IRELAND

Special Dispatch to This City. THE POPE TO THE PEOPLE. DUBLIN, January 22.—The pope in a letter to Cardinal McCabe, of which copies have been sent to all Irish bishops, congratulates them on their zeal in calming the country and guiding the people. He regrets evil societies have not ceased to treat to deeds of crime, but seeks remedies which lead to destruction. Faithful people should be firmly persuaded that the national cause should be kept distinct from the deeds of these un-hallowed associations. He suggests leave to attend popular meetings should only be allowed those of the clergy in whose wisdom bishops have expressed confidence as able to guide an excited assembly and defend the most judicious courses. The clergy thus constituted guardians of public order and defenders of the coming weal, will be great utility to the country in its disturbed state.

THE CONSPIRACY.

LONDON, January 22.—The Times says: It is evident Saturday's proceedings in Dublin unveiled a conspiracy to murder the executive officers. Although the secrets of the presentation thus far have been kept with praiseworthy discretion, it is not believed the counsel for the crown has begun with the strongest part of the case. The inquiry will probably be protracted several weeks.

FRANCE.

A POLITICAL TEMPEST. PARIS, January 22.—Ex-Empress Eugenie has arrived. It is said that the object of Eugenie's visit to Paris is to defy the republic to expel her. It is again rumored the senate will be constituted a court for the trial of Prince Jerome.

According to the latest intelligence the government will adhere to its bills against the royalists. The right, the radical left and extreme left are determined to oppose the passage of the measures, while the republican union favor a compromise. It is believed the government is only disposed to accept an amendment depriving princes who may be expelled of their rank and political rights.

In the senate Waddington declared the republic was threatened by nobody, and had nothing to fear except the faints it might itself commit. The Paris streets that the Elysee quarter was patrolled last night, because it was feared a legitimist manifesto would be posted. Bonapartist members of the chamber of deputies decided that three of their number shall resign their seats after the liberation or expulsion of Prince Jerome, in order to allow him to contest a seat.

He is Deposed and His Place is Filled by James Davis—Indignation of Stockholders.

JUSTICE FOR THE COUNTY. To the Editor of This Paper. Believing fair play to be a jewel, we would respectfully ask our representatives in the legislative, or rather the men who represent Douglas county in the present legislature, to provide for a division of Douglas county into representative districts, for the following reasons: 1, that the entire body of the delegation are elected from the city of Omaha, by Omaha votes, and the balance of the county is entirely at its mercy; 2, that the city of Omaha usually poll about 4,000 votes, the balance of the county 2,000, and when the city condescends to make nominations in the county, (which it often does) they vote them to death every time. This statement is proved by the fact the present delegation from this county are all from Omaha, including also the senators from Sarpy county; 3, that political parties, judging from their actions, think that might makes right governed only by law. Therefore we ask that this county be divided into senatorial and representative districts and solemnly protest against longer remaining exposed to the injustice that has been practiced upon the voters of this county outside of the city of Omaha. Now, how shall we reach this result. It would be idle to think that any of the present representatives would do such a thing unless urged by those interested.

Let every voter who desires the county divided into senatorial and representative districts send immediately a postal card to one of the senators or representatives asking that they provide for a division of this county into senatorial and representative districts, and sign it. This is the most effectual way of petitioning.

A VOTER.

How Papa Said It. From the Detroit Post and Tribune. It is a mistake to ask a precocious child to show off before company. A gentleman who was dining with his family at a friend's table, where a number of invited guests were present, had a bright little daughter, who as soon as the host had asked her said: "That's a pretty goose, but that isn't the way my papa says it." "And how does your papa say it?" asked the host, expecting to hear one of those bright replies for which the child was famous, while the rest of the guests echoed, "Yes," "tell us how your papa says grace!" The unhappy father could not reach her, and she said, sweetly: "Why, when he comes home to dinner he looks at mama and then says: 'Well this is a B— of a meal to set before a white man.'"

H. PHILLIPS, THE LEADING NEW YORK TAILOR, Call and look over my new store and see my new goods. 1207 Farnam Street, 1207. Under the management of Mr. Kallah.

UTILIZING ANOTHER MINE. "Why, bless you, one-half has not been told. He did not stop at that, but actually asked the Robinsons that was contained in the mine, except the plant. What I now tell will astonish you. Adjoining the Robinsons is the Wheel of Fortune. The workings of the two mines are connected. It has been noticed of late—in fact for some past—the Wheel of Fortune has been making unusually large shipments of ore. We have proof positive that the greatest part of the ore was taken from the Robinsons, run through the levels and up and out of the Wheel of Fortune shaft. Parker paid a royalty for all ore taken out that way. Then it was shipped to different smelters and he pocketed the proceeds. Some of the ore, I believe, came to the Grant smelter in this city.

"How much ore was taken in this way?" "God only knows; but several tens of thousands of dollars will no more than cover it. I forgot to mention that shortly after taking the management of the Robinson, Parker leased the Wheel of Fortune from the owners, making it easier for him to succeed in his schemes."

"What, in your opinion, is the present condition of the mine?" "It is as good as it ever was, and Mr. Davis will make that fact palpable. The trouble with the Robinsons is that it has been mismanaged and plundered from the time George Daly was made its manager. He inaugurated a system of thievery which has been in vogue ever since. Why, look at Parker. He went in without a dollar in the world. I would be willing to wager that he has a bank account of $75,000—and that besides the princely sum he has spent, too. He has been manager four months. One month of that time was spent in pumping out the water and getting ready for active work. Oh, he's a rascal. There's no mistake about that."

AN $18,000 HAUL. "Why, he was running things with such a high hand one of his most trusted men left him in disgust, simply because he thought the stockholders ought to get a dollar or two at intervals. That man was in a position to know everything that was transpiring. I have his word for it that, aside from the ore run up through the Wheel of

A FATAL EXPLOSION.

The Particulars of the Powder Explosion in California.

Nearly Fifty Chinamen Killed—A Providential Interference.

The Powder Explosion. Special Dispatch to This City.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 22.—A Berkeley dispatch says the mixing house and six packing houses of the Giant Powder Works at point Clement, near West Berkeley, exploded at 4 o'clock this evening. The shocks of several explosions were felt in this town. One white man, the foreman, named Cook, and between forty and fifty Chinamen are known to have been blown to atoms. Nearly the entire plant was destroyed by a fire which began immediately after the explosion. The superintendent was thrown a long distance but was not hurt. Physicians went down from Berkeley. The fire is still raging. A large magazine containing over 200 tons of still safe. About eight tons exploded. The loss cannot be estimated.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 22.—The loss by yesterday's explosion reaches $100,000. Between thirty and forty Chinamen and the white superintendent were killed. The first explosion occurred about 4 o'clock in the packing house, in which about 200 pounds of powder was stored. It is not known whether any one was killed by the first explosion or not. As soon as the packing house exploded a number of Chinamen employed in the other departments fled for their lives and had reached an open space, when the mixing house exploded, killing most of them in their tracks. In about a minute one of the smaller houses exploded, followed immediately by a fourth explosion, which doubled the number of the surviving employees. After each explosion the woodwork of the building caught fire and burned speedily for several hours. The efforts to prevent the flames reaching the main magazine, containing an immense quantity of powder, were happily successful. The consequences would have been most frightful had the large magazine exploded, as one of the superintendents stated that there is enough powder stored there to have destroyed every living thing on the peninsula. The cause of the first explosion remains a mystery.
