

The Daily Bee

OMAHA

Wednesday Morning, Oct. 18, 1882

Weather Report

The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations named.

WAB DEPARTMENT, U. S. SPECIAL SERVICE, OMAHA, Oct. 17, 1882. (1:45 p.m.)

Table with columns for Station, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, and other weather-related data.

Notes regarding water levels and other observations.

LOCAL NEWS

The new moon has put in an appearance. Old Fellows' excursion to Fremont on Thursday.

The registrars in the various wards set next Monday and thereafter. Mrs. G. P. Bents and her sister, Miss Jean Brown, have returned from the east.

The Australian cricket club passed through Omaha Monday en route to their home after a successful trip east. Hon. A. J. Poppleton will deliver the oration at the laying of the corner stone of the court house on the 15th.

The Catholic chapel of the diocese of Nebraska will meet today at the chapel of Trinity Cathedral. Business meeting immediately thereafter.

Sherman Canfield has been appointed corporal in the University battalion of Lincoln. Sherman is a manly looking boy and a gentleman, and deserves all the honors his friends give him.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Catholic chapter of the diocese of Nebraska will be held in the Catholic chapel today at 10 o'clock a. m. Business meeting immediately thereafter.

Judge Benke has a valuable collection of coins which he will contribute to the sealed box to be deposited in the corner of the new court house. It includes every denomination of German copper, nickel and silver coins from one pfening to two marks, and also several Chinese coins, one of which is 400 years old.

Monday the Young Men's Christian association moved into their new rooms, Standard hall, Fifteenth and Farnam streets, where they will hereafter be found. They are making every arrangement to entertain their state convention, which will be held in this city 19th to the 23rd of this month.

GREEK METS CREEK.

The Reformation Given to a Standing Democratic Lie.

The Prohibition Leader in Nebraska Lays Down the Law.

SARASOTA, October 16, 1882.—Hon. J. Sterling Morton, democratic candidate for governor of Nebraska: Dear Sir: I address you as a candidate of the party of which both you and I have been members.

So am I, when the party stands by democratic principles. The party in this state this fall, by refusing to put a plank in its platform in favor of submitting an amendment to the state constitution, abandoned the fundamental principles of democracy. The plank of the democratic platform which deals with the liquor question, is illogical, non-sensical and un-American.

You have offered to discuss the issues of the campaign with the republicans. The prohibitionists were content to rest in silence and let the old parties fight it out as long as they were left alone. This I told you personally today. In the face of such knowledge you as a party candidate saw fit in your speech in the City hall to-night to burlesque prohibition and thereby every prohibitionist denounce in the state.

The page which you have thrown down I take up, and will be happy to discuss the prohibition issue with you before the people of the state. I will commence Monday night, October 23, and divide time with you each night until election upon such terms as our mutual friends, George B. Skinner and H. C. Lett may fix. I hope this will meet your approval.

Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Druggists. METROPOLITAN HOTEL, OMAHA, NEB. Tables supplied with the best market affords. The traveling public claim they get better accommodations and more general satisfaction here than at any other house in Omaha.

There was a charming wedding service at St. Philomena's cathedral, on Ninth street, yesterday, at which the Rev. Father English officiated. The high contracting parties were Mr. Vincent Macken, a prominent and promising young man of Columbus, Neb., and Miss Lizzie Fagan, whose parents reside at No. 1021 Chicago street.

The attendants were Mr. James Fagan and Miss Maggie Fagan, brother and sister of the bride. The bride was elegantly dressed in crepe de chine, trimmed with wreaths of orange blossoms, and the groom wore the conventional black dress suit.

