PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthen-ing it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Gents:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried Brown's Iron Bitters as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required:" and when informed that the elder sister was taking Brown's Iron Bitters, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

They had been kept in separate confinement. Persons representing the bank went to see them. Both insisted that Dunlap alone controlled the property, and that he would surrender in return for a pardon or a new trial for both They said that before the robbery was committed, it was agreed that all of the railroad and other securities should be held in bulk for redemption by the bank. The government bonds, amounting to about $40,000, and the $12,-000 or $13,000 in cash were divided at once. Two days before they were arrested $100,000 of the more available securities were set apart to be utilized in raising "fall money"—that is, money to help out any of the gang who might be arrested. Part of this $100,000 was the $25,000 in bonds belonging to Director Hinckley, of the bank, which he received by pay-ing $6,000 for while Scott and Dunlap were being tried. The bonds which Mrs. Wylie sought to recover the value of from the bank were also part of this $100,000.

The bank was convinced that Dunlap controlled the securities and efforts were made to accede to his terms, but to no purpose. The various governors who were appealed to, declined to listen to any proposition for the mitigation of the sentence of the men. Governor Long said that it was beneath the commonwealth of Massachusetts to entertain for a moment any such proposition as the two imprisoned robbers made. He said that when they give some indications of penitence by returning the property and doing everything in their power to make restitution, it would be time enough to make appeals for clemency.

At this time Scott and Dunlap had apparently found means of communicating with their associates, who were out of prison and with each other, probably through their relatives, who were allowed by law to visit them at certain times. Both made attempts to escape on the same day, and were alded from the outside. For ever three years and a half they stuck to the story that Dunlap alone controlled the stolen securities, and his terms were a pardon or new trial for both. It is generally presumed that he obtained the consent of all the thieves interested in the surrender. About three weeks after he got the letter from Scott and Dunap word came to the bank officers that an attorney in this city could tell them where the securities were to be found. Through that attorney the separities were recovered from a safe deposit company in this city. The three men were released. Scott died in prison soon afterward, and Dunlap is serving out his twenty years' sentence at Concord.
