YORK, November 9.—Laird has 51 majority. The republican legislative ticket has a majority of 280.

GRAND ISLAND, November 9.—Harrison, republican, is elected senator; Cole, republican, and Dunman, anti-monopolist, representatives. The balance of the republican ticket is elected.

Official returns for this county are as follows: Daves 770, Morton 704, Ingralls 319; Valentine 790, Munger 728, Turner 273; Sturdevant 1,018, Clark 775; against amendment 1,189, for 389. Harrison, republican, is elected to the senate by about 300 majority; Cole, rep., and Dunman, anti-monopolist, are elected to the legislature.

DAVID CITY, Neb., November 9.—Butler county, official: Moore's majority, 392; Sturdevant, majority, 401; S. S. Reynolds, senator, majority, 1,004; Johnson, representative, majority, 169; Roberts, representative, majority, 80; Westover, district attorney, majority, 259; against amendment, majority, 792.

County officers: Sturdevant, anti-monopolist, state senator, 158; Wilker, rep., 375; Humphrey, rep., representative, 234; suffrage, for 508; against, 830.

NEBRASKA CITY, November 9.—Dawes received 935, Morton 1,975. Redick's majority is 450. Two legislators and one senator are democratic; one legislator republican. The vote will be canvassed to-morrow.

SEWARD, November 9.—Total vote of Seward county: Dawes 1,013, Morton 652, Ingralls 253, Clark 1,009, Sturdevant 892, Laird 914, Harmon 816, Moore 397. A democratic senator is elected and a republican representative.

LANCASTER, November 9.—The following is the total vote of Lancaster county: for governor James W. Dawes 3,310, J. Sterling Morton 1,099, E. P. Ingralls 391; for senators P. H. Walker, rep., 2,708, E. DEBOLLE, November 9.—Returns from all counties except Sioux make the result of the congressional election still in doubt. Munger's majority will be less than 100 and may be wiped out by frauds on the frontier. Munger, if defeated on the face of the returns, will contest Valentine's seat.

HASTINGS, November 9.—Returns received from nearly every county in the second district seem to assure Laird's election by a small majority. The anti-monopoly candidates for the legislature are generally successful.

ST. PAUL, November 9.—The anti-monopoly county ticket is elected by a small majority. J. N. Paul, the regular republican candidate for the legislature, is defeated by J. F. Dadd, a home spun farmer. Mr. Paul was too great a weight for the party to carry through.

CHEYENNE, November 9.—Cheyenne county casts 370 votes. Munger's majority is about one hundred. No returns from Sioux county yet. Heit's majority over Patterson is 325. The woman suffrage amendment gets about 15 votes in the county.

HARRISON, November 9.—Complete returns give Moore 734, Laird 549.

Sturdevant 790, Clark 553. The balance of the state ticket is about the same. For state senator, H. M. Rich 716, W. W. Lamb 588; for representatives, W. A. Town 675, J. V. West 568, B. F. Young 737, C. P. Leigh 615; district attorney, Sabin 748, Morris 557; against suffrage 557, for 310.

HARLAN COUNTY, ALMA, November 9.—The Herald of Alma and the Bee endorsed the farmers' rally for their rights. Adams rolls up 110 majority for Dr. Sadler, anti-monopoly candidate for senator. He is only 66 behind in the county, and as Phelps and Kearney counties roll up a large majority for him his election is sure. Returns are all in except Republican City, which gives Laird 420, Moore 244, Harlan 97, Morton 327, Abbott 327. Dawson, our republican candidate for representative, is elected. Sauer, the anti-monopoly candidate for floor representative for Harlan and Phelps, is elected by a heavy majority. There is a great success for the anti.

FRANKLIN COUNTY, BLOOMINGTON, Neb., November 9.—All but two precincts give Laird 312, Harmon 281, Moore 129. Sturdevant's majority is estimated at 140. Against suffrage there is a majority of sixty-five.

TEKAMAH, Neb., November 9.—Valentine will carry this county by about 100. Everything else is democratic except coroner. Turner is elected to the state senate. Turner will have 500 votes here.

