Ferry Weakening.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE

DETROIT, February 16.—The ballot taken for senator to-day shows Ferry weakening.

In the legislative bribery investigation this morning the witnesses Bailey and Church were further examined. Nothing new was elicited, but yesterday's testimony was further confirmed. W. G. Thompson, mayor of Detroit, was put on the stand. He testified to being in Washington last spring, and was called on by Ferry, who requested his co-operation in securing the delegation from Detroit to the state legislature who should favor Terry's rebellion; witness demurred, giving among other reasons his opposition to Bell, collector of customs of Detroit; Teary then said he had taken pretty good care of Bell, paid about all he owed him, caring for himself, relatives and friends therefor; Thompson agreed to support him (Ferry) if he could have the Detroit custom house; Thompson accepted, came back to Detroit, proceeded to fix things for Ferry, did all he could, made speeches at the convention requesting the nominees for the legislature to vote for Ferry, the resolution being handed him by Wm. A. Gavett, special treasury agent; subsequently he learned Ferry intended to appoint Bell, whereupon he wrote Ferry, dissolving partnership announcing his determination to do

THE FLOODS.

Relief Measures Being Taken in New York and Elsewhere.

Special Dispatches to THE BEE.

THE RIVER AT MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, February 16.—The river at noon to-day marked within two feet and seven inches of the danger line and within four feet nine inches of the highest point reached here last spring, and rising at the rate of ten inches a day. It will surely go over the banks below here in many places where the levees broke last year and are not repaired. Planters are making preparations here for the worst. So far there has been no interruption in the railroad lines leading out of the city.

AN APPEAL FROM INDIANA.

NEW ALBANY, February 16.—River is rising half an inch per hour, and seven and a half inches last night, and more water is coming. One hundred houses are gone, and twelve hundred are in the water. Five thousand people are homeless. The loss is over $1,000,000. If the threatened wind and rain comes the loss will be greater. Congress, the legislature and the people are appealed to.

INCREASING DANGER.

CINCINNATI, February 16.—The water continues to recede about an inch and a half an hour, and at 9:30 was sixty-four feet, four inches. The indications are favorable for rain, which is dreaded now as a pestilence.

NO MORE DANGER.

PITTSBURG, February 16.—The high water is again subsiding here, but still rising slowly at headwaters. Weather clear and pleasant. No more danger.

THE HIGHEST POINT

LOUISVILLE, February 16.—The river at 1 p. m. reached the highest point, forty-four feet, five inches, thirty-three inches higher than the flood of 1832. Expect to continue rising slowly.

RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERING.

NEW YORK, February 16.—The suffering from the floods at Cincinnati did not attract attention here until this afternoon. Jay Gould at once directed that $1,000 be sent. To suggest a general movement among business men the Western Union authorizes its officers to transmit all money for the benefit of the sufferers free.

BOSTON, February 16.—Prominent citizens met at the mayor's office and devised measures of relief for the sufferers by western floods.

A CONTRIBUTION.

CINCINNATI, February 16.—Drexel, Morgan & Co., New York, telegraphed a contribution of $5,000 this afternoon.

FEARS ON THE WABASH.

INDIANAPOLIS, February 16.—Appeals for help from Jeffersonville and New Albany were received here today. Supplies were immediately sent. The governor, auditor and secretary of state were appointed a committee to disburse the funds appropriated by the legislatuer. Reports from Lafayette, Peru and other points say the Wabash is rising and overflowing. Serious damage if feared.
