ing his forces in this particular city. Every day of late there have been one add., $1,000. to four burglaries, robberies or highway attacks to chronicle, and Monday was a regular field day. It is high time that a force of detective police, such as was suggested the other day, be organized or some citizen will yet suffer murder at the hands of the bold gang now working the town.

SAFE BLOWING. Monday or early next morning a raid was made by a gang of safe blowers, whose work shows them to be experts, on the Chicago lumber yard, California and Thirteenth, of which Mr. C N. Dietz is proprietor. The sash was broken out of the north window of the office and an entrance thus obtained. The first work was to cut the telephone connections, after which the burglars proceeded to iril two holes through the outer door of the safe which was blown open it is thought with dynamite, It was a Hall safe, and the next attack was on the inner door. It could not be forced open, and so the keyhole was packed with powder and it exploded, but without effect, except to char the books and papers on the inside. The watchman at the yard was busy a block away, his duty being to watch the lumber, and he heard nothing of the operations going on, the safe being probably wrapped in quitts to deaden the noise. After the failure with the safe the private offices were gone through, but nothing taken away. The foreman, who opened up about 7 o'clock yesterday found the rooms a led with smoke and things in

ANOTHER ATTACK.

The same gang went next to Bradley's lumber yard and forced open the front door of his office. Two teamsters were sleeping to an adjoining room, and their presence must have been discovered, as the rascals left without any attempt to rob the safe. The following relates the experience The two men had considerable money of a well-known Omaha gentleman, with them, and the first they knew of now occupying an official position of the raid was when a customer entered early yesterday through the still open door and surprised them in bed.

A BRACE &F THEM. About midnight the house of Mr. Wm. Russell, on Franklin street, near Prospect hill, was entered and a watch gate but thought nothing of it, until sae saw him enter the house of Mr. E. Gibson, next door. Mr. Gibson is a prominent cattle dealer, and was the clothes and boots they found and sbout $40 in money. There was great excitement over this aff ir yesterday it being rumored everywhere that $4,000 had been secured in the clothes and book all of the men who helped to carry him in saw Schrote enter and heard him say. "How do you feel, Jack," Martin replied, "You old s—of a b—, the old woman shot me and many the clothes are and many the clothes are and many shot me and many the clothes are and many the clothes are a shot me and the floor, and one of the men who helped to carry him in saw Schrote enter and heard him say. had been secured from Mr. R. but old woman shot me and you know it, his was impossible as he pays in checks and not cash for his purchases.

AN EXCITING ENCOUNTER. the contrary it was rather inviting. A he was occupying a room on the first short time afterwards an envelope floor and as soon as he raised containing the following addressed to up in bed, he saw a man just lifting bed. He landed on the floor in one leap and shouted: "You ----- son of a --- drop that!" The burglar said: "Get back in that bad — quick or I'll blow your brains out!"

Although entirely unarmed, Mr. Campbell made a dash for the burglar, who stepped out of the room through the open door by which he had entered and made his escape through a back door. On investigation Mr. Campbell found that an entrance had a pair of nippers, although one of the patent burglar latches was on the door. He says the man wore felt slippers, and was of medium height, but in the darkness and excitement he got no further description.

A BOLD ATTACK. About 6 o'clock Monday a snesk thief entered the grocery store of Mr. Jas. Nichols, on Sixteenth street. Mr. time, and the thief sent boldly to the till, which he emptied quickly and it could not be found without a dis-left on the dead run, with Mr. Nichols close on his heels. He was overtaken The deceased had made a statea half a block away, and Nichols the bystanders refused, and he gave caped, however, with his booty, amounting to $6 or $7 in change. MARTIN'S DEATH.

The Victim of Sunday Night's Shooting Dead.

The Parties Still in the Conpty Jail.

Jack Martin, the man who was shot in a row at the B. & M. saloon in South Omaba Sunday night, died at noon yesterday. Coroner Jacobs Schrote and his wife and the bar tender, Schreiber, are still in jatl. Their charge was "assault with intent to commit marder," which will now probably be changed to a direct charge f murder. Thus far it has been very hard to get at any reliable details of the affair but the inquest will no doubt throw light on the affair. Another party named Tautkins was to be arrested yesterday for com-plicity in the shooting.

THE INQUEST. Coroner Jacobs impauneled a jury at 4 o'clock yesterday atternoon, and held an inquest en the remains of the deceased. The jury consisted of Messrs Ed. Riley, Frank Kiefner, G. N. Doty, D. P. Angell, George H. Gay, and W. H. Brackin.

General Cowin represented the de-fense, and J. J. O'Connor, in the absence of District Attorney Godwin, appeared for the state.

The witnesses were Charles Urban Matthew Cunningham, Fred Boyd, Jue Yagers, Officer Buckley, Officer Whelan, Captain O'Donohoe and the two physicians, Drs. Darrow and Hoffman, who made the post mortem.
Without going into details, the tertimony showed that there was a regular drunken row at the saloon where the shooting occurred, in which spree Schrote participated. Mrs. Schrote took something away from Martin (probably his cane), and he went be-hind the counter and struck her in the mouth and also hit her little boy. Then there was a tussle between Shrote and Martin, in which the latter fell on top, and Martin was forcibly ejected. After the crowd had disstill burning in the store adjacent. Shrote was heard to eay: "Shoot him, old woman, shoot him!" three shots were fired a few no doubt the man they were looking for all the time.

Gibson's bed room is right opposite and was picked up a little later and was picked up all title was picked up the Russells' and the robbers get into it through a rear door. They took all There he was laid on the floor, and one and if I was up I would shoot you!" The same man saw Mrs. Schrote with a pistol in her hand and Schrote with a beer mug after the shooting. Some time before 1 o'clock Monday Schrote offered to bet $5,000 or five cents that Martin was not shot and was making out a paper to that effect

Another reliable witness stated that at the time of the shooting only three persons, Schrote and his wife and the bartender, were inside the salcon. He heard three shots, which came out from the saloon.

An adjournment of the icquest was taken to 7:30 o'clock, when Drs. Darrow and Hoffman made their report on the post mortem, having failed to find the ball after three hours' search. Dr. Darrow had had eight years', and Dr. Hoffman ten years' practice in their profession, and they testified to substantially the same thing.

The cause of the death was a gun shot wound, which entered the body of the deceased about three and onebeen secured by turning the key with half inches from the meridian line and two and one-half inches above the idium, passing upward and backward, and thence ob iquely through the small intestines, which had been pierced in three places, and the injuries were of a character which would necessarily produce death. The doctors had been unable to find the ball, which might have passed out of the N. was waiting on a customer at the body by the natural passages. The bullet was evidently a large one, but ment to Dr. Darrow that the sho called for help to arrest the man, but was fired by "the old woman" (Mrs. Schrote) He was under the influ Nichols a blow in the face and broke ence of liquor when the doctor was called in. There were also three wounds upon the head-cuts-all of which were through to the bone. Captain O'Donohoe testified that he was abused by Schrote, who was place all day and was believed to be a full at the time, when he went man who shook out carpets for a lady to make the arrest. Schrote residing next door during the fore pulled his platel and told him to look at it and see if any of the chambers were empty. Mrs. Schrote said "What would any woman do if she was behind the bar and was insulted in that way. Schrote said he knew who had fired the shot but wouldn't give it

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the said John Martin came to his death from a gun shot wound and the pistol was fired by Mrs. Schrote, but that Schrote was accessory to the act.
