THE FIREMEN'S FUN.

A Merry Masquerade in City Hall Building.

A private masquerade ball was given last evening at Firemen's hall, in the City Hall building, which was one of the pleasantest affairs of the season.

The attendance was large and the masks varied and amusing. Excellent music was furnished by the Italian band and Jack Roach "called" to the queen's taste.

There were a number of elegant costumes worn, both by ladies and gentlemen, but the belie of the ball was Jim O'Brien, of the Hooks, who appeared as "the woman in white. Had an alarm been turned in before unmasking it would have caused a scene worthy of the pen of Dore, and would have looked like a carnival in hades. Turks, confederate officers, Spanish cavaliers and amazons would have ridden to the scene, and handled horses, hose, the ladder and the ax, number of lady maskers. At 11 o'clock unmasking came with the "Lanciers" and the fun lasted until after midnight. THE MANLY ART.

Mere Friendly Contests

Since the Academy of Music breathed its last and Elliott left for the south, the interest excited in the "manly art of self defense" has gradually waned. Paddy Ryan and Mace and his Maori worked the thing up to

All things having thus been put in arrange the matter. It is said that a strictly business shape, the board, the arrangement for the fight between the executive committee, the build-Sullivan and Slade may be made at ing committee and the people sprang ing committee and the people sprang forward with a will, and at an expense to Oakdale of about $1,500, when the presbytery met there in April, 1882, had procured by purchase, full payment and warranty deed, a beautiful plat of fourteen acres in the edge of the village, graded the sum-mit of the knoll and laid thereon the foundation of a well planned and elegant structure 67x78 feet of two stories; and the Presbytery, having approved what had been done and encouraged Oakdale to continued exertion, and having commended the cause to the people, did, on the 20th day of April, 1882, with solemn ceremony, lay the corner stone, one bearing the inscription "Oakdale" and the other the inscription "Presbytery." Since then the presbytery elected the present board of directors, as subscribed. They have also appointed Rev. J. Warner and Rev. G. Williams financial agents, to go forth practicable into the wide field of the grand old church in behalf of endowment. Oakdale has been taking breath and movement toward the promised $5,000, whenever the churches shall have first expressed their indorsement of the acts of their presbytery and The synod by contributing something worthy of their traditional loyalty to their judicatories and the cause of sacred learning.

In the meantime, however, Oakdale has never consed to be deligated. has never ceased to be doing something for the cause by the way of sustaining the nice little school of Prof. Wilson, now in its third term, furnishing a comfortable room and fuel, and both houses of the legislature, so far as it relates to this city, contains these provisions:

First—That the board of education shall consist of nine members, six of public assemblies.

Articles of incorporation of the "Nebraska ice company" were Wednesday filed in the office of the county clerk, the incorporators being Martin Dunham, Richard Kimbell, Chas. S. Poor, August Benzon, John Steel, Geo. H. Guy, Wm. Fitch and Ben I.

Omaha is to be the business headquarters of the new organization, the object of which is to establish and carry on a general ice business.

The amount of capital stock is fixed at $500,000 in shares of $100 each, the stock to consist of all the ice now housed and owned by the undersigned in Douglas county, the quantity and value to be ascertained as provided in the by-laws within thirty days from the signing of these articles, the date of which commences the existence of the corporation, which is to terminate December 31, 1883,

The indebtedness of the corporation is limited to $250. The affairs of the company are to be managed by a president, secretary, ing of three, a superintendent of lections, all of whom shall be stock-

Route, Regulations and Proposed Changes,

Among the ordinances introduced into the city council at its last meeting was one giving the consent of the city to any railway company to lay a track and run its trains across certain streets and through certain alleyways of the city upon certain conditions, the ordinance being finally referred to a committee to be properly engressed.

The line designated is: across Izard S. B. Neilson, F. S. Blayney, J. Burkhardt, F. H. Hays. street at or near Fourteenth street, thence across Fourteenth street and through the alley in block 320; across Fifteenth street and through the alley in block 1991; across Sixteenth street and through the alley in block 1984; across Seventeenth street and through the alley in block 1974, to connect with the works and grounds of the Woodman linseed oil works. The company which shall construct this track must pay all damages that may arise or accrue to any person or property by reason of the laying of the track and running of trains thereon, and is in fact bound in every way to construct the road at Its own expense, and not allow the city to suffer any loss or damage of any kind.

It is understood that when the ordinance is again introduced, the route will be somewhat changed, and that there will be a section prohibiting the running of trains over the siding tween the hours of 6 o'clock p. m. and 7 o'clock a. m.

The principal objection urged against the granting of this permit at the late council meeting was that it would interfere with the driving on 16th street. That street has always been the favorite drive for Umaha horsemen and al though the company constructing the flagman at their own expense yet it would more or less interfere with the fine straight course heretofore so en joyable to those who love fast riding. The Omaha and St. Paul road is the one which would probably construct and control the track which will eventually perhaps be extended on up the course of North Omaha Creek to mills and warehouses, as the U. P. has been extended along South Omaha Creek.

But before this was successfully carried forward, members of the synod who desired a division of the former field or who desired any change endeavored to hold the voting until that charge could be consumated. But "a change" did not have enough adherents to be carried, and after a motion to take an informal vote. Rev. Geo. L. Chrisman was elected, and it was moved, seconded and carried that the informal vote be made a formal vote that he might be duly elected synodical elder. Rev. Chrisman had many opposers, but no strong op-poser. It had been the desire of the late synodical elder, and the desire and prayer of many that the elected might be chosen. Rev.