Immediately after the ceremony at St. Philomena's the party drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous repast was spread. The wedding presents were numerous and very valuable, the following including a portion of them: From the bride's parents, splendid piano; groom, elegant gold watch and chain; Mr. and Mrs. Owen McCaffrey, silver casket; Mr. and Mrs. Hahn, majolica tea set; Miss Whitney, fruit plates; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Leeder, set silver tea knives; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Farnor, Russia silver album; Miss Lina Hall, silver fruit knives; Messrs. Fectory & Connelly, individual salt and pepper sets; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Gentlemen, silver casket; Mrs. Taos, Gentlemen, damask table cloth and napkins; Mr. and Mrs. Gleason, butter knife and dishes; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McNamara, silver tea set; Miss Jane and Mr. John Macken, silver tea set; Mrs. Mary Jordan, silver pickle case; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hall, cake basket; Mrs. McCausland and Miss Maud Chester, silver bouquet holder; Mrs. Lucas, silver cake basket; Miss Nellie Doan, fruit dish; Mrs. Smith, butter dishes; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Allen, silver pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gault, silver pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. Vase, silver cake basket; Mr. and Mrs. Ball, elegant casket; Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Barry, ice cream service; Mrs. Hollan, toilet set; Mr. and Mrs. William Gentlemen, Majolica cup and saucer; Miss Nellie Macken, elegant silver box set holder.

The "Hawthorn Centennial Excelsior Roof Paint" was patented May 24th, 1881, and others patent number 241, 803. Any person found or known to tamper with the manufacture of said paint will be punished to the full extent of law. No person has any authority whatever to sell receipts. HAWTHORN & CO., Lancaster Pa.

The Water Works. An important change has taken place in the organization of the Omaha water works company, it being the result of negotiations which have been pending for over a month, and which were consummated yesterday. S. Shelton has sold his interest in the water works to a syndicate composed of A. E. Touzart, vice president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway; the banking firm of Caldwell, Hamilton & Co.; H. W. Yates, partner of the Nebraska National bank; John A. McShane and D. H. Goodrich. The company is now composed

GARFIELD MONUMENT

A Call to Nebraska to Contribute to the Cause.

WASHINGTON, October 8, 1882

To the People of the State of Nebraska: The society of the army of the Cumberland, through its Garfield monument committee, has determined to give, under provisions of a joint resolution of August 5, 1882, a national fair and reception, industrial and art exposition, to be held in the grounds and adjacent rooms of the United States capitol, commencing on the 25th day of November, and to continue until the 3d day of December, 1882.

It is stated that De Laurier is now held in jail where he has been kept for some time as prosecuting witness in the case, and that the state will file a charge of perjury against him. Inquiry at the courts does not show that any such complaint has yet been filed. In view of the conflicting testimony in the Shephardson case, it looks likely that De Laurier, although it must be admitted he has acted decidedly queer about the whole case, has not stood by his friends. The prosecution will go a long way to show that they pursue this matter any further. They had better drop the whole business at once as they would a rotten egg. This thing of confining people without due process to await the leisure of officers of the law is getting monstrous and it is time to cry halt. This Bill is the last to defend a criminal of any sort and on the other hand it is tired of trumped up charges and the holding of prisoners without justice or right. If there are charges against a man let them be put on record, if not, let men have the liberty they are entitled to. There is too much of this business.

A burglar or burglars chloroformed the family of William Anderson, a member of the board of education, at about 10 o'clock on Monday night. Anderson was in the Union Pacific railroad station at Omaha, and carried off cash amounting to $50 and papers of no value to anyone but the owner. The front door was left open, and Mr. Anderson's unmentionables, minus the cash, were near the gate. The watch dog was asleep too.

In the police court yesterday Charles Smoka was arraigned for stealing three sidewalk planks from Foster & Gray's lumber yard, and was sent up for ten days at hard labor. Constable Boyden, lately appointed for the Fourth ward, was arrested Monday afternoon on a complaint of assault, preferred by Mrs. Julia Lange, of South Omaha. Boyden's friends do not take much stock in the charge, especially as he was in the charge of his duty and the complaining witness testified that he did not understand the English language, but the law makes allowance for a lack of knowledge of its requirements and does not compel its officers to understand several different languages.

