

FISH NOTES.

In British Columbia the value of the cod fish market at Fraser and Boward Inlet was worth $1,035,000.

TRUE Temperance

Is not signing a pledge or taking a solemn oath that cannot be kept, because of the non-removal of the cause—liquor. The way to make a man temperate is to kill the desire for those dreadful artificial stimulants that carry so many bright intellects to premature graves, and desolation, strife and unhappiness into so many families.

It is a fact! BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, a true non-alcoholic tonic, made in Baltimore, Md., by the Brown Chemical Company, who are old druggists and in every particular reliable, will, by removing the craving appetite of the drunkard, and by curing the nervousness, weakness, and general ill health resulting from intemperance, do more to promote temperance, in the strictest sense than any other means now known.

It is a well authenticated fact that many medicines, especially 'bitters,' are nothing but cheap whiskey vilely concocted for use in local option countries. Such is not the case with BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It is a medicine, a cure for weakness and decay in the nervous, muscular, and digestive organs of the body, producing good, rich blood, health and strength. Try one bottle. Price $1.00.

"Thought you didn't know. I'm in the closet I've got to stay here ever so long. But you don't know what I'm here for, though."

"I am constrained to admit that I do not, but I might surmise that you were in duration for talking slang. Little girls should not say 'bet.'"

"Does spreading the gospel make little girls goddesses? I got whipped by their pa!" inquired the freckle-faced girl through the keyhole.

"Yes, indeed, it makes them Christians, and then they don't do naughty things, but go to Sunday school and learn to be good to everybody."

"Ain't aches better?" asked the young heathen in the closet.

"Aches better? Why, what in the world do the child mean? What is that girl talking about, Mr. Holyroll?" asked the girl's ma, who had just entered the room in time to hear the singular question.

"Indeed, madam, I am puzzled myself. I can't understand the bearing of her question at all."

"You know, ma," said the wicked little girl, "you know when Uncle Dick slipped down on the sidewalk in front of the church last Sunday?"

The relations between the family and the pastor are now somewhat strained, and the servant girl has been instructed to lock the freckle-faced cherub down cellar every time the door bell rings.

THE OLDEST MAN.

A Missourian 116 Years Old, With Great-Grandchildren.

Macon (Mo.) Republicans. Nine miles southwest of Macon, Mo., two miles northeast of McGee college, on the west bank of the east fork of the Chariton river, in Chariton township, in Macon county, Mo., in a neat story and a half house, resides Hezekiah Gibson; with him lives his father, now over 116 years old, whose name is Robert.

Mr. Gibson says: I was born in Randolph county, N. C., in 1797, from thence my father (while I was very young and do not remember the date) moved to Burke county, N. C. In 1798 I was first married and moved to Wayne county, Ky. Afterwards in 1809 I moved to what was then the western territory of Louisiana, afterwards the territory of Missouri, St. Charles county, Mo. Ten years later I moved what is now Macon county, Mo., in the neighborhood of which place I now reside with my youngest son, Hezekiah, now aged 44 years.

My recollection of revolutionary scenes are very imperfect, but I remember some of the "Swamp Angel," Gen. Marion, the surrender of Cornwallis, the declaration of peace, and of Washington's presidency. When I came to this country it was in its wildest state, it being inhabited by many Indians and a few whites.

Among the latter Catholicism reigned supreme. The country swarmed with a great variety of wild game. Venison hams, when sold at all, were worth 6 cents apiece. I have often seen fifty deer in a herd. I attended as a delegate with a Brother Summers, of Kentucky, to the Old Baptist association, near Macon, Mo., in 1840.

At this time a split occurred in the Old Baptist church on account of the question of communion. Having been a member of that church for some years I became a believer and follower of what were then known as the Separate Baptists—since Christians, Reformers or Campbellites—to which church I now belong. For many years, up to ten years since, I have preached in that church, having tried to be the earnest worker in my master's great cause for ninety years.

My first wife died at the age of 55 years in Macon county, Mo., in 1840. In 1853 I was married to his widow Howe; she died in 1876 near where I am now living. My children are all by my first wife, of whom there were sixteen, thirteen of whom still survive. Stephen, the oldest, born at North Carolina, is now 81 years old. Ann, the second child, has great grandchildren and Stephen has of his own nineteen children living and one dead. My grandchildren number nearly 400, reaching to the fifth generation. My family of children consists of five daughters and eleven boys. I have been a constant and inveterate user of tobacco for eighty-five years and have been a moderate drinker of ardent spirits ever since recollection.

