BOUND TO BEAT.

The Crown's Easy Efforts Prove Successful, and Brady is Sentenced to Be Hanged.

All Rules of Evidence and Criminal Procedure Said to Have Been Overstepped.

A Review of the Case, the Evidence, Speeches of Counsel and the Judge's Charge.

Affecting Scenes in the Court Room--The Prisoner's Manner.

Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

DUBLIN, April 14.--The evidence of Kennedy closed the case for the defense. Dr. Webb, the leading counsel for the prisoner, said he begged to submit a respectful protest against any evidence being allowed in this case which would bear upon the existence of a conspiracy prior to May 31, even though the evidence were excluded by that means which would throw a light on the plot existing before that date to murder Burke.

"I contend that such a combination of charges is unprecedented in the history of criminal cases." The court reminded Dr. Webb that the present indictment was not conspiracy and murder, but a single indictment of murder.

Dr. Webb continuing said: "The indictment for conspiracy to murder, your honor, may only be based upon evidence going to show there were designs of murder and some definite person in law regulating the evidence of aiders and abettors in cases of conspiracy. It could not be made to apply in the present case." Sullivan, for the defense, in his argument supported these views.

Porter, for the prosecution, replied that the evidence given by Kavanagh yesterday against Brady was only for the kind which related to his own doings prior to the murder. In fact it simply showed that Kavanagh received his instructions as to driving and waiting from Brady. Adams, for the defense, declared the change in Kavanagh's evidence yesterday, and his sudden discovery, that it was Smith and not Delaney whom he drove to the scene of the murder with Carey, was, as any one could see, a story concocted between him (Kavanagh) and Carey. There were other discrepancies between the evidence given by the informers and that of the other witnesses by whom the crown sought to back up their perjuries. With one solitary exception no witness for the crown had ever set eyes on Brady before the 6th of May, yet they were able to recognize him as the man whom they saw in Phoenix park that day.

If the jury believed these witnesses to be mistaken, then the case rested solely on the suspicious evidence given by the informers. The doubtful character and unreliability of the evidence were too clear to be commented on. If the jury would set the evidence of the innocent girl Meagher against that of the infamous Casey, the liar and hypocrite--yes, liar, and hypocrite, and murderer, too, by profession as well as practice,--he exclaimed, "they would undoubtedly declare in accord with the facts, probabilities and evidence as a body."

The court here said the points raised by Dr. Webb against the introduction of the evidence could not be sustained. Adams, closing for the defense, said: "Heaven forbid that I should ever be arraigned before a tribunal of public opinion as the defendant, Brady, has been in advance of a regular trial. Brady's case has been prejudiced, his guilt has been presumed in a manner the most scandalous on record. Let not the jury be led away and prevented from doing justice because the crime is awful in its nature, but let them consider solely the question whether Brady is guilty; let them bear in mind the chief evidence against him comes from persons who spoke to save their own necks. Such evidence must ever be regarded with great suspicion. He went on to say that the principals in the conspiracy had fled to the United States and before Carey and Kavanagh had given their testimony in the Kilmainham amputation.

Vaigh, for the crown, in reply said: "The circumstances of the crime are not doubted, and it is equally conceded it was the fruit of a conspiracy and not the matter of personal revenge. For this reason the crown has been able to adduce evidence of the existence of a conspiracy. The account of the organization, its objects and plans given by Farrell was such as could never be concealed by the most skillful lawyers. The council then traced the connecting link of evidence. Nalut took the evidence of various witnesses who swore to having seen Brady in Phoenix Park and dissected it carefully and maintained it furnished the strongest possible proof that Brady was there. He held there was an utter failure on the part of the defense to establish an alibi for Brady. The evidence, though little, was so entirely at variance with the actual facts it stood alone. This closed the speeches and Judge O'Brien began his charge.

When its production would assist their friends. Passing on to the evidence of the informers, the judge said: "Although Carey had every conceivable motive and inducement to give in his evidence the statements calculated to serve his own purpose, he had told a straight forward story, and one which did not spare himself. The jury were exhorted to consider, however, if he had been detected in swearing falsely the crown would be justified in proceeding against him the same as against the other prisoners."

