SAD ACCIDENT.

A Little Boy Has His Leg Cut Off.

About 6 o'clock Saturday evening a little boy named Joseph Hartman, met with a serious accident while playing near the lower Tenth street crossing.

An engine was drawing some loaded cars out from the Union elevator track down grade. The little fellow was sitting on a pile of stones, and as the train passed him either he became frightened or else one of the stones slipped, and he slid down toward the track. His right foot and leg were pushed across the rail, and the wheels cut off the limb a few inches below the knee. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, and the leg was amputated, and it is supposed that he will recover in due course of time. His mother is a widow, who recently came from Montana.

ST. JULIEN.

Distinguished Guests at the Hotel de Stephenson.

A very distinguished lot of visitors were fed and sheltered yesterday in Jim Stephenson's big brick barn, which, by the way, is the best horse hotel anywhere in the west. These horses came in from San Francisco on Saturday evening in a special car in charge of Orrin A. Hickok, the celebrated turfman. They were unloaded here to take a rest, having run through from Ogden without stopping off. They remained in Omaha until yesterday afternoon when they were reloaded and left for Cincinnati via the Northwestern. They are entered to trot at Fleetwood park, New York, in June, and also at Chicago in the same month. St. Julien is in splendid condition and is expected to do his level best this season.

THE GERMAN THEATER.

Magnificent Presentation of "Katie of Helldrom."

Last evening the German theatre was largely patronized by an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. The play represented was a very popular one, and was greeted with genuine applause from beginning to end. The scenery was very effective, and the costumes, supplied by Mr. Graessler, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, were simply immense. The Bee has so often dilated upon the talent that is to be found every Sunday at the German theater that it would be superfluous to say anything further on that head, further than to say that all the actors and actresses acquitted themselves with, if possible, more than their ordinary ability.

A BIG HAUL.

Twenty-Five Transgressors Scooped in by the Police.

The quiet which has prevailed for some days in police circles was broken up Saturday night and the police were kept busy from that time, having arrested twenty-five persons up to midnight last night.

Most of the arrests were for public offenses and it was hard crowd, who filled the old jail and made the wailing with drunken songs and blasphemy.

There were nine cases of intoxication, some of them extremely bad; four cases of disturbance of the peace; four drunk and disorderly; four tramps; one erring female, and three suspicious characters. Two of the latter were arrested by Officer Hinchey late last night, and are supposed to belong to a gang of seven crooks who had just gotten in from Chicago, and expected to work the town. They were arrested under very suspicious circumstances, and will probably be fired out of town.

Officer Matza arrested a boy named Willie Martin Saturday evening, who had a bundle of lace, supposed to have been stolen, in his possession. The boy is in jail, and the lace is in Deputy Marshal Doty's office.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

David Barricklow Killed by the Cars.

A fatal accident occurred Saturday evening about 5 o'clock on the B. & M. track near the barb wire factory, at the foot of Capitol avenue.

A man named David Barricklow, who from his dress appeared to a mechanic and who afterward stated that he was just returning from California, was seen near the wire works late in the afternoon in a state of intoxication. He must shortly after have stepped in between the cars and taken seat on the track. A few moments later an engine of the Omaha & St. Paul road backed down to haul some cars out, and not seeing Barricklow, ran over him as he sat between the cars, his screams being the first notice they had of his presence.

Dr. Mercer was telephoned, and on arriving gave it as his opinion that the man would die before morning, his spinal column being fractured and his hips badly mangled, besides serious internal injuries. He was removed to the Harney street hospital, and died at 9:15 o'clock, being conscious up to the hour of his death.

The remains were subsequently removed to Coroner Jacob's rooms, where an inquest was held at 4 o'clock yesterday, the verdict of the jury being that the deceased came to his death by being struck and run over by a New York Central freight car, and that no blame was to be attached to any of the railway employees.

Two letters were found on Barricklow's person, from his mother, written from Coffeville, Kan., and both of recent date. They were exceedingly well written, affectionate and urging the son to beware of evil. A dispatch was sent her yesterday but no reply had been received up to last night. The man had only a little change on his person and was probably on his way home. The body will be held a reasonable time for instructions from Coffeville and if they are not received will be buried here.
