

The Daily Bee COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, Feb. 20.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By Carrier, 30 cents per week.
By Mail, $10.00 per year.
Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTIONS.

—Felix Sitz, of Carson, will be more Felix when he marries Miss Ethelinda Durham.

—Louis Tunkie, of Keg Creek, will go to the Kirchhoff whose other name is Herman.

—Amelia Oldway, of Silver Creek, got permission to become Mrs. Julius Strohman yesterday.

—Wilhelm Lawson of this city and Caroline Nelson took out license to marry at the city clerk's office.

—John O. Elwick, of Carson, and Miss Rhoda Darbin will also marry. 'Tis likely to be a double wedding.

—The general agent of the C. R. I. & P., Mr. S. S. Stevens, returned Sunday from beyond the Rockies with his wife.

—Mr. J. C. Barnard, of this city, died yesterday from paralysis at his residence, on Neguter street. He was sixty-three years old.

—Down towards the transfer the waters cover the street railway in some places, canal boats can probably be put on if the flood comes up.

—To watch snipe shooting by the Council Bluffs kids is one of the pastimes of the city editor on his daily rounds. Some of them are becoming quite expert.

—A brace of coons interviewed Judge Aylesworth yesterday, and discussed the question of internal revenue on whisky. The judge thought $60 the fair thing on what they had drunk.

—M. V. Faluth, of Garner, an old farmer of 71 years, asked leave of the city clerk to wed the maiden of his choice, Mrs. Charlotte Voss, of Harrison county. The bride is sweet 64.

—We noticed work being done yesterday on upper Broadway on the banks of Indian creek. The intention is to prevent any more good Council Bluffs real estate moving off to the gulf.

—A meeting of the Central Labor Union was held yesterday at the Knights of Labor hall and a temporary organization effected. This society is a representative one from all the different trades.

—Hon. Richard Trevellick lectures on Organization, its History and Necessity, at Bloom & Nixon's opera house on Tuesday, the 20th inst., at 8 p. m. Admission 10 cents. Tickets at Gilmore's news stand, 512 south Main street. A crowd is expected.

—We called on County Treasurer Bennett yesterday and found him busily engaged in the task of collecting the levy for this year. It amounts to $35,000, and is not coming so rapidly as last year. But 3 per cent remains uncollected of the former levy, and that is almost exclusively personal tax that is beyond the possibility of collection.

—A little snow-bird with broken wing, bedragged with mud, beating its life out in a lake of water on Main street attracted our attention. Just as we were wading out toward the poor little outcast, a big snarling dog snuffed around in the vicinity got onto the scent, and the wretched wail was despatched before our eyes. We shall carry a revolver for days hereafter.

—The little globular morganatic exorcism over the way is excited because we are not charmed by bad singing, worse acting and a stable loft theatre. Sorry, but really now, do you dare to place that covert insinuation in actionable type. If it is true you may with impunity, if it is not you are a libelous liar. Hear?

—It is proposed that the city give the present high school building to the hospital association, to be under the surveillance of the municipality. Some assert that this cannot be legally accomplished, as the building was erected by the school fund, and it cannot be diverted from its original use. The hill is too much for children to climb, and it is thought that as a hospital it would not make so much difference. At present the matter lies in abeyance.

—Louis Meyer visited the office of Justice Vanhook to answer the prosecution of the state for grand larceny, at the complaint of Fred Bokemper. The charge of grand larceny was withdrawn and petit larceny substituted. The arraigned pleaded guilty, was fined $5 and costs and in default of cash will count the cobwebs in the county jail for forty-eight hours.

—"Well," said the reporter as he strolled into Police Justice Schurz's court and thrust his muddy boots upon the inkstand, "do you grant divorces here?"

"Well," said the genial judge with a Carl Pretzel twinkle in his eyes, "what do you want to know for?" "Never mind," rejoined the reporter, feeling in the judge's vest pocket for a cigar, and fishing up a pool check. "What I am after is, do you grant 'em?" "Dot," observed Mr. Schurz, with an apologetic glance at the pool check, "dot was taken from a gambler."

