ROYALTY ON PARADE.

LONDON, November 18.—The weather has cleared, and it is held that it always does for the queen, and by one o'clock a large proportion of London's five millions had poured into St. James park and filled every approach to it. Not ten per cent. of the enormous multitude saw the pageant, which was one of extraordinary brilliancy.

Expecting but a momentary interruption, Mr. Creighton turned into the office and to the door, and through his glasses gazed at the individual who presented himself in the open doorway.

PATTISON ON PAGAETRY.

PHILADELPHIA, November 19.—In a letter to the State Fencibles battalion which tendored its services as an escort upon the occasion of the inauguration of Governor-elect Pattison, that gentleman says: "There is no reason I can see why the mere taking of an oath by a citizen called by the people to execute a public trust should be made the occasion for scenes of pagantry and demonstration. I am convinced that so far as I can control the matter my inauguration as governor shall not cost the people of Pennsylvania one dollar."

PUTS HIS FOOT IN IT.

SO EARLY IN THE DAY THAT NO ONE VERY SERIOUSLY TAKEN BY IT. Witness the workings of the anti-monopoly platform of which Mr. Gere was engineer, fireman, brakeman and passenger. The people of the state sat down on it by electing an anti-monopoly legislature and covering him up with Burk's ballots until the "babes in the woods" were naked in comparison.

A MONOPOLY SQUEAL.

NEW YORK, November 19.—The Tribune says: An occasional correspondent points out, in a letter from San Francisco, the completeness of the deluge which swept over California, November 7th. Not a solitary republican official head is seen above the waste of waters.

WIPED THE EARTH WITH VALENTINE.

IN THE WESTERN PART OF THE STATE, will be the old king bee of the anti-monopoly candidates for United States senator. Senator Saunders was here a day or two ago, and held sweet communion with the elect. The senator has a faculty of blundering. A few days before the election, believing that Howe would elect three members in Nebraska, he paid that defunct granger (H) a visit at the residence of Mr. Howe's cattle, hogs and geese, but the day after election he smiled a sickly smile when he heard that he was overwhelmed with defeat.

SECRETARY FOLGER HAS DECLINED TO RECEIVE APPLICATIONS FOR PUBLIC DEPOSITS. He has declined to receive applications for public deposits, but authorized the deposit of United States bonds at market rates, instead of at their face value, creating the department power to control the amount of such deposits. The decision is based upon application of an official of the Second National Bank of New York, who had substituted either personal securities or four per cent bonds for called bonds now held as security for public deposits.