Pet Koverly, an old offender, was arrested for intoxication, and was sent up for ten days on bread and water. John Nelson was arrested for stealing a pair of pants from Lawrence Madsen. James Emory was under arrest. A friend was also hauled in for alleged interference with the officer who made the arrest.

Another enthusiastic audience was delighted with McKee Rankin's rendition of "49" and "Carrots" infectious gaiety at Boyd's opera house last evening. To-night the "Danites," undoubtedly the strongest and best of all American plays, newly constructed and improved since its London success, will be given. Those who have been so fortunate as to see this drama during its first stages of success will do well to see Mr. Rankin in his grand character of "Sandy," to night.

"Billy Piper" is a creation that will more than please the gentler sex. The "Carson," it will be remembered, was formerly Louis Aldrich's successful role, who is now playing "My Partner." The part of the Chinese is one of the strongest in any play, and in the hands of Luke Martin is said to far surpass Parot's creation in "My Partner." Archibald Boyd, as the "Judge," will give his delightful depictions of "The glorious climate of California," and become at home with the folks at once. And then there is the "Widow." These characters are ideal creations in their selves and would form striking parts alone. Those who have never seen the "Danites" will do well to take advantage of this excellent opportunity.

The lovers of good variety entertainments can not help but be pleased with the bill now being sustained by Manager Nugent at the Academy of Music. During the last week the business has been unusually large, and good seats in active demand. The present company embraces some of the very best variety talent, and give their specialties in a lively and very enjoyable manner. The olio is now a decided feature of the evening's performance. Sam Yager and Tommy Adams are the best comedy humorists that have yet appeared. Miss Ollie Sutter made her first appearance last evening and was enthusiastically recalled after her first song. Melville and Frances have made their re-appearance after a short absence and for a few nights more will perform their thrilling feats on the La Chella Perilous from the dome of the Academy.

Miss Eva Lester is a new member of the company and gives a sparkling bit of song portraiture that is very enjoyable and good. Miss Annie Raymond is still retained. We may be too worldly; anyway her songs don't remind us of a nightingale's warbling. The four Hollywood children form the greatest attraction of the evening. Their songs, dances and sketches entitled "Juvenile Courtship" is very enjoyable and refreshing. Tommy Adams, in his character of

GARFIELD MONUMENT

A Call to Nebraska to Contribute to the Cause.

WASHINGTON, October 8, 1882

To the People of the State of Nebraska: The society of the army of the Cumberland, through its Garfield monument committee, has determined to give, under provisions of a joint resolution of August 5, 1882, a national fair and reception, industrial and art exposition, to be held in the grounds and adjacent rooms of the United States capitol, commencing on the 25th day of November, and to continue until the 3d day of December, 1882.

It is stated that De Laurier is now held in jail where he has been kept for some time as prosecuting witness in the case, and that the state will file a charge of perjury against him. Inquiry at the courts does not show that any such complaint has yet been filed. In view of the conflicting testimony in the Shephardson case, it looks likely that De Laurier, although it must be admitted he has acted decidedly queer about the whole case, has not stood by his friends. The prosecution will go a long way to show that they pursue this matter any further. They had better drop the whole business at once as they would a rotten egg. This thing of confining people without due process to await the leisure of officers of the law is getting monstrous and it is time to cry halt. This Bill is the last to defend a criminal of any sort and on the other hand it is tired of trumped up charges and the holding of prisoners without justice or right. If there are charges against a man let them be put on record, if not, let men have the liberty they are entitled to. There is too much of this business.

A burglar or burglars chloroformed the family of William Anderson, a member of the board of education, at about 10 o'clock on Monday night. Anderson was in the Union Pacific railroad station at Omaha, and carried off cash amounting to $50 and papers of no value to anyone but the owner. The front door was left open, and Mr. Anderson's unmentionables, minus the cash, were near the gate. The watch dog was asleep too.