THE SENTENCE OF DEATH.

When the jury re-entered the court room the eyes of the vast assemblage were turned upon the twelve men who seemed, with the exception of one or two, to be laboring under the most intense excitement. The foreman said they had agreed that Joseph Brady was guilty of murder. When the verdict was read a deep but suppressed murmur went round the court room, and Brady who, up to this time, had been singularly composed and free from emotion turned ashen pale. Dr. Webb started up to make a motion, and after complete silence had been restored and before the judge pronounced the sentence of death, he said in an impressive voice: "I desire to ask the jury to arrest judgment. He alleged that under the crime's set the jury which heard the case and had just given in their verdict was not legally formed; that the prisoner had not received notice that he was to be tried before a special jury. The motion was denied by Judge O'Brien, who now said to the prisoner: "Have you anything to say why the sentence of death should not be pronounced upon you. Brady responded in a low, clear and firm voice: "I am not guilty of the charge which the informers have sworn on me. These men would swear the life of any one to save their own."

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

What the Order has Accomplished in Omaha.

More than 200,000 men of North America are united in an organization known to the world as the Knights of Labor, and Omaha furnishes fully double her quota to this gigantic membership.

In Omaha we have within the sanctuary of this noble and holy order, men who have both the capacity and the experience that are necessary to the proper guidance of the people. The organization is fast making the laborer a compact body of reasoning and philosophizing men. What a change from the time, not far distant, when any attempt at self government, in accordance with parliamentary usages, was impossible among the toilers in factories, mines and workshops. Already its membership is represented in every legislature in the Union, not excepting the congress at Washington.

It is an educator, for it teaches all the grand principles that tend to the enlightenment and elevation of mankind. It is the sworn foe of tyranny in every form, and especially of that most odious oppression which springs from aggregated capital. It is a friend of the children, because it keeps them in school until long after the age at which our forefathers were forced to abandon the pursuit of knowledge for the treadmill of toil.

It has no utopian schemes, and does not expect to remove mountains at the word of command, but little by little, year by year, it is making toll honorable and profitable, and idleness dishonorable and unprofitable. It has done more to advance the workers on the road to a comfortable independence than all other agencies ever accomplished in ten times the space of time.

It is not a political, religious or moral organization, and yet it teaches the most patriotic principles, the purest devotion and the highest type of social ethics. Every workman in Omaha should join this organization, and profit by the power that can only spring from union. The increase in membership during the last few months has been phenomenal, and yet hundreds of toilers in our city are outside of its ranks that should be guided by its teachings.

The twenty five cardinal principles of the order should be by every man who thoughtfully reads by every man who wipes the sweat from his forehead or bares his arm for toil. Under the shield of this glorious knighthood, which is uniting the producing classes, all the good qualities of man are fostered and the evil ones held in check. Mutual assistance is ennobling, and by it the world will yet be redeemed from its masters--greed and tyranny--and their death will usher in the millennium.

Let Omaha workmen investigate and decide this question for themselves: Shall we unite with an order, the sole aim of which is to benefit the toiling millions. Yours, in S. O. and M. A. A. KNIGHT.

OMAHA CITY MISSION.

What It is Doing and How It is Doing It.

A Good Report of a Good Work --30th Quarterly Report of the Secretary.

We desire to publish a report of the work of the mission for the three months ending April 1st, 1883, that those who are aiding us so liberally may see what is being done with their donations. Each department of the work shows health and an increase in attendance and interest. In the SUNDAY SCHOOL. The attendance is larger and more regular. The secretary's book shows the total attendance for the quarter, 1,835; daily average, 145; being an increase in daily attendance as compared with the same time last year of 25. A branch school has been started at the corner of Leavenworth and Fourteenth streets, and under the able care of those having it in charge will do a good work. A more detailed report of this field will be given in our next quarterly report.

THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL shows some increase in attendance and usefulness. Over 100 little girls were in attendance on last Saturday, and a look inside as they were learning the intricate art of making garments, was a pleasure. A mothers class has been started which meets every Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of aiding the mothers in making garments for their families. Two sewing machines have been loaned them and considerable material furnished. This is a step in the right direction. We now wish to speak of the RELIEF DEPARTMENT.

