COUNCIL BLUFFS ILLUS TRATED.

A preliminary canvass for the illustrated annual review of Council Bluffs has forced us to the decision to abandon the work for this year.

This conclusion we have reached after a careful and expensive survey of the field, and much as we regret it we must defer the enterprise until next spring.

MINOR MENTIONS.

AN ALLEGED HORSE THIEF.

He Gets Over His Ugly Fit and Waives Examination, Takes Quarters in Jail.

The young man, an account of whose arrest for grand larceny was given in yesterday's Bee, was brought before Judge Aylosworth yesterday morning.

It seems that young Williams hired a horse and buggy at Dohany's livery stable, and after driving to the outskirts of the city left the horse and buggy there by the roadside, stripping off the harness and taking the laprobe and whip and selling them to Sweger, of the California house.

Grand ball in Turner Hall, upper Broadway, on the evening of Saturday, the 25th inst. The music will be furnished by Prof. Oikler's band.

The Reurrection of Lazarus. Was a miraculous operation. No one thinks of raising the dead these times, though some desperately close to death's door have been completely restored by Burdock Blood Purifiers to genuine and lasting health.

Respect for the Rector. COUNCIL BLUFFS, November 19, 1882.—The vestry of St. John's Episcopal church met at the office of Horace Everett, Present, D. C. Bloomer, A. W. Street, D. W. Stillman, W. J. Hancock, E. H. Sherman and D. McWorkman.

Mr. D. C. Bloomer offered the following resolutions, which, on motion, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we cannot accept the resignation of the Rev. F. T. Webb without bearing our testimony to the singular zeal, ability and fidelity with which he has labored among us for so many years.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to the Rev. F. T. Webb, and to his devoted and excellent wife, who has ever been abundant in good works among us, our earnest and sincere wishes for their future happiness and prosperity, and we devoutly hope and pray that they may find in their new field of labor, to which they soon expect to remove, kind and sympathizing friends, who will cheerfully commend them and their hearty commendations be entered upon the records of our parish and that a copy of the same be signed by all the members of the vestry and presented to the Rev. Mr. Webb.

to the Pacific House. Bill called at the jail on reaching this city. He said he was bound westward and would not tarry here where he had gained so much notoriety.

—One of the team of the Rescue steamer, which has been sick of late, died yesterday. He was a valuable horse, being one of the pair which Messrs. Rogers & Dawson purchased in St. Louis for the use of the city, the team costing about $400. It is said that the horse had the pinkeys in St. Louis and that the disease has lingered with them ever since, and the horses have all died of the time, and now one of them is dead. The other is in pretty fair condition.

—Plans are already being drawn for a new and big hotel in this city, and there is a goodly prospect of actual work on such an enterprise being commenced in the spring. There are several other great building improvements which are sure to be begun in the spring, but the projects of which are keeping the details steady until they get a better ready. Those who know say that next season will see more and better buildings put up in Council Bluffs than during this season even. If so this city will more than boom.

—Gillis, the crippled song-seller, who was the chief witness against the confidence gang and who was the one assaulted by them, is said to have moved out of the city, and there is some doubt expressed as to whether he will be here when the matter comes up before the grand jury.

—The Bachelors' social to be given at A. B. Walker's residence Thursday evening, promises to be a jolly affair. The public is invited, and especially the friends of the Congregational society. Many novel features are promised.

—The Boys' band will give another of their happy socials next Friday evening.

—The Kellogg-Brignoll concert company is expected to appear here on the 24th.

—New lot nicely decorated, 50 pieces of tea sets, only $5 at Maurer & Craig.

—The Miln-Burleigh dramatic company is to appear at Dohany's on the 30th inst.

—Last evening the Round Table met at the residence of Mrs. Hewitt for musical improvement.

—Hand-painted china, art pottery, solid silverware, bronzes, etc., at Maurer & Craig.

—"The Maid of Arran" is to appear at Dohany's and entertain an audience there on the 29th.

—The newly-elected justices are looking out already for eligible locations and making arrangements to open business in January.

—The new meat market of Shull & Mulen, 799 South Main street, guarantee best of meats and prompt attention.

—A fine assortment of Boots and Shoes, sufficient to supply the demands of all, at George Blaxin's south Main street.

—The latest marriage license is that issued to Andrew Finney and Agnes Langin, both of Neola.

—Cheap Railroad tickets to all points, Eubank, five dollars north of postoffice, sells them. Entrance, Main or Pearl streets.

—Now that the leaves are cleared off the park, the boys are using the turf for baseball purposes despite the obstructing trees.

—Henry Phillips, hailing from Weston, came into the city for a little spree. He got it, and got arrested also. The usual fine.

—The fence about the city pound is in such a dilapidated and infirm condition as to make it difficult to keep cattle there after they are run in. The pound matches the calaboose well.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Joseph Smith was held yesterday forenoon from the Catholic church and was largely attended by the friends of the family.

—Joseph Reiter makes the Finest Suits in the latest styles, at the lowest possible prices. His merchant tailoring establishment is at 310 Upper Broadway, Council Bluffs.

—City Clerk Savacool rises to explain that he had nothing to do with the wedding at police headquarters, and he washes his hands entirely of the whole dark transaction.

