such other parts as would make handsome specimens for cabinets. These logs were, no doubt, trunks of trees that had floated about on the ancient lakes until they became water-logged and sunk to the bottom.

In the year 1861, a big flood washed out a great number of petrified stumps of trees along a ravine running from near the old Daney mine, Spring valley, down to Carson river.

Some four miles east of the sink of the Carson, an upheaval of granite has so raised this sedimentary formation as to show it to be about 800 feet in thickness.

Persons recovering from wasting diseases, such as malaria, fevers, etc., will be greatly benefited by the use of Brown's Iron Bitter, a true tonic.

Reviewing the situation. Brooklyn Eagle. "I see that Mr. Beecher has abandoned the ministry and quit religion altogether," observed Mrs. Spoonendyke.

"That's what I said," argued Mrs. Spoonendyke, laying the pattern on the cloth and beginning to cut it out.

"I didn't suppose they'd hurt him," said Mrs. Spoonendyke, scratching her nose with the scissors and frowning at the allowance for the seams.

NEVADA FOSSILS. Footprints of Eocene Animals—Petrified Trees—An Interesting Story.

Now that so much is being said about the tracks of antediluvian elephants and prehistoric man at the states prison quarry near Carson, it may be that some of the scientists of the Pacific coast may think it worth while to take a look at the tracks beyond Dayton, near the mouth of El Dorado canyon.

"Oh, you've got it!" yelled Mrs. Spoonendyke. "There's the whole Christian religion in a teacup! If you only had red cushions and a rack nailed up in front of you, you'd only need an overdue mortgage and a fight in the choir to be a dodged fastionable church! Let it alone, will ye! Drop the subject before that wonderful intelligence of yours drowns me out! Another time you want to talk, I'll get a messiah hen to listen to you!"

"I don't care," murmured Mrs. Spoonendyke, basting the lining into the front of the dress, "Mr. Beecher may not like these poor ministers or their religion, but that's no reason why he should leave them. He ought to show them the sinfulness of their ways and get them to abandon their hold on the bad plan. Anyway, I'm glad he's going to keep up preaching."

A good Baptist clergyman of Bergen, N. Y., a strong temperance man, suffered with the kidney trouble, neuralgia, and dizziness almost to blindness, over two years after he was told that Hop Bitters would cure him.

Clark Patten of Marion, on Friday morning left home to assist a neighbor named Thomas in rescuing his household goods from the latter's burning dwelling.

Anderson's Prospect. Since his nomination for congress at Council Bluffs by the republican district convention held June 22, 1882, such an exposure of Mr. Anderson's record has been made that his supporters would be glad to see him withdraw from the candidacy of the party if it could be done with safety.