"Yes, I understand," pursued the reporter severely, "but how about this severing of the bands of hymen?" "Haf a match," innuendated the court, "der Loh no criminal business up here this morning. Come up to-morrow, any day, some other day."

"Look here," exclaimed the reporter, "I'll let you down easy to-day. Are you a relation of Carl Schurz?" "Carl, Carl!" he said reflecting. "Yes, Carl Schurz, Interior Department Schurz, friend of Nast, and intimate with George W. Curtis, of Harper's Weekly. Now you have it."

"Oh, ya, I know him now. Why, he was no relations at all. Why, bless your soul, young man, dot Carl Schurz was a cherman."

RODERICK, THE DEVIL.

He Files to His Highlands—A Chase Through the Glens.

A reporter was sitting in the police station last night about 7 o'clock, reading in an easy chair, when in came a highly-excited man, who wanted a policeman to go down to a shanty near the Rock Island depot and arrest John Roderick, who was organizing a little harem of his own, beating his wife and threatening to exterminate the whole family. There were also two other suspicious men hovering about the premises of Roderick, who, though a well digger, seems to have never found truth even at the bottom. Three policemen, Taylor the informant, and Tim Bax reporter set out on the tramp. On the way Taylor informed us that the favorite diversion of this son of Belial was kicking his wife and "slugging" her with his fists, and that one time when she held his hands to prevent him from hitting her with his fists he had reached over and bitten a piece from her arm. As we came upon the shanty close up to the bluff back of the Rock Island depot, the reporter caught sight of two men running away up a wooded ravine back of the house. Chase was given by the entire command, the reporter and the policeman clambering up the ravine, while the other two men made a detour around a spur to cut them off. The snow was three or four feet deep in the glen and brushwood and logs obstructed the way, but the party pressed on and routed the quails from cover, just in time to run them on to the other party, who ordered them to halt, and on their running, they fired two shots, which only spurred them faster. The pursuit kept on for over a mile up into the Bluffs, over fallen timber, plunging into treacherous snow drifts with streams of water beneath, falling into brush piles, until at last the weary officers were compelled to desist. The villains knew their ground thoroughly and are up to tricks, but if the police don't catch 'em in two weeks the reporter is a chump and no mistake.

John Roderick, accused of burglary, is breaking open a saloon near the C. and N. W. depot, and donating a coat to himself, was cleared on the charge, before Justice Abbott, several witnesses swearing that the saloon was open at the time. The sturdy judge then ordered information for larceny to be filed against John, and finding it a clear case, gave him ten dollars and costs, or three days in the county caravansary. John took the latter, making necessity a virtue. He has already been in jail since February third.

We were told in a whisper by those who ought to know that "authin" now will develop in the Tenney burglary case in the next very few hours.

The case of the State vs. "One-Legged Sullivan," before Justice Abbott, yesterday, resulted in a dismissal of the case for lack of evidence, and an allotment by the court of precisely fourteen hundred and forty minutes in which to reduce the population of Council Bluffs by one.

Young man or woman, if you want big money for a small amount, insure in the Marriage Fund and Mutual Trust Association, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. 15-3m.

"He Turns Upon Them."

"Sport" Miller, a decrepit old boot black of this city, was pursued last night by a crowd of young hoodlums, who delight in torturing him. At last Sport fired his boot box at them, and disabled one of them by a severe blow in the back. The police have again and again warned the boys to cease abusing the poor old fellow, but it seems that this last warning is the most effective of all.

If you are not married, write the Marriage Fund and Mutual Trust Association, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for circulars explaining the plan. 15-3m.

*All ladies who may be troubled with nervous prostration, who suffer from organic displacement; who have a sense of weariness and a feeling of lassitude; who are languid in the morning; in whom the appetite for food is capricious and sleep at proper hours uncertain, should have recourse to Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

PERSONAL.

James G. Day, from Sidney, is at the Ogden.

