-Capt. Eicher and J. De Haven, who were among the recent explorers into Dakota, are said to have been unfortunate in their joint building enterprise. Having lands that joined they concluded it policy to build a mud hut on the line, so as to have it located on the land of each. Eicher got his half built, though not without a struggle which ruined his clothes and his religion. De Haven spent the time in looking about for a good place to pitch his tent until the hut was finished, and by the time he had decided upon a suitable site for that a rain and wind storm ruined most of the unfinished hut. About the time they had got it about half repaired, they learned that they hadn't located it on the line, or near the line, but on another man's land. The captain was utterly discouraged at lover's labor being thus lost, and laid the blame of onto De Haven, and for a time it seemed that a dissolution of partnership must follow, but a board of arbitration was appointed, and a settlement effected without any blood being shed.

CALLED INTO COURT

A Quartet of Young Men Arrested for Burglary - A Farce on Justice - The Base Ball Thumper.

Last Sunday afternoon a young man residing in this city showed Officer Tyson some builded hardware, which he had bought of a fellow who he thought had stolen it. There were locks, window fasteners, etc., and he had bought the lot for a dollar. He told the officer where he could find the one who sold them, and Tyson going to the saloon pointed out, there found the one wanted, who gave his name as William Ross. Ross was pretty drunk when arrested, but on getting somewhat sobered up yesterday, squealed, and acknowledged that he had stolen them, or helped to steal the goods. He said there were three others, who were into the job and going with the officer soon pointed them out on the street. The three young men thus arrested on his squeal, gave their names as Harry Carns, Frank Hall and William Parolee. Their cases will set for this morning at 10 o'clock, bail being fixed at $300 each. Parolee was the only one able to furnish that amount, and he was let free, while the others were locked up. Parolee has friends here, and it is claimed that his arrest is a case of mistaken identity, and that he will be able to show himself innocent.

The plunder which the gang secured consists of some hardware which was stored in a building owned by Mr. Wheeler, late proprietor of the Revere house. He had the hardware on hand preparatory to using it in some houses which he is building. There are also several overcoats which the fellows are said to have picked up, and which belong to different parties.

ESCAPING JUSTICE. The case of Tom Dorsey, charged with highway robbery, was again called in Justice Franey's court yesterday, but as no prosecution appeared the prisoner was discharged. There will be some surprise at this termination of the case, and much righteous indignation. There seemed enough evidence to convict Dorsey, and to let a case of highway robbery fall to the ground thus is a shame to the administration of justice in this community. It appears that Dorsey and a fellow named McCarthy assaulted an old man named Schmidt and a boy named Miller and took a valise from the old man and an accordion from the boy. Officers Sterling and Morse captured the two, as they were going through the valise, and started for the station with them. Sterling took Dorsey and got him safely locked up. Morse took McCarthy, who was wanted for biting off young Gibson's ear, but on the way to the station McCarthy broke and ran. That easily disposed of his case. Now Dorsey has been discharged, the prosecution failing to appear. Schmidt, the old man who was robbed, was anxious to get at his work again, and so his testimony was taken last Saturday, and the case continued until Monday. The boy disappeared also. John Lindt was the attorney for the prosecution, but claimed that he was paid off and discharged by the old man last Saturday. It is innocently supposed by many tax payers that the county has an attorney under pay to attend to the prosecution of such cases, but no prosecuting attorney appeared on the scene. Thus Dorsey is set free. In view of such facts, it looks as if a premium is offered on highway robbery here, and it is not to be wondered at that thieves and crooks find in Council Bluffs a paradise. How long the law-abiding citizens will stand this sort of farcical proceeding is a mystery. An old man is knocked down on the streets at night and is robbed. Two men are arrested while going through the old man's valise. One is allowed to run away. The other is identified by the old man, who gives in his testimony and then goes about his work. Continuances are had, and the second man is allowed to go free. A greater farce can hardly be conceived. If this is to be kept up longer, there is little use of the law or officers to execute it.

A BIT OF VIOLENCE. Bart Carter, arrested for getting $4 from C. R. Mitchell, of the Rock Island house, on the strength of a forged order, bearing the name of another boarder, who had credit, was called up yesterday afternoon, but continued until Thursday next.

ASSAULTING A BOY. Keeler, the third baseman of the Leadville Blues, let his temper get away with him at the game here Saturday afternoon. Some rude boys were indulging in some aggravating cat-calls, and Keeler marched over to them, and instead of getting the right one, slapped an inoffensive youngster across the face, and very severely, causing the blood to flow freely. He was arrested for assault, gave bail until yesterday, and appearing before Justice Franey was fined $5 and costs, a very light penalty for such an act.

LET USSE. Still Bates, who was arrested for assault, was discharged yesterday, the complaining witness not identifying him as the man who thumped him.

Grand Fall and Winter Opening. A matter of much interest to the ladies of Council Bluffs and Western Iowa is the fact that Mrs. Bliss will exhibit her latest French pattern hats and bonnets on Friday and Saturday the 20th and 21st of this month. All are cordially invited to attend. No cards.

Y., writes: "I have been for over a year subject to serious disorder of the kidneys, and often unable to attend to business; I procured your BROWN'S BLOOD PURIFIER, and was relieved before half a bottle was used. I intend to continue, as I feel confident that they will entirely cure me. Price $1.00."

