OMAHA MARKETS.

Wholesale Prices.

OFFICE OF THE OMAHA BEE, Saturday Evening, October 21.

The wholesale trade of the city in most lines for the past week has been only moderate. Jobbers in dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, hats and caps and millinery complain of the warm weather having a retarding influence on trade. Values remain remarkably steady and all are anticipating increased activity as soon as the weather changes.

Groceries are moving liberally and prices as a rule are steady, though we note a decline on sugars and canned goods during the week.

The commission business is reported as active, both on local and shipping account.

Dairy products are scarce and in demand, choice butter selling on arrival as high as 30 cents. Cheese is moving more freely and firm at quotations.

Eggs are scarce and advancing; sold today at 23 cents.

Winter apples are arriving freely and meeting with ready sale at $3 00@3 50.

Peaches are in fair supply; demand light, and selling at $1 00 per crate of four baskets.

Concord grapes are in light supply; demand fair, and selling at $1.00@1 25 per basket of 20 pounds. Catawba grapes in 5 lb. boxes are selling at 50 cents per box.

Lemons are in good supply; demand very light, and selling at $4.50@5.00 per box.

Oranges are in limited supply and selling at $10.00 per bbl.

Bananas are still in the market; demand light, and selling at $2.50@4 00 per bunch.

Potatoes are coming in freely, and from 30@40 cents per bushel is being paid for large lots.

Onions are in large supply; demand light and selling at 30@50 cents per bushel.

The market is abundantly supplied with oysters and celery, and prices declining.

Cut meats of all kinds are scarce, and bacon and dry salt are higher; an advance of fully 1c is sustained.

Flour movement is moderate at quotations, while bran and chopped feed is scarce and in demand.

Beans, in bulk, selling in car lots on track at $11.50, and sacked at $12.50.

The local grain market continues to improve slowly and prices slightly advanced since our last review, corn, however, being the most decided, showing an advance of 5 cents.