A. B. Williams, of Glenwood, is at the Ogden.

E. M. Steadman, visiting, stops at the Ogden.

F. E. Haggood, of Chicago, is at the Ogden.

Thos. J. Savage, Boone, is at the Ogden house.

Martin Oberfelder, Omaha, was at the Ogden yesterday.

Ottumwa is represented by Martin Oberfelder at the Ogden.

C. E. Hoyt comes from Sterling, Ill., and eats at the Ogden.

H. Wingeland, from the city called Sioux, is at the Pacific.

A. J. Kain, from Philadelphia, is stopping over at the Pacific.

"R. J. Scott, wife and kid, Des Moines," is inscribed on the Ogden register.

F. A. Nash, of the St. Paul & Milwaukee, is back to the Bluffs from his eastern visit.

J. A. Rollins, of Omaha, is over in our city, and purposes moving to this side of the mammoth Muddy.

S. T. French, of this city, is expected home from Leadville this week, where he was married on the 15th inst. to one of the Colorado belles.

Mr. H. W. Tilton leaves this week for a trip east. He will visit his mother at Janesville, Wis., take a peep at Chicago, and perhaps extend his tour still further toward sunrise. The present city editor is considerably in debt to Mr. Tilton, so much so that he is looking toward repudiation as the only possible escape. But seriously, we shall have to always count on would modern society do without the daily forecasting of the elements? News comes from Kansas City that the river is breaking up at that point. "If she does that, we are safe," said a gentleman at the Ogden; "but if she gives out at the Yellowstone we'll catch it." Mayor Bowman observed that he had never had so much at stake before. "How much ice have you in your ice house?" asked THE BEE. "Over 4,000 tons, and if the river comes up there will not be a scrap of it left." "Will the high water, if like the flood two years ago, interfere with the waterworks?" "It will surround them, no doubt, but the capture of the works is not so easy for they are built far above any chance for serious damage."

The great distinguishing feature of Reiding's Russia Sal-e is its power to remove inflammation.

How It Strikes 'Em.

Council Bluffs ought to be a happy town. A number of her "peace" magistrates have been arrested for keeping up a bloody fight in court and disturbing that which they have sworn to preserve.—Oakland Acorn.

"Bloody fight" is good—very good, as Polonius would say. Great oaks spring from small acorns,—oaks in this case to be translated romances. Oh, no, brother Nut. Our judges may be violent, but they are never sanguinary. Take a change of venue, come over into our jurisdiction, and we will warrant you the fine shall be imposed with as suave a grace as Chesterfield possessed.

Council Bluffs is preparing for another foundation on a magnificent scale as she gets up everything she does.—McDonagh's Watchman.

Our friend Mc. is a prophet or nothing. If he had lived during the reign of Noah he doubtless would have sat on the roof of the ark with a prognosticator in one hand and music-machine in the other and foretold each day's weather—the day after.

Constipation, liver and kidney diseases are cured by Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches the blood, and strengthens the whole system.

Money for the Unmarried.

One of the most solid and substantial institutions in this country is the Marriage Fund and Mutual Trust Association, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. They are organized under the laws of Iowa, and their officers and directors are among the leading and most prominent business men of Cedar Rapids. Every unmarried person should have a certificate in this association.

It is a splendid investment, as safe as a government bond. You can just as well have a good sum of money to commence married life on as not. A large number of members have been paid off, receiving over 300 per cent on their investment. Write for circulars fully detailing the plan, which is the finest known in Iowa. Do not postpone. Good agents wanted. Mention where you saw this notice. 15-3m.

The Topic of Talk.

"Are we going to have a spring flood?" is the favorite query in the Bluffs these days. Wiggins has wigged his last, Vennor no longer is venerated, and the sinking heart of the property holder turns in anxiety to the Associated Press dispatches to the weather "indications," as they are now called. When Hazen demands a senatorial investigation, his hopes are like the sunrise in Caucasus; but when Secretary Lincoln coldly suggests a court martial, his thermometer goes down the grade like an icicle down the schoolboy's back.
