Setting Hens.

Detroit Pres Press, This is the season when hens run nad and will not be comforted unless they can hide away somewhere and sit day and night on a wooden nest egg or an old door knob. Several nen were discussing this question in a grocery store one evening recently. A man who owns a large flock of Dorkings remarked, "Not even an act of congress can break up a settin' hen." "Ever tried jammin' em hen." "Ever tried jammin' 'em under a barrel, and pourin' water on 'em?" demanded the man on the sugar barrel, "Yes," said the Dorking man. "I've poured water on 'em 'till they grew webfooted, like a blamed duck, and aftewards found 'em in an old coal hod settin' away on lumps o' coal." "Tie a red rag around one wing." said a man "But you must pay some salaries."

"But you must pay some salaries."

"Well, we pay our secretary $2 a meeting, and the treasurer receives a nominal fee. The attorney employed is paid reasonably well, and that is all is stated that other societies of a similar character are shortly to be formed for printing, stationery, and the fuel for printing, stationery, and the fuel for printing, stationery, and the fuel for printing is paid reasonably well, and that is all is stated that other societies of a similar character are shortly to be formed here.
