The Old Swindle

New York, December 28.—Elijah B. Bagley and son, farmers, living near Pointsville, Johnson county, Kentucky, were today victims of the old swindle by Alex. Morse, well known confidence operator. Some time ago Bagley received a letter offering $5,000 lawful money for $300. Considerable correspondence passed, but today Bagley arrived with his son and was taken to a Third Avenue saloon by the confederate in the swindle and shown upwards of $5,000 in crisp bank notes and some gold, which he examined with great satisfaction. The imitation was given Bagley that the notes were counterfeit but could easily be passed. He paid $300 and saw $5,000 in supposed counterfeit notes out and put in a leather bag. The swindlers advised him to leave the city at once to avoid detection. Morse starting with him to the railroad depot. On the way Police Inspector Murray met them and knowing Morse suspected a swindle and stopped the party. The bag as carefully carried by Bagley was loaded with stones and paper and a three cent bag of salt. Morse was locked up. The farmers are without money.

International Rifle Match

Special Dispatch to The Bee.
NEW YORK, December 28.—The national rifle association announced that the return match between the national guard of the United States and British militiamen will take place in the fall of 1923 at Wimbledon. The team to represent the national guard will be chosen the latter part of May in a general competition. Twelve men and two reserves will be selected from those making the highest scores, due allowance being made for previous ability and records. This competition will be open only to properly qualified competitors, who have made at least three complete scores of 165 out of a possible 205 at six distances, prescribed in the conditions of the international match, 85 or over at 200, 500 and 600 yards, 80 or over at 800, 900, 1,000 yards. Discussion of the rule that members shall be selected by the association led to almost an open rupture between General Wingate and Colonel Litchfield.

Coburn's Banishment

Special Dispatch to The Bee.
NEW YORK, December 28.—Between 2,000 and 3,000 spectators assembled in Madison Square Garden tonight at the benefit of Joe Coburn, recently released from Sing Sing prison. Wall-knower pugilists sparred. The "wind up" was by Sullivan and Coburn. The spectators did not like the friendly bout, and there were cries of "Go for him, Sullivan." The two boxers stopped and turned to the people. Sullivan said, "I want to please you all, and will please you by killing a man soon, perhaps Mac's 'Unknown.'" Coburn and Sullivan then engaged in three rounds. There was no singing, but much science was displayed.

A Strange Occurrence

Special Dispatch to The Bee.
NEW YORK, December 28.—The bark Gembok from Australia, reports that on October 9, a dunnit from a small west gale and a thick fog squall, a ball of fire passed across the ship, injuring the gunwales and ripping the planks from the stern of a starboard boat and exploded about twenty yards from the ship with a loud report with sparks flying from it like rockets. There was no lightning nor thunder at the time.
