PROWLING PLUNDERERS. Burglars and Sneak Thieves Getting

Some time Friday night or Saturday morning burglars visited the residence of F. A. Nash, general western agent railway, his house being located on article referred to. Oakland avenue. They gamed an entrance by a cellar window, and so noiselessly and thoroughly did they ransack the house that they succeeded in getting away with from $300 to $400 worth of jewelry without awaking any of the family, they not knowing of the loss until awakening the next morning. Among the articles taken was a valuable ring and other jewelry, suits of clothing, boots, overcoat, silverware, and in fact a though' they could use or dispose of. The matter was reported to the police Saturday, but no clue has been gained yet leading to either the property or the takers. ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL RAID. On the same night some one visited the saloon of Wagner & Myers, on Broadway. An entrance was appar ently gained by prying open the rear door on the alley, and a quantity or cigars and liquors taken, the exact amount of which it is difficult to terday. determine. Some diamonds belong ing to Mr. Wagner were also stolen, and proved the chief loss. Mr. Wagner had placed them in the cash drawer at the bar, they being a dia-mond stud valued at $100 and a diamond ring valued at $150. Both of these were gone. There was a colored man who slept as usual in a room under the stairway, but he heard no noise during the night and could give no light upon the affair. The dog W. F. Vick Roy, of Chicago, one of the which generally stands guard over the most winsome commercial knights on the place at night disappeared the day be-fore, but came around the next day, Charles Adolf has returned from he having apparently been spirited away by the thieves for a purpose. THEY HELP THEMSELVES TO LUNCH Prowlers visited the residence of T. J. Evans, No. 720 South Seventh street, the same night. They gained an entrance by the sammer kitchen, —Hand-painted china, art pottery, solid silverware, bronzes, &c., at Maurer & Oraig.

They are heartily, and were probably frightened away before they had time to look through the rest of the house, and hence Mr. Evans was let off very lightly.

ANOTHER DIAMOND STOLEN. C. S. Hungerford, a traveling man representing a Chicago jewelry house, the Ogden house Friday night he placed his pocketbook, containing a goodly amount, upon the top of the fire, slipped the ring into his pocket, while getting some matches from the Ed Stockert & Co., the upholsterers at dressing case, as the diamond disapnearly succeeded in escaping from tism with great success, and I would there, for when the officers went into recommend him to all those who was discovered that he had made a hole in the floor, leading to the basement below, and was evidently awaiting an opportunity to slip through and pass out to the street.

A Close Call.

On Saturday evening there was a narrow escape from a serious accident on lower Main street, caused by a collision between a street car and 'bus. Both vehicles were coming from the the taking was that Morris owed him trains, well loaded with passengers, and had reached a place in the street just south of the B. & M. railway track, and just in front of the new warehouse being built there. A great pile of brick had narrowed the street at that point, and the 'bus was put in the pocket between this pile of brick and the street. A whiffletree of the 'bus caught on the brick, broke, and the 'bus, careening rgainst the pile, the windows on that side were broken and two or three bricks came tumbling through among the affrighted passengers. Fortunately no serious damage resulted, though both ear and 'bus were moving along at a fair rate of speed. The situation at Calliope is thus told by the Commercial- "There has been no particular scare at Calli pe, and there is no town fight. The incorporation takes in both depots, and they are about the right distance apart to suit all parties. The merchants in both ends of town have the friendliest feelings for each other, and instead of trying to tear down, unite to build up Callione north and south. The uccount name of Hawarden is dropped by all parties, and we predict will never be resumed.