In the police court yesterday Charles Smoka was arraigned for stealing three sidewalk planks from Foster & Gray's lumber yard, and was sent up for ten days at hard labor. Constable Boyden, lately appointed for the Fourth ward, was arrested Monday afternoon on a complaint of assault, preferred by Mrs. Julia Lange, of South Omaha. Boyden's friends do not take much stock in the charge, especially as he was in the charge of his duty and the complaining witness testified that he did not understand the English language, but the law makes allowance for a lack of knowledge of its requirements and does not compel its officers to understand several different languages.

Pet Koverly, an old offender, was arrested for intoxication, and was sent up for ten days on bread and water. John Nelson was arrested for stealing a pair of pants from Lawrence Madsen. James Emory was under arrest. A friend was also hauled in for alleged interference with the officer who made the arrest.

Another enthusiastic audience was delighted with McKee Rankin's rendition of "49" and "Carrots" infectious gaiety at Boyd's opera house last evening. To-night the "Danites," undoubtedly the strongest and best of all American plays, newly constructed and improved since its London success, will be given. Those who have been so fortunate as to see this drama during its first stages of success will do well to see Mr. Rankin in his grand character of "Sandy," to night.

"Billy Piper" is a creation that will more than please the gentler sex. The "Carson," it will be remembered, was formerly Louis Aldrich's successful role, who is now playing "My Partner." The part of the Chinese is one of the strongest in any play, and in the hands of Luke Martin is said to far surpass Parot's creation in "My Partner." Archibald Boyd, as the "Judge," will give his delightful depictions of "The glorious climate of California," and become at home with the folks at once. And then there is the "Widow." These characters are ideal creations in their selves and would form striking parts alone. Those who have never seen the "Danites" will do well to take advantage of this excellent opportunity.

The lovers of good variety entertainments can not help but be pleased with the bill now being sustained by Manager Nugent at the Academy of Music. During the last week the business has been unusually large, and good seats in active demand. The present company embraces some of the very best variety talent, and give their specialties in a lively and very enjoyable manner. The olio is now a decided feature of the evening's performance. Sam Yager and Tommy Adams are the best comedy humorists that have yet appeared. Miss Ollie Sutter made her first appearance last evening and was enthusiastically recalled after her first song. Melville and Frances have made their re-appearance after a short absence and for a few nights more will perform their thrilling feats on the La Chella Perilous from the dome of the Academy.

Miss Eva Lester is a new member of the company and gives a sparkling bit of song portraiture that is very enjoyable and good. Miss Annie Raymond is still retained. We may be too worldly; anyway her songs don't remind us of a nightingale's warbling. The four Hollywood children form the greatest attraction of the evening. Their songs, dances and sketches entitled "Juvenile Courtship" is very enjoyable and refreshing. Tommy Adams, in his character of

GARFIELD MONUMENT

A Call to Nebraska to Contribute to the Cause.

WASHINGTON, October 8, 1882

To the People of the State of Nebraska: The society of the army of the Cumberland, through its Garfield monument committee, has determined to give, under provisions of a joint resolution of August 5, 1882, a national fair and reception, industrial and art exposition, to be held in the grounds and adjacent rooms of the United States capitol, commencing on the 25th day of November, and to continue until the 3d day of December, 1882.

It is stated that De Laurier is now held in jail where he has been kept for some time as prosecuting witness in the case, and that the state will file a charge of perjury against him. Inquiry at the courts does not show that any such complaint has yet been filed. In view of the conflicting testimony in the Shephardson case, it looks likely that De Laurier, although it must be admitted he has acted decidedly queer about the whole case, has not stood by his friends. The prosecution will go a long way to show that they pursue this matter any further. They had better drop the whole business at once as they would a rotten egg. This thing of confining people without due process to await the leisure of officers of the law is getting monstrous and it is time to cry halt. This Bill is the last to defend a criminal of any sort and on the other hand it is tired of trumped up charges and the holding of prisoners without justice or right. If there are charges against a man let them be put on record, if not, let men have the liberty they are entitled to. There is too much of this business.

