The Universal Mania for Gambling.

Enormous Rents Paid by Gambling Houses.

$120,000 a Year for a Two-Story Frame Building.

Judge Almond's Court--The Vigilance Committee--A Speculation in Rations.

"I was seated one day," said my old army friend, "in my little 7x9 brick office at San Diego in a listless mood, with nothing in particular to do, and nothing in particular to think about.

It was so far away from the wild turmoil of the mining camps that scarcely a ripple from the centers of excitement reached the waters of its shining bay.

When the news came back to the coast, and was read to a crowd of his old associates, one of them remarked that it demonstrated the evil effects of a man's flying too high for his boots.

Upon inquiry as to the cause of the transformation from the grab of a few weeks before to the gorgeous butterfly of the present, he bade me follow.

IN A MEASURE CIVILIZED, and the gambling mania had to a certain extent subsided. In 1849-50 this was almost the sole amusement of the populace, and successful gamblers were among the richest, most talented and influential citizens of the town.

winning card. Rents paid for these and other business places were enormous. A two-story frame building, known as the Parker House, paid its proprietors $120,000 per annum; of this sum the gamblers who occupied the second story paid one-half.

BILL TUCKER'S CRIME.

A Child of Thirteen Assaulted by a Notorious Rowdy of North Platte.

Futile Attempts of the Villain to Purchase Peace From the Parents.

The Citizens of Keith and Lincoln Counties Red Hot for a Hemp Picnic.

Correspondence of The Bee. OMAHA, Neb., June 7.—On the 15th of May last this county was startled by the rumor of a crime unparalleled in its criminal annals.

Wm. H. Tucker, a resident of North Platte and engaged in the saloon business there and at Ogallala, was charged by Miss Flora Rayner with a rape upon her person.

Public sympathy being aroused in the case, a subscription list, intended to defray the expense of employing legal counsel for the child, was started by the citizens of Ogallala, and in one day twenty signers expressed their feelings substantially to the tune of $100, and more funds are being rapidly subscribed.

Saloons deal out their liquid elixir on Sundays the same as week days, except, perhaps, the doors are not ajar.
