaar and Exhibits Therefor.

This Bazaar referred to the fact yesterday that a national bazaar, industrial and art exposition for the benefit of the Garfield monument fund is to be held at Washington from November 25 to December 3.

Col. Chase has been appointed president of the Nebraska board, and from him the following additional particulars are learned concerning the enterprise:

1. Contributions of money sent through the board, for which engraved receipts will be returned to the contributors.

2. Contributions of articles. Under this head every branch of productive industry and art will be represented, and such contributions will be placed on exhibition, properly classified and displayed, with the name of the maker and donor attached. In all cases such exhibits will remain until the close of the exposition, when they will be sold. The special attention of agriculturists, manufacturers, dealers and artists is asked to this class of exhibits.

3. Articles of industry, virtue and art, for exhibition merely. The unusual and extraordinary character of the bazaar must commend itself to every one desirous of advertising his or her business, or of bringing the results of his or her invention or handiwork to the attention of the world. Held at the nation's capital at a season when congress is about to assemble and the representatives of foreign powers present at their legations, and to become guests of the exposition, with a host of journalists, representing every prominent newspaper in America, sending daily telegraphic reports of its progress and likely to notice the more worthy exhibits and donations, it may be confidently asserted that no equal opportunity was ever before afforded for bringing the interests of agriculturists, manufacturers, artists and artisans to the attention of the public.

After the sermon, prayer was offered, following which the roll was called by the clerk, Rev. Mr. Baird, of Plattsmouth.

Following the roll call officers were elected to-wit: Dr. G. F. Chrisman, of Kearney, was elected moderator by acclamation.

Temporary clerks—J. M. Oliver, E. E. Warren.

Thursday, October 12—11 o'clock, Dr. Irving, 2 o'clock, ladies meeting; 7:30, church erection.

Friday evening—Missionaries and freedmen.

Saturday evening—Sunday schools. The meeting then adjourned to meet at 9 a. m. to-day, 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

CHICSA.

Marion Elmore's Debut at Boyd's Opera House Last Night.

The storm of last evening was not sufficient to prevent a fair turnout at the opera house last night to witness the rendition of "Chipsa" by Marion Elmore and her able company, who arrived in the city yesterday.

While this drama reminds us not a little of "Miles," it is a much stronger and more pleasing performance and seems to take better in every way with the public. One noticeable feature of the play last evening was the magnificent scenery, which is furnished entirely by the company and adds not a little to the general effect.

The romantic drama itself is quite sensational, and in the hands of a company less able to bring out the fine points would not be a perfect success before an audience such as assembled to witness it last evening. Marion Elmore is a character such as probably has been the result of hardships of the earlier days of frontier life, which is in near perfect accord with what it could not fail to be a success. The leading characters are also sustained by actors who seem well fitted to carry out the ideas of the drama, and as a tale of earlier California experience it must be admitted that it was realistic in the extreme and held spell bound with the many startling situations with which it abounded, and with scenes and adventures which characterized the earlier days of emigration to the far west.

Among those who were most noticeable in the production of this sensational and difficult drama, were Mr. Frank Loock, as Reke Stevens; Edwin Amott, as James Downey; Mr. W. F. Melville, as Doc Jones; "the nibs"; Mr. George Osborne as "Indian Jack"; Miss Annie Leigh as Anastasia Mount Auburn and Rosa Moseley as Old Calamity.

The entertainment taking it altogether, is an unusually interesting one, and abounds in startling scenes and crises, which are well calculated to stir up the enthusiasm of an audience and excite their applause at the result. The same play will be produced to-night, and we can recommend it to the patronage of an Omaha public as thoroughly as anything that has been put on the boards this season.

"IT GOES RIGHT TO THE SPOT."—This expressive phrase describes the effect of a glass of HUB PENCIL. Ready on opening. Every glass should have "The Trade City" marked on manufacturers' supplies by M. A. McNamara. Families supplied by A. H. Gladstone, Omaha, Neb.

IMMORTALITY ITEMS

The Meeting of the Presbyterian Synod last night.

Congregational, Missionary, and Other Meetings Near at Hand.

New City Churches and Religious Matters Generally.

THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

The general association of the Congregational churches of Nebraska will hold their annual meeting this year in Omaha, October 23d, and for following days. The denomination has steadily grown to be one of the strongest and largest in the state, and the coming association is to be a large and important meeting. Besides the laymen and delegates of the state, there will be here from abroad, Rev. Truman M. Post, D. D., of St. Louis, the Nestor of the west, and lecturer in Washington university, Rev. Lobe West, of Chicago, editor of the Advance, Rev. S. J. Humphrey, D. D., Chicago, western secretary of the American board, Rev. E. A. Dunning, of Boston, secretary of Sabbath schools, Rev. Walter Barrows, of New York, general secretary of home missions, and others. All the meetings day and evening will be held at the Congregational church, and will be open to the public. This denomination has now about 140 church organizations in the state, one college at Crete, two academies, at Neligh and Franklin, besides other active agencies. It will dedicate twenty new church buildings between January '82 and January '83.

NEW CHURCHES.

The Second Congregational church building on St. Mary's avenue is now finished, and as soon as it can properly be furnished, services in it will begin. It stands central in a growing section of the city where a large number of the people have contributed to its erection, and it has a bright future for growth and usefulness. A pastor for the same is expected soon.

The southwest mission at Twentieth and Mason streets, has been organized into the Southwest Presbyterian church of Omaha and taken its place as the youngest, but not the least prominent of the societies of that denomination in Omaha. Rev. Frank H. Hays, who has been in acceptable charge of this mission, was ordained as an evangelist recently by the presbytery of Omaha.

MISSIONARY WORK.

The twelfth annual meeting of the western branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, will be held in this city from the Twelfth to the 16th of this month. This branch includes Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and Dakota. The last convention was held at Marshalltown, Iowa. One hundred and twenty delegates are expected, and already one hundred and fifteen have been reported to the secretary.

SUCCESS IN LIFE.

The dates and subjects of the series of Sabbath evening lectures upon "Success in Life," to be delivered by Rev. W. J. Hareha this winter, are as follows: October 15, Your Equipment; October 22, Your Time; October 29, Your Work; November 5, Your Teacher; November 12, Your Power; November 19, Your Character; November 26, Your Luck; December 3, Your Relations; December 10, Your Duties; December 17, Your Speech; December 24, Your Manners; December 31, Your Habits.—1883—January 7, Your Conscience; January 14, Your Self Control; January 21, Your Books; January 28, Your Health; February 4, Your Amusements; February 11, Your Money; February 18, Your Destiny; February 25, Your Substitute.
