COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Wednesday Morning, April 25.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By Carrier, 50 cents per week.
By Mail, $10.00 per Year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

—See Joseph Reiter's spring styles.
—Additional local on seventh page.
Rice's Surprise party appear at Dohany's this evening.

Permit to wed was yesterday given to John Kramer and Katie Behmerwald, both of this city.

The Round Table held an interesting session last evening at the residence of Mrs. Hawitt.

A farmer, while plowing on last Saturday, about four miles northwest of Avoca, turned up a full kit of counterfeiters' implements.

The Council Bluffs and Northern railway company has established an office of its own, having rented a room just in the rear of J. T. Hart's office.

The Daughters of Rebekah are arranging to give a ball at Bloom & Nixon's to-morrow evening, it being the anniversary of Odd Fellowship in the United States.

The democratic state convention is called to meet in Des Moines June 6th, to nominate candidates for governor, justice of the supreme court, and superintendent of public instruction.

Dawey & Stone, of Omaha, sent their delivery wagon over the river yesterday loaded with elegant furniture for the office of J. T. Hart, in connection with the Iowa and Nebraska insurance company.

The engineering corps of the new Council Bluffs and Northern railway started out yesterday morning to locate the proposed line between here and Crescent City. It is to be hoped that it will not end where it began—on paper, but be pushed to active operation.

As the result of the competitive examination of aspirants for the cadetship at Annapolis naval academy, the committee have reported in favor of the appointment of B. W. Stearns, of Logan, Harrison county, though it seems to have been a dead heat between him and Arthur Chase, of Avoca, so far as intellectual part of the race was concerned.

The Boys' band are making grand preparations for a public ball to come on next Friday evening, April 27. As this will be the last dance until after the summer, a large attendance is expected. They have secured St. Francis academy which is undoubtedly the finest hall for dancing in the city. This fact, in addition to the reputation the former dances have attained is a guarantee of a large attendance and a good time. We hope all those called upon will help the boys along as they are deserving of success.

A special car of Australian or "black stripe" mail arrived Monday night over the Union Pacific en route to New York where it will be forwarded by steamer. There were 280 sacks, nearly 15,000 pounds. The Chicago & Northwestern had a special ready to receive, with orders to run through to Chicago in eighteen hours. The mail was transferred in about eighteen minutes, so complete were arrangements, and inside of twenty minutes it was on its way east. The run to Boone, a distance of 150 miles, was made in three hours and twenty minutes, nearly fifty miles an hour.

The case against N. J. Bond, for maintaining a nuisance by having his office and scales extend into Broadway, will probably be decided by Judge Ayres this morning. Among the new discoveries resulting from this case is that the ordinance for the violation of which this action was brought was not signed by the mayor, though attested by the clerk and published as usual. One of the questions raised is whether the absence of the mayor's signature invalidates the ordinance or not. If it does, the city cannot very well prosecute for nuisance in the streets, until the defect is remedied.

The following have been named as the committee to arrange for the proposed excursion of the Knights of Pythias on the 25th of May: Lodge No. 18, F. B. Patton, John R. Stagg, C. Tibbitts, A. L. Ayers; No. 40, G. M. Washburne, John Hammer, G. W. McCoy, J. N. Beckley; No. 51, E. Rosecrans, T. Meyer, W. Pfeiffer, M. C. Fekler; No. 61, Charles Bergmann, B. Grabi, S. Katzenstein, H. Nutt. Conferences and correspondence have commenced with railway officials and other lodges of the Knights with view to deciding upon the details of where and how they will go, and who will join with them.

O. A. Hickok, the celebrated horseman, California, passed through this city Sunday night with his noted stud of fast ones, including St. Julien, Overman, Romeo, Director and a number of young horses belonging to Senator Fair and J. W. Mackey. The Union Pacific was delayed, but the Chicago and Northwestern waited as Hickok was bound to have the horses go over that road. The horses were given a nicely padded, well arranged car on the Northwestern, and were rolled over the road so swiftly and easily that they arrived in Chicago the next afternoon in good shape, though the trains started from here some five hours later than usual, making excellent time, considering the heavy train of ten cars and the blistering storm.

Dr. West, Dentist, 14 Pearl street.

Kelley & Grow could not yesterday find enough men to fill jobs. Men out of employment would do well to call at their office, 130 Main st.

