Horses and muies.

The market is brisk and all grades are selling well at a slight advance in prices.
The demand for good horres exceeds the supply considerably. Prices range as follows:

engaged in the unholy business for the past four years, and narrated particulars on divers and sundry occasions, when he had intercourse with engaged in the unholy business for sions, when he had intercourse with Fine single drivers. $150, to 300.; Extra draft horses, $175, to 225.; Common draft horses, $100, to 150.; Extra farm horses, $110, to 125.; Common o good farm horses, $100, to 125.; Common o good farm horses, $100, to 125.; Common plugs, $20, to $40, MULES,—15 to 155 hands (extra), $125. to 150.; 14h to 15 handa, $100. to 140.; She was afraid of the man, and knew 14 to 14h handa, $75. to 190.; 13h to 14 that if she ever said anything about the affair he would certainly carry the affair he would certainly carry his threat into execution. She says We quote lumber, lath and shingles on:
the brute first became intimate with the girl some seven or eight years ago in Missouri and has been going on in Missouri and has been going on with his ewil work ever since. She stated that her husband had admitted to her that he had been intimate with the child, and stated that he did it because the girl hated him. Ellen Barnell, the daughter, corroborated the testimony of her mother, and gave a detailed account of the monster's doings at Omaha and Council Bluffs. Also of a transaction that happened while she and her father were on their way from Unadilla to Lincoln The testimony was terrible, and we venture to say there was not one present in the crowded court room but felt like seeing the inhuman monster placed upon a rack and broken into pieces. The girl Martha Flowers, who seems to be partially demented, and who is infatuated with the brute, gave a history of the two nights and days spent testimony was damaging to the prisoner and corroborated in every particular the the story told by the daughter. She said Barnell had acknowledged to her that he had time at d again been on terms of intimacy with his daughter, and his great desire was that she might yield to him an offspring. The nine year old daughter not knowing the nature of an oath was daughter. The story of Martha Dewey & Stone. Omaha and Council Bluffs he also denied, but said he occupied the same room with them, but made his bed on the floor.

Here the case closed, and Mr. Ferguson, the prisoner's attorney, admitted that the testimony agains' his client was sufficiently strong to bind him over to the district court, and refused to make any argument before the court. Mr. Stearns, who appeared for the state, merely requested the heavy enough to keep the prisoner in jail until the next term of the district court. Judge Parker then fixed the bond at $5,000, which amount the prisoner could not give, and he was marched off to jail.

HELLO OMAHA!

The Telephone Line Connection this Afternoon from Here to Omaha.

About six o'clock last evening the long wire from Omaha which is now at the city limits of Lincoln, was attached to the telephone wire from Capital mills and the metropolis called up. Mr. Drake in Omaha, general manager of the Nebraska tele phone system, and city manager Blundell, in the central office here. interchanged compliments. The line worked to a charm, with the exception of the induction from the telegraph wire, which was parrallel to the Capi tal mills' wire. Of course when the main line is brought into the central office here-which will occur about noon to-day-the connection will be John E. Lightbown, 2013 Cass St complete, as this line does not run near any telegraph plants.

Later in the evening several of our citizens were called up, and had the pleasure of conversing with their friends in Omaha. Mr. Dan Wheeler played a selection on the plane at his rooms, which was heard with perfect distinctness in Omaha. No doubt the line will be in great demand to-day da," is at the Paxton. and always hereafter. It will figure conspicuously in the wire-pulling during the legislature. It will be invaluable to Lucoln merchants and those having business in Omaha. The Paxton. line will not be open for public use until Monday or Tuesday.

PAPILLION PLAYERS.

A Fine Representation of "Furn o the Tide" and "Blanks and Prizes," by the Papillion Dramatic Ciub.

The people of Papillion, like most other people, always make a great point of celebrating Christmas with has been in progress in Prague, enced Sa all the proper feativities. This year they decided to give a dramatic enter-imprisonment, forty-four were sentence terday morning at the office of Judge all the proper festivities. This year Parker. The court room was thronged they decided to give a dramatic enterwith spectators, all anxious to see the tainment, and it has turned out a prisoner and his victims, and listen to great success. At an early hour on the details of the filthy testimony that Saturday evening the court house hall Lieut, Harbor telegraphs from Yakouts began filling, and by the time the per formance commenced the auditorium was very comfortably filled. "Turn of the Tide or Wrecked in Port," which was put on the boards in a very creditable manner. Mr. G. A. Magney, in the role of Jonas Aldrich, did excellently, and Mr. C. H. Moore, as Captain Hugh St. Morris, received much applause. The character of Col. Ellsworth was very ably sustained by Mr. E. M. Foster, and Mr. Ben. Gratiot personated in the settlement of the Irish question. Mr. Ben. Gratiot personated in the settlement of the Irish question.

Herman Clyde, the piratical McDermot, the well-known natural captain, as if "to the manner and ex-suspect, has been remanded or born." Pepper, the colored indi-vidual, fell to the lot of Mr. C. E. Baswitz, and he made the most of an part.

Among the ladies who took part in the performance, all of whom deserve great commendation, were Miss Edith haw, as Aunt Rebecca; Miss Mattie Clark, in the character of Susie Aldrich; Miss Jennie Carpenter, in the ole of Lillian Lucy, and Miss Ida Saling in the personification of Frinky. The second part of the programme comprised a mirth provoking presentation of "Blanks and Prizes." This proved a real treat for the kids, who were uproarous in their plaudits of the scenes and incidents in the play.

All the roles were sustained very vivaciously and great credit is due to all who took part in it. Mr. H. L. Carpenter, as Marmaduke Chubbs; Dr. Wallner, as Peregrinum Stokes, and C E. Worthington, as Dudley Brooks, were perhaps the most noteworthy. Miss Mittie Riale made an excellent Amelia at Omaha and Council Bluffs. Her Chubbs, and the Lucetta Stokes of Mias Florence Saling was utterly too too, Mr. I. D. Clark showed up well as Fernandino Brooks, and Mr E. M. Foster's Tom Backstay was praiseworthy. This gentleman, by the way, is an important functionary, being business manager. Mr. H. L. Carpenter was very appropriately appointed stage manager and carpenter we presume. The pianists were Miss Mittie Riale and Dr. Wallner.

The attractions offered by the Papllion dramatic club drew quite a number of visitors from other cities, and among them were Miss Lizzie Burtch of Clarinda, Ia.; Miss Kate Reeves and Mr. Jao. A. Tuttle, of Omaha, Neb; and Mr. H. T. Clark, of Bellevue, Neb.

A PRINCELY PRESENTATION.

Last evening, while Mr. Strang was enjoying a well earned rest after his arduous duties during the past week, he was suddenly surprised by the appearance of a large body of his employes, but on welcoming them in he was very agreeably enlightened as to the cause of their unexpected advent. which was to make him a present of a one that he had cohabited with his splendid easy chair purchased of

Mr. N. C. Tomkins in a very neat little speech made the presentation, expressing a hope that Mr. Strang would live many years to come to enjoy the repeac and comfort which the chair was so well adapted to afford. Mr. Strang responded with a few appropriate remarks, and the party proceeded to make themselves at home, as they were requested to do by the genial host.

Mr. Frank Buck proved a great ac-quisition and regaled the company with some excellent vocal and instrumental selections, after which the party sat down to an elegant spread W which had been very thoughtfully prepared by Mrs. Strang. At a seasona-ble hour the guests departed smoking imported Havanas furnished by Mr. Strang and this little episode will be long remembered by all who were present as one of their pleasantest Christmas celebrations.