—Mr. Maxon, the architect, has drawn plans for the new German Lutheran church to be built in the northern part of the city. The work on the building is to be commenced at once.

—There is an anxious waiting here among many to have the cutting on passenger rates begin at this end, so that they can go eastward as cheap as folks can come westward. They are getting their grips packed.

—Peter Kirkendall was arrested for assaulting a young man named Hawthorn. The case is not disposed of, but it is said that young Hawthorn was hit by mistake, Kirkendall being intent on hitting another fellow.

—The board of trade, at its meeting Monday night, discussed the paving question but took no formal action. The board also talked over the proposed leasing by the Bee of an illustrated review of the city and its interests, and cordially endorsed the same as a worthy enterprise, meriting support.

—It is noticed that the willing witness who tried, though rather unsuccessfully, to help out the confidence gang, when they were on trial, is still in the city. When on the stand he swore he was a machinist and had a job at Laramie City, to which he was hastening. He doesn't seem to be in so much of a hurry now.

—The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Campbell, of Missouri Valley, a boy aged about 18 months, died a day or two since of congestion of the brain, and the remains will be brought to this city for interment, the bereaved parents having relatives and friends here, among them being Chief Templeton, of the fire department, who is an uncle of the child. The funeral services are to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Walter N. Young, corner of Seventh and Mynter streets.

We notice John Stork skipping about town lively with his sample case, as city solicitor for Stewart Bros. He seems to be not merely stirring, but securing a good trade, and his activity and good address cause us to count.

John B. Hinman, assistant manager of the Miln-Burleigh dramatic company, and managing editor of the Chicago Alliance, was in the city yesterday. Major Hinman was formerly one of W. F. Story's right hand men on the Chicago Times and in journalistic circles has been prominent for years.

The "Ticker" and Its Record. Rufus H. Day in the Hour.

Every day, when down town, I talk to scores of men in offices, banking-rooms and hotels. Every now and then they walk quickly away from me to the little machine known as the "ticker."

"Picking up the tape they glance anxiously over it, come back in a half fearful way, and resume the conversation, although I see plainly that they are thinking more of the tape than of the talk.

And the machine goes on with its rattling, whirring, ticking, nervous "tick! tick! tick!" "What is this 'ticker'?" "The machine of little consequence, but the tally it keeps is a wonderful one. In the past two years it has ticked off every minute, every hour, every day, the ebb and flow of the prosperity of the country. It has ticked the profits of all legitimate trade into the pockets of the money-grabbing schemers of Wall street.

The gold and silver dollars, won by the toil of the farmer, the blacksmith, the bricklayer, the fees of lawyers, doctors and clergymen, the checks and notes of the druggist, the grocer, the baker, and the dry goods man, all are drawn into this vortex of speculation and deceit.

The "ticker" is everywhere to be seen. Every saloon keeper, dry goods man, grocery and club have their "tickers." To be without one would be to neglect the wants of their patrons. The men of the masses who win their money by honest effort, stand about and listen to the "tick! tick! tick!" and from "early morn till dewy eve." And the tick goes on, ticking into Wall street the cash that supports 1,100 brokers, who say their seats on the exchange are worth $35,000 each.

That tells what the work is that is being done by the "ticker." It has made a fortune every year for a few people. How much longer can it continue? How long will the thousands of people, from the office boy to the minister, from the housemaid to the sentry, toss their earnings into this "pool." The "tick! tick! tick!" goes on in every city of our land. Of course, while our country has free speech, free schools, free journalism and free religion, with just as little as possible of "Bobbinscollin" thrown in, we can right ourselves from any wrong, and we shall right ourselves. It may not be this year, or next year, or the year after, but the time will come.

"Tick! tick! tick!" There was no ticker in the days of the panic of '57, '58 and '59. The awful of those days was not sold, minute by minute, from the tape in every hotel and bar room. Men came flying down town with beating hearts and half-crazed brains to learn how their property was being swept away by the reckless greed of the manipulators. Those fearful days were bad enough. It was easy to gamble then. But this little "ticker" has made gambling so easy that the whole land is honey-combed with the weakness which comes from playing this game of luck—from pitting the products of labor against the gambler's chance of nothing or a hundred for one.

Our great neurotic doctors, like Sayre, Thomas, Metcalf, Nicol and Parker, say that "tickers" is tickling men by thousands into the grave—just as it ticks their thousands out of their pockets. It has tickled the Rev. Dr. Tyng out of his pulpit into the life insurance business. The doctors say it has increased and intensified the character of nervous disorders. It is filling our morgues and graveyards with bodies, and our lunatic asylums and poorhouses with the mental wrecks of Wall street. And these wrecks are made that the Vanderbilt, the Goulds and the Sage, even the dogs and the horses may live in golden luxury.

To them the "ticker" is money-making music. The "ticker" could not jar their nerves any more than it could the bronze statue of Franklin in printing house square. But when all this greed has ended and time has ticked them and their victims together into the tomorrow, Croesus and the beggar will not be on even terms. The beggar will get his three feet of earth. Croesus can't see and won't get any more. He will only leave his millions for his pampered heirs to fight over in the surrogate court, while the heirs of the victims will begin the struggle for life from the bottom step. And the "tick! tick! tick!" for other millionaires, and go on making other beggars.