A burglar or burglars chloroformed the family of William Anderson, a member of the board of education, at about 10 o'clock on Monday night. Anderson was in the Union Pacific railroad station at Omaha, and carried off cash amounting to $50 and papers of no value to anyone but the owner. The front door was left open, and Mr. Anderson's unmentionables, minus the cash, were near the gate. The watch dog was asleep too.

In the police court yesterday Charles Smoka was arraigned for stealing three sidewalk planks from Foster & Gray's lumber yard, and was sent up for ten days at hard labor. Constable Boyden, lately appointed for the Fourth ward, was arrested Monday afternoon on a complaint of assault, preferred by Mrs. Julia Lange, of South Omaha. Boyden's friends do not take much stock in the charge, especially as he was in the charge of his duty and the complaining witness testified that he did not understand the English language, but the law makes allowance for a lack of knowledge of its requirements and does not compel its officers to understand several different languages.

Pet Koverly, an old offender, was arrested for intoxication, and was sent up for ten days on bread and water. John Nelson was arrested for stealing a pair of pants from Lawrence Madsen. James Emory was under arrest. A friend was also hauled in for alleged interference with the officer who made the arrest.

Another enthusiastic audience was delighted with McKee Rankin's rendition of "49" and "Carrots" infectious gaiety at Boyd's opera house last evening. To-night the "Danites," undoubtedly the strongest and best of all American plays, newly constructed and improved since its London success, will be given. Those who have been so fortunate as to see this drama during its first stages of success will do well to see Mr. Rankin in his grand character of "Sandy," to night.

"Billy Piper" is a creation that will more than please the gentler sex. The "Carson," it will be remembered, was formerly Louis Aldrich's successful role, who is now playing "My Partner." The part of the Chinese is one of the strongest in any play, and in the hands of Luke Martin is said to far surpass Parot's creation in "My Partner." Archibald Boyd, as the "Judge," will give his delightful depictions of "The glorious climate of California," and become at home with the folks at once. And then there is the "Widow." These characters are ideal creations in their selves and would form striking parts alone. Those who have never seen the "Danites" will do well to take advantage of this excellent opportunity.

The lovers of good variety entertainments can not help but be pleased with the bill now being sustained by Manager Nugent at the Academy of Music. During the last week the business has been unusually large, and good seats in active demand. The present company embraces some of the very best variety talent, and give their specialties in a lively and very enjoyable manner. The olio is now a decided feature of the evening's performance. Sam Yager and Tommy Adams are the best comedy humorists that have yet appeared. Miss Ollie Sutter made her first appearance last evening and was enthusiastically recalled after her first song. Melville and Frances have made their re-appearance after a short absence and for a few nights more will perform their thrilling feats on the La Chella Perilous from the dome of the Academy.

Miss Eva Lester is a new member of the company and gives a sparkling bit of song portraiture that is very enjoyable and good. Miss Annie Raymond is still retained. We may be too worldly; anyway her songs don't remind us of a nightingale's warbling. The four Hollywood children form the greatest attraction of the evening. Their songs, dances and sketches entitled "Juvenile Courtship" is very enjoyable and refreshing. Tommy Adams, in his character of

GARFIELD MONUMENT

A Call to Nebraska to Contribute to the Cause.

WASHINGTON, October 8, 1882

To the People of the State of Nebraska: The society of the army of the Cumberland, through its Garfield monument committee, has determined to give, under provisions of a joint resolution of August 5, 1882, a national fair and reception, industrial and art exposition, to be held in the grounds and adjacent rooms of the United States capitol, commencing on the 25th day of November, and to continue until the 3d day of December, 1882.

It is stated that De Laurier is now held in jail where he has been kept for some time as prosecuting witness in the case, and that the state will file a charge of perjury against him. Inquiry at the courts does not show that any such complaint has yet been filed. In view of the conflicting testimony in the Shephardson case, it looks likely that De Laurier, although it must be admitted he has acted decidedly queer about the whole case, has not stood by his friends. The prosecution will go a long way to show that they pursue this matter any further. They had better drop the whole business at once as they would a rotten egg. This thing of confining people without due process to await the leisure of officers of the law is getting monstrous and it is time to cry halt. This Bill is the last to defend a criminal of any sort and on the other hand it is tired of trumped up charges and the holding of prisoners without justice or right. If there are charges against a man let them be put on record, if not, let men have the liberty they are entitled to. There is too much of this business.

