Weather Report.

(The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations named.)

WAS DEPARTMENT, U. S. SIGNAL SERVICE, OMAHA, Dec. 15, 1929, 10:45 p. m.

Table with columns for STATIONS, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, and Remarks. Lists various weather conditions for different locations.

LOCAL BRUWERS

There was only one plain drunk taken in by the police Thursday night. These wishing nice Christmas presents should call early at Six's as his nicest goods are going very rapidly.

Deputy Postmaster John Campbell who has been sick for a month past is reported to be a little better now. A bunch of keys was found on the corner of Thirteenth and Jones.

Strang is setting two boilers and has a double engine of 120 horse power on the road for operating the electric light machines. The mail route agents report the weather at Denver as quite warm and Omaha the coldest place on the line of the U. P.

The discharge papers of an ex-private in the Third Cavalry have been found and can be had at this office by payment for this notice. The communication in yesterday's Bee wherein was mentioned "The Iron front of the First National Bank" should have read "Nebraska National Bank."

On Tuesday evening, December 10th, Mrs. J. J. Dickey and Mrs. L. W. Taylor, a charming entertainment in the opera house. Judge Benke's court was very popular yesterday. The Bernstein case drew the largest attendance seen in the police court room for a good while.

Sheriff N. K. Boswell, of Laramie, Wyoming, arrived in the city Thursday with a very man named Costello, whom he will take to Lincoln and place in the Nebraska asylum. An anticlimax settlement of the Canfield-Dewey contest election case, has been made in accordance with which all further proceedings are to be dropped and Senator Canfield will take his seat without opposition.

Many persons think that there are more fine fashions at Kuhn & Co.'s than will be sold in Omaha this year, but already many have been sold, the purchasers of over five dollars worth getting a ticket for one of their premiums. The musical treat and choice selections of Mrs. Lacey and Mrs. Dickey, which are to be given next Tuesday evening in Boyd's opera house, the proceeds of which are for Trinity Cathedral building fund, will bring a large and appreciative audience.

The ladies of the U. C. L. A. who intend taking part in the annual reception at the library rooms on New Year's, are earnestly requested to be present at the meeting to be held at the library on next Sunday evening; or, if not able to be present, to be in some manner represented—cart, proxy, or otherwise.

"From lands of snow, to lands of sun, the L. and N. through coaches run," is the poetical inscription on a very pretty poster which was being put up by Andy Borden yesterday for the L. and N. route. A winter scene and a tropical landscape complete the card which is one of the most novel yet seen in these parts.

There was a lively disturbance at a house of prostitution on lower Eleventh street Thursday night. The proprietress claimed that Jack Magee, who was on a "high lonesome," had tried to demolish the door of her domicile, and she made the welkin ring with her police whistle. Officers soon quieted the belligerent Jack and no arrests were made.

A pleasant affair took place at St. Philomena's Cathedral Thursday being the wedding of Officer Thos. Ruina, of the police force. Following the wedding, the bride and groom entertained. Marshal Angell, the force and other friends at their rooms on 10th and Davenport streets. Among the wedding presents was a valuable stove from the officers of the police department.

At noon yesterday William Dew, contractor and builder, well engaged on Hillman's building on 14th and Farnam streets, met with an accident which might have proved fatal. In trying to place a stone weighing over a hundred pounds on a window it slipped and struck Dew on the head, causing a contused lacerated wound of about two inches and a half extending down to the skull. The injured man was taken to Dr. Hertzmann who fixed him up on good shape.

The necktie and apron social given by the Good Templars at Mrs. Muser's residence on Capitol avenue was a complete success in every particular. The attendance was good, and the occasion was one of thorough social enjoyment to all present. Much merriment was caused by the freaks of the sickle codder, fortune, in allotting to the various gentlemen present, their partners for the evening. Various social games were played, and an elegant collation was served about midnight. It is to be hoped that these pleasant occasions will be of frequent recurrence, and that the lodge may be greatly benefited thereby in a considerable increase to its already large membership. The committee who had charge of the affair are to be heartily commended for their successful endeavor which resulted in such a complete success.

HULL HELPED OUT!

He Is Acquitted by the Jury After a Short Session by That Body.

The Names of the Jury and Their Opinions.

Guy M. Lambertson, the United States attorney upon the opening of the court yesterday closed the case of the government. He was restricted by the court to fifty minutes in which to make his argument. During the time allowed him he went over the circumstances and facts in the case in a systematic and clear manner. From the statements made by him it would appear that Hull was guilty of a crime. He said that Hull had knowingly and willfully defrauded the government out of money by falsifying the vouchers. The excuse the defendant made that the custodian at Washington had virtually instructed him to do business under subterfuges, was no excuse for him at all. The custodian had recently been ignominiously discharged from the government service in Washington for just such practices as Hull had been guilty of.

THE VERDICT.

Shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury in the Hull case filed into the court room, and in answer to the usual inquiry made by the court, whether they had agreed upon their verdict, the foreman stepped forward and answered that they had. The clerk read the verdict which was one of acquittal, and then the jury was polled and discharged. The verdict created a profound surprise among the persons present, and it was evident that the defendant himself was not prepared for what might be termed the windfall which came to him. The jurors clamored for their certificates, and when they were obtained the marshal's office was sought and anxious inquiries made for that functioning, and whether there was any money or hand with which to pay the certificates.

The absence of the marshal created disgust and one or two jurors started to leave. "Hold on," said one, "when I get this cashed up, I will go out and get a drink." A Bee reporter interrogated John G. Willis, one of the jurors, as to the methods used to arrive at the conclusion as they had. How had they made up their minds. He replied, "I don't know how the others made theirs up, but I made mine up according to my own notion." He did not appear very communicative and was anxious to get away. Another member was asked how it came about, and the number of ballots found necessary to determine the sentiment of the body. He did not know how they came about but it was finally agreed after fifteen or twenty ballots to acquit.

"What was the first ballot?" asked the reporter. "It was five for conviction, five for acquittal and two blanks." "Who voted the blanks?" "I don't know," he replied. "They wanted to find out how it was going, I suppose," ventured the reporter. "I presume they did," he replied.

The names of the gentlemen serving on the jury are as follows: B. F. Doney, T. J. Torrey, E. C. Garner, F. A. Haasler, J. A. McMurphy, D. C. Cole, Robert N. Stall, H. B. Nicodemus, S. M. Pike, E. L. Stone, John Nash and John C. Willis. About town last evening surprise, and in some instances indignation, was expressed by the loungers in the hotels and other resorts.

Good Babies.

The joy day from East and West, for children thrive and mother's rest, the darling girl all same as Victoria. And with the boys, they have Castoria. It is a fact, there is no "may be." A mother's milk 'n't save the baby; while sweet CASTORIA digests their food, gives them health and makes them good. Complimentary to the B. & M. and Their Stock Agent B. S. Valentine. The big cattle men of Colorado held their annual meeting at Denver last Friday evening. After transacting much business Mr. M. O. Crillis, the secretary, ordered a resolution thanking the managers of the Burlington &

Misconduct for the promptness displayed by that company in allowing and paying all claims for cattle killed by the cars along the line. He also wished to thank George Ballentine, the stock man of that road, for the prompt manner in which he had handled the cattle during his last shipping season. The resolution spoken very complimentary terms of the road, and the fencing which had been placed along both sides of the track for many miles through the cattle country, which will be a great benefit to the cattle interests of that section.

THE ADVANCE IN BEER.

Various Plans to Preserve the Balance of Trade Across the Counter.

A Manufacturer of Glasses is Ready on Hand to Take Orders for Smaller Glasses.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.

The beer business in St. Louis has been stirred to its inner depths during the past few days over the rumor that the brewers are about to join in a concerted movement for raising the price of the popular beverage. It is a well-known fact that the price of hops has advanced greatly of late, going within the last year from 26 cents to 105 cents, and this circumstance alone has for some time given good ground for the belief that an increase of price would be a prime necessity. Upon investigation by a Globe-Democrat reporter it appears that there is a very close corporation among the brewers of St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee and Cincinnati, and the retail dealers are in dense ignorance as to what is to be done by the manufacturers from whom they purchase their supplies.

H. McConley, assistant quartermaster.

Do Not Be Deceived

In these times of quick medicine advertisements everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by C. F. Goodson.

Can't Say Enough

"I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters; they have been a great blessing to me. Cured me of biliousness and dyspepsia. I had suffered for years." Mr. J. Marsh, Bank of Toronto, Ont.

BULLDOZER BERNSTEIN.

Compelled to Take a Dose of His Own Medicine.

The Rascal Summarily Deals With in the Police Court Yesterday.

A Bill of $53 and Costs Charged to His Account.

The case of Bernstein and his wife against the two peddlers was continued yesterday in the police court. The prosecution was considerably strengthened when witnesses were called Thursday to impeach Bernstein's evidence and to declare that they would not believe him under oath. An abortive attempt was made to rebut this evidence and a number of witnesses were called to testify as to Bernstein's good character. Of those summoned only three, H. Barthold, Sam E. Rogers and Dennis Cunningham testified. Neither of them knew anything about Bernstein one way or the other, but stated that if they had any opinion at all it was against his veracity. This seemed to discomfit the prosecution and the case was closed. Arguments were made and Charles Raschel made a strong speech in which he showed up the animosity of the prosecution and the illegality of the proceedings before Wright. It was a prosecution of poor, ignorant foreigners who had gined the ill will of the villain Bernstein, who tried in this manner to gratify his malice.

Why Don't the Men Propose? Tradition has it that this question was officially propounded to the Roman senate by a committee of the beautiful Sabine women who were, one and all, ushered into the nuptial state of matrimony with the Roman army.

Do not be deceived by the name of "propose" which is a misnomer. It is a matter of fact that the question was asked by the women, and the answer was given by the men.