Nothing has given us so much pleasure as the ability to aid in a slight degree the many cases of want that are continually coming to our notice. On many the past winter has been a severe strain to provide necessities of life. Many, even women and children, have through no fault of their own had to suffer hunger and cold, but as the people have opened their hearts and their pocketbooks, their flour barrels and their bread boxes, and have sent not only "prayers" but "potatoes" to the appeals of the mission, and as the little school children caught the fever and brought food to school with them, thus learning in a practical manner that great Eleventh commandment of "Love to God and love to man." We feel that the work has not been without its bright side.

In this department Mrs. Jardine is superintendent with all that the name implies, while Miss Mary Goodman is the efficient secretary.

The following are the donations for the last quarter: Mrs. Bateman by Dr. Stelling, cash, $10.00; Truman Buck by Mrs. Hulst, cash, 1.00; Mr. Backus collected cash, 4.50; Mr. W. Wood, potatoes and onions; Mrs. Dr. Leisinger, clothing and cash; Mr. Seaman, paper sacks; Mrs. Stricker, buckwheat flour, clothing and shoes; Mrs. Milton Rogers, potatoes; Mrs. Jardine, bedtick and shoes; Mr. McVittie, one barrel and a box of crackers; Mrs. Frost, dry goods; Mrs. Tarnsey, clothing; Mrs. Lowe, clothing; Mrs. Wood, onions; Mr. Kenward, drugs; Mrs. Bachus, three hams, bread, ten pounds of cheese and two baskets of apples, etc.; Mrs. Switzer, clothing; Dr. Jackson and Bodeison, professional services.

There has also been received from the schools and others during the quarter: One-quarter ton of coal, 48 bundles of clothing, a large number of shoes, 50 yards of calico, 123 pounds of coffee, 75 bushels of potatoes, 1,500 pounds of flour, 265 pounds of meat, 75 pounds of beans, 500 pounds of corn meal, 30 pounds of sugar, orders to the amount of $15 for groceries, county commissioners 6 tons of coal. Twenty-two pairs of shoes have been bought and $10.20 in cash have been given in extreme need.

Amount expended in this department $99.65.

THE BUREAU'S REPORT. To cash on hand Jan. 1, 1883, $358.85; To cash rent of building to board of education, S. S., 30.20; To cash rent of building to Swedish congregations, 4.35; To cash S. S. collections, 17.73; To cash donations for relief, 18.00; Total, $448.93.

By expenditures relief, $ 98.85; By expenditures S. S., 30.20; By expenditures industrial, 24.73; By sewer tax on lot, 2.79; By Leavenworth mission, 23.70; By lamps and oil, 16.25; By janitor, 1.65; By Christmas expenses, 11.50; By janitor, 18.00; Balance on hand, 203.28.

Total, $448.93 $448.93 A. C. KENNEDY, Treasurer.

In conclusion we wish to thank the press of this city and all those who have helped us in any way. Respectfully, ALEX. G. CHARLTON, Sec'y.

The building of a new United Presbyterian church at Pawnee City has been decided on and work will soon be commenced. The edifice will cost between $7,000 and $8,000.

An engineer named Forbes, of the Utah and Northern, lost his pocketbook containing $1,700 last week between Sidney and North Platte while traveling on the Union Pacific.

The roller skating rink at Plattsmouth attracts the attention of the whole town. There is so much enthusiasm of the sport that two brass bands are in constant attendance furnishing music.

The makeup of the Lincoln News is largely of hico-brace type. This adds a sort of variety to its columns, which is about the only thing in that direction that may be said in favor of the sheet.

A heavy wire rope used to avoid in furnishing pressure for the gas machine in the Plattsmouth opera house broke one close proximity to the head of the engine. No damage was done.

The clerk of Merrick county and a few intimate friends have an enclosure near the clerk's office in Central City, which is suspected as a place where the favorite game of draw poker is played by the official and his friends. The local paper calls for an investigation.

A rheumatism young lady at Vassar, whose teacher declined to pass her, St. Jacobs Oil bought, and the cure it wrought, Showed that none could out-class her.
