The game of baseball on Saturday was the last of the season. A few lively showers of rain yesterday kept up the chronic state of stop on the streets and crossings.

The gross earnings of the U.P. railway for last month were $2,949,112, as against $2,811,367 for September of the last year.

The ladies of the First Congregational church will hold their annual meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlors.

The east-bound train last evening hauled two coaches of emigrants over the river and two cars of California fruit to go east over the Northwestern.

A meeting of the board of trade will be held this evening, at which all members and other citizens interested in the establishment of glucose works are invited to be present.

Rev. W. J. Smith, pastor of the Central Presbyterian tabernacle, San Francisco, and one of the most successful workers on the Pacific coast, passing through our city on his way to New York and stopping at the opera house last evening to young men.

The Bee desires to call attention to the appearance of Rose Eytling at the opera house, on Friday and Saturday next, October 20th and 21st.

PULLING TOGETHER.

Proceedings of the Workmen and Farmers' Meeting Friday Night.

The Action of the Committee Unanimously Endorsed. In accordance with the call of the workmen's committee, a mass meeting was held at Central hall on Friday.

Incidentally he explained that the committee on printing, in issuing the call for this meeting, made an error in stating that this would be a meeting for the election of delegates; that this error was brought before the committee on a subsequent meeting.

After this explanation the name of P. F. Murphy was offered for chairman of the meeting. A motion to substitute the name of Wm. White was lost, and Mr. Murphy was elected and conducted to the chair by Messrs. Ford and Sampson.

The first question considered was the report of the committee, which reported through its secretary as follows: GENTLEMEN:—The committee elected in the mass meeting of a week ago to take into consideration the best mode of putting in nomination a legislative and county ticket and to issue a call for that purpose within ten days, begs to report that after a thorough and complete consideration of divers plans, it agreed on one which we believe is the only right, just and proper one, insuring a proper representation and proper voice in the election of the ticket to all the different labor interests and farmers.

According to this plan and obeying the orders of the meeting which elected them, to issue a call within ten days, your committee has empowered its chairman to publish in to-day's Bee the following call: [Read the call published elsewhere here.]

You will observe that by these means each and every element of labor, as well as the farmers, both of them and both the home and sinews of the nation, will have equal, full and just representation and hearing in their common council. You will observe that this will be truly and properly a workmen's and farmers' representative convention, untrammelled in its action by unions and chapters of monopolies, and if you will take care to send to this representative convention your best, truest and most tried laborers, who will carefully fulfill the work before them, there cannot but good result from the same.

We believe that our action, fair and just and right to every body, must result in complete harmony and unity of action so eminently necessary to success.

An animated debate arose upon the adoption of this report. One or two of those present contended that they believed the sense of the previous meeting was that the election of delegates should take place at a meeting and not by the different elements of labor.

The meeting, which soon after adjourned, was very well attended, there being at least three or four times as many present as on any previous occasion, with a fair sprinkling of farmers among the rest.

A LIVELY BLAZE.

The Fire Near the Gas Works Sunday Evening. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was an alarm of fire sounded. The bell struck box 12, but a telephone message which came in at the same time located the fire at the gas works.

The smoke was rolling up in very promising shape in the direction of the gas works, and the report that that place was on fire drew a large crowd, and the umbrellas were so thick that the fire on Twelfth and Leavenworth, looked like an army of marching mushrooms was passing over them.

It has been the constant practice in Omaha, as well as elsewhere, to sell a few low priced Clocks at cost or even less, as "leaders" for the purpose of advertising, and then make up the average profit on the better grades.

We will sell as good a Silk or Plush Dolman as can be found in this country for $50.00, usually sold at from $75.00 to $85.00. At $45.00 we will sell you one usually sold at $65.00 to $75.00, and at $35.00 we will sell you one usually a lid at $50.00 to $60.00, and so on down the list to $2.00 or $3.00, which we will not sell for less than others, but invite the closest inspection on them.

A BAKER'S DOZEN.

The Score of the U. P.'s to a Goose Egg for the B. & M.

The game of base ball between the original rivals in this neck of woods, the Union Pacific and the B. & M. nine, on Saturday, excited no little interest and the day being remarkably beautiful a large crowd was at the B. & M. grounds to witness the game, which was terminated at the end of seven innings by darkness coming on, the U. P.'s winning by a score of 13 to 0.

The B. & M.'s played a strictly head-on game, all of their men holding positions in the B. & M. office here, while the U. P.'s added to their team Speed, short stop for the St. Louis Standard, Willigrod, second baseman for the Detroit, and Rockwell, pitcher of the Colorado Springs club.

The U. P. team was, without question, the best that ever covered the field in Omaha, and if compelled to play their best, a magnificent game would have been the result. The positions were as follows: Traffey, catcher; Rockwell, pitcher; Holland, first base; Whitney, second; Bandie, third; Saeed, short stop; the brothers Funkhauser and Willigrod in the field.

The following is the score of the game by innings: U. P.'s..... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 B. & M.'s..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

First base on called balls—U. P.'s, 3; B. & M.'s, 1. Let bases—U. P.'s, 3; B. & M.'s, 4. Struck out—U. P.'s, 9; B. & M.'s, 1. Passed balls—Traffey, 1; Smith, 1; Brandt, 1. Wild pitch—Price, 1. Three base hit—Saeed, 1. Called balls—U. P.'s, 7; B. & M.'s, 9. Strikes called—U. P.'s, 2; B. & M.'s, 51.

A DRAW BATTLE

The Hitchcock-Couzens Debate on Woman Suffrage.

The second public debate on the question of woman suffrage took place at the opera house on Saturday evening, the disputants being Miss Phoebe Couzens and Mr. G. M. Hitchcock, of this city.

As on the preceding evening every seat in the house was filled but there was not so many turned away and in some respects this might be said to have been an overflow meeting. Miss Susan B. Anthony presided.

Miss Couzens opened the debate with a plea for a better government for women, and Mr. Hitchcock followed with an argument upon inherent right and expediency, handling his subject with ability. Succeeding the arguments, which were each half an hour in length, was a colloquial discussion.

At the conclusion of the debate the vote was called. Miss Couzens asked all in favor of woman suffrage to rise, and about a fourth of the house rose, mostly ladies.

Mr. Hitchcock called a rising vote of those in favor of woman's rights, but not woman suffrage, and about a fourth of the house rose. Miss Anthony declared it a drawn battle.