C. J. Beckman, of harness fame, will move, May 1st, from his present place on middle Broadway into J. J. Brown's block, 619 Main street, one block south of Kiel's hotel, and just opposite the city scales.

Very large stock of curtains and certain poles at Casady & Orcutt's.

FOUND AND FINED.

Some of the Offenders Who Were Yesterday Invited to Court.

How Swindlers Can Work If They Only Pay the City a Few Dollars.

Adam Wolf was arrested for raising a disturbance at Mr. Hendrie's iron works. He came to this city as a stranger and secured employment at the works for a day or two, and when there was no more work for him he demanded his pay, and on being referred to the timekeeper, became wonderfully wrath, he being too high-toned to take any money except from "the boss" himself. He was a little under the influence of the ardent at the time, and became very abusive, using such profane and obscene language that the officers had to arrest him. On coming into court yesterday morning he was very penitent, and begged to be forgiven, but the judge said he was not there as a priest could do nothing under the law but fine him. His bill was therefore figured up at $9.00.

TOO MUCH DRINK.

L. Galbraith, for being drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace of a Broadway saloon, was fined a like sum.

"William Pursell and Andrew Cody, Drunk. No effects." Such was the record, but then the drunk proved to have effect after all, not only the bloodshot eyes, parched lips, and feverish face, but in the judgment of the court, imposing a fine on each of the prisoners. Time is money, and they paid in time, not having cash.

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.

Deputy Sheriff Riley Clark, of Neola, brought to this city yesterday and lodged in jail George Fry to await the action of grand jury on a charge of burglary. Fry will be remembered as the young man who sneaked a coat from Mason Wise's livery stable, and who was sent to jail for a short time on that charge. On being released he went to Underwood, and it appears that he there continued his crooked ways by burglarizing a saloon, helping himself to whisky, cigars and the contents of the till. He was nabbed by the officers, waived examination, and is now again in jail in this city.

STOLEN REEF.

B. F. Donahue entered complaint yesterday before Justice Schurz to the effect that Charles Rosawitz had found his cow roaming about the highway, and appropriated it to his own use, killing the animal and securing the meat, while the hide was in his possession. Rosawitz was arrested, and the case was set for a hearing one week from next Saturday, the accused being released on bail.

STREET SWINDLING.

Frank Ashton and a mere boy named J. M. Doran, who were arrested for playing the soap box racket, were brought into court yesterday, on a charge of swindling and took a change of venue from Judge Ayres' court to Justice Abbott, and there got a continuance until this morning. There were also informations filed against both under city ordinances, one against Ashton for selling without a license, the other against the boy for vagrancy. It is to be hoped that something can be done to rid the town of these kind of street fellows, who ply their trade on the corners, and rely on the susceptibilities of the unsophisticated. This city, however, licenses just such fellows, and it seems that so long as they pay a few dollars into the treasury they can do as they please, but were not them if they do not divide up with the city. Then they are to be prosecuted. The inconsistency of the present policy of the city is shown clearly in the fact that in this case Ashton is, on the one side, charged with swindling, and on the other side, charged with not getting a license from the city to conduct a business which it claims is a swindling business. It is almost useless to hope to have the city rid of soap box rackets and other like schemes so long as those who pay the city a few dollars can swindle all they please, and those who do not are prosecuted until they do pay, and then let alone.

While Ashton and his boy companion are thus being put to the rack, another fellow in the treasury they can do as they please, but were not them if they do not divide up with the city. Then they are to be prosecuted. The inconsistency of the present policy of the city is shown clearly in the fact that in this case Ashton is, on the one side, charged with swindling, and on the other side, charged with not getting a license from the city to conduct a business which it claims is a swindling business. It is almost useless to hope to have the city rid of soap box rackets and other like schemes so long as those who pay the city a few dollars can swindle all they please, and those who do not are prosecuted until they do pay, and then let alone.

Fin Coy was such a wild sort of a drunk that he got his family frightened by his threats and unruly behavior, even going so far as to flourish a revolver. He was scooped off in the calaboose and yesterday morning was so penitent that Justice Abbott let him off with a fine of $5 and costs.

E. Knabe offers to sell his premium gold mounted harness very low.

In fevers, malaria, biliousness, heartburn, etc., nothing is so beneficial as Brown's Iron Bitters.

Justice.