FOR SALE. My residence, No. 715 Fourth street Bancroft. L. F. MURPHY.

Hear Before Condemning. Mrs. Benedict, who is engaged in the work of establishing a home for fallen women at Des Moines, in an address delivered in that city, takes special pains to advertise myself and my home, and in a most unjust manner, twisting facts into the most palpable falsehoods, either through being misinformed by others, or by a desire to give something sensational, where there was no truth out of which to frame a sensation. The Nonpareil having given publicity here to her address, I desire to make a plain statement of the facts, that all may see what injustices has been done me, never met Mrs. Benedict but once. Then she called at my house, and desired to offer prayer. I informed her that I liked prayer well enough, but did not believe in prayer in a sporting house, and asked her if money would not answer her as well as prayer. She thought it would, and I gave her a liberal donation for the cause she was engaged in. In return she publicly states that I am aiding in the ruin of young girls, and am in partnership with a railway conductor who gathers them in for me. The simple facts of the case are that the so-called "girls" are professional, experienced sporting women, who have boarded in Chicago and other cities before coming here, and came of their own free will and accord. She says that "one of them" was soon to become a mother and that the unborn babe, if a daughter, was sold to Belle Glover to pay for the mother's board and nursing. The fact is that the one referred to was not in that condition when she entered my home, but became so afterwards, and she has always done, I cared for her at my own expense, and saw that she had all the comforts for so far as to close one house entirely, that she might occupy it undisturbed, and allowing her a young lady comrade to care for her. After thus showing for her, it seems that Mrs. Benedict, in making such charges, shows less charity, less kindness, less sense of justice than is common among those whom she looks down upon as the fallen. As to the girl being seduced under promise of marriage, or clandestinely leaving her father's house, together with other romantic incidents, thrown in to make it a national, and thrill the sisters, is all bomb. Whatever I may have done, and none are perfect, the charges thus publicly made are false throughout. BELLE GLOVER.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, October 14.

Attention, Knights. All members of the order of the K. of P. in this city are most earnestly requested to be present at Castle hall, on Pearl street, at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday evening, October 17, 1882. No time to spare. All members of executive and all sub-committees are expected to be there as the various reports must be made by that time so that the work assigned can be carried out. W. R. VAUGHAN, Pres. Ex. Committee.

EDWIN J. ARBOTT, Secretary.

What Has He Done? We desire to ask the people who have the possibility of his election in their hands whether action as a railway commissioner has been such as to recommend Mr. Anderson's promotion to a higher office? What has he done for the benefit of the people in the office which he now holds? What recommendations has he made as a commissioner calculated to correct the unjust rates of freight on the trunk lines of railway, whereby the farmers of Iowa are deprived of a large part of the annual production of their farms and of their own labor? Before Mr. Anderson is elected to another position of greater responsibility we have a right to know whether he has been a faithful public servant of the people in the office which he now holds.

The "Chicago and St. Louis pool lines" embrace the trunk lines of railway that run through our state. While Mr. Anderson is running for congress in this district the people are defraying his election expenses, in part by paying him a salary of three thousand dollars a year under the impression that he is trying to protect their interests against the legalized robberies of the railroad corporations.

Has Mr. Anderson entered any project against the "new tariff" which materially increases the present rates" on the Iowa pool lines? Did he present himself as an officer of this state at the Chicago meeting and enter his protest against the further robbery of the people whose servant he is? What has he done to protect the interests of the farmers and producers of Iowa?

As a citizen of Iowa we are ashamed to say that he has taken no action to prevent this new scheme of robbery. While the voters have been laying their plans for a new combination by means of which they will filch from the farmers of the state the profits of their crops produced this year, Mr. Anderson has been organizing caucuses and executing postoffice bonds and manipulating delegates so that he might secure an election to congress. While he has been neglecting his duty as a public officer the Shylocks at Chicago have quite joyfully arranged to fleece the people. -Glenwood Journal.

Dorsey Again in Jail. Tom Dorsey, who was yesterday released from one charge of highway robbery, was last night re-arrested for robbing a C. R. Planning for patronage. If Mr. Pussey should be elected he would have to do business with the administration and would have no voice in the distribution of patronage. -[Nonpareil.]

The above sentence shows what John Chapman is fighting for. He must have all the federal offices under his direct control. To do this he must elect Anderson. He did not want so heavy a vote. For whose good would not have been a tool. For four years Chapman plotted, planned, bargained and sold his soul to the devil and his body to corruption to gain the nomination of some man who would do his bidding. Was Anderson nominated for the party's good? Surely not; any other man would have polled a heavier vote. For whose good then, was he nominated? For John Chapman's. The Nonpareil is alarmed and says it is dangerous to send a democrat from this district. Why didn't it think of that before the convention? The republicans of this district who owe the ring no debt of gratitude to him, was no future profit from that source will not be forced into voting for a man who bought his nomination. In 1882 the republican party in convention assembled, declared it to be the duty of the party and of good men to defeat a bad candidate whenever nominated. If there were a time when such resolution should be enforced it is to-day. It demands the defeat of Anderson. -Walnut News.