A burglar or burglars chloroformed the family of William Anderson, a member of the board of education, at about 10 o'clock on Monday night. Anderson was in the Union Pacific railroad station at Omaha, and carried off cash amounting to $50 and papers of no value to anyone but the owner. The front door was left open, and Mr. Anderson's unmentionables, minus the cash, were near the gate. The watch dog was asleep too.

In the police court yesterday Charles Smoka was arraigned for stealing three sidewalk planks from Foster & Gray's lumber yard, and was sent up for ten days at hard labor. Constable Boyden, lately appointed for the Fourth ward, was arrested Monday afternoon on a complaint of assault, preferred by Mrs. Julia Lange, of South Omaha. Boyden's friends do not take much stock in the charge, especially as he was in the charge of his duty and the complaining witness testified that he did not understand the English language, but the law makes allowance for a lack of knowledge of its requirements and does not compel its officers to understand several different languages.

Pet Koverly, an old offender, was arrested for intoxication, and was sent up for ten days on bread and water. John Nelson was arrested for stealing a pair of pants from Lawrence Madsen. James Emory was under arrest. A friend was also hauled in for alleged interference with the officer who made the arrest.

Another enthusiastic audience was delighted with McKee Rankin's rendition of "49" and "Carrots" infectious gaiety at Boyd's opera house last evening. To-night the "Danites," undoubtedly the strongest and best of all American plays, newly constructed and improved since its London success, will be given. Those who have been so fortunate as to see this drama during its first stages of success will do well to see Mr. Rankin in his grand character of "Sandy," to night.

"Billy Piper" is a creation that will more than please the gentler sex. The "Carson," it will be remembered, was formerly Louis Aldrich's successful role, who is now playing "My Partner." The part of the Chinese is one of the strongest in any play, and in the hands of Luke Martin is said to far surpass Parot's creation in "My Partner." Archibald Boyd, as the "Judge," will give his delightful depictions of "The glorious climate of California," and become at home with the folks at once. And then there is the "Widow." These characters are ideal creations in their selves and would form striking parts alone. Those who have never seen the "Danites" will do well to take advantage of this excellent opportunity.

The lovers of good variety entertainments can not help but be pleased with the bill now being sustained by Manager Nugent at the Academy of Music. During the last week the business has been unusually large, and good seats in active demand. The present company embraces some of the very best variety talent, and give their specialties in a lively and very enjoyable manner. The olio is now a decided feature of the evening's performance. Sam Yager and Tommy Adams are the best comedy humorists that have yet appeared. Miss Ollie Sutter made her first appearance last evening and was enthusiastically recalled after her first song. Melville and Frances have made their re-appearance after a short absence and for a few nights more will perform their thrilling feats on the La Chella Perilous from the dome of the Academy.

Miss Eva Lester is a new member of the company and gives a sparkling bit of song portraiture that is very enjoyable and good. Miss Annie Raymond is still retained. We may be too worldly; anyway her songs don't remind us of a nightingale's warbling. The four Hollywood children form the greatest attraction of the evening. Their songs, dances and sketches entitled "Juvenile Courtship" is very enjoyable and refreshing. Tommy Adams, in his character of

GARFIELD MONUMENT

A Call to Nebraska to Contribute to the Cause.

WASHINGTON, October 8, 1882

To the People of the State of Nebraska: The society of the army of the Cumberland, through its Garfield monument committee, has determined to give, under provisions of a joint resolution of August 5, 1882, a national fair and reception, industrial and art exposition, to be held in the grounds and adjacent rooms of the United States capitol, commencing on the 25th day of November, and to continue until the 3d day of December, 1882.