To the Editor of The Bee:
I do not crave notoriety but while you take up parts of Mr. Paik's lecture which throws slurs on spiritualism, I also have the right to defend. Those that know me would certainly smile at "diseased brains or nervous complications" being applied to me as a representative of that much abused body. Unfortunately I did not hear this lecture, but I should judge from the article the lecturer was deficient in power to understand the subject he chose. The orthodox churches have by faith a very good thing in its way; but knowledge is better. Spiritualism gives that knowledge. It teaches how to live true to our God, true to ourselves and all earthly ties. Get all the good we can and leave the earth plane the better for having lived in it. The purer you live the greater the beauties unfold, and it gives that peace that passeth all understanding, and above all takes away the fear of death for that is when true life begins. For myself I would rather follow those teachings and bear the onus, than be a fashionable hypocrite.

THE WICKED FLEE.

Three Drunks Sober up Enough to Break Out of the Calaboose.

Yesterday noon while the police officers were all away from the headquarters, three prisoners in the back room who were there for unpaid fines as drunks, succeeded in making good their escape.

The door is fastened by an iron pin, and the persons ingeniously fixed a long stick, evidently left aside for kindling wood, and putting this through the transom over the door, reached the pin and removed it. Thus opening the door, they raised a window and crawled into the free air and were gone. The ones who thus escaped were Adam Wolf, L. Wm. Pursell, and Andrew Cody. The need of a new city jail becomes more and more evident as the present calaboose cannot keep men after they get sober enough to walk out.

"ROUGH ON RATS."

Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers. 15c. Druggists.

You can get the latest style of jewelry and silver ware at your own prices at No. 102 Main street. Every article warranted.

Linked by Love.

The was a happy yet quiet sort of a wedding at the parlors of Kiel's hotel yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being Charles A. Rommel and Miss Maggie Mass, Justice Vaughan officiating. Mr. Rommel is the agent of the Wabash railway at Silver City, while the bride is the daughter of Mr. K. Mass, one of the leading farmers of Silver Creek township. The happy couple drove to this city, were thus quietly married, and returned at once to their home, where they will receive hearty congratulations and earnest well wishes, both having many friends.

COUGHS. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. Price 25cts, a box.

If you are not married, write the Marriage Fund, Mutual Trust Association, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for circular explaining the plan.

The Union Avenue Scheme.

The few who were so active in trying to get the city to give up Union avenue to the Union Pacific, are keeping very quiet about it now. The Nonpareil boasted that ninety per cent of the citizens favored the scheme, but has doubtless found ere this that the opposite is the truth. Perhaps this has discouraged "the colonel." Perhaps, in view of the strong opposition, he is working on the sly to serve his railroad bosses in the most discreet manner. He has become now pretty well posted up as to the scheme, and has seen enough and learned enough to put them on their guard, and to prevent any such heavy action in so important a matter as this. The Nonpareil urges the council to take. It becomes more and more evident that the plan was not so much to benefit Council Bluffs, as to give the Union Pacific a claim which it could use when it desired, for thumping any more for another bridge across the river. If its scheme could work, the Union Pacific could charge what it pleased and run its dummy to suit itself, in times of peace, and whenever the indignant people determined to enter upon a bridge enterprise, it could put on more trains, reduce rates, and take the life out of the new enterprise. Besides that, the company would have possession of property which has cost the city thousands of dollars. It won't work.

It is by no means improbable that, in the rearrangement of the city police force, a city detective will be employed, and that matters peculiarly in his line will be handled. One of the chief causes of trouble in the police force has been that the officers have been pulling apart and working separately on ill-feeling and jealousy, but often making burglary work of a job, or allowing the criminal to escape. It has been urged that when one officer was after some game the others should also be posted, so that they might be on the lookout, and there has been much trouble about every man working for himself. By the putting on of a city detective to especially look after this class of cases, it is thought there will be less friction on the force.

DURKEE'S SALAD DRESSING a ready made, rich and delicious dressing for all salads of meat, fish or vegetables. Cheaper and infinitely better than home made. No sauce equal to it.

Why be weak? Why not be healthy, robust and strong, by using Brown's Iron Bitters?

Young man or woman, if you want big money for a small amount, insure in the Marriage Fund and Mutual Trust Association, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. $5-3m.

The Sprague men in Rhode Island expected great results from the republican ballot, which was engraved on one block. The republicans discovered the trick, and put out a plain ballot in place which the counterfeiters could reach.
