THE GOLDEN GATE.

The Pleasures of a Winter in the Metropolis of the Pacific.

The Wonders of Woodward Garden, the Tropical "Zoo" of the City.

The Manners and Dress of the People--Scenes and Incidents.

Correspondence of Omaha Bee. SAN FRANCISCO, February 27.—Your correspondent "A Nevada Zephyr" has blown over the snow-clad Sierras mountains, and is enjoying the warm sea breeze from the grand old Pacific ocean, in this "city of the Golden Gate."

Last Saturday, while spending the afternoon in the famous Woodward's gardens, your correspondent, with the natural observant eye of woman in that direction, she could not but notice the difference of the dress of San Francisco, particularly so of the ladies and little girls.

WOODWARD'S GARDENS are to San Francisco what Central Park is to New York City. For every one that comes to the city must spend part of a day at least at the gardens, roaming through the beautiful conservatories, where one can almost imagine they are in the tropics.

Washington's birthday. There was a grand celebration here. In the afternoon, Gov. Stinson reviewed the various military companies of the city, on Van Ness avenue, after which there was a fine military parade, and was indeed a very interesting sight.

There is no principal excitement in San Francisco at present, the papers are trying to frighten the people in regard to that most loathsome of all diseases, leprosy, and in which they state there are lepers walking the streets of San Francisco, brought here from the Sandwich Islands, where it is making fearful ravages, and there is a great fear of it doing likewise in this city in time, and then to other parts in the United States, but it is strenuously hoped it will not, for we all well know that there is no cure for one who has the least taint of leprosy.

Walking and riding through the principal streets of the city, your correspondent has noticed great improvements within the past few years. Magnificent buildings on all sides are being erected, and so much bustle and excitement, and everybody seems to be in a hurry, and it has been said more so here than in other large cities, I noticed the difference in my visit to Chicago two years ago.

BOONE COUNTY.

Business Gradually Improving as Winter Departs.

The Disgust of the Masses with the Work of the Legislature.

Evasion of Taxes by the Railroads.

Correspondence of THE BEE. ALBION, Boone Co., Neb., March 2.—Business, which has been quite dull nearly all winter on account of low prices and bad weather, is improving, and although money is a cash article and a little hard to get hold of our farmers are generally in good spirits, and will enter upon spring's work with an earnest determination to gain a livelihood and a little ahead for a rainy day in spite of grasping monopolies and greedy money sharks.

The action of the legislature in refusing to pass any laws to regulate railroads will, I think, add much to the strength of the anti-monopoly cause in this county. The people feel that the republican party, being in the majority in the lower house, is responsible for this refusal, and many of them have voted the "straight ticket" for the last time, and will now support only such men as they have reason to believe will make the principles of anti-monopoly the first and great consideration.

As you are no doubt well aware, we have no anti-monopoly paper in this county. The Argus is now our worst enemy, and in its last issue attempts to throw the odium of the failure to secure railroad legislation upon the anti-monopoly movement.

"Thinking men cannot help but see that the independent party scheme which was to purify our politics and transform such worn-out political hacks as Ashby, Reynolds, Dech, and Butler into pure political spirits, robed in garments whiter than snow, has been a signal failure, and in fact, has not only not accomplished anything itself, but has prevented all railroad legislation originating in the republican ranks from being enacted."

This is pretty thin, when we consider that the only railroad bill which originated with the republicans was the house committee bill, which was not worth the paper which would have been wasted in printing it, and was, in fact, worse than nothing. Such a bill will not take with the farmers of this county, and sooner or later Mr. Beard will find that his granger and fool are not synonymous terms.

The News has always opposed us, and is far more candid than The Argus, and acknowledges that the republican majority in the house is responsible for the failure to secure the needed legislation. It says: "The republican party in Nebraska has been most completely sold out; and shamefully betrayed by the majority of the legislature."

Some five years ago this county, through its commissioners, entered into arrangements with some of the agents of the B. & M. R. Co., who owned a large lot of land here, upon which they had for four years refused to pay the taxes, to remit or cancel those taxes for the sake of getting the county settled. This was done, and an injunction was issued by the United States court at Omaha, perpetually restraining the county from collecting the taxes assessed against those lands, the four years ending January 1, 1878.