Mentally, Mr. Gibson is in a remarkable state of preservation, is uneducated but learned to read after marriage with his first wife. Has (from the best information attainable) been an earnest Christian gentleman nearly a century.

Physically, although small in stature he presents the appearance of having been a man of wonderful physical strength and endurance, his height having been five feet, two inches, weight 145 pounds. Is now hearty but decrepit as the writer saw, and is nearly blind.

In the absence of suitable materials, or the time to prepare them, people often go without a dressing for salads and dressings, and you will never trouble yourself to make another.

A Florida Colony. The sale of 40,000 acres of land in Florida, effected by Mr. A. B. Linderman, of Philadelphia, during a recent trip to London, to a syndicate of that city, was fully consummated Tuesday by the payment of the money to the Florida land and improvement company, the owners of the land.

The land is in Orange county, and the syndicate is composed of leading British capitalists. The plan of the company is to effect a colonization of their lands in comprehensive and rather unique. The whole tract will be divided by General Manager Linderman into twenty-acre farms, upon each of which a frame dwelling house will be built. At least two acres on each tract will be cleared by the company. The farms will be sold to emigrants at $500 each, which will include all improvements made by the company. The payments may be made in easy annual installments. A strong effort will be made to induce Italian emigration, for the purpose of introducing in Florida the growth of the silk worm. On the land of the company fruits of all kinds, sugar, rice, cotton and early vegetables for the northern market will be grown.

AN ANIMATED FURNACE. The Wonderful Malady That Afflicts a Young Lad in North Carolina.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 11.—One of the strangest cases that has ever been brought to the attention of the physicians in this section of the country is recorded from Cabarrus county, and we relate the circumstances as given to us by parties who saw the patient themselves, and know what they say to be true.

Mr. A. M. Wilhelm of No. 10 Township, Cabarrus county, passed through Concord on Monday night with his sick son John, aged 20 years, on the way to Salisbury to consult Dr. Wilhelm in regard to the extraordinary malady with which his son was afflicted.

It is a most peculiar case, and the disease is what the doctors term "hyperaesthesia." An ordinary bathing tub can be filled with cold water, and the boy's feet placed therein, and in less than ten minutes the water will be made so hot that one can feel the heat through the staves of the tub.

The boy suffers agony as if he had his feet in a bed of coals all the time, and was carried from his father's house to Salisbury with his feet in a tub of water. Between his house and Concord Mr. Wilhelm had to change the water four times, and shortly after being changed each time it would become hot again. At times the pain suffered by the boy is almost beyond endurance. Morphine used in treble doses has no effect upon him, but at times whiskey is used to good advantage. He is being suffering about one month.

Mr. Wilhelm is running a steam mill, and this boy is his chief help. On the day that this malady appeared one of his little brothers was at the engine, and by chance a very strong hand of steam was put on. The machinery was soon in violent and rapid motion, so much so that all left but the little fellow, who climbed on the engine and was at the steam gauge trying to regulate matters. The other boy, John, coming up and seeing the perilous condition of his little brother, hastily put up a ladder and mounted it for the rescue, but upon reaching him the rocking of the boiler and engine was so great that he could not get the young fellow down, who was trying to manage the gauge. The machinery was finally stopped and every-thing quieted. The excitement and noise of the mill, the nervous system of the boy, in this case, appeared to be the formation of his disease, as he was attacked the same day with a strange, stinging sensation in the arms, and from that to his legs and feet, where he is now suffering. The idea of a man's feet being so warm as to heat cold water in ten minutes is puzzling to the medical fraternity, unless they can connect the above facts with the engine with it in some way.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate. DR. N. S. READ, Chicago, says "I think it is a remedy of the highest value in many forms of mental and nervous exhaustion, attended by sick headache, dyspepsia and diminished vitality."

To Publishers and Editors. Many newspapers and magazines have been established in the United States and Canada within the last two years, the names of which do not appear in any newspaper directory or catalogue. The publishers and editors of such are invited to send copies and the names of their respective publications to THE EDITOR OF HUBBARD'S NEWSPAPER AND BANK DIRECTORY OF THE WORLD, NEW HAVEN, Conn., U. S. A., that they may be properly catalogued and described in the forthcoming edition of that work for 1883. Editors who kindly give this notice an insertion in their columns will confer a favor upon the press of America.

THE BAD AND WORTHLESS. Are never imitated or counterfeited. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. B. Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All who pretend to remedy or cure, no matter what the style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. Touch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Treat nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or of false.
