MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's spring styles. Additional local on seventh page. Mr. J. C. Rhoads, one of the most able and influential men that ever carried a 'grip'...

We interviewed a number of leading business yesterday regarding the late Moss-Points brutality, and nearly every one to a man expressed in emphatic terms the crime as one of the most shameful and disgusting ever perpetrated in the state.

John N. Plumber, an old, estimable citizen of this county, died at his residence, several miles east of the city, Monday. The funeral will take place Thursday next.

The juvenile band will give a promenade concert and ball at Bloom & Nixon's hall on Friday evening of this week for the benefit of the band.

From the amount of goods piled on the pavements in front of the various business houses, we infer that our merchants are preparing for a heavy trade this season.

Two desperate looking "crackmen," in charge of Officers Hatz and Behm, passed east last night. They are wanted in Boston, and were captured in Idaho.

While the "pound" is receiving some attention would it not be well for some of the worthless dogs that infest the city to meet with common respect.

Several suspicious parties were observed at the transfer yesterday. We may confidently look for an account of another confidence game shortly.

Still the rush is westward, judging from the great numbers that continually throng the waiting rooms and corridors of the union depot.

The expression, that lowered the facial surface, of a prominent citizen of this city, when he dropped a sack of three dozen eggs upon the pavement, can better be imagined than expressed.

One of our enterprising makers met his match in a huge and gigantic dammed of shady texture of skin yesterday at the amusement office.

Two able females of "questionable character," settled a little dispute on south Fifth street yesterday, by "wrestling" and scratching.

The citizens in the bottom were frightened Tuesday morning by a dog supposed to be affected with hydrophobia.

The types made us say that there was $22 in the city treasury. More than $22,000 is the correct figure.

The Presbyterian sociable at Mrs. Shugart's residence last night was a success, as well as a most enjoyable affair.

A dead and stenchful dog is one of the ornaments that embellishes the sidewalk on north Seventh street.

Business at the Union stock yards was fair yesterday. There was a slight falling off in the receipts.

Several prominent Nebraska and Colorado stockmen stopped at the Drovers' hotel last night.

We notice that the excavations have been made for a new business house on lower Broadway.

Martin Huett slipped from a load of hay on Second street yesterday morning and sprained his arm.

We have noticed that all the retail meat markets have advanced the price of meat about 20 per cent.

Some of the "dark hood" brethren were engaged in a general old time row last night.

A widow with seven small children, was one of the attractions at the transfer yesterday.

The party who roughly handled his team of horses yesterday should be severely dealt with.

The man O'Leary who resisted Officer Tyson, will have his trial Saturday.

Considerable horse trading was indulged in yesterday.

Several parties are contemplating the erection of a number of tenement houses.

A large delegation of members of the G. A. R. left yesterday for Des Moines.

One of our butchers lost some meat by his horse running away yesterday.

The ladies of St. Paul's church are to have a festival Friday evening.

Two wagons loaded with fish were upon the streets yesterday.

The market is now flush with vegetables from southern climes.

Our city is now favored with a night school.

The health of this city is unusually good.

KATIE LEIPERT.

The Remains of the Unfortunate Girl Taken Home, by the Aged Father for Burial.

All that was mortal of Katie Leipert, the unfortunate girl who committed suicide, as narrated in these columns yesterday, was conveyed to the depot of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad yesterday by Mr. Connell, the undertaker, last evening, for shipment to Corning, Iowa.

From Mr. Leopert we learned that the cause of her departure from home, and no doubt her death, is traceable directly to the door of a certain young man whose name she refused to divulge, and whom she loved with a passion bordering on idolatry.

Her young soul that only self destruction could destroy. She sought, out in the busy, active world, solace for her sorrows and balm for her wounds, but the great world of no time to waste in the charity of kind words, the sunshine of encouragement and the affection of Christian smiles.

Tired of her burdens, weary of life's flitting scenes she took her life, and while the bloodless lips are gaped in death, the destroyer of her happiness is no doubt using his seductive influences upon the plastic affections of some other girl.

What can be the moral status of such a beast. Where can he, who murders both body and soul look for hope.

Thus has ended the life of a too confiding and beautiful girl, and we kindly cover with the mantle of charity the pitiful scene.

There is but little business in justice courts.

*Ten years ago the name of Lydia E. Pinkham was scarcely known out side of her native state. To-day it is a household word all over the continent and many who read the secular and religious journals have become familiar with the face that shines on them with a modest confidence, in which we read the truth that "Nothing ill can dwell in such a temple."

Our New Loan Improvement Co. Investigation into the matter convinces us that one of the most equitable, reasonable and feasible plans of building houses is that proposed and in operation by the Mercantile Loan, Trust and Improvement company of this city. By investing in shares in this institution, which is backed by some of our best and most reliable business men, it becomes possible and comparatively easy for a man of moderate means to secure a comfortable home for himself and family. In taking a certain number of shares, at a certain monthly payment, in a few years a man can own a home as his own for about the same as he pays monthly for rent. We believe the Mercantile Loan and Trust company, by organizing and opening up for business, having filled a long felt want in Council Bluffs. Their plans and system of loans will bear the most careful scrutiny and examination, and we have no hesitancy in pronouncing them reasonable and equitable, and backed by gentlemen of honor and integrity. As the company exists it becomes at once an institution of value and credit to our city and those who desire homes. Their president is T. A. Kirkland, vice president, Judge Peake; secretary, I. R. Berry; treasurer, Col. Beebe, and their office is in the basement of Shugart's and McMillan's new block, corner First avenue and Pearl street. jan27-1y