AN ENEMY'S VIEW, LINCOLN, Neb., November 9.—Returns indicate the election of the republican state ticket with possible doubt on treasurer for which office the democrats and anti-monopolists nominated the same man. The state senate will be anti-monopoly. The house is doubtful. The Third congressional district is claimed by both parties.

FRAUD IN NORTH PLATTE, NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Nov. 9, 1892. To the Editor of The Bee.

Samuel F. Watts, anti-monopoly democrat, is elected to the legislature from this county. T. C. Pattersen, anti-monopoly republican for the state senate, carries this county by about 65 majority. Sturdevant carries North Platte precinct by 153 majority. The other precincts will increase his majority.

Valentine beat Munger by 117 in this county. Had it not been for fraud practiced by Valentine strikers, Munger would have carried the county. The fraud consisted in stealing the straight democratic tickets in outside precincts, and substituting a ticket with the democratic state ticket at the head, and Valentine name in the middle of the ticket.

On all the other tickets this congress headed the ticket. The same ticket was worked by railroad strikers in this precinct in a quiet way, and the fraud was not discovered until they began to canvass the vote. The stealing of the straight democratic tickets in one of the small precincts and substituting the fraudulent tickets was done by the son of one of our county officials, who boasts of having an annual pass, and of being the political agent of the Union Pacific railway company.

Anthony Reis, our present postmaster contracted with Senator Saunders a year ago to deliver the legislative vote of this county to the senator in return for his appointment as postmaster. The election of Hon. J. F. Watts over Wyman Reis' candidates, breaks the contract, so we suppose Reis will send his resignation in to the senator.

ANTI-MONOPOLY, CORRESPONDENCE OF THE BEE, WEEBING WATER, Neb., November 9, 1892.—Your correspondent has predicted the defeat of the republican party in Cass county from the time of the county convention, and yesterday the prophecy was fulfilled by a large majority for Patterson over E. L. Reed, the republican candidate for the state senate, and a capture of the four representatives with but little doubt. The republican papers in the county have been ignorant of the situation or have intentionally kept the party in darkness of the facts rendering their destruction for some unknown motive. Parties should, as well as persons, perceive the destruction that awaits them and act accordingly, and to this end the press should dispense knowledge and cast a shadow of coming events before the people. At county conventions weak and unpopular candidates should not be placed on the ticket with the hope that the strength of the party will elect the whole ticket. The people are awakening to the fact that primaries and conventions shall no more dictate their candidates, and unless worthy men who are to their interest, are placed in the field, the nominated candidates must expect a defeat and a demoralization of the republican party. Flattery with high flown diction and the abbreviation of "Hon" preceding the name of a candidate fails to strengthen or elect men to office by the votes of the people; for the time has now come when they demand rightly the regular republican candidate for the legislature, is defeated by J. F. Dadd, a home spun farmer. Mr. Paul was too great a weight for the party to carry through.

CHICAGO, November 9.—The last returns on congressmen indicate the election of Cullen and Thomas, republicans, in the Eighth and Twentieth districts, and Worthington, democrat, in the Tenth. The delegation would then stand 11 republicans, 9 democrats. The state legislature is very close on joint ballot. It is impossible to say which will have a majority until the returns are all in.

CHICAGO, November 9.—Returns on the state legislature show that the senate will be composed of 31 republicans and 20 democrats; house, 77 republicans and 23 democrats, with a possibility of 79; democrats, 74, with a possibility of 76, giving the republicans a majority of 12 or 15 on a joint ballot, which means the election of a republican United States senator. The result in the Twentieth congressional district is still in doubt, with the probabilities in favor of the democrats, which would make the congressional delegation stand republicans 11, democrats 9.

CHICAGO, November 9.—Returns to midnight on the result on state officers still in doubt. Smith, rep., for state treasurer, has a majority of about 7,000 over Grandorf, dem., on returns; but there are about twenty counties not heard from and as most of them are in the southern part, which is largely democratic, the full returns may overcome this. Stratton, rep., for superintendent of schools, runs behind his ticket, and the general opinion is he is defeated by Roob, dem.

