The Catholic boys' band appears in public this week for the first time, they having been engaged for the Catholic fair.

CONCERNING THE COUNCIL. Sunday Doings Which are of Interest to the City.

War to be Declared on the Cows. At an adjourned meeting of the city council, held Friday night, Mayor Bowman and a full board of aldermen were present.

After the opening preliminaries of reading the minutes, etc., the matter of the exemption of certain lots owned by railroads was brought up.

Alderman Shugart claimed that there was some of the property on which the railroads claimed exemption which was in fact used for other than railway purposes, and he wanted a full report.

The whole affair was referred to a committee, consisting of Aldermen Shugart, Goulden and Siedentopf.

A petition was presented, signed by those residing in the vicinity of the city pound, and asking that the pound be removed, as it was a nuisance.

Some of the aldermen expressed an opinion that the pound ought to be located elsewhere, but there seemed no other place to put it just now.

As the dog pound portion of it was especially obnoxious to adjacent residents, it was decided to instruct the city marshal to proceed at once to fix up some other place for the howling curs.

A petition was presented for the establishment of grade on Bloomer street. Referred to city engineer and Aldermen Siedentopf and Wood.

On motion of Alderman Shugart, the city marshal was instructed to give official notice that the ordinance restraining cattle from running at large at night would be enforced.

Alderman Wood gave as his experience that the last thing he had to do every night before going to bed was to chain his front gate to keep the cows out.

Alderman Goulden said chains or locks did no good down his way. The cows had learned to turn the door knobs and walk right in the house.

Alderman Newell thought the cows should be kept from running at large any of the time, and he moved that the city attorney be asked to draw up an ordinance to that effect.

It was suggested that some parts of the city should be exempt from such an ordinance, but it was decided to make such changes as seemed advisable after the ordinance was presented.

A petition was presented for lamp post on Vine street, it being the darkest street in the city.

The treasurer's report was presented and reported as correct.

The committee on the Missouri river reported as to the progress of the work and were instructed to confer with the county board of supervisors, who are to meet to-day.

It is estimated that a mile of the levee can be finished this year. The same committee was instructed to also confer with the supervisors in regard to having the bridge built on Union avenue, as decided on some time ago.

The report of the new Indian creek culvert at First street showed that the total cost of the improvement would not fall short of $9,000. An order was drawn in favor of Raymond & Campbell for $3,050 on estimate of the work done at date.

By resolution a sewerage fund was established, and $3,000 taken from the police fund to start it.

On motion of Alderman Shugart, it was decided to have all work on the streets cease after the 15th inst., except such as should be immediately necessary.

Attention was called to the late accident at the reservoir on Market street, near Fairmount park, and the committee on streets were authorized to build a fence or guard on the side of that street, to prevent any further occurrences of the kind.

Adjournment was taken until this evening, at which time the election of one or more assessors will be made the special order of business.

IOWA ITEMS.

The New Englanders in the vicinity of Creston have organized an association. George Wright, local editor of the Des Moines Register, narrowly escaped being crushed by the Wabash train in that city on Sunday evening.

The postoffice at Springdale in Mather Bros' store was burglarized the night of the 4th inst. The safe was blown open, $80 in money and about $300 in checks taken.

A switch gang foreman was killed at Savanna on Monday evening. He caught his foot in a frog and was crushed out of all semblance of humanity by a freight engine.

A new and peculiar disease has made its appearance among the hogs in Johnson county. Of nearly six hundred hogs nearly in condition for market, belonging to Jacob Teller, president of the county agricultural society, over four hundred have died within a few days.

The disease is spreading. While it is not understood, it resembles an anthrax, and it is very fatal and creates much alarm among the farmers.

The latest scheme to swindle farmers has recently developed near Des Moines. A man represents to a farmer that he has some swills he wants to sell, and asking the farmer to haul them away from the depot, hands him a sum of money to pay the freight and takes a receipt for the swills. This receipt soon turns up in the shape of a note for a handsome amount in supposed payment for the swills.—Siox City Journal.

A lighted chandelier in the dining-room of the St. Lawrence hotel, at Le Mars, fell last Sunday afternoon, breaking the lamps and setting the kerosene in a blaze. A quantity of the oil was scattered on the floor, and a young woman who was in a critical situation, but the guests and others present succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Mr. Glenn was considerably injured, but he and his child had a remarkable escape.

"Four on Oil." L. P. Follett, Marion, Ohio, states that he has used Thomas' Electric Oil for burns and has found nothing to equal it in soothing the pain and giving relief.

TROUBLING THE POOL. The Illinois Central's Council Bluffs Line will Fight Unadmitted. The committee appointed by the Iowa pool to meet J. N. Tucker, traffic manager of the Illinois Central, and urge him to abandon the new line to Council Bluffs via Sioux City, performed this duty Friday last in Chicago, and the result of the conference is thus given by the Tribune:

The committee tried hard to convince Mr. Tucker that the continuance of his Council Bluffs line would make trouble all around; that there was no good reason for his forming such a line in connection with the St. Paul and Omaha, and that owing to its great length it could not be called a competing line. Mr. Tucker was also informed that if he continued to compete for the Council Bluffs business the Iowa pool would be forced to strike vital points on the Illinois Central.

Mr. Tucker refused to be convinced by the arguments, and stated that he had gone into that business to stay, and that he meant to stay. The Iowa line, he said, for years had been injuring the Iowa line of the Illinois Central by unjust competition.

His new line to Council Bluffs was fully as good as many other lines which had lately been formed to points in Iowa and the northwest. If the Iowa pool lines meant to make war upon the Illinois Central they were at liberty to do so. The Illinois Central had always been slow in going to war, but when it once got mad it would fight as well as anybody else and meant to give blow for blow.

This was the substance of the proceedings. In spite of the warlike talk it is not probable that a fight will occur over the matter, and it is more probable that before long the roads will come together again and compromise the matter by admitting the Illinois Central line into Council Bluffs into the Iowa pool.

Softened by Times. Less than a month ago a woman of about fifty years of age walked into the headquarters of a Georgia railroad, announced her name, and said she had come to make a settlement.

"Settlement of what?" asked the superintendent. "For killing my old man."

"When?" "Nine years ago yesterday." "Where?" "About fourteen miles from Macon."

And so it proved. When the circumstances were hunted out it was found that she was the wife of a dead man who had been killed while walking on the track, and no one had been able to identify him.

"Just heard of it the other day," she replied. "I supposed the old man was parading around somewhere and would come home when his knees wanted new patches."

"And what damages do you ask?" "Well, it was a long time ago, and my grief has been softened up a good deal. I reckon that $25 and a pass to Atlanta will be about right."

Settlement was made on the spot, and she took the next train for the capital.
