Washington, June 6 - Indian Agent Wilcox telegraphed from San Carlos, Arizona, to the commusatoner of Indian affairs, an account of the recent surrender to the military of the Indiana belonging to the Lacoo band. He says they were cut off from the main body of the band by the Mexican troops. They heard the country was full of soldiers, and fled to San Carlos for refuge. He declined to receive them and they are now being fed by the military agents. Wilcox also says the prisoners and panished. They came here from necessity, and will breed discord and encourage absentees to return, that to be made a safe retreat for murwith all who have returned.

Merrick continued his attack upon Dorsey and his defense of Rerdell, in the star route case this morning. Ingersoil, referring to the Chico letter, said Rardell, the government's own witness, had sworn it was written in 1878, and Dorsey was then at Caiso Springs. Merrick exclained that was the last plank of drowning the Deliver & New Orleans railway construction company, Mercantile Trust company and others from selling certain stocks and bonds of the pirates. Ingeracil, who had become Merrick and retorted: "Rerdell is your last plank, and you will sink holder of the construction company, of order, even disorderly. Secretary Chandler said to-day he is expecting a report from the navy yard board very shortly and the result will be some of the navy yards will be closed before the lat of July. He would not say which ones they would be, but it is generally understood Mare Island navy yard will not be troubled.

A STEAL COMPROMISED A series of twelve letters said to be on file in the department of justice relative to the case of W. H. Ostman, furnished the associated press, show that early in 1882 the case was turned over to Blus as special counsel for the government; that Bliss reported on it, recommending a compromise and that the government dismiss its criminal and civil actions against Ottman on payment to the government of $12,700. He said he made this recommendation with reluctance because he believed Ottman guilty; the fact that the crime been committed a long ago and the witnesses scattered, that the two former criminal prosecutions resulted in disagreement, led him to believe it would be impossible to convict; that while he believed the money held by the government was stolen from the government, he did not believe the fact could be established in court. This proposed compromise was authorized, apparently, by the attorney general, though no letter is on file to that effect, and $12 700 was paid into the treasury. The litigation grew out of the fact that $47,000 was stolen from the government in 1875, and an attachment was made upon $33,000 in the bank

Special Dispatch to THE BES. WASHINGTON, June 6 .- The star route about which Senator Van Wyck has just been ealightening the postoffice department is one that he called the senate's attention to last winter. Deadwood is already supplied with daily mails from Pierre on the Chicago & Northwestern, and Sidney on the Union Pacific. A year ago congress passed an act creating two more routes to Deadwood, one from Chamberlain on the Milwaukee & St. Paul road and Missouri river and the other from carrying the mails over these routes. Thereupon Van Wyck got a resolution gang.

He wished to get the act creating there routes repeal d, but was told by the posteffice committee that that was unnecessary, as after an exposure had been made the postoffice general would not think of letting the contracts for the routes. The matter dropped there and the senstor supposed it had dropped for good. In the meantime there had een a change in the postmaster generalship but none in the contract office. Two days ago Van Wyck learned that a contract for conveying the mail A Lively Disturbance and De on the route from Niobrara to Deadwood had been let at $13,000 a year to Miner, one of the defendants in the present star route trial, and he promptly had a warm interview with at 10 o'clock.