MICHIGAN DELEGATION, DETROIT, November 9.—The Michigan delegation stands as follows: First district, Wm. C. Maybury, dem.; Second, N. E. Eldredge, dem.; Third, E. C. Lacey, rep.; Fourth, Geo. L. Yopie, dem.; Fifth, J. C. Houseman, dem.; Sixth, E. B. Williams, dem.; Seventh, E. C. Carleton, dem.; Eighth, E. G. Hoar, rep.; Ninth, B. M. Outchson, rep.; Tenth, H. R. Hatch, rep.; Eleventh, Edward Breitung, rep.

THE RESULT IN VIRGINIA, RICHMOND, November 9.—Returns up to 11 p. m. indicate the election of Garrison, democrat, in the First district, though the coalitionists still claim Mayo's election. The figures of all the counties so far heard from show that Massey, democrat, for congress at large, reduced Cameron's majority of last year to 5,000. He will need to do better in the remaining counties to defeat Wisa.

SENATOR HOAR'S SUCCESSOR, BOSTON, November 9.—The Journal says: It is written in the "Book of predictions" at the state house that Governor Long will be chosen United States senator to succeed Senator Hoar, whose term expires March 3, 1893. Lieutenant Governor Ames is looked as his successor in congress of 1893, and as his successor will not be needed at Washington unless there should be an extra session of congress in December, 1893. It will depend on the date of the election to fill the vacancy in the Twenty-eighth congressional district whether Ames will resign before the date of the meeting of

of the election and not before. Many of these trusted friends of the republican party prematurely exhibited and delivered these slimy little sheets to J. M. Patterson and voted yesterday and helped to elect him. VERITAS.

THE REVOLUTION IN OTHER STATES, SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE BEE.

THE REVOLT IN WISCONSIN, MILWAUKEE, November 9.—Returns for the state legislature are complete, showing the following composition: Senate, 19 republicans, 14 democrats, a democratic pair of 4; assembly, 52 republicans, 45 democrats, 2 trades assembly, and 1 independent republican, a loss of 12. The republican majority on joint ballot is 9. The First congressional district is still in doubt and claimed positively by the republicans and democrats. The former figure out a majority of 89 for Williams and the democrats claim that Wisconsin has 1,000 majority.

THE FORT PILLWY FIGHT, MEMPHIS, November 9.—General James R. Chalmers, independent democratic candidate for congress in the Second Mississippi district, opposing Van H. Manning, democratic nominee, is in the city. In an interview he asserts that bulldozing was practiced in Tallahatchie county, where the election was prevented from being held under the pretense of a fire of small pox, which deprived him of 500 votes, and the ballot box in DeSoto county, where the judges refused to hold an election, lost him 200 votes. Notwithstanding all this, he claims his election on the returns that have been received by 1,070 majority.

CLEVELAND STILL CLIMBING, ALBANY, November 9.—The Evening Journal estimates Cleveland's majority at 190,000; gives 85 democrats and 43 republicans in the assembly, and says the majority in favor of free canals is fully 150,000.

KENTUCKY'S DELEGATION, LOUISVILLE, Ky., November 9.—The Kentucky congressional delegation is 10 democrats, 1 republican. LOUISVILLE, November 9.—Later returns have been received from eleven counties in the Tenth district, which give Matt Adams, democrat, a majority of 140 over John D. White, republican. Nine mountain counties remain to be heard from, in several of which there will be majorities operating as a stand-off. Both parties claim the district, but all estimates are mere guesses, as no news can be had from distant mountain counties for some time. Omitting the Tenth district the delegation of Kentucky is as follows: Oscar Turner, democrat, First; James E. Clay, democrat, Second; John E. Halsell, democrat, Third; Thos. R. Robertson, democrat, Fourth; Albert S. Willis, democrat, Fifth; John G. Carlisle, democrat, Sixth; J. C. S. Blackburn, democrat, Seventh; Phil. B. Thompson, democrat, Eighth; W. W. Culbertson, republican, Ninth; Frank Wolford, democrat, Eleventh.

THE RESULT IN ILLINOIS, CHICAGO, November 9.—The last returns on congressmen indicate the election of Cullen and Thomas, republicans, in the Eighth and Twentieth districts, and Worthington, democrat, in the Tenth. The delegation would then stand 11 republicans, 9 democrats. The state legislature is very close on joint ballot. It is impossible to say which will have a majority until the returns are all in.

CHICAGO, November 9.—Returns on the state legislature show that the senate will be composed of 31 republicans and 20 democrats; house, 77 republicans and 23 democrats, with a possibility of 79; democrats, 74, with a possibility of 76, giving the republicans a majority of 12 or 15 on a joint ballot, which means the election of a republican United States senator. The result in the Twentieth congressional district is still in doubt, with the probabilities in favor of the democrats, which would make the congressional delegation stand republicans 11, democrats 9.

Stratton, rep., for superintendent of schools, runs behind his ticket, and the general opinion is he is defeated by Roob, dem.

MICHIGAN DELEGATION, DETROIT, November 9.—The Michigan delegation stands as follows: First district, Wm. C. Maybury, dem.; Second, N. E. Eldredge, dem.; Third, E. C. Lacey, rep.; Fourth, Geo. L. Yopie, dem.; Fifth, J. C. Houseman, dem.; Sixth, E. B. Williams, dem.; Seventh, E. C. Carleton, dem.; Eighth, E. G. Hoar, rep.; Ninth, B. M. Outchson, rep.; Tenth, H. R. Hatch, rep.; Eleventh, Edward Breitung, rep.

THE RESULT IN VIRGINIA, RICHMOND, November 9.—Returns up to 11 p. m. indicate the election of Garrison, democrat, in the First district, though the coalitionists still claim Mayo's election. The figures of all the counties so far heard from show that Massey, democrat, for congress at large, reduced Cameron's majority of last year to 5,000. He will need to do better in the remaining counties to defeat Wisa.

SENATOR HOAR'S SUCCESSOR, BOSTON, November 9.—The Journal says: It is written in the "Book of predictions" at the state house that Governor Long will be chosen United States senator to succeed Senator Hoar, whose term expires March 3, 1893. Lieutenant Governor Ames is looked as his successor in congress of 1893, and as his successor will not be needed at Washington unless there should be an extra session of congress in December, 1893. It will depend on the date of the election to fill the vacancy in the Twenty-eighth congressional district whether Ames will resign before the date of the meeting of congress. The office of lieutenant governor could only be filled by "popular election," but it is not likely it would be. TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND. NEW YORK, November 9.—The Times says complete returns from the counties being received will increase the majority of Cleveland for governor to 100,000, and that the official vote will make the majority not under 200,000.

GRANT'S GLORY, DENVER, November 9.—The indications are that Grant's majority in the state will be 2,500, and Belford, republican, for congress, elected by a small majority, two or three hundred. The balance of the state ticket, including lieutenant-governor, are undoubtedly republican. The republicans also have a majority in the legislature.

THE PENNSYLVANIA REVOLUTION, PHILADELPHIA, November 9.—Complete returns show the next state senate will stand 29 republicans, 21 democrats. Returns from nearly all assembly districts and careful estimates of those not returned, give the democrats 110 members, republicans 91. The figures will not be materially changed. The present senate stands 32 republicans, 18 democrats; house 122 republicans, 79 democrats.

THE PRIVACY OF DEATH, NEW YORK, November 9.—President Arthur maintained to-day the same privacy which has characterized his present visit to the city. He remained at his home making final arrangements for his return to Washington. The door bell of his residence was not rung by a single visitor. Late this afternoon the president left for Washington.

CONGRATULATIONS, BOSTON, November 9.—The democratic state ticket, headed by Stockley, democrat, for governor, 1,938 majority; Lore, democrat, for congress, 1,923 majority. The next legislature will stand, house solid democratic; senate, 8 democrats, 1 republican, who holds over.

THE JERSEY LEGISLATURE, TRENTON, N. J., November 9.—The house will stand 33 democrats, 2 independent democrats, and 25 republicans. The democrats are sure of at least three majority on joint ballot; they may have seven.

NORTH-CAROLINA'S DELEGATION, RALEIGH, November 9.—Returns from the First district indicate the election of W. F. Pool, rep., to congress instead of Latham. Doubts are entertained as to the election of Bennett, dem., for congress at large, and Robins, dem., in the Seventh district.

A LONESOME REPUBLICAN, WILMINGTON, October 9.—The official vote of Delaware gives Stockley, democrat, for governor, 1,938 majority; Lore, democrat, for congress, 1,923 majority. The next legislature will stand, house solid democratic; senate, 8 democrats, 1 republican, who holds over.

THE COMPLETE RESULT, HARTFORD, Conn., November 9.—The total vote of the state is 116,333 distributed as follows: Wallace, democrat, 69,025; Bulky, republican, 54,872; Rogers, temperance, 651; Tanner, greenback, 590. The legislature stands 138 republicans and 110 democrats. For congress, Eaton, democrat, First district; Mitchell, democrat, Second district; Waite, republican, Third district.

NEW HAMPSHIRE REPUBLICAN, CONCORD, N. H., November 9.—Returns and correct returns from 225 towns give Hale 37,540, Edgerly 36,174, scattering 921. Hale's majority probably cannot be reduced below 250. The stands 11 republicans and 4 democrats. One district makes no choice and two districts are in doubt. The republicans will have about 65 majority and 4 of 5 congressional delegations will be republican candidates for congress are elected.

ST. JOHN DEFEATED, TOPEKA, Kas., November 9.—The republican ticket, headed by the election of Glyck, democrat, for governor. The democrats claim he will have from 12,000 to 20,000 plurality.

THE AMENDMENT CARRIES, NEW YORK, November 9.—The following is the vote on the constitutional amendment to make the canal of the state free: For the amendment, 114,054; against, 630.

A CLEAN DEMOCRATIC SWEEP, SAN FRANCISCO, November 9.—Twenty-six thousand votes counted in the city confirm last night's report of the probable result. There is a clean democratic sweep from the interior. Steneman's majority increases as returns come in. The senate will probably stand twenty-eight democrats to twelve republicans, and the assembly fifty-seven democrats to twenty-three republicans. The defeat of Page is confirmed by further advices.

NOTES, GALVESTON, November 9.—It is conceded that Ochitree, republican, has carried the Seventh district by almost 500 majority.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

A SPEECH BY GLADSTONE. LONDON, November 9.—At the lord mayor's banquet to-night, Gladstone, in replying to the toast "Her Majesty's ministers," referred with satisfaction to the difference between to-day and two years ago in regard to the state of affairs in the south and east of Europe. He said the government had great difficulty to contend with in Ireland, but had relied more confidently upon measures of justice they had introduced than upon any stringent powers placed at their hands by parliament. He was glad to say that during the past year the sky had cleared and many difficulties disappeared; commerce and trade were improving, and crime had decreased to a very great extent. Referring to Egypt, he said he could not hold out the hope that war would in the future be unnecessary, as England had interests which constantly brought her in contention with opposing interests. He looked forward to the recent Irish legislation as a firm and enduring foundation of greater harmonies between the different orders of society. Social order was not now endangered. Some who had been betrayed or seduced into illegal doctrines had arrived at the conviction that they had not to regard England otherwise than as a friendly and sisterly nation. They had come to the belief that in observance of law, and in every just and legitimate endeavor to amend the law, was to be found the best specific for what would be required to supply the wants of Ireland. He recorded his thankfulness at the remarkable achievements of British arms in Egypt, which he believed would be memorable in history. The largeness of the empire, and the uncertainty of human affairs, exposed the country to great anxieties. They had taken too much, as a great nation, upon their hands to expect to lead a very tranquil life. In conclusion he said that he retained sanguine confidence that England's glory was not transient, but would hold its place from generation to generation.

GRADUATE INDICATIONS OF THE KHEDIVE'S CHARACTER. He said Lord Dufferin's mission was to hasten the attainment of the state of affairs giving security for good government in Egypt, thus accelerating the moment when the responsibility of maintaining British armed occupation of Egypt may cease and England might feel her work was done in a manner satisfactory to Egypt, England and Europe.

FORGETTING FRANCE. CAIRO, November 9.—The Egyptian government has announced the abolition of the joint control over its financial affairs by England and France.

DOINGS IN THE COMMONS. LONDON, November 9.—In the commons this afternoon Robert Arthur Arnold, liberal, gave notice he would move an amendment to Northcote's motion on Egypt, to the effect that the employment of British troops in Egypt was necessary to preserve law and order, and also to protect the Egyptian people in their endeavor to attain self-government. Childes said he discredited the allegations in reference to Gen. Wolseley, regarding Ireland, published in The Dublin Freeman's Journal. Debate on the closure question was resumed. Sir Charles Dike, in answer to a question by Bourke, whether it was true that Arabi Pasha had surrendered to England's clemency, said he was not disposed to think it unlikely but wouldn't pledge himself as to the words, as Arabi Pasha spoke in Arabic.

Members of the right held a meeting and resolved to maintain the attitude heretofore announced. The budget committee have unexpended credits amounting to only 10,000,000 francs and not 150,000,000 as stated by the financial minister. It will therefore be necessary to obtain 100,000,000 francs from the account of the floating debt.

It adds, "The election is a thoroughly well-deserved rebuke to President Arthur and his friends, and that republican leaders perceiving its meaning will do as they have done before."

WOLSELEY'S CALTER. DUBLIN, November 9.—The Freeman's Journal in an article protesting against the conferring of the freedom of Dublin on General Wolseley on his return to this city, asserts that Wolseley when about to start for Egypt declared that the only ally to his pleasure over the prospect of his expedition was his fear that the Irish people might take advantage of his absence to rise, and he would not be there to suppress them. During the pendency of the discussion on coercion bills, says the Journal, he expressed the hope that if the Irish should revolt he might be sent to Ireland to suppress them and learn them what war meant.

Dakota leads in construction during the past month, with 131 miles; Texas is next, with 60.

A DINNER TO SPENCER. NEW YORK, November 9.—Herbert Spencer was tendered a complimentary dinner by over two hundred gentlemen at the Delmonico to-night, Wm. M. Evans presiding. Among the guests were Wm. H. Hunt, Chas. A. Dana and Henry Ward Beecher.

After giving thanks for the cordial reception, Spencer said: It seems to me that in one respect Americans have diverged too widely from the savages. I do not mean to say they are in general unduly civilized throughout. In long settled regions there is no excess of those virtues needed for the maintenance of social harmony, especially out in the west. Men's dealing do not yet betray much of "the sweetness and light" which we are told distinguishes cultured men from barbarism. No doubt there is a sense in which any association is true. You know that premature man lacks power to appreciate. Spurred by hunger, danger and revenge, he can exert himself energetically for a time, but his energy is spasmodic and monotonous. Daily toil is impossible to him. It is otherwise with more developed man. The stern discipline of social life has gradually increased his aptitude for persistent industry until, among us and still more among you, work has become with many a pastime. This contrast of nature has another aspect. The savage thinks only of present satisfaction and leaves future satisfactions uncared for. Contrary wise, the American is eagerly pursuing future good, almost unaware of what good the passing day offers him, and when the future good is gained, he strives for some still more good. What I have seen and heard during my stay among you has forced on me the belief that this slow change from habitual quietness to persistent activity has reached an extreme from which there must begin a counter change, a reaction. Everywhere I have been struck with the number of faces which told in strong lines the burden that had to be borne. I have been struck with the large proportion of gray haired men, and inquiries have brought out the fact that with you hair begins to turn some years earlier than with us. Moreover, in every circle I have met men who had themselves suffered from nervous causes due to stress of business, or named friends who had either killed themselves by overwork or had been permanently incapacitated or wasted long periods in endeavors to recover health. I do but echo the opinion of all observing persons I have spoken to, that immense injury is being done by this high pressure life. The physique is being undermined.