It is stated that De Laurier is now held in jail where he has been kept for some time as prosecuting witness in the case, and that the state will file a charge of perjury against him. Inquiry at the courts does not show that any such complaint has yet been filed. In view of the conflicting testimony in the Shephardson case, it looks likely that De Laurier, although it must be admitted he has acted decidedly queer about the whole case, has not stood by his friends. The prosecution will go a long way to show that they pursue this matter any further. They had better drop the whole business at once as they would a rotten egg. This thing of confining people without due process to await the leisure of officers of the law is getting monstrous and it is time to cry halt. This Bill is the last to defend a criminal of any sort and on the other hand it is tired of trumped up charges and the holding of prisoners without justice or right. If there are charges against a man let them be put on record, if not, let men have the liberty they are entitled to. There is too much of this business.

A burglar or burglars chloroformed the family of William Anderson, a member of the board of education, at about 10 o'clock on Monday night. Anderson was in the Union Pacific railroad station at Omaha, and carried off cash amounting to $50 and papers of no value to anyone but the owner. The front door was left open, and Mr. Anderson's unmentionables, minus the cash, were near the gate. The watch dog was asleep too.

In the police court yesterday Charles Smoka was arraigned for stealing three sidewalk planks from Foster & Gray's lumber yard, and was sent up for ten days at hard labor. Constable Boyden, lately appointed for the Fourth ward, was arrested Monday afternoon on a complaint of assault, preferred by Mrs. Julia Lange, of South Omaha. Boyden's friends do not take much stock in the charge, especially as he was in the charge of his duty and the complaining witness testified that he did not understand the English language, but the law makes allowance for a lack of knowledge of its requirements and does not compel its officers to understand several different languages.

Pet Koverly, an old offender, was arrested for intoxication, and was sent up for ten days on bread and water. John Nelson was arrested for stealing a pair of pants from Lawrence Madsen. James Emory was under arrest. A friend was also hauled in for alleged interference with the officer who made the arrest.

Another enthusiastic audience was delighted with McKee Rankin's rendition of "49" and "Carrots" infectious gaiety at Boyd's opera house last evening. To-night the "Danites," undoubtedly the strongest and best of all American plays, newly constructed and improved since its London success, will be given. Those who have been so fortunate as to see this drama during its first stages of success will do well to see Mr. Rankin in his grand character of "Sandy," to night.

"Billy Piper" is a creation that will more than please the gentler sex. The "Carson," it will be remembered, was formerly Louis Aldrich's successful role, who is now playing "My Partner." The part of the Chinese is one of the strongest in any play, and in the hands of Luke Martin is said to far surpass Parot's creation in "My Partner." Archibald Boyd, as the "Judge," will give his delightful depictions of "The glorious climate of California," and become at home with the folks at once. And then there is the "Widow." These characters are ideal creations in their selves and would form striking parts alone. Those who have never seen the "Danites" will do well to take advantage of this excellent opportunity.

The lovers of good variety entertainments can not help but be pleased with the bill now being sustained by Manager Nugent at the Academy of Music. During the last week the business has been unusually large, and good seats in active demand. The present company embraces some of the very best variety talent, and give their specialties in a lively and very enjoyable manner. The olio is now a decided feature of the evening's performance. Sam Yager and Tommy Adams are the best comedy humorists that have yet appeared. Miss Ollie Sutter made her first appearance last evening and was enthusiastically recalled after her first song. Melville and Frances have made their re-appearance after a short absence and for a few nights more will perform their thrilling feats on the La Chella Perilous from the dome of the Academy.

Miss Eva Lester is a new member of the company and gives a sparkling bit of song portraiture that is very enjoyable and good. Miss Annie Raymond is still retained. We may be too worldly; anyway her songs don't remind us of a nightingale's warbling. The four Hollywood children form the greatest attraction of the evening. Their songs, dances and sketches entitled "Juvenile Courtship" is very enjoyable and refreshing. Tommy Adams, in his character of ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure. This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness.